

parallels pot pourri

philips academy 20 parallels

phillips academy andover
pot pourri 2010-2011
180 main st.
andover ma 01810

One of my favorite things about Blue Strut is that it's completely student run. One time at rehearsal, everyone was tired and didn't really feel like dancing, so we just started talking and listening to music. We ended up just hanging out for 4 hours! Everyone in Strut is really close, and we always have a lot of fun in rehearsal, but we still know how to be productive when we need to be.

My favorite memories of Den dances consist of just dancing and singing with my friends. One time I was in the Den with Margaret Curtis '12 when some seniors started an impromptu dance. There weren't that many people there at the time, but we had so much fun just dancing like crazy!

Madeleine Kim Upper Dancer
Blue Strut and ADG

Dennis Zhou '12

Upper

News Editor

The Phillipian

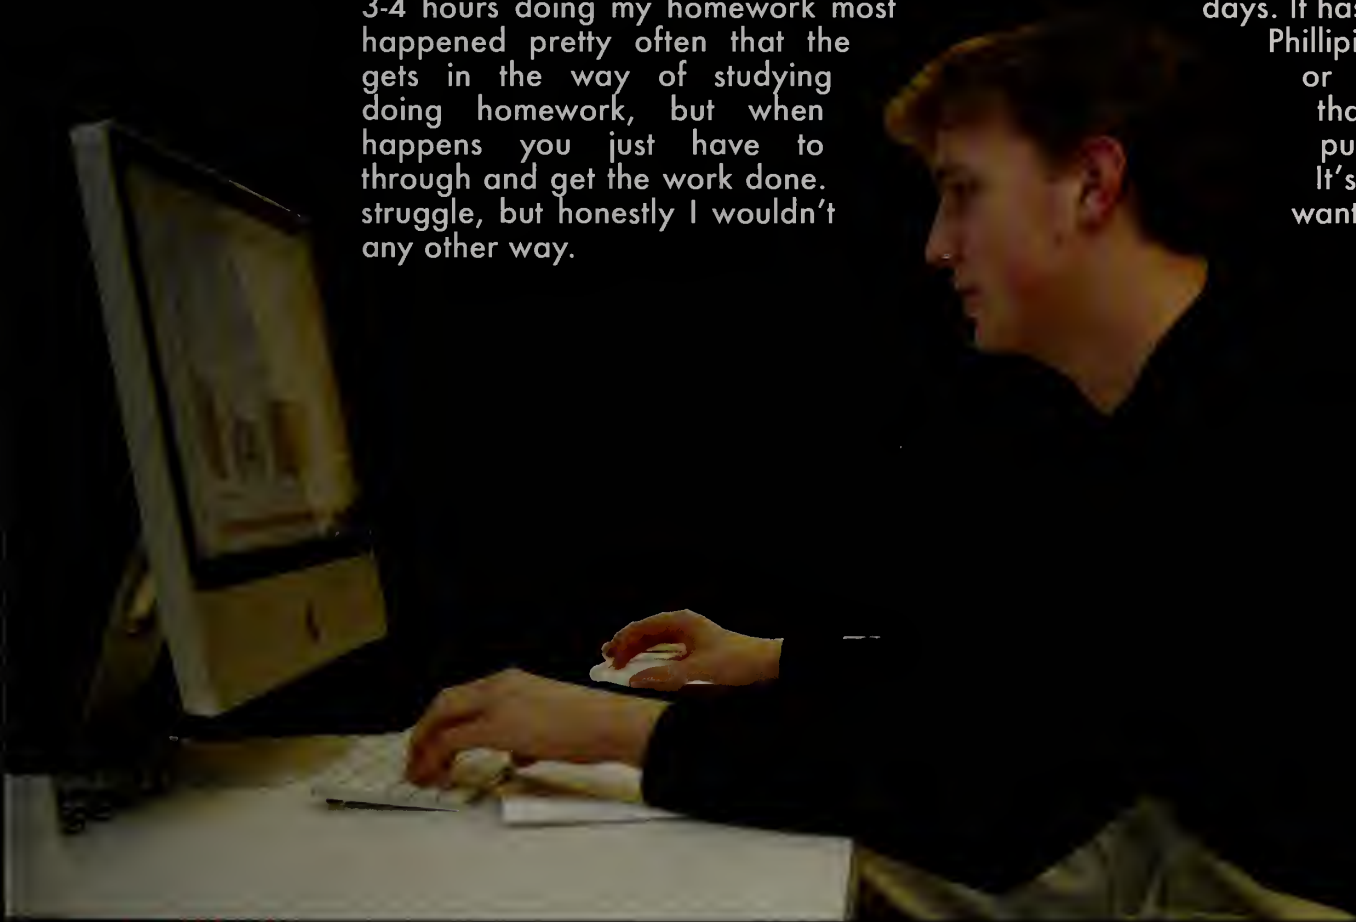

Derek Farquhar '12

Upper

Commentary Editor

The Phillipian

I am a Commentary Editor at the Phillipian, and from Monday to Thursday, I spend about two hours per day at the Phillipian, plus I spend 3-4 hours doing my homework most days. It has happened pretty often that the Phillipian gets in the way of studying or doing homework, but when that happens you just have to push through and get the work done. It's a struggle, but honestly I wouldn't want it any other way.

Andrew Hla /

Janki Patel
Senior
Bio 570 Student

I am in Bio 570 with Mr. Tanner. It is a difficult class but probably one of the most engaging classes I have taken in my four years at PA. The dissection of the cat is definitely something I will look back on with fond memories. At first it was hard to get used to the smell of the preservatives but once I got passed that barrier it was amazing to be able to learn about muscles, tissues, and organs in a hands-on manner. One really memorable moment during the cat dissections was realizing that our cat was pregnant. When we finally got to cut beneath the muscle, we saw five different sacs and started to get nervous because we didn't know what to do. The Bio 540 class was observing us that day so my group and I improvised and eventually laid out the five babies on the table. It was sort of an adrenaline rush (though that may sound a bit strange) because it felt like I was actually a surgeon in that moment.

-Janki Patel '11

Blue Key Seniors in tie-dye stood on the corner of Chapel and Main screaming and cheering for the new students pulling up to campus. "Big Blue," "Let's Go PA," and "Honk if you love Andover!" the signs read; their message of warm welcome continued the Andover tradition of a very loud and generous welcome to new students. This year was the second year in a row at a new location, and hundreds of cars passed by the students, honking excitedly. Even bikers and walkers were celebrated, and students encouraged walkers by chanting, "cross the street! cross the street!"

Willa Tellekson-Flash '14, loved the welcome. She said, "We pulled up to the stoplight on Main Street. I saw all the Blue Keys screaming and my mom started honking the horns. I just grinned. They were all so excited, which made me so excited. The school has so much positive energy. You can see that just being here for a day."

Blue Keys kept energy levels high through games on the Great Lawn, teamwork exercises in the sanctuary, and trips around campus to find where classes would (all too soon) be held.

welcome to a blue paradise

When I first come here, I was afraid of doing my laundry and folding my clothes. It still haunts me to this day.
- Michael Camarda '14

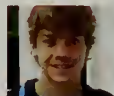

When first coming to Andover, I wondered if there was going to be a place for me, a place where I would fit in, because of the many farms of diversity here.
- Jarge Piccale '14

I came to PA wondering if I could keep up in class. Now I'm more worried about keeping up on my crutches!
- Henry DeRuff '14

Before beginning school I feared that everyone would be a lot smarter than me.
- Allie Robinson '14

I was afraid that I wouldn't know what a blackboard looked like!
- Sean Burkitt '14

Coming in as a freshman, I was afraid that it would be awkward making friends at first. It was a little bit, but people here are friendly so that made it much easier.
- Taylor Chin '14

I was afraid that the dorm bathrooms would be disgusting.
- Sam Goldberg '14

I was afraid of not knowing what to say to the yearbook quote people.
- Clark Perkins '14

you're not alone!

Eight Juniors tell Pot Pourri about a fear they had as they joined the Andover community.

photo by Kristin Mander '11

15 photo by Roy Thamfien '12 16

photo by Audre McMurtrie '11

photo by Marilyn Hewitt '11

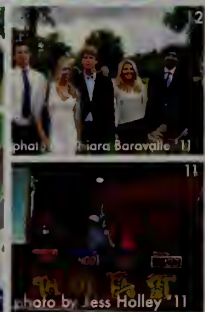

photo by Ariana Baravalle '11

photo by Jess Holley '11

13. Casey McQuillen '11, Kate Wiener '11, and Deniz Bernard '11 smile from their prime position in the front row of cheerers. Deniz was a Blue Key in Flagstaff. Deniz said, "The best part of orientation was engaging with parents, getting them to hank their hairs and embarrass their kids."

14. Hannah Finnie '11, Theresa Faller '11, Sarah Stevens '11, and Cammy Brandfield-Harvey '11 beg the cars to honk for Andover! For many new students, the Main Street signs are their first Andover memory. Hannah said, "Seeing new students drive around their corner with a look of awe and excitement made me think back to my first few days of Andover, and reflect upon how happy I am to be here."

15. Head of School Barbara Chose joins in the festivities. Behind her, Courtney MacDonald '11 and Patrick Brady '11 keep their spirits high. Pot said, "Cheering was alright. But it was even better when I took a break, deciding to perform an interpretive dance with Sam Orioch to 'Don't Stop Believing,' which was blaring from someone's speakers. Yes, it was the Glee version [duh]."

16. Katherine Tobason '11 takes her first steps as an official Andover student after matriculation. Most students spend the first week wandering around campus in shock. Katherine said, "I was a little intimidated by this place at first, until I discovered that Andover is not just drastically different from my old school, it is drastically different from everyone's old school!"

1. Jeb Roberts '11 and Cal Brooks '11 proudly display their colorful handmade sign when welcoming new students. Cal lost his voice cheering for Andover. Cal said, "It was worth it to see the looks on the freshmen's faces when they stopped on the road in front of us and had twenty or thirty seniors chanting their name."
2. Alex O'Albio '14 and Charles Manuel '14 get very excited after winning a point for their Think Fast team. Awkwardly trying to find a team and then working together to pick the correct answers is a great way to make friends during the first week. Alex said, "Thinking back on that game of Thinkfast, I felt like a part of the Andover community. I can't even fathom the idea that I had only been at Andover for a day or two at the time, because I already knew that I had made some lasting friendships which will carry me through my high school years."
3. John Cusick '11 makes use of his muscles and lends a hand with a heavy suitcase. One great Andover tradition is having the Blue Keys help the Juniors move into their dorms. He said, "When multiple kids were arriving at once, I was just handed stuff without learning who it belonged to. Safe to say some boy was confused after finding Katy Perry CD's in his room... You're welcome."
4. Maggie Kobelski '14 takes center stage and performs in Tang. It takes a lot of courage to get up in front of all of your new classmates and risk embarrassment. Maggie said, "I didn't really think about going on stage, but then the reactions of my friends afterwards was the funniest part."
5. Matt Appleby '11 helps new lower Julie Daar '13 open her mailbox for the first time. The mailroom is always a hub of activity during the first week as students struggle with combinations and pick up keys and planners. Julie said, "Opening that mailbox was my first challenge at Andover and it was really nice to have someone there to help."
6. Blue Key Heads Olivia Howell '11, Jay Dolan '11 and Chris Cameron '11 scream cheers at arriving cars. They all lost their voices by the end of the week! Olivia said, "The best part of cheering on the corner of Chapel and Main was seeing the anxious grimace of each new kid turn into a huge grin as we welcomed them! They looked so nervous and embarrassed that their mums were hanging out of the window with a digital camera, and it was all we could do to alleviate their panic-stricken faces with wild cheering and unmatched Andover pride."
7. Andrew Ramsey '14 shows off his serious rapping skills. Everyone was impressed by his memorable performance. Andrew said, "I felt I was able to help ease the tension in the room by having a good time and putting myself out there."
8. Cassie Caravos '11 has her hands full with dorm room essentials. Unpacking a student's room can take hours, even days! She said, "Being a day student, I never realized how much stuff dormers bring to campus. At times during the move in, there would be seven of us taking multiple trips just to unload one student's jam-packed car."
9. Adrian Stane '12, Felicia Jia '12, and Jenn Kroon '13 struggle while trying to balance on each other. Returning students were chosen as leaders to help the new students adjust to Andover. Felicia said, "I had a group with a lot of freshmen boys on the whaleback, which is a giant see-saw that they had to balance on. If one end of the whaleback touches the ground, they 'capsize' and a member of the team has to get off. The group didn't really have a cohesive plan; they were pretty excited and just jumped on, thereby capsizing quite a lot."
10. Jenny Zhou '11 shows her Big Blue pride on moving in day. She said, "One of the parents got REALLY into it; he came out of his car and started screaming 'GO ANDOVER GO BLUE' with us and gave all of the Blue Keys cheering on the corner high fives. We also threw some gummy sharks into cars via windows even though we weren't supposed to...oops."
11. Nicholas Tankens '12 and Jay Dolan '11 test out their general knowledge when competing during the Think Fast game. Despite losing the competition, Nicholas and his team all had a great time. He said, "Think Fast was probably the most insane and adrenaline-filled welcome Andover could have given us!"
12. New Uppers pose together during the Matriculation ceremony. Despite there being only fifteen new uppers, they are all finding it easy to fit in. Leah Humes '12 said "All the new Uppers get along extremely well and we are looking forward to two great years here at Andover!"

photo by Audrey M. Murrie '11

photo by Audrey M. Murrie '11

photo by Marilyn Hewett '11

photo by Jess Holley '11

photo by Kristin Mendez '11

photo by Marilyn Hewett '11

photo by Jess Holley '11

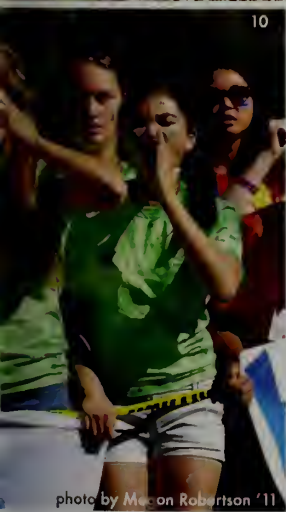

photo by Megan Robertson '11

blue keys

It was cool, and a little sad, to see my freshman start making friends and need me less. I felt like a proud parent letting their child fly. Although my parent-hood was short, and began with me screaming at the top of my lungs and eventually losing my voice, I wouldn't trade anything for the experience I had.

- Demetrius Lalanne '11

When I realized that my blue keys were twice my size, I became very intimidated. I am 5'11.

- Chioma Nguwdo '11

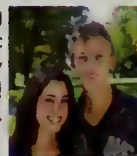

new students

Our Blue Key, Demetrius, took us on a long tour of the campus all the while blasting music from a boom box on his shoulder. It was really fun walking around campus like celebrities!

- Stephanie Nekaraski & Rome Arnald '14

Orientation was an all around great experience for me and really made my transition to PA very easy. My Blue Key, Chioma, was everything I could have asked for.

- TJ Hickey '11

1st impressions

first weekend

Andover's First Weekend had an exciting air to it: students used varied strategies to recruit new members to their clubs at the Club Rally, friends caught up after summer vacation at the Video Dance, the entering Class of 2014 celebrated the start of their Andover education with the Midnight March, and the graduating Class of 2011 met in the gym (because of rain) for the first event of Senior Year. New students were bombarded at the Club Rally by upperclassmen. Freshman Jackie Kim remembers, "we were all so overwhelmed that in the end we just decided to sign up for the clubs that gave us candy." Clubs used everything from candy to human sign-up sheets to entice the new students, and many clubs gained new members.

Capture the Flag!

This year, at the midnight march, blue keys surprised new students in their cluster meeting, removing them from the meeting to help them take back the flag from the "Exies".

At first I was so confused about what was happening. But when I realized we were going around campus, I became really excited because I could feel the spirit of Andover in the air; it was tangible. And when we were in front of Som Phil yelling Andover's cheers, I really felt part of the community and loved it even more for its spirit.

- Bernodette Narman '14

photo by Megan Robertson '11

photo by Megan Robertson '11

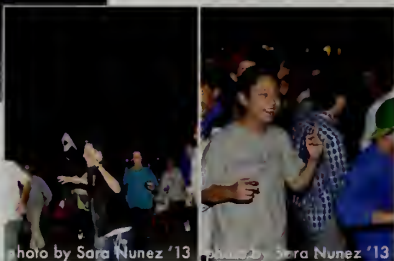

photo by Sara Nunez '13

photo by Sara Nunez '13

photo by Roy Thamthieng '12

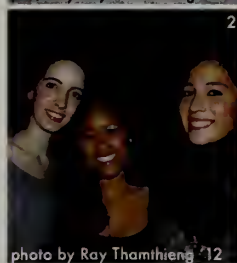

photo by Roy Thamthieng '12

photo by Roy Thamthieng '12

1. Members of Azure rambunctiously cheer on the steps of Paresky Commons at the Club Rally. Elizabeth Paul '12 said, "Kristina, one of our co-heads, had the idea to cut out huge letters spelling azure. When we were holding up the signs, we yelled out phrases like, 'If you like to sing in the shower, sign up for Azure!' Tons of girls...and maybe even a few guys... ended up signing up! It was awesome!" 2. Malynna Mam, Abby Chung, and Emily Field '13 say cheese at the Video Dance. Abby Chung said, "Getting ready for the dance with people was like junior year flashback- getting ready an hour early, crowding around the mirrors, trying on everyone else's clothes." 3. Seika Nagao, Ayaka Shinazaki '12 and Yuta Watanabe '11 smile for AJC. The infamous Yuta said, "At the club rally I was representing AJC (Andover Japanese Connection) to gather new club members. Seika and Ray made the amazing posters with little sushi characters. Although I wanted to give out Japanese candy to lure more club members, I couldn't get a hold of any so we ended up handing out American candy for those who signed up. Overall it was a fun event, and I'm glad that a lot of people joined for my last year of AJC." 4. Luz Lopez '13 and Maddie Kasper '13 hold up a colorful poster for Glee Club at the Club Rally. Luz said, "Shouting for the Glee club stand was awesome. Halfway through Maddie realized that we had double the amount of girls we needed to sign up, so we added 'Meet girls!' to our poster and had someone yell 'We take Yarkie Rejects!'" 5. Alex Soltan and Sophie Gould '11 cheer for the Phillipian. As Upper Board members, they work hard to recruit new students who could be interested in writing for the Phillipian. Alex said, "The Club Rally is an awesome way to get new students involved with activities they might never have known existed. Screaming at freshmen never gets old." 6. Jordan Johnson and Kayla Malaney '13 clumsily pose for a picture in the midst of the excitement at the Midnight March. Jordan said, "Running to Sam Phil in the pitch black among the crowd of other new students was a great first memory at Andover! Although confused, everyone just ran together anyways unsure really of what we were doing. But, when we arrived at Sam Phil and engaged in the cheering and shouting for our new school, it felt just right like we were all supposed to be here."

7. Kiki Samers, Maggie Shoaemaker, Lydia Azaret, Sage Hunt and Barkeny Sambau '12 pose at the Video Dance. Maggie said, "The Video Dance was really exciting, even though the DJ kept interrupting the dance to hear himself speak." 8. Patrick Brady, Mary Palk-Bauman, and Jaanna Wang '11 represent Drama Labs at the Club Rally. Mary Palk-Bauman says, "It was really strange being on the other side of the table. During the club rally, I remembered how only a few years ago I was the small naive freshmen signing up for all the clubs and, unknowingly, all the emails. Now I was the big scary senior coercing small naive freshmen into getting never-ending emails. It felt like divine retribution." 9. Callie Davidson '11 racks cute shades at the Club Rally. Callie said, "I don't know why Philamathian Society set up their table right next to ours but it did establish some friendly rivalry. I spent most of the club rally trying to yell over the people at the Phila table to get emails and convince people that Mack Trial is better... or just tell people we had better candy" 10. Michael Levy, Henry Kennely, and Austin Heffner '13 pump fists at the Video Dance. Henry said, "everyone chanting to get the music going showed that classic Andover spirit." 11. Tam Palleschi '12 dances while surrounded by friends. Tam said, "The Video Dance was pretty epic this year. It might have something to do with the fact that I finally learned how to daugie." 12. Miranda Hayman '12 is caught in a gorgeous candid shot at the Video Dance. Recollecting on the popular songs of the dance she said, "I was outta my mind at the Video Dance and my long last teenage dream was fulfilled; that club couldn't even handle me." 13. Elizabeth Watson, Thurstan Smaley, and Sarah Schuchardt '11 hold each other closely at the Senior Desert. Elizabeth said, "The Senior Desert at the beginning of the year was a great way to catch up with friends after an eventful and restful summer break." 14. Michael Kantaxis '11 puckers his lips and pumps his fists at the Video Dance. Michael said, "The Video Dance is uniquely exciting because its the first dance of the year. And seriously... who doesn't enjoy dancing below a giant Kanye West?"

photo by Gabbie Cirelli '12

photo by Gabbie Cirelli '12

photo by Gabbie Cirelli '12

photo by Gabbie Cirelli '12

photo by Gabbie Cirelli '12

photo by Roy Thomthieng '12

photo by Roy Thomthieng '12

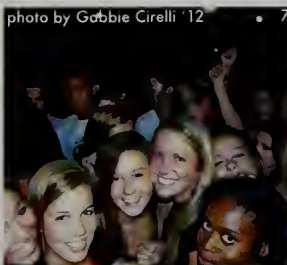

photo by Roy Thomthieng '12

photo by Roy Thomthieng '12

photo by Roy Thomthieng '12

photo by Roy Thomthieng '12

JOIN US!

New students embark on their first and over test of endurance: the club rally

At my old school, there were only a half a dozen or so clubs to choose from and we could only join one. Here there were dozens - everything from Russian Club to Model UN. - Joke Rouh '14

It was awesome to see how interested and impressionable the new students were about the numerous clubs around them. - Chorlotte Cleveland '11

The club rally was amazing, I've never seen so much enthusiasm or passion concentrated in one place I couldn't help but sign up for things because all the people there sincerely believed in their activity or group. - Stello Graham '13

my timeline:

Aram Shresthian '11 and Hana Kim '11 tell Pol Pourri about their experiences during Non Sibi Day 2010.

9:00 am

I arrived on campus at the bell tower, and met with Mr. Kaalen and the other campus beautification people. We had donuts and then started work.

9:15 am

We planted scilla bulbs all around the bell tower, one person would dig holes while another planted bulbs.

10:00 am

11:00 am

I had lunch in Cammans and talked to some visiting alumni about my Non Sibi Day project, and about the day in general.

8:45 am

I drove over to Jahnsen's Farm with Mr. Capana and the rest of the group.

9:15 am

I started picking zucchini and yellow squash.

10:00 am

11:30 am

I hauled the bags of corn we collected onto a pickup truck.

12:00 pm

We visited the farm's 800 pound pig named "Pig".

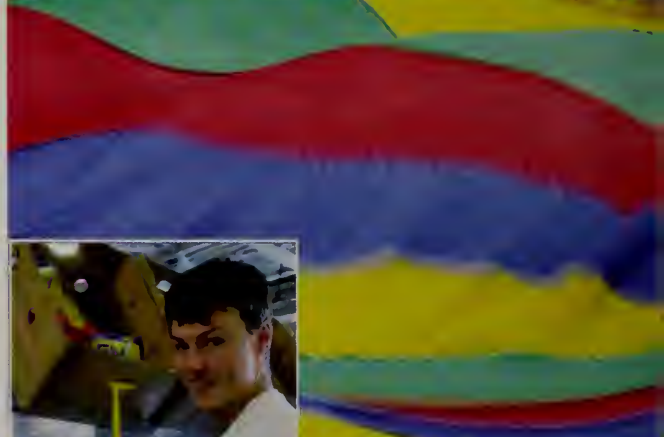

photo by Maggie Shaemaker '12

photo by Marie Liu '12

photo by Megan Robertson '11

photo by Marie Liu '12

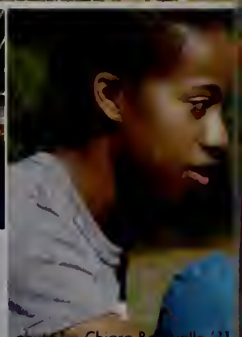

photo by Chiara Baccarella '11

photo by Grace Hoyt '11

photo by Megan Robertson '11

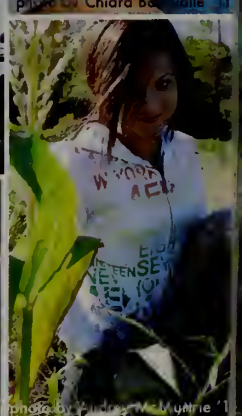

photo by Chiara Baccarella '11

1. Mike MacKay '11 smiles while sorting products at the Greater Boston Food Bank. His project involved sorting products to send to those in need. "I've never seen so much shampoo in my life," he said.
2. Carolyn Whittingham '11 gets her hands dirty while planting flowers near the Bell Tower. As a senior, this was Carolyn's last time participating in the Andover tradition as a student. She said, "Even though I will graduate before I can see the results, it's great to know I am leaving a lasting affect."
3. Katie Benvenuti '12 enthusiastically gestures while helping a young student fill out a high school application. The volunteers enjoyed the day so much that they were inspired to continue the project. Katie said, "My co-head and I are now trying to organize a second trip just like it!"
4. Jay Suppannchart '12 works quickly to clear the build-up on the conveyor belt. Non Sibi Day can be a chance to meet new people who you don't usually interact with on campus. "People were waiting anxiously as items started to roll down, but by the end we were all singing along to the loud music, and everyone was smiling and laughing!" he remembered.
5. Kennedy Edmonds '12 patiently works with a local school student. Andover students mentored 8th graders in Lawrence who are applying to private high schools. Kennedy said, "Having gone through the admission process fairly recently, it was great to have the opportunity to use my experience to help Alberta!"
6. Holly Delany '13 flashes a smile while working hard on a farm. Non Sibi Day can be a great opportunity to get out of your comfort zone and try something new. Holly said, "I was originally supposed to sort food in Lawrence, Mass, but picking corn on a farm turned out to be a fun, memorable experience!"
7. Kendall Goodyear '12, Jinzi Zhang '11, and Kerry Jayce '11 work as a team while participating in a campus beautification project. Saturday morning was beautiful and had perfect weather for gardening. Kerry said, "I always notice the small blue flowers that are the first to come up in the Spring, and this year I was able to plant them."
8. Amber Quinones '11 gets serious when applying face paint to an adorable new friend. Working with kids is a great way to forget the stresses of Andover and let loose! "I decided that I would spend the afternoon doing face painting, despite my lack of any substantial artistic ability," Amber remembered.
9. A young boy holds up the peace sign while playing with a parachute with Ceylan Auguste-Nelson '12, Collin Benedict '12 and Molly Levene '12 cheering on in the background. For their project the girls cross-country team visited the Bancroft afterschool program. "I hadn't played stuck in the mud in years," said Molly, "but I felt right at home when we were playing."
10. Nick Kramer '11 works hard to lift a hefty log. During the year, it is hard to find free time to get off campus and interact with people from other communities. Nick said, "It was nice to get outside the Andover Bubble."
11. Kishan Patel '11 and Allan You '11 shovel in-synch while gardening near the Bell Tower. Even though it was hard work and a hot day, the boys thoroughly enjoyed their project. Allan said, "I am really looking forward to seeing all of our hard work in the Spring!"
12. Celine Kwon '13 keeps her spirits up while spreading top soil at a nearby farm. This year's Non Sibi Day included lots of environmental projects, a testament to the Big Blue going green. She said, "Being a farmer for a day wasn't too intense and it was great to know we are making a difference!"
13. Ariana Brenner '12 smiles for the camera. She was amazed by all the generous donation from stores like CVS and Market Basket. Ariana said, "It was nice to see that some of the companies who promise hunger relief really carry through in a significant way."
14. Jonathan DeLeon '12 looks on while a local boy completes a paragraph about his extra-curriculars. When working on stressful applications, it can be very reassuring to have someone beside you who has gone through the whole process and succeeded. Jonathan said, "The boy I was working with was very nervous at first, but by the time I left he seemed more sure of himself."
15. Sage Hunt '12 and Anthony Tedesco '12 stay focused as they load cakemix into boxes. One of the challenges of their project was keeping up with everything that was coming along the conveyor belt. Anthony said, "I was holding up the stuff coming down the belt while Sage hurried to pack it into boxes. I must admit, she did a pretty good job of snogging all the Kleenex under pressure."

photo by Chiara Baravalle '11

photo by Megan Robertson '11

photo by Audrey McMurtrie '11

photo by: Marie Liu '12

photo by Grace Ho '11

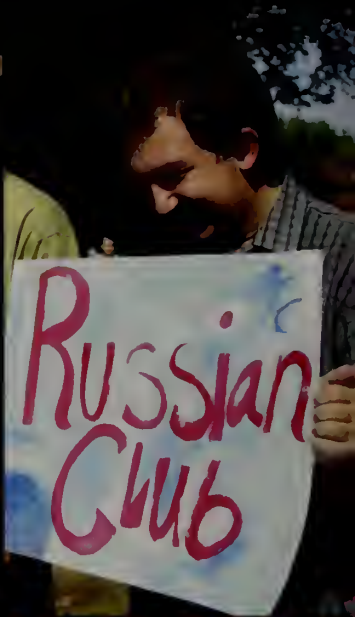

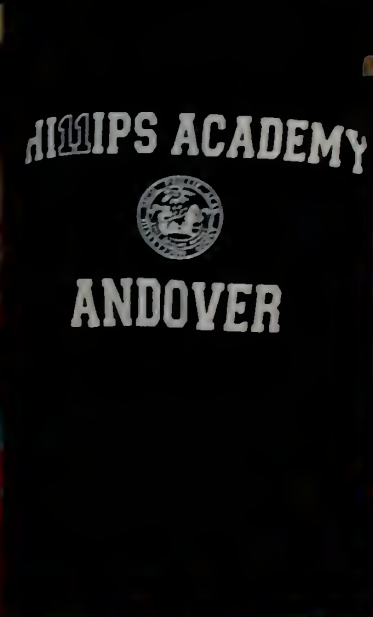

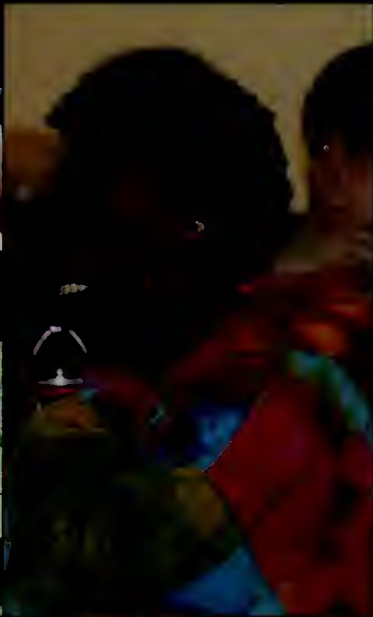

photo by: Marie Liu '12

more than just non sibi 2010 a painted face

This year's fourth annual Non-Sibi Day was a time of service learning and civic engagement for students, faculty, alumni, and parents. Projects were done both on and off campus to better the lives of surrounding community members.

Amber Quiñones '11 participated in the Bread and Roses Picnic on campus. "When I got to the Bread and Roses Picnic, I decided that I would spend the afternoon doing face painting, despite my lack of any substantial artistic ability. The very first person who stopped by my table was a little girl who wanted to be painted as an elaborate and intricate ice princess. I had no idea what I was doing and was terrified that the girl would hate it, but I just applied the paint to her skin and said nothing of my insecurities. When I finished my masterpiece, I braced myself for criticism; however, I did not receive the response which I had been expecting. Rather than criticism of the amateur painting, the little girl was just thrilled to be a princess for the day and truly appreciated my efforts with the face paint. This experience made me realize that Non Sibi Day is as much about just hanging out with some people from towns neighboring Andover for an afternoon and painting their faces or listening to their stories as it is about major, traditional types of community service projects."

Non Sibi Day parallels one of Andover's mottos: non sibi, or not for self. For one day, we put aside our personal agendas and embrace the Andover community even more fully. Service learning allows us to see those connections that are important in life, be they with friends, faculty, or strangers that we meet at our sites.

the eleven things we love about the class of 20 eleven

Members of the senior class of 2011 share their thoughts on why they love their class.

I hate to be the cynic, but I would have to say that my most favorite thing about the Class of '11 is the fact that we aren't the Class of '12.

- Ken Tharp '11

I love how involved our class is. We participate in every aspect of campus life: we are virtuoso musicians, computer geniuses, star athletes, future mathematicians, actors and artists. We stand out in all of those areas, and act as good role models for the rest of the school. - Jasmine Edison '11

I love the fact that we are the only class other than the Classes of 1911 and 1811 that can replace the double L in Phillips with an 11. - Alberto de la Cruz '11

I love waking up every morning to breakfast with my friends. I love exchanging smiles with my fellow seniors on the path. I love discussing the most insignificant things with my dorm mates until 2am on a school night. Above all else, I love the class of '11. - Michael Berube '11

Trite as it may be, my favorite part is the people themselves. If I have misgivings about some aspects of my time at the school, the friends I've made outweigh those regrets by a hundredfold.

- Charlie Cockburn '11

Well, hands down the people in the Class of '11 are the best. In all my classes, everybody got along and created a great, friendly atmosphere. Everybody helped each other out and we all got through it together. - John Ingram '11

I love dancing at Senior hour, and hearing the chorus of Seniors yelling "Aaaayy" when the music stops for a second. I love hearing people say, "I see you, Sheya!" even when she's not around. I love throwing my arms in the air, raising my index finger and pinky, and screaming "Eleven!!" - Hector Kiloe '11

I love how respectful of the rules we are, and how unified we've become as a class over the last four years. - Julia Zorthian '11

My favorite thing about the Class of 2011 is Yuto. - Nneka Annunkur '11

My favorite thing about the Class of '11 is how we are coming together throughout the struggles of senior fall. It's like one huge infathomable challenge that we have all bonded over. - Angelica Jarvenpaa-Nesi '11

Our class has every type of person. We cover every part of the spectrum. Together, we make the greatest class to graduate from any highschool ever. Of all time. Period. - Peter Lee-Kramer '11

WQSQ quad day

As the rainclouds loomed overhead, students still enjoyed numerous booths and activities during quad day. WQN Cluster President Cal Brooks '11 helped organize quad day this year. "We bring in whatever we can to make sure that Quad Day is attractive to the whole school so that as many people as possible will come out and enjoy the quads, which is also nice since it means more business for dorms."

Min Jae Yoo '12 doesn't live in the quads, so he didn't have as much invested in quad day.

However, he still loved going and said, "I believe Quad Day was a fun experience for everyone, full of different activities and relaxing environment de-stressing the students from academic work load. I specially found the Taylor Hall's offer very enjoyable as I was one of the victims. They got paid to 'lick' and 'kiss' other people (which I took it like a man). Though

I was not a resident in the West Quad Cluster, I, along with many kids from other clusters, had a good time with all the food and activities offered."

photo by Maggie Shown

photo by Chiko Bernal

photo by Maggie Shown

photo by Maggie Shown

photo by Chior

photo by Audrey

photo by Audrey

1. Yuto Wotonobe and Min Jae Yoo '11 conduct a photo shoot set up by Pease House for Quod Day. Members of the dorm opened a photo booth so that people could take pictures with their friends. Wotonobe said, "We had two guys to dress up as Ernie and Oscar the Grouch to make the photo more entertaining. It was sort of creepy how we could see the eye of the person wearing Oscar's costume, but overall, it was a great success." 2. Matthew Simon races Miguel Wise '14 down a slide on an inflatable obstacle course. Inflatable games, such as the obstacle course and human foosball, were a big hit at Quod Day. Matthew said, "I can still remember what I was thinking as I was sliding down towards the end of the course: 'Yes! I won the race in the not so bouncy, bouncy obstacle course! I'm so happy now!'" 3. Eloine Kuoch '11 eats a candied apple, as she tries not to smudge her face point. Eloine had her face painted like a tiger earlier that day at the Pemberton Cottage booth. Eloine said, "Far same reason, last year of the Spring Carnival, I got my face painted like a tiger, so I thought I'd continue the tradition. It's a lame excuse to act like a little kid again, and it's also fun getting weird looks from people." 4. Ali Belinke dominates Molly Engel '13 in an inflatable jaunting tournament. Right before the picture of Ali was taken, she had just beaten Ali in a donut-eating contest. Molly said, "Ali was a good sport about it all, and we took a picture together to commemorate the moment. Maybe in the Quod Days to come we'll have 'MJ and Ali Gomes,' where we try all the competitions that year and see who comes out on top!" 5. Lydia Goda-Solo '13 eats cotton candy. This year, the dorm members of Adams Hall sold cotton candy at their booth. Lydia said, "I might have taken the cotton candy to compensate for working the Adams cotton candy booth or I might have stolen it. Can't seem to remember which." 6. Jonathan Westling '12 is held captive by his friends as they wait for him to be licked by Colton Dempsey '12. Taylor Hall sold not only their usual kisses, but this year, they also offered licks. Jonathan said, "When the Taylor boys originally grabbed me I had no clue how to react. I could've tried to escape, but I was afraid that Mike Winchek '11 would chase after me (and most likely kill me), so I accepted my fate." 7. Elizabeth Oppang '12 reads a student's fortune. The members of Ishom Dorm sold psychic readings and Rice Krispie Treats. Elizabeth said, "Even though my bogus palm readings, 'rock interpretations', and zodiac predictions were not worth the money, everyone seemed to get a kick out of it." 8. James Robertson '14 laughs with his friend, as they watch the crazy antics of Quod Day. James said, "I loved how one booth was to pay people to lick someone you chose. They would even put on a whole act before licking someone!" 9. Molly Engel and Ali Belinke '13 tie-dye a t-shirt at Johnson Hall's booth. Ali said, "Afterwards I had one purple hand and one blue and for 2 days I probably dyed about 10 shirts, but I loved it because I was able to relax with my dorm-mates and friends, while being surrounded by music, food and a pack of licking boys." 10. Jeannine Anderson and Rono Choo '11 enjoy their candied apples they bought from the Bancroft booth. Continuing the tradition, the dorm members of Bancroft sold all different types of candied apples including Jeannine's favorite: sprinkle-covered apples. "It was cold and rainy on Quod Day, but the candied apples made everything better. Seriously, look at all the sprinkles," Jeannine said. 11. Nikita Lombo accepts her fate as she waits for her lick. Nikita said, "A friend of mine thought it would be a great idea to have the Taylor boys each give me a kiss: what she didn't realize is that there was a miscommunication that ended in my getting licked by Colton Dempsey '12. It was one of the more memorable moments of my life."

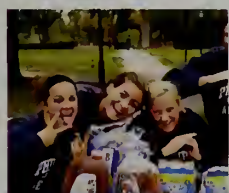

photo by Audrey

photo by Audrey McMurtrie '11

Emily Rademacher '11

"I can't remember who came up with the idea, but Teo & Torts came up, and Pop-tarts and Arnold Palmer were obviously the go-to items. Basically, we were fancy AND we made bank. I think a little over 27 dollars. Hello new microwave."

Ceylon Auguste-Nelson '12

"Quod Day was an extremely unforgettable experience, as it is not every day you see boys enthusiastically licking girls' faces, while making a profit off of it."

Rachel Ryu '12

"I especially liked the night before quod day when our whole dorm was making caramel apples. It really brought the dorm and welcomed all the new girls. It was a great dorm bonding experience."

Gaelyn Golde '13

"I thought quod day was a lot of fun because there were so many things to do. However, I spent most of my time running away from the Taylor boys who had been paid to kiss me!"

bust a move! parents weekend

This year during Parents Weekend, campus buzzed with excitement. Parents got a taste of our rigorous schedule by attending classes and sports games where the Big Blue played Deerfield. The weekend got more exciting when many students took their parents to Grasshopper Night to watch thirteen acts and nearly one-hundred students perform an arrangement of acts, all based on the theme "Back in Time". Casey McQuillen and her band performed many of her original songs, Drumline battled the MCs and drummed in the dark with glowsticks, and Azure and the Yorkies went to prom! SLAM performed a step to Kaney West's Power, and member Natasha Vaz '11 loved being in the show for a second year. She said, "Being in Grasshopper for the past two years has been a rewarding experience. It is very gratifying to put every effort you have into an act, and watch it really come to life. Not only was I lucky enough to be able to experience this pride, but I also was able to observe the progression of other talented acts. The whole cast is supportive of each other's talents, and being able to put on a show that we are all proud of is the best feeling. Grasshopper allows the students to interact with each other away from an academic stand point, which helps us recognize just how talented our peers are. I consider myself very lucky to be apart of a beloved Andover custom, and I cant wait to come back and see the tradition live on."

photo by Tahera Doctor '13

photo by Meghan Robertson '11

photo by Maggie Shoemaker '12

photo by Maggie Shoemaker

flashback

Andrew Schlager '12 reflects on his Grasshopper Night MC duties

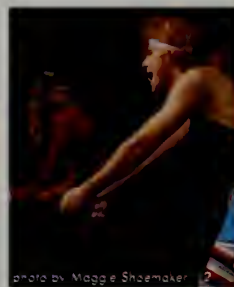

photo by Maggie Shoemaker '12

"During one of the final dress rehearsals for Grasshopper Night, Julian Danziger '11 belted his lyric, "Hape you ask me to Sadie" and who should yell up to from the audience but Georgia Pelettier '11 and boy oh boy did she have an answer to his lyric (in the form of a question... ie would you go to Sadie with me). Julian halted this sketch with a heart warming and eye watering yes. We thought about having her ask him every night, but that seemed a little much."

"Every night when I would have to introduce that character, I'd have to pick a name for her. One night I used the name of the woman who the character was based on, a friend of my parents who lives breathes and eats fitness (more accurately doesn't eat fitness). After the show I crept out of the stagedaar on a quest to find my mam and dad. Immediately they lambasted me for my name choice: this waman's niece went to PA. I had no idea."

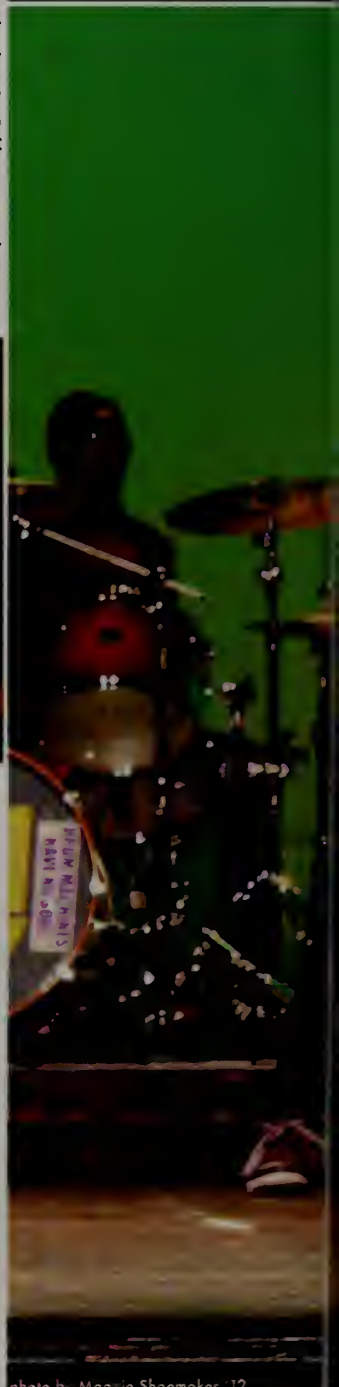

photo by Maggie Shoemaker '12

photo by Maggie Shoemaker '12

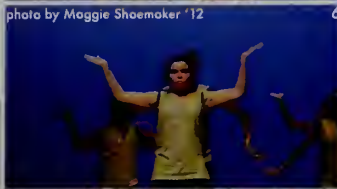

photo by Maggie Shoemaker '12

photo by Megan Robertson '11

photo by Megan Robertson '11

photo by Megan Robertson '11

1. Lead singer of The Sproutz Khalil Flemming '12 drums out a funky rhythm with bandmate Henry Kennelly '13. Onstage, Khalil moved around to all his bandmates and joined in an playing their respective instruments, all of which was completely improvised. "I tried to give each band member their own shoutout," said Khalil. "We're bias who spend time together in the dorm; things just fall in place when we came together to play - We do Sproutz!"
2. Parents register in Paresky Commons during the opening of Parents' Weekend. Excitement is in the air; the moment marks the beginning of a parents' emergence into the PA lifestyle.
3. All attention, parents sit through classes and relive life as a student for a brief period of time. It's a complete role reversal, and oftentimes parents find themselves challenged by the material their children are learning!
4. Kelsey Phinney '11 steps with SLAM. Kelsey loves the team, especially during Grasshopper, because of their pre-show rituals. "I'm pretty sure no other team on campus has pre-game rituals remotely close to ours. Nor can they immediately launch into Boys N Motion when someone yells 'boys,'" she said.
5. Amanda (Mandi) Thran '11 belts out a rendition of "American Pie" during the closing act of Grasshopper Night. After many weeks of practice, she and the rest of her band become exceptionally close, bonding over Paul Koh's '12 quotable sayings. Mandi's favorite - "Get ready for some band bro-time on Sunday."
6. At the change of classes, parents walk in a massive throng towards their next destination. Leaves falling all around, many pause for a brief moment to revel at the beautiful autumnal scenery.
7. Mathematics instructor Mr. Schneider teaches a group of parents during Parents' Weekend. Surprisingly, the parents were very enthusiastic - which impressed Mr. Schneider because he held his class during the infamous sleepy 7th period. "While students all go through it on a daily basis, their parents are no longer used to an academic school day," he said.
8. Faces aglow, parents sit in Mr. Neissa's Spanish 500 class and listen to arguably the world's most passionate language. However, the lyricism of the language quickly subsides into laughter, as parents ask for their children's recordings to prove that they can actually speak Spanish. Mr. Neissa paraphrased the parents' reactions upon hearing the recordings, "Wow! That's great... of course I don't understand any of it, but it sounds great anyway!"
9. On stage, the Yarkies, Phillip's infamous all-male a-capella group, deliver a perfectly synchronized performance in key. While the audience savors their mellow voices, they are unaware of the lively performance happening backstage. According to Carolyn Harmeling '11, director of the act following the Yarkies, "Blue Strut has a lot of fun dancing behind the curtain during the show while the Yarkies sing."
10. Talent abounding, elegant Blue Strut dancers leap in the air, dancing to Fergie's "Barracuda." While the audience sees fast turns, swirls, and jumps, dancers familiar with Blue Strut also know the team for its pre-performance rituals. According to co-head Carolyn Harmeling '11, the group "[stands] in a Struddle" (aka Strut-huddle aka tight circle) and cheers each other on.
11. Chena Forhal '12 walks side-by-side with her beloved father at Parents' Weekend. The two days are a rare chance to reconnect with loved ones and to appreciate their continued support and encouragement. Chena said, "Seeing how happy and proud my parents were to see Andover through 'their daughter's' perspective was by far the most rewarding part of Parents' Weekend."
12. In the hallowed Bullfinch rooms, parents enjoy a comfortable discussion on classic American literature. For many, this is the material parents know best, and witty banter is exchanged back and forth as parents analyze a scene and dissect it piece by piece.

photo by Tahera Dester '13

photo by Adrien Stone '12

photo by Maggie Shoemaker '12

grasshopper

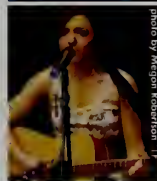

photo by Megan Robertson '11

photo by Megan Robertson '11

photo by Megan Robertson '11

photo by Megan Robertson '11

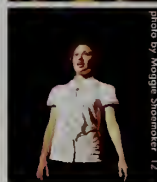

photo by Maggie Shoemaker '12

photo by Megan Robertson '11

photo by Megan Robertson '11

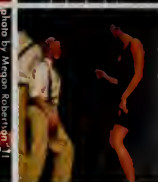

photo by Megan Robertson '11

Casey McQuillen '11 performs a few of her original songs as the opening of the show.

SLAM steps to Kanye West's Paster, telling the exciting story of a mutiny in ancient Egypt.

Melina Prentakis '11 dances in a Ballywaad inspired routine.

Manwei Chan has a sala during Drumline's performance, in which they battled the MCs in an epic and glawing act.

Jackie Murray '13 acts in a madren Shakespeare interpretation.

Sumi Matsumata '11 taps in a 30's inspired faatnates dance.

Freshman Alec D'Alelia makes his first appearance on the Grasshopper stage, playing a beautiful guitar piece.

Auggie Harner '14 dances with Elizabeth Caralla '11 during a MC skit involving both the Yarkies and Azure.

photo by Megan Robertson '11

photo by Kari Somers '12

photo by Doctor '13

E = Geek²

The Anatomy of a Geek

"My favorite costume was Patrick Wolber '11 wearing his roller blades and holding ski poles. Hilarious!" - Julia Lord '13

EXETER

photo by Kiki Somers '12

- 1 helmet: to protect from aliens and mind readers
- 2 jet pack: they're not real yet, but Exeter kids still wear them
- 3 knee pads: because Exeter kids fall... a lot
- 4 ski poles: a necessity for the long New Hampshire winters

photo by Erin Johnson '13

photo by Sara Nunez '13

photo by Evan Eads '12

12

photo by Gabbie Cireli '12

photo by Sara Nunez '13

photo by Evan Eads '12

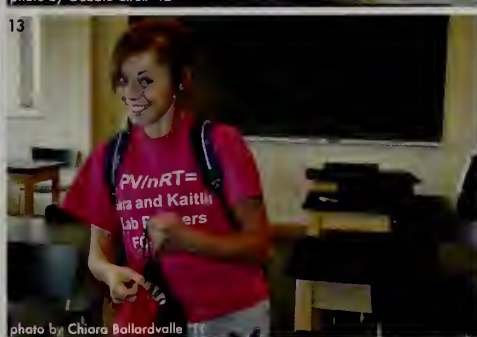

photo by Chiara Ballardville '11

photo by Sara Nunez '13

photo by Sara Nunez '13

photo by Sara Nunez '13

photo by Evan Eads '12

photo by Sara Nunez '13

photo by Sara Nunez '13

1. Exeter Geeks congregate on the steps of Sam Phil. Every year the school takes a giant group photo of Exeter Geeks. Blue Key Head Jeremy Hutton '11 said, "Exeter Geek Day was an amazing experience. I loved seeing the entire campus not only dress up, but embody the nerdiest characteristics of our archrivals as well. Additionally, this year was a little sweeter because as a BKH I had to go all out and because it was my last chance to let my truly geeky side shine!"
2. Blue Key Heads jump enthusiastically. Jina Lee '12 said, "my favorite part of Exeter geek day was seeing the Blue Key Heads. They had the best costumes and were cheering so loudly!"
3. Joey Salva '14 throws up his Star Trek hand sign. He dressed his geekiest for his first Exeter Geek Day. Joey said "To err is human, to be nerdy, divine."
4. Kevin Newhall '13 smiles as he walks across campus.
5. Grace Hayt '11, Kate Taylor-Mighty '11 and Nora Princiatti '12 enjoy a stroll in their Exie Geek attire. Grace said, "I love Exeter Geek Day not only because it unites us with school spirit, but because it's a chance to express our inner geek!"
6. Ben Morris and Erica Morales-Jabse '11 went all out for their final Geek Day.
7. Sky Yoo '11 yells like an Exie with his megaphone.
8. Elaine Sahng '13 embraces a fellow geek as Diandra Peck '13 looks on.
9. Parker Thomas '13 engages in nerdy conversation.
10. Caitlin Clary and Tari Morgan '13 walk across campus donning their red attire. Caitlin said, "Exeter geek day is definitely one of the most anticipated days of the year. I love how everyone unleashes their inner nerd and dresses up in the craziest outfits they can find!"
11. Anna Stacy reads a book in Exie geek farm. She said, "Exeter Geek Day was awesome! At my old school, Spirit Week just meant dressing up in your school color, but it's so much fun to have a rival. Plus, everywhere you look, there are outrageous costumes and people laughing at how all-out their friends went. It was the perfect pump-up event for the Andover/Exeter Games!"
12. E.J. Ejiogu, Mary Palk-Bauman, Amanda Hawland, and Kate Taylor-Mighty '11 act their geekiest on the steps of Sam Phil. Students gathered after classes to take photos.
13. Kaitlin Poor '13 shows off her geeky attire in Gelb. She said "It makes me super happy knowing that Andover has a day solely dedicated to dressing up as a total geek. The better part? That EVERYONE goes out of their way to make themselves look as geeky as possible."
14. Luz Lopez and Alexis Walker '12 don their geeky attire as they walk to class. Bath used glasses to complete the outfit.
15. Ken Thorp '11 struts his stuff as an Exie.
16. Topher Hedley '14 dons a red cape and poses for the camera. He said "Exeter Geek Day is a great way of showing school pride. It's basically the only day where its socially acceptable for someone to parade around in suspenders and knee high socks. It's so fun to see the student body turn into a crimson sea of nerdiness!"

Goodwin Gibbins '11:
"As a new upper, I've seen how other schools do spirit days, and I have to say that Exeter Geek Day taps them all with its monochromatic enthusiasm"

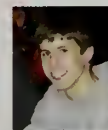

Andrew Yang '14:
"Exeter Geek Day was a great experience. It really made me understand what it actually means to be an Exanian."

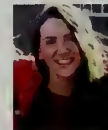

Charlie Peng '11:
"Exeter Geek day: The beautiful excuse to wear red underwear on the outside."

Andrea Yopez '14: "As a new student here at Phillips Academy, I really enjoyed seeing how much enthusiasm was put into this event and how many people participated. I really loved looking around at how people had dressed up imitating the 'Exeter Geeks'."

Gregory Devlin '14:
"Making fun of Exeter students boasted the swag of Andover. It was very funny too."

Claire Frankel '14:
"Exeter Geek Day was one of the most hilarious and fun days at school! Seeing the entire school going all out was awesome."

WHY DO YOU LOVE EXETER GEEK DAY?
students tell us their favorite part of the spirit day

shades of blue pep rally

As students packed the football stadium, teams nervously awaited the debut of their skits and dances for the student body. Students and faculty alike enjoyed an assortment of entertaining skits from each of the teams, including elaborate dances, goal celebrations, and drumline.

For new students, the pep rally was a way to initiate the entire Andover Exeter experience. New upper Ben Romero said, "I went to the pep rally, it was my first one. I loved it, it really got us pumped up for Andover/Exeter Day which was also a blast. The yelling, the screaming, all the shades of blue really made it an unforgettable experience. The Blue Key Heads were excellent. They clearly put a lot of work into it. It showed how much school spirit we have, definitely more than Exeter. All the chants that I learned at the midnight march were put to use. I also liked that they separated us by class. Not only did we get to show that we love Andover but that clearly '12 is the best, ('12 represent). All in all, definitely a memorable experience that I urge everyone to take part in."

the faces of the pep rally

Caitlin Clancy '13, Michael Queenan '13, Madeline McClintic '12, Andrew Bakst '13, Ben Green '11, Linda Blanken '11, Julian Danziger '11, Hannah Guzzi '14, Chena Farhat '12, Michael Berube '11

1. Gunga cheers and helps to get the students fired up. The mascot ran up and down the field all night. 2. The junior class learns how to count down from 11 the Andover way. The class of 2014 experienced their first pep rally this fall. 3. Chiara Baravalle, Elina Segreto, Kate Marris, Zach Esakat and Jenn Dwyer '11 watch the pep rally. They bundled up with blankets to keep warm. 4. Meera Bhan, Sophia Landay, Claire Carroll and Iman Masmoudi '14 show class pride while teams perform skits. This was the four girls' first taste of A/E weekend. Meera said "The pep rally was one of my favorite events of fall term. It felt really cool to see all the school spirit and to know that I am now a part of it." 5. Sahil Bhaiwala, Billy O'Donnell, Jack McGeachie, Stephen Fehnel, John Perkins, Shin-Joe Lee, and Rary Ziamek '13 show their class pride during the pep rally. They cheered with the Blue Key Heads all night, enjoying the funny skits. Rary said "It may be true that we Andover is a better school than Exeter, and the pep rally really reinforced that statement."

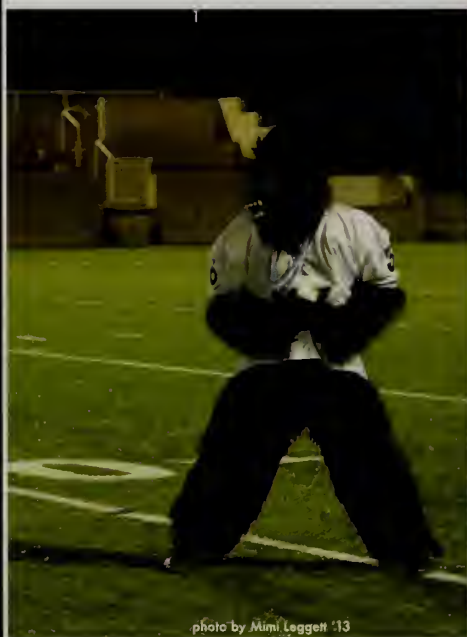

photo by Mimi Leggett '13

photo by Sara Nunez '13

photo by Megan Robertson '11

photo by Evan Eads '12

5

6. Iman Masmoudi '14 shows her spirit with her friends on the bleachers. 7. Kelly Stothis '12, Manwei Chan, and Kristen Faulkner '11 play with Drumline. The club opened the pep rally with codences that made the audience dance. Kristen said "The pep rally was loads of fun. It is one of our first big shows to kick off the year, so Rohan and I were both nervous and excited. It was a great success and afterwards lots of people came to us wanting to join Drumline. Hopefully when I can come back as an alumni I can see Drumline perform in the pep rally again!" 8. Nat Sohn and Elizabeth Kelly '11 cheer for 2011. Throughout the pep rally the seniors showed class pride. Nat said "The fall pep rally is one of my favorite PA events. I love all of the school spirit and the skits are always so much fun to watch. This year PAFH had a really intense skit planned, but right as we were starting, the iPad we were going to use died. Luckily we were able to pull something together last second. It ended up being pretty good!" 9. Uppers shout cheers led by the Blue Key Heads. Ben Manuel '12 said "It was freezing cold, but the uppers that came out showed off their class spirit. Quality over quantity." 10. Chiana Ngwuda and Orie Idah '11 enjoy the pep rally. As seniors, this is their last one. Orie said the pep rally helped me start my senior year with a Big BLUE bang! There was so much spirit and was so much fun." 11. Graham Johns, Katherine Kuhl, and Stephanie Nekoroski '14 clap for the freshmen class. The blue keys helped the freshmen to be loud and get into the spirit of things. 12. Chiomoka Okorie and Vanessa Merino '13 smile as they sit in their class section. The lawers competed with other classes to yell the loudest. 13. Ali Decker and Mally Magnell cheer for their class. 14. Charlotte Cleveland '11 dances on the field after the pep rally. Seniors, including Charlotte, stormed the field after the final act ended.

photo by Megan Robertson '11

photo by Erin Johnson '13

photo by Ben Eads '12

photo by Ben Eads '12

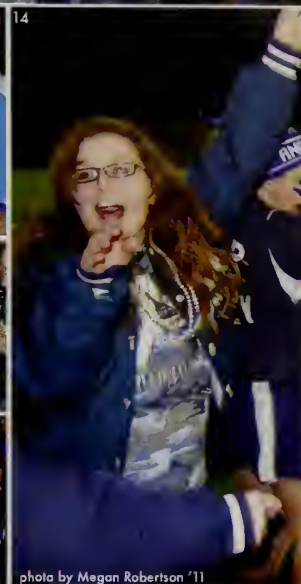

photo by Megan Robertson '11

photo by Megan Robertson '11

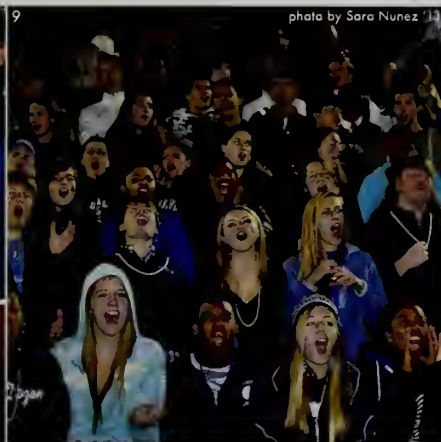

photo by Sara Nunez '13

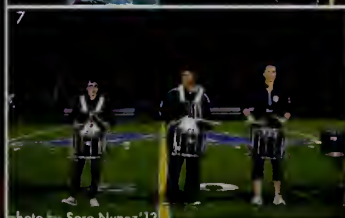

photo by Sara Nunez '13

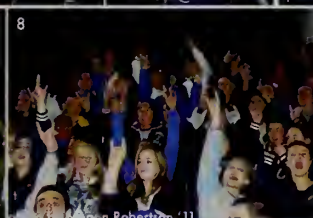

photo by Megan Robertson '11

photo by Tohera Dactor '13

A Sense of Spirit

"In my last year of Andover, my final fall term pep rally seemed more meaningful than past years. Maybe it was because of the sense of class spirit that arose with all of the cheers, or the amazing school spirit I felt when we collectively cheered for our athletic teams. Either way, I know it's a memory I will never forget." - Hannah Finnie '11

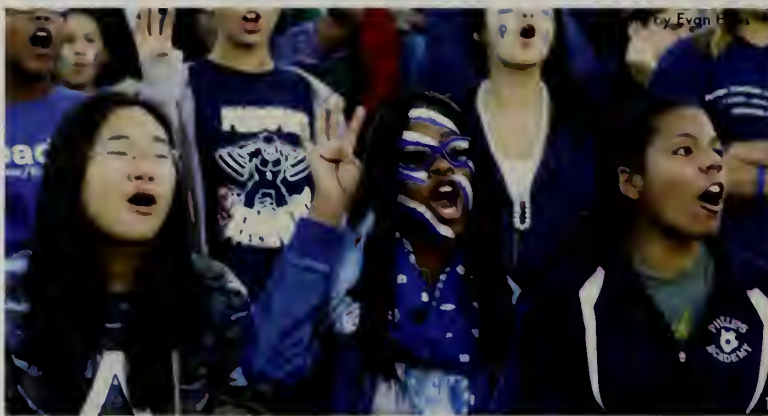

"Girl's soccer was most definitely my favorite pep rally performance this year. Their goal celebrations were hilarious!" - Stella Girkins '11

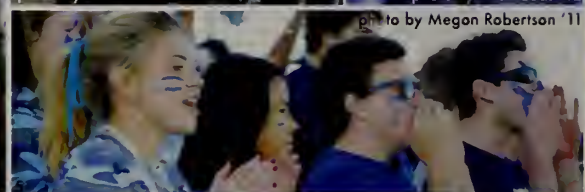

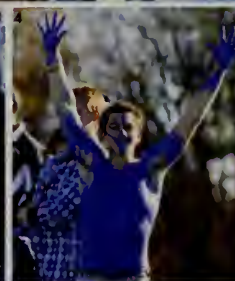

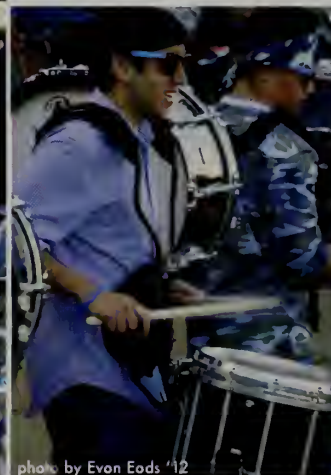

"I found the pep rally to be so awesome because I really started to feel like a part of Andover. I really felt a great sense of school pride and it really psyched me up for A/E." - Loz Nyomokozi '13

"I thought the football team's skit was hilarious, and the volleyball team's dance routine was a riot. I had a blast! I was ready to cheer for our teams on Saturday." - Amina Gamez '12

5. New Uppers Annie Tillman, Melissa Wottona and Adam Farrell '12 take part in the cheering at their first A/E. Most new students are surprised at how energetic Andover fans are! Melissa said, "Before I came to PA, I attended many high school athletic games, but never had I seen the crowd as pumped up as the players." 6. Rohan Mahlatra '11 marches in with Drumline during the football game. The drummers sit in the front row, playing in time with the Blue Key cheers and applauding Andover's touchdowns. "We try to help Andover in any way we can" said Rohan, "we even strategically plan to play a cadence so they Exeter players have difficulty hearing each other on offense or in a timeout!" 7. Molly Magnell '14 dances on the bleachers with a few of her new friends. Even though Molly had never been to a football game before and didn't know any of the rules she still had a blast. She said, "it didn't matter that I couldn't understand a thing that was going on, Andover's my new home and I wanted to go all out to support my team." 8. No one was sparing more blue than Joy Reader '13, who decided to opt for body paint, facepaint, and solid blue apparel. Many of his friends wondered why he had taken things to the extreme. His response: "why not?" 9. Charlie Van Eijk '14 enjoys the game with his face painted friend. 10. Anna Zhang and Jessica Kohan '13 enthusiastically cheer for their class. Jessica said, "decked out in blue and white with strings of white beads on my neck and clumsily painted facepaint on my cheeks, blue of course, I eagerly joined the mass of paint-splattered, A/E shirt wearing, hoarsely screaming PA students to cheer on our team." 11. Blue Key Heads gather with Gunga for a pregame huddle. They all found it exhilarating to finally be leading the crowd from the other side of the concrete wall. Olivia Hawell '11 said, "after 4 hours of straight cheering, you start to feel a little woozy and your head feels like it's splitting open every time you yell, but sprinting down the field holding the flag after PA scores a touchdown is the best feeling in the world!"

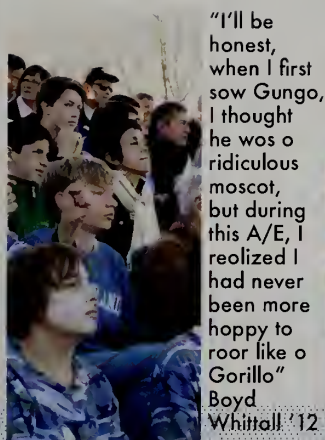

Amanda Howland

Everyone covered head to toe in itchy blue face paint, alumni hugging everyone they meet, pompoms everywhere, guys with their shirts off in 30 degree weather all in the name of school spirit. Its wild.

EJ Ejiogu

I've learned to take out all my frustration and excitement by making my own calls during A/E games. Sometimes I wonder, "Why aren't I wearing the black and white stripes?"

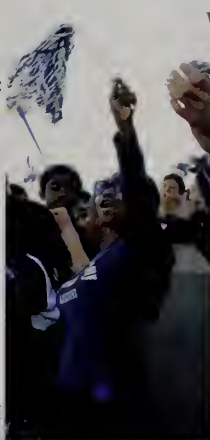

"I'll be honest, when I first saw Gungo, I thought he was a ridiculous mascot, but during this A/E, I realized I had never been more happy to roar like a Gorilla!"
Boyd Whittall '12

photo by Tahera Doctor '12

"I think the Feature's Exonion was the highlight of A/E, though the streaker at the football game was a close second!"
Moddie Kosper '12

"I love dressing up in Andover gear for A/E because I'm excited to show my school pride and cheer for everybody who's taking the challenge to beat Exeter!"
Fotoumoto Diorro '13

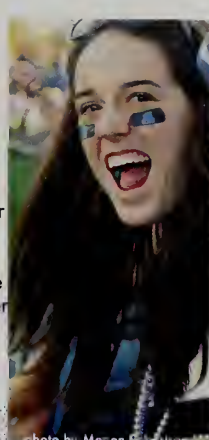

photo by Megan Robertson '11

"The highlight for me was when Tom Polleschi started the rollercoaster cheer during the Boys Varsity Soccer game! It was so much fun to be a part of."
Elizabeth Corrolo '11

1896-97 CHEERS:

P.A P.A Rah-Rah-Rah-Rah.
P.A P.A Rah-Rah-Rah-Rah.
Who Rah! Who Rah!
Andover. Andover.
Rah! Rah! Rah!

Boom-tah-rah, Boom-tah-rah!
An-do-vah!
Boom-tah-rah-rah-Boom!

Hullabaloo, hooray, hooray
Hullabaloo, hooray, hooray
Andover. Andover.
White and Blue.

P-h-i-l-i-p-s Rah-Rah-Rah.
(Repeat three times slowly!)

2010-11 CHEERS:

What do we eat? What do we eat?
Red meat! Red meat!
What do we eat? What do we eat?
Red meat! Red meat!

Clap your hands, stomp your feet
Andover Blue can't be beat!
Nah-Nah-Nah-Nah-Nah-Nah!

When I say BLUE, you say WHITE!
Blue! White! Blue! White!
When I say GO, you say FIGHT!
Go! Fight! Go! Fight!
When I say AND, you say OVER!
And! Over! And! Over!
BLUE! WHITE! GO! FIGHT! ANDOVER!

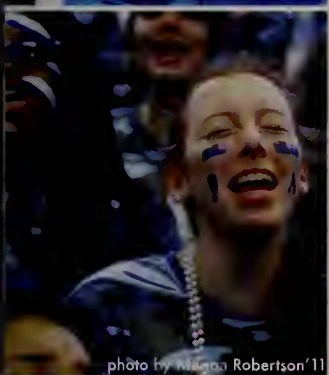

photo by Megan Robertson '11

photo by Megan Robertson '11

1. Lauren Kim, Unwana Abasi, and Andrea Vargas '13 put their hands up for the count down cheer. A/E is amazing because it brings the entire community together, united in the common wish for an Andover victory. Unwana said, "It reaffirms the notion that the people at this school of over a thousand still care for each other, and cheering together connects us all no matter how far apart our lives may seem on every other day." 2. Moriono Budge, Julio Torabi, and Asia Bradley '12 pose for the camera while supporting the Big Blue football team. The crowds went wild when Tom Palleschi '12 introduced a new cheer during halftime: the roller coaster. Moriono said, "the new cheer was the funniest part of A/E weekend, it was hilarious how into it everyone got!" 3. Misho Hoda and Malka Berro '14 show off their face paint and Andover pride. 4. Daniel Schultz '12 shows off his bare chest with Andover pride. Going shirtless in the late fall chill might seem daunting to some, but Dan was completely unfazed. He said, "There's nothing better than pointing yourself completely blue and screaming at the top of your lungs in the cold!"

fundraising sadie hawkins

Sadie Hawkins is fun for the girls who have to ask their date, the boys who are asked, and dancing inside. Yet, the minds and forces behind the dance have a lot of fun, too. The dance is a fundraiser for the club, Oxfam. The head of Oxfam, Audrey McMurtrie '11, didn't spend her night awkwardly dancing with a date, but instead hung out outside the dance, collecting tickets and watching the ebb and flow of dates enter and leave lower right.

"I was sitting with one of the volunteers, David Crane '13, and Brad and Liz from the Community Service office, and we had a blast. I've gone to sadie for the last three years so it was funny to get a different, outside perspective on what it actually looks like. I felt like a chaperone. The few times I did actually brave it out and enter the dance (despite being able to feel the heat waves come out at me from the lobby) I realized that the dance wasn't actually all that the freshman Hale girls make it out to be. Still, even though my experience was a little bit unconventional, I had so much fun seeing my friends get dressed up while still making a difference with a cause I really care about," Audrey said.

The profits from the tickets went toward the larger Oxfam branch which mostly helps with hunger relief, and general poverty and hunger relief.

Playing Dressup

Alexandra Donovan and Christopher Hedley '13 accompanied one another to the dance. Alexandra said, "It's such a blast to get dressed up with your friends! And it's great that the girls get to call the shots for a change."

Anna Stacy '13 and Omegar Chavolla-Zacarias '12. Anna said, "Sadie was my first Andover social event and it was so much fun, getting ready with my friends, and dancing."

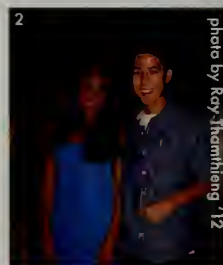

photo by Roy Thomthien '12

photo by Chiara Boravalle '11

photo by Roy Thomthien '12

photo by Chiara Boravalle '11

photo by Roy Thomthien '12

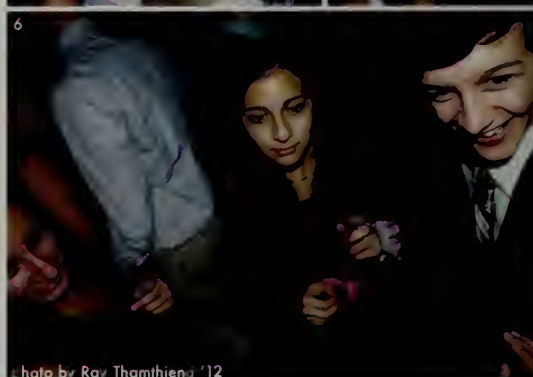

photo by Roy Thomthien '12

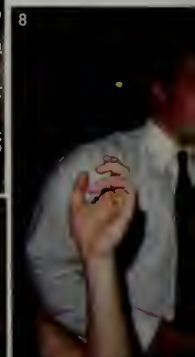

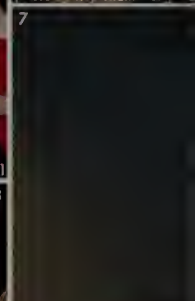

photo by Roy Thomthien '12

7

1. Canor Saules enters the dance with his date and friends on both sides, Rebecca Wogman and Susannah Hyde '13.
2. Rhea Lewis and Tyler Devlin '13 enjoy the dance together.
3. Students throw their hands up in the air in lower right. Favorite hits were played throughout the night. Jeanine Anderson '11 said "Dancing to Aerosmith always recalls those fond memories of the seventies."
4. _____ '13 and his date Malko Berro '14 dance together at Sadie. It was a fun time for him and his date. She said "...
5. Erin Wong and Mark Meyer '13 enjoy the dance. Mark knew before hand that Erin was going to ask him to the dance. He said, "a bunch of my friends and I were in the lobby of Commons and out of nowhere came a group of Erin's friends led by Erin. She come right up to me and asked, right then and there, in front of everyone, if I would take her to Sadie. Of course, I accepted, causing applause to fill the lobby of Commons."
6. Alec D'Alelio '14 dances to the jomming music.
7. Lucia McGloin '13 with her date Jonathan Westling '12 and Claudio Giles '13 with her date Austin Heffner '13. The girls got ready together at Paul Revere after a long day at Andover Exeter. Jonathan said "I loved going to Sadie this year. After winning almost every game at A/E, everyone was in great spirits."
8. Adam Farrell, Vidush Mahansaria, Tomara Kotani and Thea Raymond-Sidel '12 dance the night away in Commons.
9. Adele Bernhard '14 and her date Matthew Schwolsky '14 dance with friends. Adele said "Sadie was definitely worth the anticipation, and I had a lot of fun getting ready with my friends."
11. Alexandra Fawhler, Jonine Ko, Bernadette Narman, and Hyunji Koa '14 pose for a picture. 12. Quinn Daly picks up his date Jin Qu '13. Gaining along with tradition, he brought her flowers and picked her up at her dorm. Jin said, "Saidie made me and Quinn feel so fly like a G6."

photo by Chiara Baravalle '11

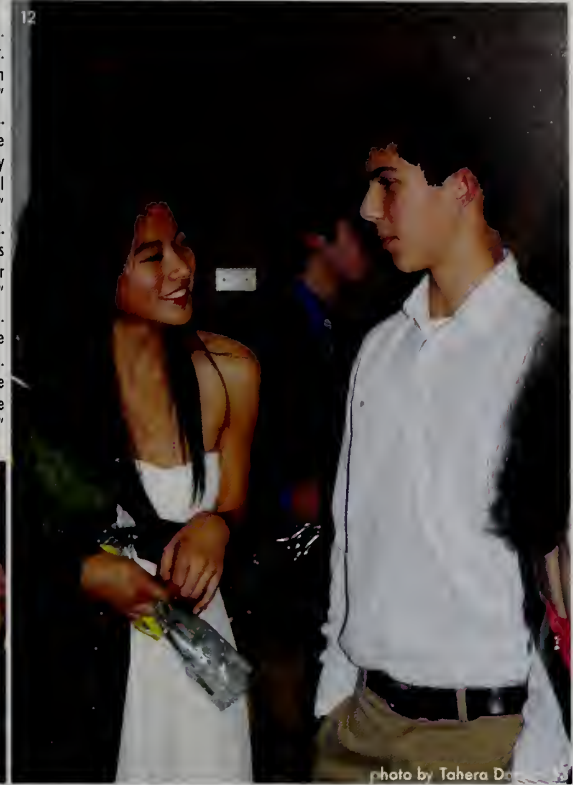

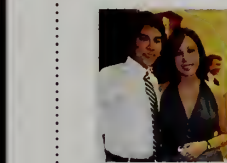

photo by Tahera D...

The Last Sadie

Ropheol Grondeou and Aube Rey Lescure '11 spent the evening together. Aube chose flip-flops over the traditional heels. She said "since no one is going to stare at your feet once you are in the dork you might as well not spend the night in the agony of wearing heels."

Stephonie Liu '11 and James Lim '12 accompanied one another to the dance. With help from people in orchestro, Stephonie asked James to the dance. She said, "everyone laughs at me when I admit that this was the first real dance I had ever been to at PA, even though I am a 4-year senior! It was a bit intimidating at first, but I ended up glad that I went. I realized that there are so many 'Andover experiences' I have yet to have, and if I don't make the most of every day of Senior year, I will never have the opportunity again."

down the hill

students tell Pot Pourri about their favorite spot in downtown Andover

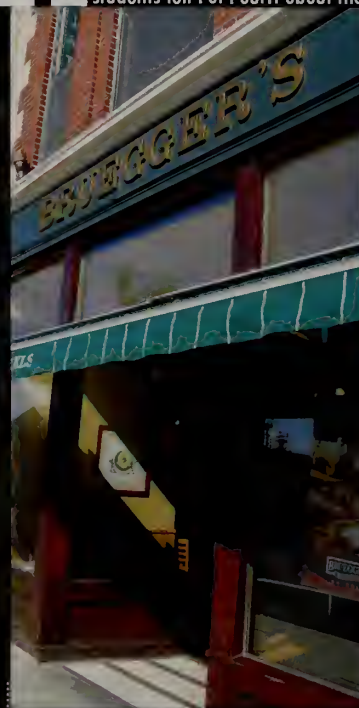

Ultimate Perk
Juliette Randazza '13

The Ultimate Perk is probably the only place that creates muffins more similar to whoopie pies than to actual muffins. Forget the CVS and Starbucks, establishments that can be found in almost every town in New England, the Ultimate Perk is the highlight of downtown.

The Park
Greg Zhang '12

My favorite spot downtown would have to be on the Cammon. While our own Great Lawn certainly has its merits, there is nothing quite like carrying the spoils of a CVS run and bringing them under the canopies of the trees, or into the gazebo, and just spend an afternoon together with friends. On a beautiful spring day after finals, nothing beats a quiet afternoon away from all worries and troubles.

Bruegger's Thomas J Pamplin '14

My favorite spot downtown is Bruegger's. I believe we don't have them in Texas, if we do then I've never been there, but it's a very cool place. I went there on my first weekend in Andover and got this delicious bagel sandwich that tasted amazing. One of the girls I walked with down there kept calling it Hooter's thinking that was where we were going. Boy, was she surprised.

Starbucks
Zachary '13

Starbucks has good energy to study or just to chill. It's also fun to order "medium" drinks just to hear them correct you with "grande?" Not to mention, life is really just all about the Starbucks gold card.

photos by: Megan Robertson '11

CVS
Bakery Rush '14

Bertucci's
Gina Sawaya '13

Dunkin' Donuts
Luke Stidham '14

Lantern Brunch
Tahera Doctor '13

My favorite spot downtown has to be CVS. CVS is so convenient for, well, everything! I need school supplies - I go to CVS. If I need snacks I go to CVS. If I run out of soap or toothpaste, where do I go? CVS. I also get to use my Bluecard there, so I don't have to pay with cash.

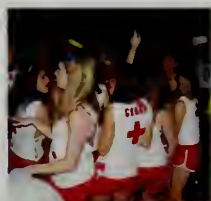

I love Bertucci's for 2 reasons: (1) my friends held a surprise birthday for me last year in one of the booths; (2) if you're nice to the cashier, she will give you extra bread rolls!

The best spot downtown is without a doubt Dunkin Donuts. I love the delicious doughnuts and munchkins, and coolatas are a must. The only downside is that they don't take Bluecard.

My favorite spot downtown is probably the Lantern Brunch, the diner next to the bookstore. It's small and kind of secluded, and the banana pancakes are amazing.

Halloween Backstreet's Back

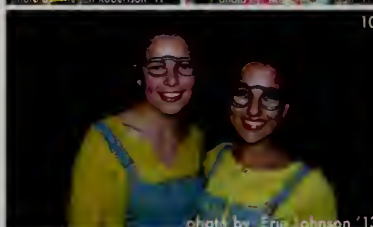

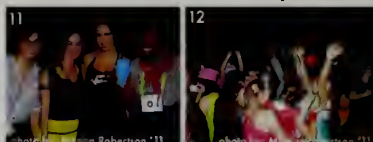

Seniors Jakob Rohwer, Michael Kontaxis, Ricky Marcotte, Zac Elder and Tom Weaver won the costume contest this year for their throw back costumes of the backstreet boys. On stage, the boys performed a choreographed dance to celebrate their win. Jake explains the inspiration for his group's winning Halloween Dance costumes; saying, "since it was our last halloween dance at Andover we felt that we needed to go out with a bang and what better way to do that then bringing back the Millennium? After discussing an assortment of other ideas, we settled on the Backstreet Boys. Then we decided on who would be each 'boy'. Ricky was Nick for obvious reasons, his hair was the longest and he has the best voice of all of us. Since Zac is facial hairily challenged we decided he would best serve as Brian. Tom was the tallest so naturally his backstreet counterpart was Kevin. Michael was assigned Howie because of his good looks and slicked back hair. That left AJ for me, and of course since AJ is the greatest Backstreet Boy ever created, I accepted. The dance was easy with the choreography assistance from Haley Scott. We all rented the pants and shoes from Shaban's and were ready to dance the night away looking nearly identical to the famous boy band."

Whistle Blowers

Lifeguards infiltrated the Halloween Dance and kept swimmers safe.

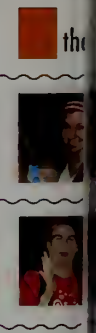

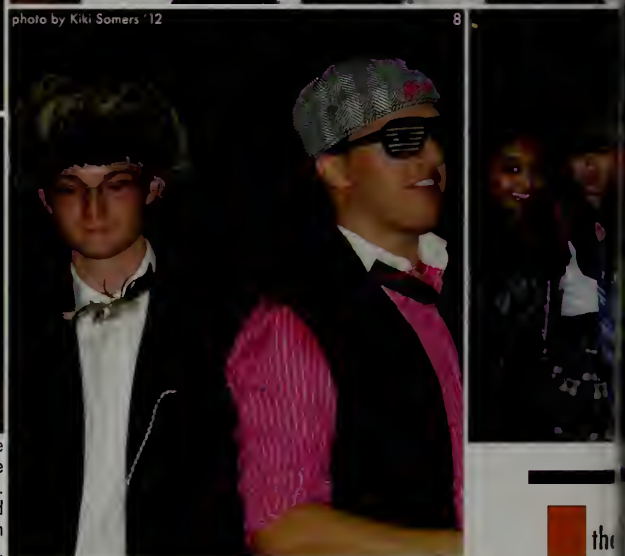

"Going in such a big group was a ton of fun. Gabby Kwon, Kelly Powers, and Elizabeth Corrallo '11 spent all day painting "GUARD" on the back of our shirts and they came out really really well. But the best part was the whistles. We kept running around the dance floor blowing them and screaming "No running by the pool!" which sounds stupid now, but when we were doing it it was a lot of fun." -Melina Prentakis '11

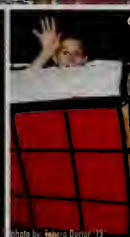

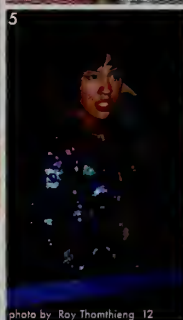

10. Tori Morgan and Andrea Maria Vargas '13 smile for the camera. Over the summer the two saw the movie Ospicable Me and were inspired to be the little minions for Halloween. Tori remembered, "Na one knew what we were, but we had a blast making our costumes at 2 am and then wearing them to the dance."

11. Friends Theo Roymand-Sidel, Mironda Hoyman, Mary Samsan and Tamara Katoni '12 stick together while taking a break from dancing. Miranda Hoyman chose to go as a hipster, easily putting her costume together by roiding a few closets. But, "it took a while to find the perfect combination... owkword that people asked me why I wasn't wearing a costume."

12. Julia Dean, Courtney McDonald, Emily Radmacher and Audrey McMurtrie '11 pose for the camera. The senior girls decided to dress up as the spice girls because it would be the perfect fit. "Daniela is so Posh, I make a good Baby Spice, Amber is very Scary, Audrey laaks good in a lax pinnie, and Sheya rocked her flog dress!" said Julia

1. The crowd goes wild as Zac Elder, Jake Rahwer, Tammy Weaver, Ricky Marcotte, and Michael Kantaxis '11 show off their moves as the Backstreet Boys. The group sported classic all-white suits and performed a choreographed dance on stage. "Backstreet's back alright!" said Zac.

2. Heather Menar, Vita Lompetti, Alex Kiss-Rusk, Cherita Moore and Amino Gomez '12 surround Ezequiel Davila '12 for a picture. The Halloween dance is one of the most popular dances of the year, everyone goes! Vito said, "it was unforgettable - people here really go all out with their costumes!"

3. Ryan Hartung '12, Jay Dolan, Mark Hanson and John Cusick '11 stay in character as The Jesus Police. The group had a blast shining flashlights on couples and danced oddly. Jay said, "to be honest I don't really remember much about that night. As soon as I put on the mustache I become a different person and everything after that is hazy..."

4. Dylan MacDonald, Jessica Lee and Lilybet MacRae '13 dressed as Snap, Crackle and Pop. Dylan said, "it was a really fun dance, it was really funny to see what everyone came as. The music was good too."

5. Nicole Villor '12 stands out in a sparkly costume. She chose to go as pop icon Michael Jackson, one of her d6. Shannan McSweeney '11 stands out in her rubiks cube costume fashioned from an old grill box. Shannan had been planning the costume all summer, but made the final adjustments after her field hockey game that afternoon. "To have more space I did it on the balcony of my dorm, but unfortunately, when I finished the box would not fit through the door to come back inside! I had to throw it off the balcony and get into it when I got downstairs!" Shannan remembered.

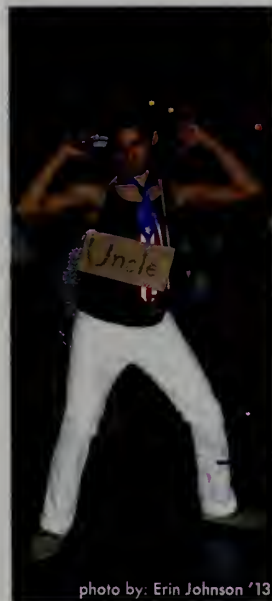

7. Tasmiah Ahmad, Christie Wan, Daphne Xu, Vanessa Shrestha and Meera Bhan '14 show off their costumes.

8. Jesse Bielasiak and Ryan Yost '11 strike a pose as Kanye West and his style advisor, recent PA grad Cossius Clay. The boys decided on their costume at the last minute, but they were big hit with the crowd who had all been following Cossius' rise to fame. "I even tweeted Kanye a picture of us as him and his right-hand man," Jesse said.

9. Julia Dean '11 and Khalil Flemming '12 share a laugh while getting crazy on the dance floor. Khalil loved the great mix of music, and it was a new experience for him, dancing with boxers, lifeguards and schoolgirls. He said, "I was Tiger Woods, so everyone kept asking where all my women were."

ALTER EGOS:

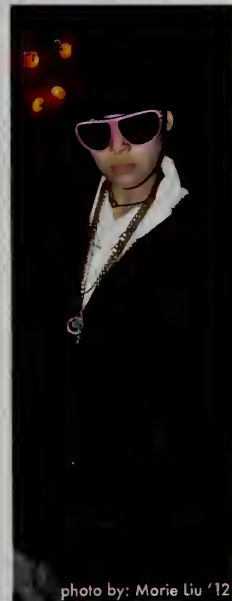

Som Orioch '11 and Alice Hoffman '13 reveal the elements key to their unique costumes.

1 For some odd reason, I was feeling very patriotic an Halloween, so I made a sign that read "Uncle" to show how witty I am.

2 I stole my roommate's U.S. flag tie.

3 I finished it all off with same white pants.

1 Mock daddies obviously wear fedoras, because they need to be classy and professional on the job.

2 Sunglasses are part of the necessary gear for a pimp, even pink ones.

3 As a mock daddy HAD to have bling, to represent my ballin' financial status.

4 I went to a thrift store and paid $60 for the fur coat, as it was the MOST NECESSARY piece of the costume. ALL mock daddies wear fur coats!!

Costumes of the halloween dance: Gaelyn Golde '13, James Hunter '13, Ricky Goldstein '12, Erin Wong '13, Dominick Chang '11, Jack McGeachie '13, Stella Graham '13, Taylor Gorden '11, Tom Palleschi '12, Connor Soules '13, Jaanna Wong '11, Marhelich Santos '12, Katie Ellinger '12, Mimi Leggett '13, Armaan Singh '14, Miguel Wise '14, Chris Cameron '11

fall into winter

Ashlyn Aiello

'14

Fall term was particularly interesting for me because it was my very first experience at Andover. I loved the soccer season, and I played with the kindest group of soccer-loving girls that I have ever known. The homework, even though it is homework, provided me with time to play with the different facets of my mind to try to get that one particularly difficult math problem to make sense. I remember the crazy students who first greeted us juniors at the entrance of the school and who taught us the cheers and spirit of the Andover community. Midnight cluster spirit runs, chapel meetings, and tours all flood my mind when I think of the first day of school. Even the food at Commons was so surprisingly great. This is why fall term was the best. Never again will I have the chance to experience the surprises and new adventures upon beginning school at Andover.

Deena Bui

'12

I think I prefer fall term because even though it is a bit long, at least you never have to worry about walking to class during a blizzard. Plus, everything feels new and fresh when you arrive for Fall term - your dorm room, your classes, etc. - whereas at the start of winter term, you are panicking at the prospect of snow-shoveling.

Sam
Berner

'12

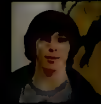

I prefer fall term because it is longer, and therefore teachers do not need to cram material and give so many assignments in such a short amount of time with virtually no breaks.

Hannah
Pu'a

'11

Fall term. There's this beautiful explosion of color, a ton of campus events, and I have enough time to bring up my math grade after midterm.

Sam
Berner

'12

I prefer fall term. Everyone is still excited and full of energy from summer break, and the weather is just warm enough to have fun outside. The wind is cool but not too cold, and there's still time to relax before the stress of tests fully kicks in.

Aiyah Belinkie

13

I like winter term better because I love the snow! Also, the school days seem to pass quickly and weekends are more fun with snowball fights.

I also think that the munches winter term are better and I find shoveling with my dorm fun!

Jon Bakken

12

I prefer winter term because it is much shorter and because I can go skiing.

Kishan Patel

11

I prefer winter term, because every night I am ever so slightly optimistic that the following day will be Head of School's Day.

Tasmiah Ahmad

'14

I like winter term better than fall term because it really is a time to catch up on things you fell behind on last term. Winter term is also a shorter term, so you get school over with super quick! It is also fun to have movie nights and chill with friends while drinking hot chocolate.

parallels

The DJS of the techno floor

Mark Adamsson '11 and Chris Batchelder '11

The Gelb dance is famous for its' musical variety. Each floor hosts a different type of music, and different student DJs run the turntables throughout the night. On the second floor this year, or the "techno floor" were seniors Chris Batchelder and Mark Adamsson. Chris said, "Mark and I are born DJs. We brought the best from both sides of the Atlantic: from Sweden to Boston and Miami to Ibiza."

The DJs played various famous techno songs, including Mark's personal favorite "White Noise/Red Meat." The floor was packed all night!

6. Kerry Lanza '11, Alexandra Powell '11, and Jenny Chen '11 dance together on the techno floor. Kerry thought this was the best Gelb Dance she had gone to. She said "I spent the whole night in front of the strabes and speakers on the 2nd floor, playing with glow sticks and just going corelessly crazy to the music with my best friends. I didn't care how I looked dancing, I just wanted to have fun... and I did. A lot of it."

7. Students fist pump and jump to the beat on the crowded dance floor. They often found themselves pressing against someone they didn't know. Zach Esakof '11 said "70% of the sweat on my body was not mine."

8. The Gelb Science Center which holds the Gelb Dance every winter. Each of the three floor has a different type of music playing. The first floor plays 90s music, the second floor pumps techno music, and hip-hop music blares on the third floor.

9. Students journey from floor to floor in search of new music.

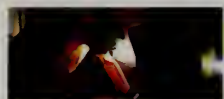

10. Students dance in the thick crowd on the hip-hop floor.

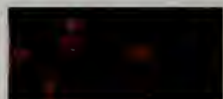

photo by Megan Robertson

photo by Megan Robertson

photo by Megan Robertson

"This year I DJed the first floor at the Gelb dance. Usually that floor has the least amount of people but as soon as I started pumping the backstreet boys, N'Sync and Britney Spears, everyone come down to party." - Kennedy Edmonds '12

"Oh my gash, it was just the craziest night of my life, as the music blasted, lights flickered and bodies tromped one another, I knew I was bleeding blue." - Haley Erskine '12

"The gelb dance had so much energy- it's definitely the best dance of winter term. I remember dancing in the dorm beforehand with my hall, all of us were so excited before we even got there, and then running up the stairs to second floor with our hands in the air screaming." - Mimi Tanski '11

"So crowded! I think the third floor was definitely the hottest/ most crowded it's ever been (at least since my lower year). But the music was really good and I thought SAB did a really great job with the lighting and set up!" - Gabby Kwon '11

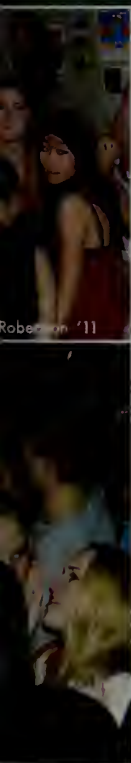

1. Connor Deveney '11 jumps into the air on the techno floor.
2. Ben Manuel '12, Chris Nanda, and other Students dance wildly on the techno floor. Ben said, "Gelb Dance is always a party, but its steaming hot atmosphere always rolls over to the temperature. So, my hall and I decided to brave the cold and rock the shorts."
3. Andrew Waatan '11 and Kevin Fung '13 make try to make their way through the crowd.
4. Sam Orioch '11, Tim McLaughlin '11, Charlie Cockburn '11, and Alex Smith '12 break it down on the Techno floor. Charlie said "I'm reading a book by journalist Barbara Ehrenreich called 'Dancing in the Streets,' about the decline of something she called collective joy. Yet after the Gelb dance, it must be said that collective bliss has never felt so pocked, so sultry, or so fun."
5. Bobby Langworthy gets caught mid-dance for a picture.

where chemistry happens

In the words of Manuel Fernandez, the Gelb dance was "an amazing night jumping with the rhythm of music until your body asked you to stop because your tee shirt was so sweaty." With three floors of loud, fast tempo music, the Gelb dance attracted hundreds of students and proved to, once again, be one of the best dances of the year. Given the options of floors, most students rushed upstairs to the hip-hop and techno floors, while others stayed downstairs to relax and chill. Cherita Moore '12 said, "the hip-hop floor was poppin', the techno floor was rockin' and the 90's need work."

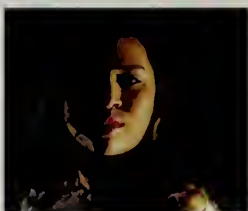

Khadijah Owens '11 described the reasons for the success of the night very well, saying, "the gelb dance is obviously the most popular dance for a reason; It's the one night of the year when everyone forgets about the pressures of high school and simply lets loose and has fun."

The students pushed their way through the crowd, forming circles and forgetting all inhibitions as they bumped and jumped into others. While many people left with minor injuries, and all left exhausted, everyone had a great time and were able to forget their stress for a few hours.

Carolyn Whittingham '11,
Catherine Cleveland '11
and Sam Oriach '11

Theater 520

Julius Caesar

This year, the Theater 520 class put on a production of William Shakespeare's Julius Caesar directed by Kevin Heelan. Filled with strobe lights and ornate costumes, the play exuded excitement from the opening curtain. Students worked tirelessly to put on the show, filling Tang theater, and offering a wonderfully entertaining study break on Thursday night, as well as shows on Friday and Saturday. Andrew Schlager, an upper, played Julius Caesar. He said, "From the first day, when Mr. Heelan taught the cast how to kick and punch and knee people in the gut (all fake, of course...), I knew this would be a wild production. When you've got Charlie Danner (or Chazz as Mr. Heelan calls him) cranking out a dubstep soundtrack, Mrs. Wombwell leading group kick boxing sessions and poeple flying left and right between curtains, you're bound to have one jazzed up play. Shakespeare's rolling over in his grave, hopefully with happiness!"

photo by Morie Liu '12

photo by Morie Liu '12

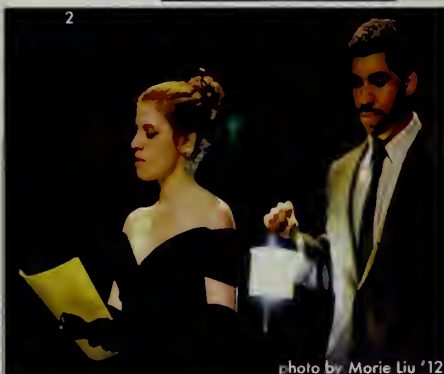

photo by Morie Liu '12

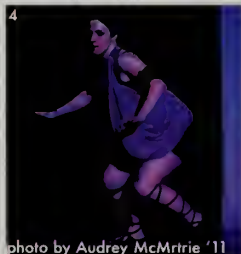

photo by Audrey McMrrie '11

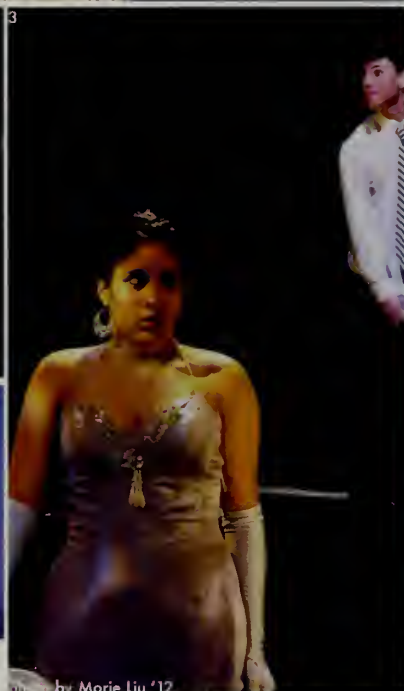

photo by Morie Liu '12

1. Elizabeth Oppang '12 and Eliana Kwartler '12 converse as Portia and Brutus. This was Elizabeth's first Theater 520 production. She said "Having a predominately female cast really put an interesting twist on the play, and it really gave it new layers of meaning that can be interpreted in both modern and historical contexts." 2. Eliana Kwartler '12 and Sam Oriach '11 stand on stage as the narrator and Brutus. Eliana enjoyed acting in Caesar, especially because it was surprising for both the audience and the actor. She said, "We never actually blocked the scene where I kill Caesar. On opening night, Mr. Heelan told me it was a love scene, not a death scene, so Andrew and I played with that during each performance. On closing night, just as I was about to stab him, he leaned over and just kissed me on the lips." 3. Nikita Lamba '11 and Andrew Schlager '12 act as Julius screams at a senator. Nikita said "Julius Caesar was incredible. The cast really pulled together and turned out an amazing show, and our director, Mr. Heelan, had such a twisted and wonderful vision for the play. One of my favorite things I've done all year, by far." 4. Nara Princiatt '12 creeps quietly. It was her first 520 production, and so at first she felt very overwhelmed. She said, "There were so many amazing talents in the show, not to mention amazing people." 5. Eliana Kwartler '12 and Julie Cachia '11 fight. Julie said, "Julius Caesar is such a classic play, yet Mr. Heelan turned it into a completely different one. I think turning every character (except for Caesar) into a woman was a huge challenge but in the end, it made the play much more interesting. I had so much fun in the rehearsals, especially in the fight scenes, and I know I'll miss now that it's over." 6. Keely Henesey '12 wanders through the dark. Keely said "It was a fantastic show to have the privilege to be involved in and the distinctiveness of an almost entirely female cast added to the experience." 7. Nara Princiatt '12 and Kristina Rex '11 converse during a performance. This was Kristina's third Theater 520 production, and one of her favorites. She said, "Julius Caesar was the best experience I have ever had with cast bonding. Just as everyone started becoming such great friends and having so much fun, the show was over. It was an amazing experience and I wish it hadn't ended so soon!" 8. Jackie Lender, Julie Cachia, Carolyn Whittingham '11, Miranda Haymond, and Keely Henesey '12 plot together to kill Caesar. Miranda said "What happens when the awe-inspiring Kevin Heelan and the magnificent Judy Wambwell cost 15 jaw-dropping babes and two dashing young men to bring William Shakespeare's Julius Caesar to life? We call it Girls-I mean, Conspirators Gone Wild, 2011!" 9. Grace Hayt '11 and Jeannine Anderson '11 talk. Jeannine has been involved in the theater department for a long time. She said, "working with this group of people was one of the most inspiring experiences of my life." 10. Jackie Lender, Nikita Lamba, Carolyn Whittingham, and Julie Cachia '11 prepare to kill Caesar, played by Andrew Schlager '12. Jackie's favorite moment occurred after a dress rehearsal. She said "Mr. Heelan gave such an emotional and inspiring pep-talk that everyone started crying. Well, that's what you get for having an all female cast."

photo by Mar

photo by Audrey McMrtrie

photo by Marjie Liu '12

to by Marjie Liu '12

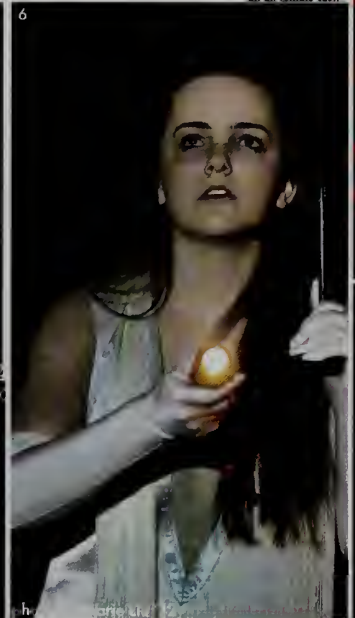

photo by Marjie Liu '12

Behind the Scenes...

"Julius Caesar was the first 520 I've done, and one of the best theatre experiences I've had here. The show was unique because it wasn't a literal representation of Shakespeare. Many people would say it's a very "Kevin Heelan" show. I worked with the lighting, and we definitely went far with it, using lanterns, effects, and strobes throughout the show, trying to create a feel of mystery and darkness."

-Kevin Song '11

big blue athletics

2 PA athletics are an integral part of the Andover experience. It is the perfect ying to the competitive academic yong. Some of my best memories of Andover come from my time on the waterpolo and crew team. - Dan Larson '11

Will Walker '11 waves his cluster flag with pride. The cluster system is another integral part of the Andover experience.

all school meeting

3 My friends and I always rush into all school meeting so we can sit in the front row and get the best view of the speaker. It's so much better than getting stuck behind a pillar. - Moggie Shoemaker '12

gunga

4 Most of us have no clue who is underneath the mask but it doesn't matter...gunga embodies the collective spirit of everyone. - Grace Hoyt '11

the library

5 The library makes us True Blue. Only at Andover would kids choose the library as their favorite place to socialize. - Sheiling Chio '12

student activities

I love dances because after a long week of classes dancing with my friends is always the best stress relief. - Unwano Abosi '13

what makes us true blue

6 samuel phillips hall

The Sam Phil clocktower makes us True Blue. It faces the great lawn, and is completely unobstructed, a reflection of Andover's honest moral values. - Rosalyn Chen '14

the sanctuary

I did cross-country and I think our course is the best out of all the prep schools. The sanctuary is the coolest place to race, especially when only the Andover runner is prepared for Heatbreak Hill. - Timothy McLaughlin '11

blue key heads

The blue key heads going crazy on the curb make us True Blue. They let us know we are all living and learning together, from the experienced seniors to the terrified juniors. - Auguste Harner '14

paretsky commons

Commons makes us True Blue. It's a place to talk with friends, meet with teachers, and eat good food. - Marga Kempner '12

youth from every quarter

Our community makes us True Blue. It is extremely diverse, but tight knit at the same time. - Thamos Shannan '12

faculty and staff

The faculty at Andover are so dedicated. They offer time outside of classes just to help you and they put in extra effort in class to make it entertaining and fun. - Ray Thomthieng '12

the bell tower

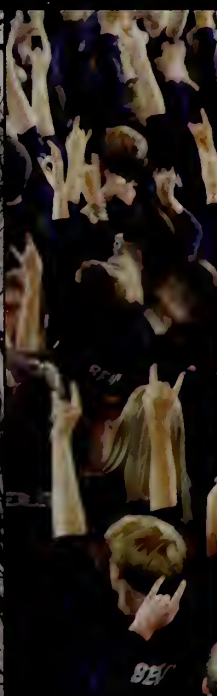

The first trace of Andover I see when I return to school each year is the bell tower, looming over the hill, and I'm immediately stressed, overwhelmed and excited all at the same time. - Isobel Elsan '12

the student body

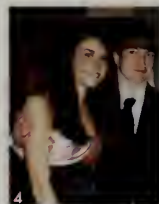

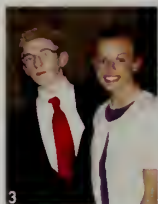

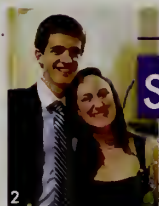

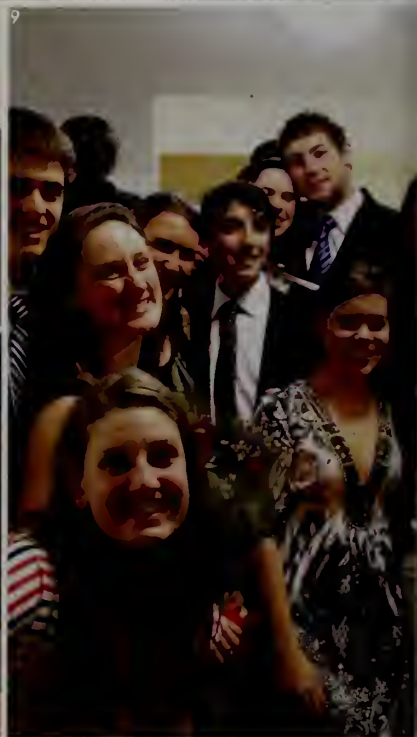

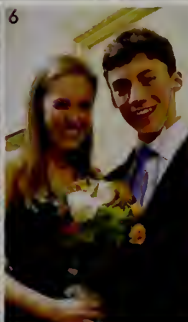

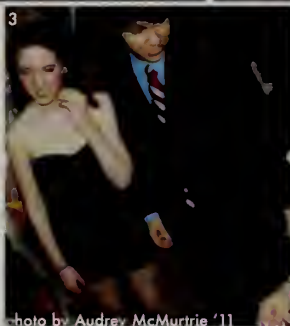

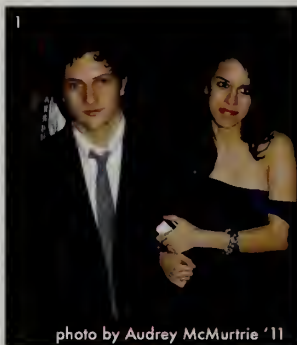

Phillips Academy's students make us True Blue. Their enthusiasm, school spirit, and hard working personalities allow Andover to be a place for both fun and success. - Aly Wayne '14

big blue spirit

The feeling I get after we beat Exeter makes us True Blue! There's nothing like beating them to remind me of how proud I am to be BIG BLUE. - Mariana Budge '12

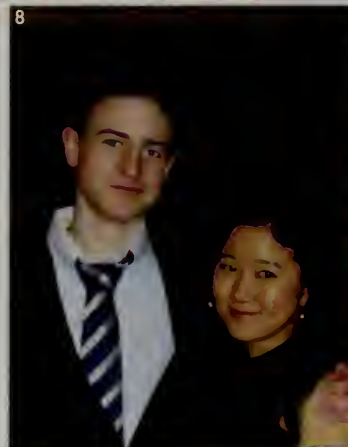

1. Max Black '12 and Daniela Pimentel '11 enter the dance. As the new editor in chief of the Phillipian, Max asked Daniela with a note in the Phillipian. She said, "My favorite part was definitely how he asked... the Phillipian rabbit ear never looked so great."
2. Hayata Lee and Collin Benedict '12 pose before the dance. For same, Blue and Silver is all about hanging out with friends and checking out the silly dance moves. Collin said, "It's always the best when you're in a circle and people decide to be all crazy in the middle."
- 3.
4. Lizzie Goldsmith and Dominick Chang '11 have fun on the dance floor. Dominick said "Blue and Silver is probably one of the best formal dances of the year."
5. Diana Avellaneda '14 smiles at her date Joey Savla '14.
6. Sophie Gould and Chris Meyer '11 pose. The most memorable part of Blue and Silver is often the adorable ways that boys ask girls. Sophie has never been one for public humiliation, so she was thankful when her boyfriend Chris asked her in a cute but subtle way! "I got back to my dorm late to find a rose, a book and a card on my pillow. I had to follow a code to reveal the question, 'Blue and Silver?'" she said.
7. Ken Tharp, Zachary Esakof, and Jenn Dwyer '11 dance the night away. Ken had originally planned on sporting a super preppy look, but because his wrestling team got back late from a meet he didn't have time to change. "I ended up looking like a clown in that dapper ploid blazer, instead of getting gussied up in a baring blue one. Anyways, my date didn't mind my ridiculous outfit too much, and we ended up having a totally fun and amazing night!" said Ken.
8. Andrew Ramsey '14 poses for a picture with his date Anika Kim '14. Andrew said, "It was an absolute blast, and everyone, myself included, had a great time at Blue and Silver."
9. John Ingram '11, Emily Timm '11, Matt Appleby '11, Molly Levene '12, Austen Navis '11, Campbell Howe '14, Connor Deveney '11, Allie Robinson '14, Angelica Jarvenpaa '11, Chris Nanda '14, Lauren Cante '14 and Joe Faller '14.
10. Sarah Stevens and David Janavsky '11 dance together. Sarah said, "Blue and Silver is always such a fun evening! I love getting dressed up and having a fun time dancing."
11. Advaya Krishna and Shelby Centofanti '11 smile for the camera. Shelby said, "It was really fun to go to our last Blue and Silver! Seeing everyone dressed up and having a good time is always a blast."
- 12.
13. Maddie Kasper '12 and Sirius Han '13 stop dancing to pose and smile. Maddie said, "The beauty of going with a friend? Instead of flowers you get Cosmo and Rolling Stone."
14. Lilybet MacRae '13, John Perkins '13, Connor Fraser '13, Jordan Johnson '13, and Alex Kramer '13 stop to get their picture taken. Jordan said, "Dancing on the windowsills in upper right was by far my favorite part of the night...maybe even winter term. Oh, I can't forget the fadu fountain though, definitely another epic highlight!"
15. Talar Dartana '12 and Charlie Oliva '11 smile. Talar said, "Sure, the music was great and it was fun to see everyone all dressed up for a change, but the real reason I went to Blue and Silver...the chocolate fountain (just kidding Charlie)."
16. Tafarii McKenzie '12 and Jesse Bielskiak '11 accompany one another. Jesse said "I hadn't been to a formal dance since freshman year so I decided it was time to go again, to sort of baakend my Andover experience. It pretty much lived up to what I imagined and remembered (both positive and negative). Overall, it was a great time though, despite the super random group of people I was with. Totally worth it in the end!"

1. Wenyu Cao and Jessica Weng '11
2. John Ingram and Emily Timm '11
3. John Elliot-Higgins and Aly Wayne '14
4. Emily Ewing '14 and Guest Jamie Catalan

Say Cheese!

Blue & Silver

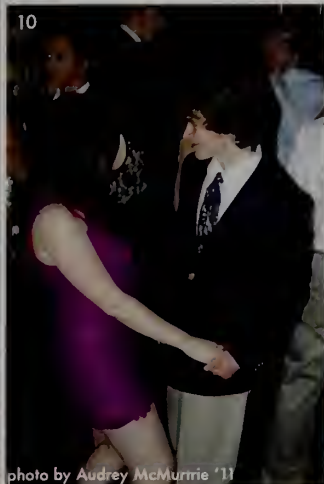

photo by Audrey McMurtrie '11

photo by Audrey McMurtrie '11

photo by Audrey McMurtrie '11

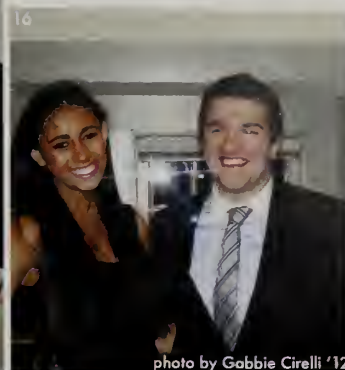

photo by Gabbie Cirelli '12

11

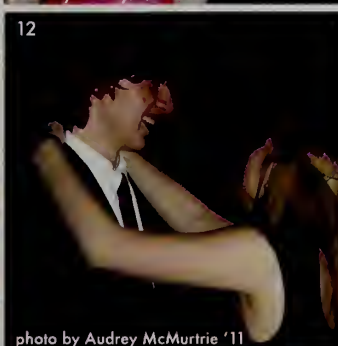

photo by Audrey McMurtrie '11

14

photo by Audrey McMurtrie '11

our memories

Julie Cachia and Charles Horner

Recalling his preparations for Blue and Silver, Charles said, "I spent hours trying to find the perfect flowers for Julie". Julie said, "Hey, at least I got me some nice flowers!".

photo by Audrey McMurtrie '11

Fatoumata Diarra and Mark Meyer

Fatou said "For someone who wasn't even thinking about going to blue and silver at first, my night turned out to be really fun."

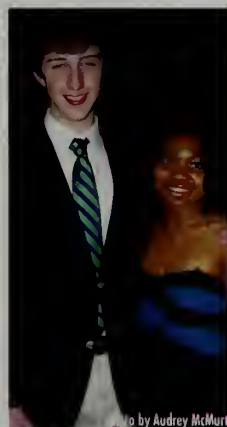

photo by Audrey McMurtrie '11

Krissy Pelley and Dan Krichmar

Krissy said, "I like fondue, and I like the Mocoreno. Add the two, and you get my Blue and Silver experience."

photo by Audrey McMurtrie '11

1. Ryan Ramos and Kell Yang-Sammataro '12 trudge through the snow. Kell was upset that he could not build igloos. Kell said, "although it was fun at first, having back to back snow storms got annoying, especially because building igloos was outlawed."
2. Students face the wind and snow to walk toward the Quods.
3. Students celebrate outside of Commons as the news of the snow day quickly spreads. Snow fell throughout the day. Sam Koffman '13 said "I got the message on my phone right before moth started. The whole class freaked out and the it took the teacher forever to calm us. As soon we had settled down, the room next door erupted into cheers!"
4. Rachel Margalese '12 walks to class amidst the huge snowbanks.
5. Phillips Academy students walk from the chapel after an All School Meeting. Despite tons of snow the school decided to hald classes as scheduled.
6. Tasfia Khan '14 faces the wind and snow while smiling.
7. Zach Esakof '11 carries shovels on the lawn by Pearson.
8. Christopher Yang '12 smiles as he shovels snow. He said, "it's a good feeling when you're out there with your dorm mates shoveling your House Counselor's car out, side by side."
9. Camerin Stoldt '12 took advantage of the snow day and said "my friends and I went sledding and made jumps off of hills. I've never been so cold in my life; I'm pretty sure I last all feeling in my body."
10. Wes Fabyon rescues a friend from the deep snow.
11. Angela Batuura and Emily McKinnon '13 go to commons for lunch to escape the snow.

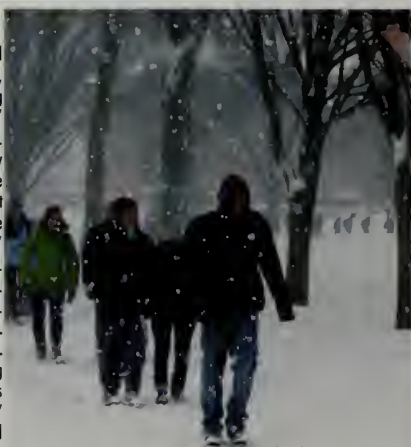

photo by Sammy Morris '12

photo by Tahera Doctor '13

s(no)w school

When the weather forecast predicts an upcoming snowstorm, Phillips Academy students often groan at the thought of slipping and sliding as they make their way to classes. For others, waking up early to shovel snow brings disappointment. However, on February 1st students received an e-mail from Ms. Sykes announcing that the following day was a snow day. The news spread throughout campus quickly. Even though snow continuously fell during the day, students' moods lifted. The news even sparked an impromptu dance in The Den on Tuesday night.

Students used their free time on Wednesday to catch up on sleep and watch movies in the comforts of the dorms. More adventurous students braved the huge piles of snow to trek to the Sanctuary or chapel to find sled runs. The day off gave students a much needed mid-week break.

This winter brought a huge amount of snow unseen in the past few years. In fact, Phillips Academy Andover had not cancelled classes for a snow day in years, and the school experienced the first snow day in thirty-three years, and students are sure to remember it for many decades.

making history:

where were you when you got the email about the first snow day in years?

I found out about the snow day while dissecting in biology class. Everyone was jumping around with scalpels in their hands and yelling at the top of their lungs. That was a great lob. - Charles Horner '12

I was in physics class, 4th period, when a boy announced that he received an e-mail that the school will be closed tomorrow due to the snow. Some girls squealed, but others including me were rather too shocked to react. Dr Watt just smiled. - Pin Pin Teo-Mongkornpon '11

I was in Lower Right in Commons, placing my stuff down at a table, when I see a girl run over to a table. I saw her take out her iPhone and heard the words "email" and "snow," saw the reactions by the students at the table, and assumed we were having a snow day. Naturally, I ran into the serving area of Commons and someone hugged me out of nowhere. People where yelling, hugging, and giving each other high-fives. It was so electric. In Commons, everyone knew about the snow day in one minute. It was nice to get to celebrate PA's first snow day since 1978. - Sam Oriach '11

I was sprinting up the stairs to get to moth on time when all of a sudden, the person in front of me in the staircase stopped abruptly after checking his email and shouted, "NO SCHOOL TOMORROW!!!" Some of the students in the classrooms I passed were screaming and hugging, and everyone, even the teachers, had huge smiles. Because PA hasn't had a snow day in 33 years, it was really cool to realize how rare of a chance this was and to benefit from this crazy winter! - Meghan Collins '11

photo by Tahera Doctor '13

photo by Tahera Doctor '13

Buzz Worthy

I was in the beginning of French class in SamPhil, and my teacher was out of the room when everybody's iPhones and Smart-phones started buzzing and lighting up. There was a huge cry of happiness from a classroom down the hall as students heard the awesome news. When my French teacher returned, he was so shocked that he started speaking in English—something he's barely done since the beginning of the school year (the whole experience was really funny)! - Abriana Mayer '14

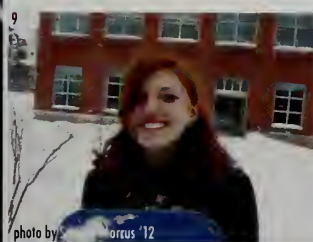

photo by Sammy Morris '12

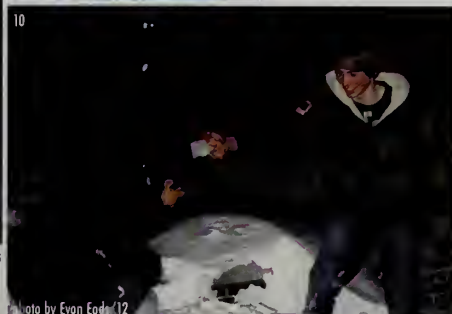

photo by Evan Eads '12

photo by Sara Nunez '13

photo by Sara Nunez '13

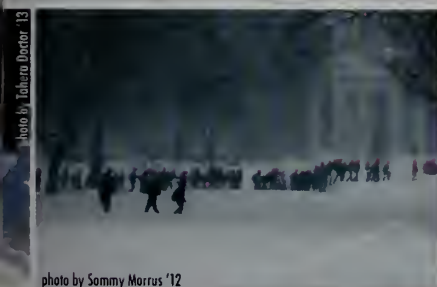

photo by Sammy Morris '12

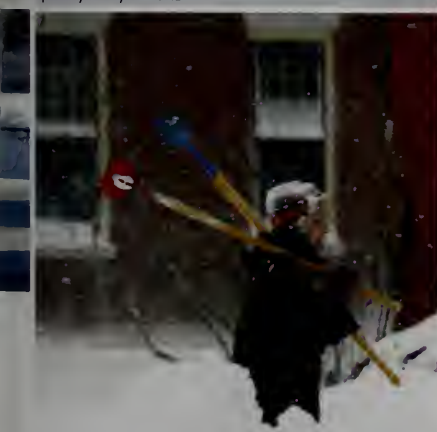

photo by Evan Eads '12

celebrate

I was sitting in library doing homework, as always, when one of the librarians threw her arms up in a touchdown sign. Curious, I ran over to her and she read me the best email Mrs. Sykes has ever written in her life. Without hesitation I started running and screaming in circles around the library. When I got to the Silent Study I made a public announcement of our SNOW DAY and heightened the celebration by making as much noise as possible. A few of the teachers in the room proceeded to "shh" me, but nothing could ruin that moment. The end of a thirty year snow day drought was something to celebrate! - Courtney Macdonald '11 we all can't live without...

Aside from caffeine and studying, Andover students share many addictions.

Well, i would say my biggest addiction is facebook. I'm probably on it for at least an hour everyday. I'm a day student, so it's easy for me to miss out on a lot of things that go on, but when i'm on facebook, it's as if I never left campus.
- Pearson Goodman '13

I am addicted to sleep! I'm in a constant state of withdrawal though. - Christopher Blackwood '12

If you consider eating approximately two jars of peanut butter a week an addiction, then I'd say I'm addicted to peanut butter.
- Zoe Chazen '14

I love buying green
airheads from Ryley!
I bought so many that everyone in Ryley now refers to me as the 'airhead girl.' Sometimes when they get new deliveries I go in and buy out the store... people sometimes get upset. - Evan Eads
'12

I rent a movie from the library every day. On the weekends my friends will watch movies with me, and since I average a movie a day
I bought myself a Dolby Home Theater System. Money well spent. - Jaewon Suh '12

My English class actually makes fun of me so much because

I bring chocolate chips to class every day. I know where they keep them in commons, and I stress out when I don't have them. - Sammy Marrus '12

parallels

Being a Blue Key Head has definitely defined my senior year. I knew that coming into this year, some of the younger kids would be watching me to see what I do or how I behave in certain situations. So I felt that I needed to fill the role of a leader, but it wasn't hard. I had 9 other awesome kids always there with me. We shared the burden, the honor, the experience and I can say wholeheartedly that it was all worth it. On the way to the winter a/e games, two lowers on my bus asked me to paint their faces. My face was fully painted, and one of the girls said that she wanted the design I had, so before rushing off to the games, I stopped in a random corner and painted their faces. I don't think that those girls were trying to be like me. I just think that they saw me doing something and decided that because I was doing it, it was cool. I started SLAM my freshman year, but I fell

Aniebiet Abasi '11

Blue Key Head

SLAM Captain

I love with SLAM during my spring visit five months earlier. I just thought all the people on SLAM were ridiculously cool and I wanted to be like them. I enjoy being captain. It has its ups and downs, but when you have a partner who is willing to work with you and put in as much effort as you are, it makes for an awesome experience. Haley and I are always in sync. We work really hard to make sure that every performance is original and interesting, and it's all worth it when the team spends four to five weeks on a three minute performance that the crowd is obsessed with. I love the team. Everyone on it is a little weird, but if they weren't, we wouldn't be SLAM.

Being a BKH is like being on SLAM without the stepping and being on SLAM is like being a BKH only for basketball. I would say that the two roles are very similar and it's very easy to transition from stepping in a basketball game to cheering at a hockey game.

You still have to be loud, enthusiastic, and you still lose your voice at the end. Both roles require obnoxious amounts of school spirit and swag. And when you happen to have a surplus of both, you can fill both roles very well.

Morse

Between the basement of Morse, home to Andover's publications and YPAA, and the CAMP office, Morse Hall has some of the most diverse and committed clubs and organizations on campus.

what is your favorite memory from math club?

Math Club was definitely a big part of my Andover math experience. HMMT and ARML trips were awesome, and giving my first geometry lecture with Wenyu Caa '11 to the math club is an indelible memory.

-Jae Shin '11

I joined Math Club because I enjoy tackling math problems that challenge me and truly make me think. I get a certain sense of satisfaction from getting a tricky problem correct, or seeing a seemingly complicated question unravel into something much simpler and straightforward. Through Math Club, I've been given the opportunity to participate in countless regional and national math contests and have fun with other club members when we compete at the Harvard-MIT Math Tournaments and at the ARML competition at Penn State - my favorite Math Club experience.

-Jessica Weng '11

I've participated in Math Club for one and a half years now. Math Club's a great place to learn how to think abstractly about quantitative problems; essentially we're learning to impress people by turning seemingly impossible problems into simple solutions. Competitions replace many meetings, and afterwards the rooms are always filled with energetic students discussing solutions.

-Charles Guan '11

My strangest memory was of April Liang parading around Penn State with a duct tape hat that Mr. Hurley made.

-Amanda Wang '11

Andover Korean Society

name: Sky Yoo '12

position: President

why aks? AKS is a little taste of home for many Korean students at Andover. One time in fall term, we had to rent out an entire Korean restaurant in Lawrence because so many kids wanted to come and eat Korean food.

name: Andrew Cho '12

why aks? I love being a part of AKS because it provides opportunities for Korean students at Andover to get together and just have a good time. We often meet up to talk about home, watch movies, and eat Korean food.

name: Min Jae Yoo '12

why aks? I first joined AKS (andover korean society) in search for peers with the same ethnicity whom I might easily connect with. It turned out that I did become really good friends with some of them, and they happened to help me out whenever I was struggling with the school or other personal problems. I will most likely remember cooking Korean BBQ for International Festival and the huge trip down to a Korean restaurant. One time I embarrassed myself by assuming everyone in the club could speak Korean while Korean American kids ended up giving me a funny look. The club is not only a Korean student gathering, but more of an attempt to reach out into and culturally influence the entire school community.

CAFE

Community Awareness for Everyone is a great way for the students and faculty on our campus to express how they feel about any issue that we may face on our campus or any issue in the world that impacts people who are part of the Andover community. Members of CAFE are interested in listening and responding to the wide range of views on different topics that one may hear at Phillips Academy; CAFE is about education and discussion in order to form one's own values based on background information and reflection. We've had discussions about drugs and alcohol, interracial dating, immigration, homophobia, climbing the social ladder at PA and many more topics. CAFE forums are great areas to let people know how you feel in a comfortable environment based on the respect of all participants. The Senior Board is always looking for suggestions for future forums and contributors for the Core Board, which is comprised of anyone who wants to be more involved with the behind-the-scenes part of CAFE, such as choosing forum topics or creating funny skits to start off forums. -Hector Kilgore '11

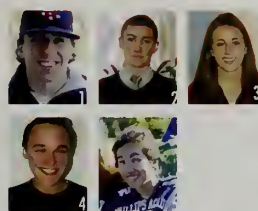

top 4 reasons to join woman's forum

The purpose of WOFO is to create a comfortable environment in which to address gender-related issues. Highlights this term have been:

1. the female presence in the mid-term elections
2. female representation in film
3. the joint meeting with GSA regarding the construction of gender identity
4. our first meeting (we talked about Lady Gaga-Madonna-Katy Perry) was particularly memorable, at least for the board, because of a huge and diverse turn-out the faces of the phillipian

1. name: Chris Cameron '11
position: Sports Editor
why the Phillipian? We hate each other and we love each other until the wee hours of the morning.
2. name: Anthony Tedesco '12 position: Sports Associate why the Phillipian? The Phillipian is awesome because it's kinda like a deadly science experiment. Put a whole bunch of wild, stressed out kids in a overheated room and put the pressure of putting out a paper each week on them...the results are spectacular, ranging from a quality Bradie freestylelin sesh to spur of the moment Ouija games in the Fortress.
3. name: Sarah Onoroto '11
position: Sports Editor
why the Phillipian? The Phillipian is so awesome not only because we put out a quality paper every week, but because we get to hang out in the basement of Morse until obscene hours, hang out with Ms. Scatt, Sporcle, and find out all of the news on campus first. Oh, and we have a Ouija board.
4. name: Kennedy Edmonds '12 position: Copy Editor
why the Phillipian? The Phillipian has been one of the best experiences I've had at Andover, where I've met some of the most interesting people who I know will be my friends for the rest of my life.
5.
name: Yerin Pak '11 position: News Director
why the Phillipian? The Phillipian is so awesome because we have editorial and financial independence from the school - in other words, no faculty member reviews our newspaper prior to printing and we are financially self-sufficient. It's a lot of responsibility that we take seriously. Also, all the late night covenants means that we as editors became really close friends!

Also in Morse

Af-Lat-Am.....64

Andover Philanthropist Society

Asian Society

Indo-Pak

International Club

Chess Club

Computer Science Club

Pot Pourri.....346

GW & the library

GW and the Library host an amalgam of clubs, everywhere from the Elson Art Center to the PACC.

tech masters

name: Patrick M Niedzielski '13 position: techmaster

why your club?

I didn't know how Techmasters would go at first. In my first year in Techmasters, everyone called me Debian because that was the operating system I used. Now, as an upper, I'm on the board and the club feels so much more natural to me.

However, I'm still having my share of awkward moments. At the beginning of this year, the Techmasters board went to all the Freshmen dorms to fix computer problems. Kelly Stathis '12 and I went to Holo. The funny thing is, we don't really know how to use Macs. And all the problems people had involved Macs. Of course, after struggling and somehow managing to fix all the Macs, the people who ACTUALLY knew how to use Macs (Kevin Song '11, Amanda Wang '11, and Christoph van Braun '12) come in. Good timing.

The board is very close, and we like to have fun. During Orientation, all the Freshmen came in and had the talk with the Technology Director - what you can do on the internet (mostly what you can't do) and stuff like that. So while all this is going on, Kevin, Kelly, Amanda made T-shirts of various bit-torrent (file-sharing) sites and wore them for the freshmen to see in the back. Best of all, Bernhard Fasenfest '12 came dressed as a stereotypical pirate while the administration was telling the freshmen "Don't pirate."

art for expression

I am president/founder of the new club, Art For Expression. It is a club for anyone who is interested in using art as an instrument of self-expression and self-discovery. We do various simple and fun art activities that promote self-understanding. For example, we recently did a "self-box" making activity in which you decorate the inside of a box to represent how you perceive yourself and the outside of the box to represent how other people perceive you. Unlike the traditional form of art clubs, we focus on the emotional benefit of the creative process. We participate in the weekly programs to relieve stress, explore our potentials, and have fun!

Jee Eun "Jean" Lee '11 (photos by Jean Lee)

top 4 reasons to join JusticeNOW

by Michael Levy '13

1. Organization is the key to any change, because people are powerful in large numbers. Through the use of our online facebook group, postings, fundraising events, speakers, etc. we can broaden understanding and in doing so promote an interest in global justice. In being part of the board of JusticeNOW, I hope to collect this knowledge and energy, and channel it outwards to do good. I see the large potential that this club has in leading discussions and initiating a desire to stop injustice. JusticeNOW is a club for those that want to make any kind of difference- whether that change is within the school or around the world. This is something I want to do.
2. JusticeNOW is a club that aims to fundraise and broaden understanding about social issues in general. In past years, our events consisted of the annual coffeehouse, the selling of fair-trade chocolate, movie screenings, and discussions. This year, we will focus on the problem of insufficient education throughout the world. We will be working to send children who wouldn't have previously had the opportunity to school; we will raise money to build libraries, and provide children around the world and smaller communities with books. We want to spread an understanding about how a lack of education can be most detrimental, and that improving education lends itself to a better future in many impoverished places.
3. The board of JusticeNOW works as a team. Every few weeks, the board will meet to discuss thoughts for upcoming events and brainstorm new ideas. The most recent thing I did wasn't that exciting- I printed out fifteen copies of a flyer for our upcoming public discussion in which Andover teachers talk about their own experiences with education around the world. I recommend that everyone take an hour or so out of their Thursday afternoon to go and take part in the discussion. As part of the board, I work in promoting the club and events we organize. Each member of the board brings something new and distinct to the table.
4. If one is looking to get involved without the commitment of attending club meetings, I feel the best way to contribute would be to take fifteen minutes out of your day to research any topic of injustice that interests you most. Maybe you want to write a letter to your congressmen or help raise money to donate to some non-profit organization. JusticeNOW is willing to help you do just that. We are open to any new ideas. We have a facebook group- please join. As of now, we are thinking of organizing film festivals, student-organized concerts, street art contests on Main Street, book drives, etc. Even the smallest contribution to JusticeNOW would be appreciated.

director Pat Brady tells us: why drama labs?

Acting as one of the producers of the DramaLab has been an entirely inspiring-but certainly challenging-experience. It's something I've wanted to do since my freshman year at Andover. I equated being a producer to running a professional theatre company. And it's not too different (except we do NOT pay rent, and we have a faculty advisor). Essentially, the Producers-Mary, Joanna, and I-are responsible for distributing applications to direct a DramaLab, deciding who will direct, choosing dates for each show, holding auditions, facilitating the casting process, attending rehearsals, giving advice to directors, and putting the shows up on Friday notes. Oh, and those little pieces of paper on each table in Commons that say "Come to the DramaLabs tonight"? That's us, too.

My challenge has been adopting myself into my new role as producer, as opposed to actor or director. When a director of one of my shows approached me asking for help with blocking a stage kiss, I went into the rehearsal highly excited. I bounded into the room and immediately commandeered the show, coaching the actors (two lawers) on how to kiss each other. We had lots of fun, playing exercises where we ran the kiss upwards of twenty times. I had to stop myself, though: the purpose of producing a DramaLab is not to direct a scene for your director. The point is to use the experience we have in the theatre to help directors to make choices about the show; not to make choices for them.

My favorite show to work on thus far has been "Yellow Fever" directed by Anna Stacy '13. I began the process thinking I would need to keep an eye on Anna and her cast, who were all first-timers. Additionally, Anna chose a script that was really mature, dealing with teenage suicide. My preconceptions of this show were completely inaccurate, however, I noticed that Anna and her crew were rehearsing tirelessly. In the end, even though I had little involvement in Anna's show, when I sat in the theatre classroom that Friday night and as chills ran up my spine (like most everyone else who saw the show), I couldn't have been prouder to be a producer. It was this feeling that made it worth it.

under the bed

Everyone, unanimously, looks forward to attending rehearsals-if not for the stimulating improv, but for the delectable donuts from Dunkins. Don Lorson '11, in particular, can't rehearse until he's had his weekly Boston Kreme. Me? I'm a chocolate glazed type of guy. - Pat Brady '11

Also in GW

W.I.L.L (Women Internationally Learning and Living)

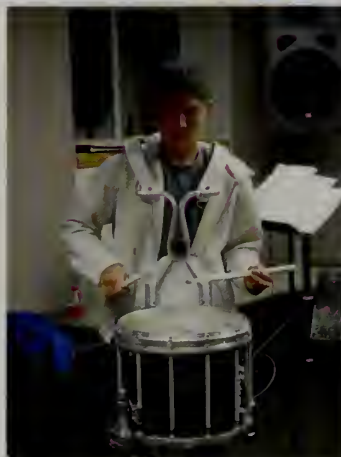

Studies in Italian Art

Graves

The music building Graves is the meeting place for the numerous musical organizations on campus. With an extremely talented group of musicians at Andover, many clubs have formed and continue to prosper and entertain the community.

drumline

Drumline is one of the most fun and closest groups of kids I am a part of on campus. We tell more jokes in Drumline than I hear in any given month anywhere else. The people in Drumline didn't really hang out with each other before we joined, but now we all often get together for meals and other different activities. - Kristin Foulkner '11

Fidelio

I've been in Fidelio for three years now, and it has been one of the most important parts of my time here at Andover. The person I've become would not be the same without Fidelio: Mr. Walter, the music, close friends (hella, Sopranas!).

Being Co-President this year has been an honor. I remember being on intimidated Lower. Now I am a Senior Soprona, and the change from mentee to mentor has been a fun and memorable ride.

Fidelio actually takes up a lot of your time here; it's a three night a week commitment - but it is so worth it. Last year, my dad wrote a piece for the group based on a villonelle I had written in Mr. Borda's English 100 class. It was really amazing to bring the piece to Mr. Walter and to see everyone realize that we were the first group that was going to sing it.

Seeing every piece come together, but particularly my dad's Reflections, is exhilarating. What started as a ninth grade poem turned into something more beautiful than I ever could have imagined. - Kerstin Brolsma '11

modern music production club

The Modern Music Production Club brings musicians together to create original music, helping students write, arrange, and perform songs. We record a CD of students' original music and sell it back to campus.

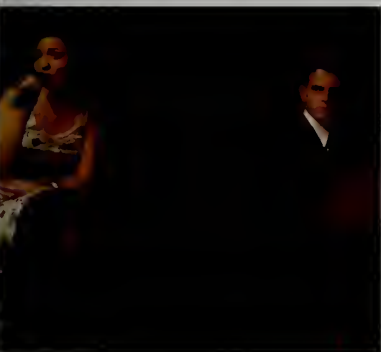

-Casey McQuillen '11

MMPC is all about collaboration in music. It's about coming together to share musical ideas and creating songs we can be proud of. We try to get our musicians to get comfortable performing their music and embracing their creative side so they can share it with others.

-Will Adams '11

In ten years I will remember going to a small recording studio in Boston, where I had to practice my song in the bathroom.

-Ryan Yast '11

unaccompanied minors

I was sort of recruited for U.M. by Andi Zhou. He found out that I play the violin and told me about the group. I went to one rehearsal, and had a lot of fun, so I kept coming back.

Ten years from now, I'll remember the people I hung out with on Sunday afternoons and the laid-back atmosphere. I'll also remember the conductors: Andi, Arun, Scotty, Mandi, Jeannine, and their quirky musical humor.

The funniest memory I have of U.M. was the look on Scotty's face when we presented him with The Lady Gaga costume. We were rehearsing for an All School Meeting, and everyone thought it would be a good idea for him to conduct it as Lady Gaga, so we gave him the wig, the skirt, the pointy bra, and just watched his reaction. It was priceless. -Jasmine Edison '11

I conduct and arrange for Unaccompanied Minors. I joined lower year because I wanted to join a group that wasn't controlled by adults. I love the idea of students taking control of what we play. We know our audience best, and we know them and their interests on a very personal level. I enjoy putting on a good show.

I like being a part of Unaccompanied Minors because I get the opportunity every Sunday to speak the universal language of music and to connect with my peers. We laugh and joke around so much during rehearsal it's ridiculous. I like the idea of blurring the line between what adults can do and what adolescents think they're capable of. Many times, we are capable of so much more than we give ourselves credit for. I find so much joy in accomplishing something together, especially when it involves bringing music to our community.

One of the funniest memories I have of UM was when Scotty dressed up as Lady Gaga and we played for the school. We still have a big year ahead of us and big shoes to fill. This year's board only hopes to do our predecessors justice. -Mandi Thrane '11

the faces of orchestra

1.

name : Esther Muradov '11

why orchestra? It's customary in an orchestra for the concertmaster to shake the soloist's hand after his or her performance. I will never forget shaking Steve Kim's '11 hand after his senior concert with the orchestra. Listening to the applause resounding around us, I never saw Steve happier. It was a nice moment.

2.

name : Maddie Tucker '11

why orchestra? My current stand partner in both Academy and Chamber Orchestras is Alexander (Sasha) Scarnik-Brawer '13. When the pieces are not too technically difficult, we like to experiment with funny fingerings and crazy bawlings. In response, we often get amused looks from our conductor, Mr. Orent, but I think it is important to have fun during rehearsals so that the performances can show the same excitement.

3.

name : Stephanie Liu '11

why orchestra? I joined orchestra as a clueless junior, and it's been a defining part of my Andover career. In general terms, I met many of my closest friends and favorite teachers through orchestra.

Maddie and I are co-Presidents of orchestra this year, and it's been a lot of fun to do this with her. We don't necessarily mentor younger students, but we do lead them in the orchestra. I think the ability to "lead" is one of the most important requirements in ensemble-playing. I've been section principal many terms in the past, and this year I'm one of the co-Concertmasters, so I've experienced the responsibility of taking initiative in a musical entrance or indicating to others where the entrance is. Yet, I've realized that this responsibility to lead belongs to everyone, even the very last seat in the section. If everyone has a "leading" mindset, the orchestra will stay together.

Also in Graves

Andover Society of Hip-Hop

Azure

Rhapsodies in Blue

Yorkies

sam phil

Sam Phil is the largest building on campus, so it makes sense that many clubs hold their meetings in within its historic walls. Language and debate clubs, as well as history and language classes, call the building home.

model UN

MUN has always been a big part of my life at Andover.

My favorite thing about it is that it has really broadened my horizons in the sense of being a well informed citizen. Being a member forces you to know what is going on around the world and the issues that the world is facing right now.

My favorite memory has to be from freshman year when Chris Meyer (my partner at the time) showed up at the big national conference in Washington D.C. with the rest of the team having researched the wrong country. We walked into the committee thinking we were a big deal because we were the United Kingdom and it turned out we were some tiny third world country in Africa called Burkina Faso which had absolutely no power or influence at all in the discussion. We kinda freaked out but everything worked out fine in the end.

Ben Ho '11

My favorite MUN experience would have to be at the national conference we attended last year at BU. The majority coalition of which I was a part decided to meet outside of scheduled committee time to draft a resolution. I remember feeling surprised, in the very best of ways, by the heated debate that was taking place over a relatively obscure topic on our own time! That was when I first realized just how committed people can be to Model UN.

Jeremy Hutton '11

My most memorable Model UN experience was at one of our invitational conferences here at Andover. I was Togo (a tiny African country) and I explained to the entire committee how to solve the war in Afghanistan. I then received death threats from the U.S. explaining how insignificant a country I was. My resolution ended up being a pass and I solved the U.S.'s war for them.

Charles Horner '12

Although at times it seems to be Make Believe for Big Kids, the rush you feel when at your first national conference you first address your committee of 110 members is a feeling like no other.

Udoy Singh '12

Japanese Aniemashon

During JAC, we watch different anime. This term, we watched Read or Die, Furi Kuri and Cramartie High School. We also have meetings set aside for learning how to draw anime ourselves and learning Japanese. After a foreign exchange student stayed at my house in middle school, I was intrigued by Japanese culture, and I stumbled upon anime. When I came here and discovered that there was an anime club, I knew I had to join. One of the best things about JAC is that we don't watch anime that is popular in the US, such as Naruto and Bleach. The board picks anime that is fairly obscure to most of the members, but are actually quite popular in Japan. -Malani Oines '12

The Japanese Aniemashon Club explores Japanese culture, language and customs by watching anime (or Japanese cartoons). The current board members are: Caralyn Whittingham '11 (President/Founder), Elina Segreta '11 (Vice President/Founder), Kaylin Morris '11 (Founder), Catherine Cleveland '11 (Founder), Jung Hun Kah '11, Nicola Shen '12, Jordan Smith '12 and Christopher Yang '12.

I founded the club my freshman year and I was originally the vice president. However, after about 3 months, the club's founding board decided to promote me to be a co-president alongside the existing president. However, during my Upper Winter, my fellow co-head withdrew from the academy, leaving me as the sole president.

We started out really small; in fact, in the early days the only people who really came to club meetings were just the members of the board. Back then, all we did was watch cartoons together. We didn't even have an official location where we met so we'd just sit down in front of a locked classroom in Sam Phil or in someone's dorm.

Now, 4 years later, our club has grown so much that we have had to change our location to accommodate the 25+ members who come to each meeting. Also, we have broadened the scope of our activities.

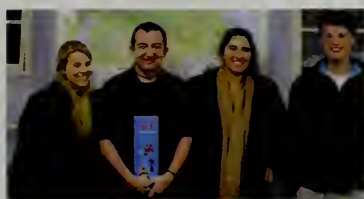

Now, instead of just watching anime, we discuss the shows we're watching, have art sessions to teach our members how to draw what they're watching, we have brief culture presentations and teach very basic Japanese words and constructions.

Probably the JAC's biggest accomplishment is the annual trip to Anime Boston, the Northeast's biggest anime convention. Every year since 2009, we have brought a group of 10-25 students to this convention. The JAC is probably my proudest accomplishment at PA. I founded it as a freshman and speaking now as a senior, I don't want to leave it behind. This club has serious sentimental value to me because of how I have watched it grow, my involvement in the club from the very beginning and because I have made some of my closest friends from this club. I will miss it dearly. -Caralyn Whittingham '11

Also in Morse

Constructed Languages Club

FIFA Club

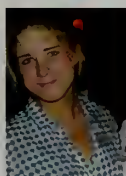

5 minutes with... Russian club

Russian club is a great way for us to get the word out about Russian culture, that's what it's all about.

People have a lot of preconceptions about Russians, so this is a fun way to take an actual look at their culture. I guess we either reaffirm or disprove the stereotypes people have about Russia through food, music, and games. People tend to think about Communism and the mafia when they think about Russia, and we're here to show them the fun side with delicious blini and amazing music.

-Stacia Vladimirova '11

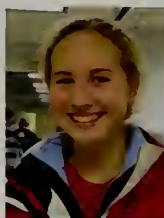

mock trial

The best part of Mock Trial is that you get to really immerse yourself in the roles. You don't just get to act like the lawyer, you ARE the lawyer. No matter what side you are assigned to and no matter how much you disagree with the defense or the prosecution's theory of the case, you MUST stick by it. -Jenny Zhou '11

Mock Trial is still a relatively new club at Andover, but we were very happy to have around 40 kids participate in our Fall trial. The club has really grown and I would recommend it to anyone interested in law, competition, or even acting as that skill is a large aspect of being a witness. -Danny Gotfried '12

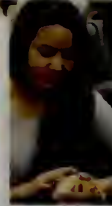

Gelb

As Andover's newest and most sustainable academic building, it's not wonder that Gelb has become the place for students to get into Action and take a STAND.

ERAC

In ERAC we learn about different energy sources. The most recent meeting was about solar energy. We haven't done anything this year but we may attempt to make a solar panel later in the year. Its a really small club which is nice because it is easier to have engaging discussions. - Rachel Margoless '12

Andover Science and Technology -
Q and A with Co-Head and Founder Peter Bong '11

1. What made you join Science and Technology club in the first place?

Luke and I founded the club to keep the Andover community with current developments in science, not just stuff people discovered hundreds of years ago which you learn in classes.

2. A favorite moment from a club meeting?

All the the guest lecturers have been unique in their own way. Favorite moment was probably when Professor Nacera established himself as the second highest authority on chemical energy, following none other than Soroh Polin herself

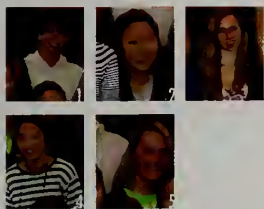

3. What types of topics do you discuss?

Guest professors have talked about neutrino oscillations, cosmology, x-ray crystallography, and chemical energy. Upcoming lecturers will feature genetics, astronomy, and (hopefully) neuroscience.

4. What essentials do you bring to meetings?

Pizzzo and sodos.

the faces of eco action

1. I am in Eco Action because I want to save the world! There's a lot more that can be done on campus to promote sustainability, and I want to help! -Teddy Smyth '11

2. In Eco Action, we hope to raise environmental awareness around campus by coming up with new ways to 'green-ify' our community. -Hana Kim '11

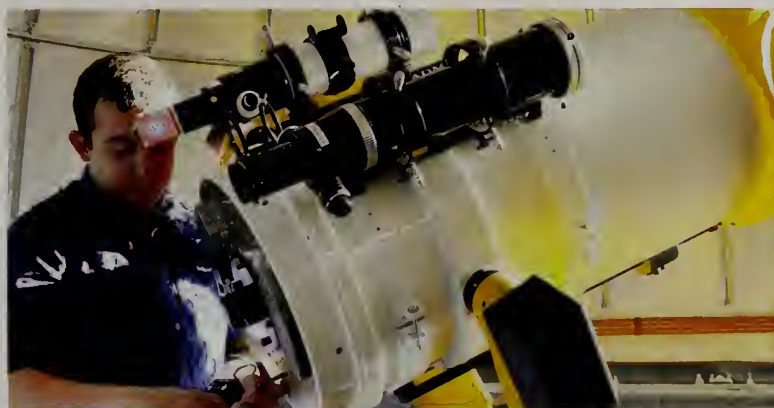

3. Eco Action is so much fun! Going to the meetings is a great way to remind myself to be green during the school year. - Mimi Leggett '13

4. This year we are trying to concentrate on our own campus and making a difference within our own community. For example, we painted trash cans in the library to make recycling more visible -Elaine Kuoch '11

5. Environmental studies is a very pressing problem and people don't know enough about it. With a community like Andover, we need to take advantage of our resources and make a change. -Emily Kent '11

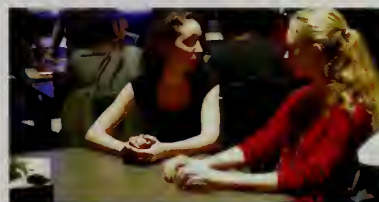

observatory

Working in the observatory has been amazing. I've loved all of the open houses and late nights stargazing. One of the most memorable moments was during my lower spring. I was opening the dome when I saw a bright flash in the sky. Light from the setting sun had reflected off of a passing satellite. Witnessing this rare and random event reminded me why I love in astronomy so much. I never know what I'm going to see next. -Michael Berube '11

STAND

STAND is a student branch of the Genocide Intervention Network and our club is just one chapter out of a national network. It is great because we really have an active core of people who come every week and we are able to do fundraisers and go on trips. It's so great to see so many people taking action and wanting to make a difference. -Mimi Tonski '11

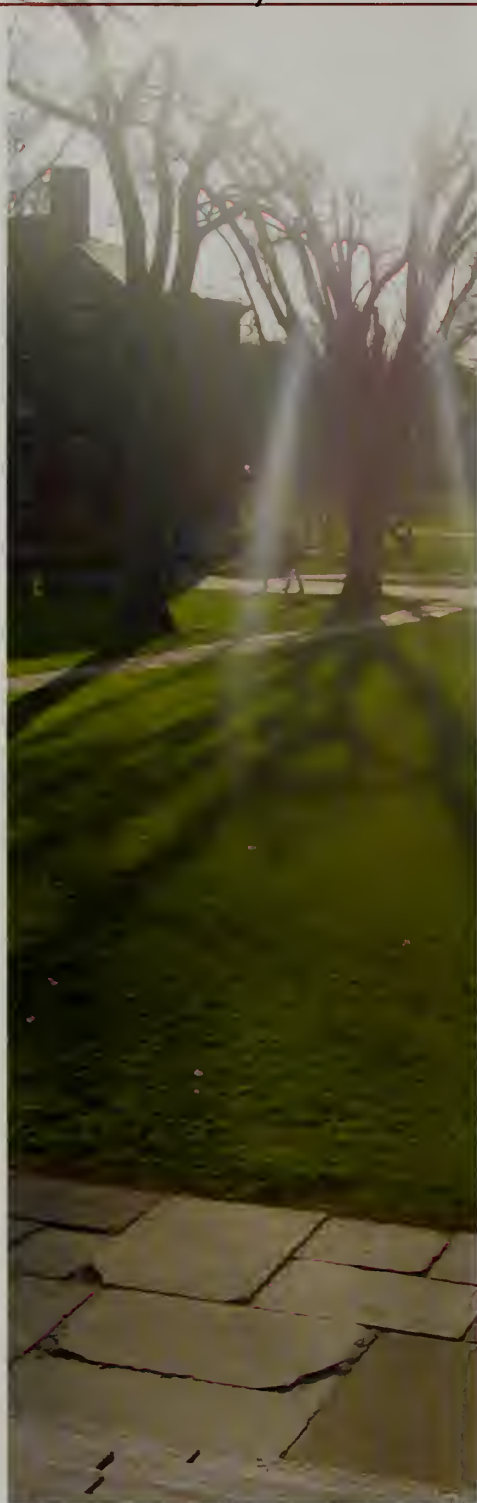

Also in Gelb

Andover Sexual and Domestic Violence Awareness

Robotics Club

on the lawn

Aside from clubs and organizations held in buildings established on campus, many community services are held around the Andover community, and in neighboring towns as well, organized by the community service office.

bread and roses

You place a patty on a bun.

Bread and Rases is a uniquely rewarding community service program in that the results of your labor are immediately obvious. The premise is simple: you prepare and serve food to the poor. You place another bun on top of the patty with a bun already underneath it.

You have made a burger.

You can now serve that burger, and watch somebody who would starve without charity programs - like the one you work for - devour it whole. It's an refreshing change from the often brain-achingly powerlessness of school. Will your essay on the Senghrai Empire ever be read by anyone apart from your history teacher? Will your geometric proof crown you as the next Pythagoras? Does anybody care about your interpretation of the symbols in Araby?

Na.

Now back to that burger. Your construction of that burger, while simple, has an actual impact on the world - a positive one. With a bit of time and effort you can feed several dozen people; provide the disadvantaged with the food they need to claw their way out of poverty. What adjective could be lazier?

Kitchen skills required for B&R are extremely basic. If you're capable of using a knife you will be more than qualified. While culinary masters are obviously valued, those who are not are welcome as well. I remember the horrified face of a particularly skilled PA student when she was told that the cucumber in the salad did not, in fact, need to be sliced into perfectly identical pieces. You do not have to have attended a Japanese cooking school. You do not have to be able to cut fruit blindfolded. In fact, I would personally prefer if you couldn't. Ninjas are frightful things.

The man starts eating your burger. You stare at him proudly as he chews. The man makes sudden eye contact.

"Can I have some ketchup?"

Your eyes flitter between his tattered clothing, his half eaten hamburger and his grateful smile.

You hand the man some ketchup.

Haonan Li '13

I chose Bread and Rases as my community service project because cooking is my passion. My mother and my grandmother own a cooking school, and I worked there full-time during summer vacation; therefore, I believed that I was qualified to cook delicious food for people in need. At Bread and Rases, I was on the serving crew one day, and it was so rewarding to see the smiles of the families eating food that we made.

Last term, I got a deep cut on the tip of my pinky from cutting the vegetables, and although it didn't hurt at all, it was incessantly bleeding. We were law on student volunteers that day so I wanted to help, but a woman working at Bread and Rases was worried about me. She gave me a towel and a glass of water, and she kept asking me if I was okay. Although this memory was not funny, it felt as if we were all a family because the woman reminded me of cooking with my (real) family.

Working at Bread and Rases taught me how easily I could contribute to the community through my passion, which is cooking. I think I will continue to volunteer at soup kitchens such as this one even 10 years from now, wherever I may be.

Yurika Nakamura '13

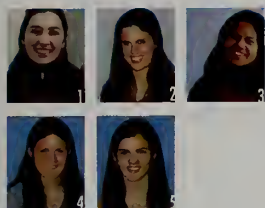

Bread and Rases is my community service, because I like helping out those in need. I did the cooking, and we had a blast chopping the salad and making the casseroles. It was the first time I cut an onion and it left me literally in tears! It was a great experience meeting the ladies who ran the place and who really dedicated themselves to making sure that there was enough food for those who couldn't afford it. In ten years I will probably still remember giving the vegetables an accidental extra wash...and drenching my self in the process.

Amanda Zhu '13

Bread and Rases is one of several hunger-related projects I coordinate on-campus. At Bread and Rases, we send students once a month to cook a meal for dinner and twice a month to serve food in the evenings. It's a really fun, humbling experience: the staff is friendly, the guests often have compelling stories to share, and of course, since the volunteers cut the Commans cake we serve for dessert, we also get to eat the excess frosting!

Marilyn Harris '11

the faces of the childrens place

1.
name? Gina Sawaya '13
why the childrens place? I volunteer at the Children's Place because I love little kids. I feel like I can really be a mentor to them, and I love talking to them.

2.
name? Lydia Kaprelian '13
why the childrens place? The little kids down there are so completely adorable. One day I was reading them a story (Curious George of course), and they started fighting as to who would sit on my lap. They were getting rowdy and eventually I just said that for each 3 pages two new kids could sit on my lap. By the end of the book about 15 had been on my lap, but they were paying no attention to the book they just counted the pages and argued who was next.

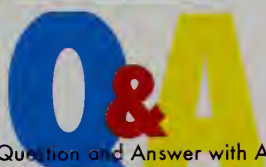

3.
name? Theresa Faller '11
why the childrens place? I really love little kids, and the Children's Place scheduling hours are super flexible, which is nice.

4.
name? Emma Zannazi '11
why the childrens place? I really enjoy working with kids and always have. I grew up with a baby brother and many younger cousins, and I guess I wanted to continue that same sort of pattern in high school. It just gives me a fresh perspective every time I go there because of its welcoming and friendly atmosphere.

5.
name? Shannan Callahan '12
why the childrens place? My favorite part, as a return volunteer, is seeing the kids as they grow up. It's an amazing experience to come back after a summer: oh, she's walking! Waw, he has hair!

ARC

Question and Answer with ARC member, Mimi Tanski

What year did you join ARC and why did you originally want to join?

I joined ARC my freshman spring because I have an autistic brother and helping people who are mentally disabled is really important to me.

What is your favorite thing about being a part of ARC?

My favorite thing is that it's just such a great environment for kids from PA and mentally disabled people to connect on a very personal level. Developing the relationships we have with our ARC buddies humanizes people with disabilities, and it makes you realize that you aren't nice to your buddy because he is mentally retarded and you feel bad for him, but rather because he is human being and is fun to be around and just as cool as anyone else.

What is your buddy's name? Can you share a special/funny/memorable experience with her?

My buddy's name is Marc. I really enjoy spending time with him because every time I do, he mentions how he is going to get his own house someday and decorate just the way he likes it. It's nice to be around someone who is so ambitious yet whose intentions are good.

science club for girls

I chose Science Club for Girls because I remember my favorite part of elementary school were all the fun experiments we would do in science class. Those are the kind of activities that we do with the girls, and it's great to see how much fun they have with it. My favorite experiment in Science Club for Girls is definitely the egg drop. Last time we did it my group of girls named our egg Lady Gogo. Our structure looked really good, but unfortunately when we dropped it our Lady Gogo broke.
-Moriono Budge '12

Science Club for Girls is really fun because we, as female members of the community, have the opportunity to import our passion for science onto younger girls. Local elementary school girls come each week excited to learn about science, and we get to spend time with them and teach them through fun experiments.
-Katie Mclean '12

chapel

The chapel is home to not only ASM and rel phil classes; many religious, spiritual and musical clubs meet in the chapel as well.

muslim student union

Q&A

Question and Answer with head Fatima Liaquat '12 about Muslim Student Union

1. What makes your club special?

What makes our club special is that we focus on informing. Most clubs say that they welcome everyone but they may not do a lot to ensure that everyone feels comfortable. MSU makes sure they don't assume how much people know about Islam or any topic we may discuss. We, Aazim and I, make sure as club heads to give people appropriate background info.

2. What are some fun things you do during club meetings?

Some fun things we have done in the past is play Islam trivia with a prize; some funny responses came up. We also had a few dinner nights at our faculty advisor, Rev Gardner's house- the memories are YUMMY! We have also been to Exeter for a forum on Women in Islam.

3. What do you like about the club?

What I like about our club is that we are very accepting and friendly people and there is no pressure at our meetings- no one has to think a certain way to be welcome to the meetings.

Andover Christian Fellowship

Andover Christian Fellowship is about loving and enjoying God and one another. We have Wednesday night meetings where we share the ups and downs of our lives and discuss the Bible.

We're interested in figuring out what this Jesus fellow was about and how God is working in each of our lives.

One of my favorite things we're doing this year is Thursday morning prayer. It's open to anyone in the community, and a few members of the board are always there. We hang out in commons during breakfast and pray for each other and for our community. It's super great.

-Givens Parr '11

Handbell choir

Handbell Chair Madeleine Tucker '11 (head): For 50 unstressful minutes every Wednesday night, Handbell Chair, coached by organist Mr. Kabanda, practices in the choir loft of the chapel. Through much rigorous recruiting and volunteering, Handbell Chair has developed into a very diverse group of people. It includes math majors, sports players, international students, day students, all-star musicians, and even people who do not read music. To the people who have never played an instrument before, Mr. Kabanda simply jokes that all they need to be successful in Handbell Chair is equivalent to elementary school arithmetic. Mr. Kabanda has also given the whole group interesting musical and cultural insights from his Ugandan heritage and career as a musician. Throughout the year, Handbell chair performs at All-School Meetings, Baccalaureate, and occasional PA Chorus concerts.

interfaith club

name:

Elizabeth Oppong
'12

why andover interfaith club?

One of the privileges of being at Andover is having a vast diversity of faiths on campus, and with that privilege comes a responsibility to make sure all faiths are acknowledged and respected. The primary goal of the Interfaith Council, in my opinion, is to promote tolerance and respect of faiths across the board by initiating dialogue, educating the community about the various faiths practiced on campus, and planning events that highlight and celebrate the diversity of faiths on campus.

Also in the Chapel

Interfaith Council

Gospel Choir

Hindu Student Union

borden

A wave of students flow into Borden gym every afternoon making it a gathering place for both competitive sports teams and organized dance groups

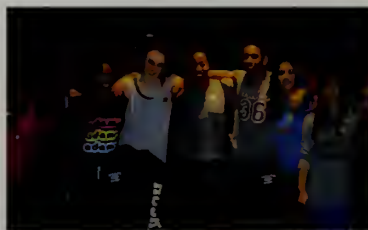

hypnotiq

Practicing and performing with Hypnotiq is awesome - it gives me another outlet for me to express myself, other than sports. Performing on stage with them is always a rush - everyone works so hard, and every single time we perform together, regardless whether or not it was perfect, we can always count on everyone going all out. Especially being a co-head this year, every performance means just a little bit more to me, because I helped create the show everyone else is watching. -Kotie Fonikos '11

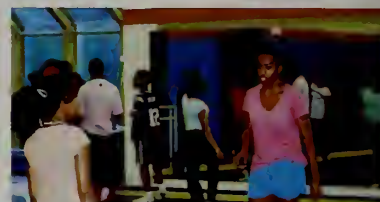

In 10 years, I will remember that being on Hypnotiq was the first time I tried something I've never done before. Hypnotiq is truly a learning experience. The amount members improve over the course of one year is remarkable. -Sheyo Jobouin '11

I have only been on Hypnotiq for a short time, but I can tell you it is truly a dynamic group. The members all bring such an amazing energy to their dancing and we're like one big family. -Rochelle Wilbun '13

Hypnotiq is hands down my favorite activity on campus. I had never done hip-hop dance before coming to PA, and after auditioning for Hypnotiq, I fell in love with the dance style. I have been a member of the group ever since my freshman year, and I knew from then that it would always remain a big part of my life at Andover. My groupmates in Hypnotiq and I often goof off, gossip, and get completely sidetracked from dancing but we always know when to buckle down and perfect our dance moves for a show or other event. I think that is exactly what makes Hypnotiq so great to me: no matter how serious we get in the group to achieve perfection in dance, we still manage to always have fun in rehearsals. -Amber Quiñones '11

hip hop dance community service

"With my extremely limited dance experience, when I entered Hip hop dance community service I thought I was supposed to help teach kids how to dance. But to my delight, the kids ended up teaching me!" - Cameron Morose '14

Q&A

What position do you have in cage club and what is your specific role as a member?

I am the co-head. I basically try to get things organized by checking in with my advisor every week to see if the Cage is open for use. I then ask members of the club to send emails out to notify people. Then, I go to the Cage about 15 minutes early with the board members and set up by bringing ping pong tables, paddles, balls, soccer balls, nets, badminton rackets, and baseballs out for people to use. I just oversee to make sure everything goes smoothly and I play sports and participate with people who attend the club just to relieve stress and have fun.

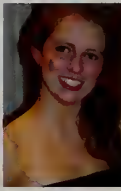

What's a typical club meeting like?

Some people will come right at 6:30 PM, but some people come around 6:45-7 PM. Therefore, after I finish setting up at around 6:25ish, we play badminton or ping pong or soccer with the board members until people start coming. In Cage Club, people are free and open to do anything; they basically come, play any sport/socialize however they want, and have a good time. Sometimes, we get very good ping pong matches and some very intense soccer games that end in a game-winning overtime goal. It's a lot of fun and I know some of the students keep coming because of the thrill. At the end, the board cleans up, says good bye, and leaves. Our advisor Ms. Joseph also brings her family and kids along to play sports with the PA students.

What do you think is the purpose of having cage club?

The purpose of Cage Club is just for people to come have fun and relax. We meet on a Friday night solely because people are stressed out or are busy throughout the week and need a way to relax. Therefore, we are an all-purpose sports club and basically reserved the Cage for people to sweat or find social time.

blue strut

name: Caralyn Harmeling '11

why blue strut? Blue Strut rehearsals are something that I look forward to every week. This year's group of dancers is one of the best we've ever had. Not only are all of the dancers extremely talented, but they are also wonderful people that I love spending time with. We grow closer and closer as a group as the year goes on due to the various rituals that we have. We never start a rehearsal without doing our Blue Strut warm up and ab workout. Before a performance, we do a special cheer in what we call our 'struddle' (strut-huddle). I think the strangest dance we have come up with was our Grasshopper 2010 dance, Barracuda. It was fun and different for us, and it always left us completely out of breath. My co-head Juli Brandana and I loved making the cut-up-duct-taped t-shirts that we wore as costumes in the dance. The Grasshopper performance definitely helped us to grow as a group. Thanks to all my dancers! You all are the best! You've made Blue Strut my favorite part of Andover Dance. I'll miss Blue Strut so much when I'm gone!

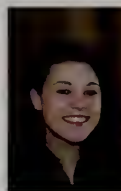

name: Kristina Rex '11

why blue strut? I've been in Strut since freshman year (with the exception of a break during lower year) and I love it. There are two things I especially love: one is how each member contributes their own style and a piece of choreography to each dance. We all make up an 8-count or more and stick our moves in the dance somewhere. I also love our "Sha-baa-ya's". We do the shabaaya cheer from Bring it On: All or Nothing and we make up our own verses. We do it to pump ourselves up before a performance. It's so much fun. I love Strut and every girl in it!

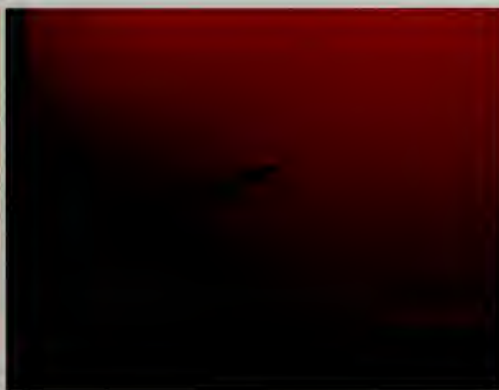

name: Georgina Pelletier '11

why blue strut? Sometimes, we refer to Blue Strut as one entity. I mean, we're basically one person. We'll say, "Blue Strut is hungry," or "Blue Strut needs to stretch," or "Blue Strut needs a date to Sadie." We like to emulate The Pussycat Dolls, or sometimes Britney Spears—depending on what Blue Strut is in the mood for.

name: Juli Brandana '12

why blue strut? Blue Strut is my favorite part of the week. Every Tuesday and Sunday, we laugh as much as we dance. We've become so close, especially this year and we feed off of each others' energy. I'm so proud of everyone's hard work thus far in the year, and I can't wait for the rest of our performances.

Also in Borden

SLAM

Andover Rock Climbing Society

Footnotes

ADG.....64

commons

Andover's most common area brings together a wide array of clubs designed to appeal to students with all different interests campuses against cancer

O&A

Why did you and Miranda Haymond '12 start this club?

Miranda and I both lost our fathers to lung cancer when we went to the Park School before coming to PA. I was the head of Helping Hand, our community service club, and Miranda participated in it. Although we worked with a variety of different types of charities and organizations, we did focus a lot on cancer which had not only affected many members of the club, but also many in the Park community. When we got to Andover, we were surprised that there was not already some kind of club against cancer, so we decided to make our own.

Last year you had a fundraiser. What was it and how did it go?

Last year we had a Walk Against Cancer. The idea was based on the Walk for Hunger and the Relay for Life. We had this walk on the track around Smoyer Field and had walkers get sponsored for the amount of laps they completed. We had music, food and a solid number of walkers and raised about $500!

What other things do you do as a club?

Our meetings are generally for members to help come up with and plan fundraisers and events. We are hoping to start up an annual powderpuff football game along with the Walk Against Cancer. We are also setting up some bakesales, hospital trips, speakers, and other awareness activities.

- Natalee Sahn '11

cryptology club

Amber Quinanes, Julia Dean, and I essentially guaranteed ourselves a spot on the board last year when we had an incredible comeback at the annual crypta club scavenger hunt. It took wit, endurance, and obviously a natural penchant for cryptology, but we ended up sprinting all over campus (the bell tower to Isham to Graves to Gelb and finally back to the bell tower) and arriving first at the finish line.

-Audrey McMurtrie '11

I joined Crypta Club last year when Julia Dean, Audrey McMurtrie, and I participated in the cryptology scavenger hunt in the spring. We ended up coming in "third place" despite the fact that some boy reached the last destination before my group but had not actually finished solving the cipher. I still firmly believe we finished in second place, but at least Julia, Audrey and I are now vice presidents for our super sleuthing skills!

-Amber N. Quinanes '11

oxfam

oxfam is an organization that raises money to help people in 3rd world countries. The best part though is the way we use money - we host events, like Sadie, that people want to go to, and are happy to donate to Oxfam to get a ticket. It's fun, and it helps people in need. The last time we met, we made posters advertising Sadie. We used paint, glitter, and everything - it was really fun to get together as a group and play around.

Julie Ellinger '12

oxfam raises money and awareness about pressing, global issues such as famine, poverty, and injustice. We also sponsor campus events such as the Sadie Howkins dance and a hunger fast during the winter.

Emily Rademacher '11

darsana

name: Jamie Shenk year: Upper

what is Darsana?

Darsono was started 2 or 3 years ago by Rohm and Duncon as a response to relphil classes that they had taken on eastern religions (buddhism etc.), so the way our meetings are run is a lot like how a lot of relphil classes are set up... just without the homework. We'll present a topic and question and just wait to hear people's reflections and responses, which is really cool because there are so many people at this school coming from such different backgrounds that everyone has a different perspective on different issues.

Af-Lat-Am

Unicef Club

Andover Dance Group

I've always been involved in different kinds of community service, but a few years ago I got into working with people with disabilities. My uncle was a Marine and was shot in Iraq when I was just starting high school. During his recovery, an organization called World T.E.A.M. Sports visited him and helped him train for the annual bike ride that they do. My parents volunteered for that and had a lot of fun, so when the organization came to Boston to do a day of service for disabled and underprivileged people in the area, my parents urged me to help out. I'll never forget the little girl who walked in on forearm crutches, left them on the ground, and climbed up a rock wall. From then on I have been looking for opportunities like that to see the amazing things these people can do. ARC has not failed to deliver. Last year, I was paired up with a 14-year-old boy named Perrin who has cerebral palsy among other things. He could shoot a basketball better than I could with just one hand and he has a great sense of humor. For the Halloween themed ARC, he made me dress up as a giant pumpkin. He, and all the other amazing people I get to work with, help me grow as a person every time I interact with them.

Football at Andover has also been an amazing experience. The coaching staff is the best I've ever played for and I am grateful for how much they have helped me grow as an athlete, but more importantly as a person. I started playing football to get my big brother off my back and show him that I was tough enough to earn his respect,

Matt Fothergill
senior arc coordinator
varsity football

but as the years passed, football became much more than that. It became a way of building unmatched friendships and learning how to sacrifice myself for my teammates. At Andover, I've had the pleasure of playing with some phenomenal athletes and guys who I hope, and expect, will be my friends long after I leave Andover. Combining athletics and community service is less difficult than most people make it out to be. You just need to find two things that could benefit from your enthusiasm or talents and that you would rather do than homework. For me, those things are football and working with people who might need help or just someone to recognize how amazing they really are.

name? Jahn O'Brien '12

position? Line Backer

As a new player on the team, I was quickly welcomed among the returning veterans and the PGs, and felt very accepted. The coaches command a lot of respect from the players, but at the same time joke around with us and each other. This helps the team maintain a professional yet fun atmosphere.

fav memory?

Brendan Rankawitz '11

Running Back

The football team is a great bunch of guys. We all play together and age doesn't matter. Whether a PG or a freshman we all get along and play great as a team.

Eric Meller '12

Wide Receiver

My favorite memory of the season has to be seeing all the coaches, especially Coach Bernieri, getting even more pumped up than the players before our big games.

Liam Murphy '11

Defensive Back

The best part of varsity football is the Scout team; it could take the rugby starters any day.

football

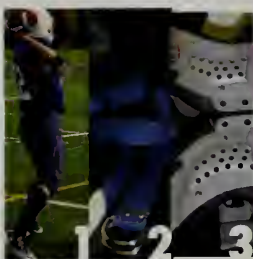

"It was a great season. We really fought as a team through all our challenges, putting up a good fight against Exeter while battling various injuries on the team." - Sam Green '13

photo by: Marie Liu '12

photo by: Marie Liu '12

- 1 "If we had all home games this year we would be undefeated considering our jerseys are that legit." -Sam Lessord '11
- 2 "Nothing is worse than when someone steals your belt. Nobody wants to be a beltless Buc." -Ricky Marcotte '11
- 3 "This year, the football team got new shoulder pads and chest pads. They are much lighter, making us more agile on the field." -Molcolm Moson Rodriguez '11

photo by: Marie Liu '12

photo by: Megan Robertson '11

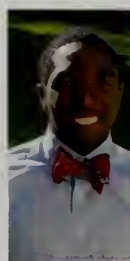

photo by: Marie Liu '12

photo by: Marie Liu '11

photo by: Megan Robertson '11

parallels: OUR CAPTAIN Malcolm Mason Rodriguez

"Considering the fact that I was injured for the majority of the season, I had to readjust my role as captain of the team. Though on the sidelines, I made sure that I encouraged my teammates during every game and did my best to stay involved. Our team worked really hard this season, and I could see that, even from the sidelines."

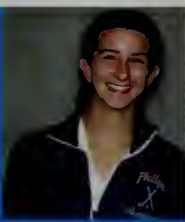

photo by: Marie Liu '12

1. Andaver runs a screen against the BB&N offensive. 2. Sam Lessard '11 kicks the ball to the opposing team. Reflecting on his overall season, he thought it went well though the team was not as talented and massive as usual. "We were a tight-knit group and really came together and by the end of the season our close relationship really solidified us as a team!" he said. 3. In a play to move the ball down the field, Andaver's offense uses a runningback to get past midfield. 4. Thomas Shannan '12 runs after catching the ball. His favorite memory was with his teammate, Brendan. "Brendan had a 102 yard blocked kick return which was a highlight of the season. He showed a lot of effort in the play," he said. 5. Khalil Flemming '12 begins to kick the field goal. Being an Upper on the team, he was originally wary of the PGs but learned quickly that they were great. "The best part was the PGs because I don't usually get to be really close with them. Now it's really nice to have them all as friends," he said. 6. Max Lippe '11 runs with the ball. Being a new senior, Max vividly remembers his first practices. "Eric Meller '12 pancaking Jason Buta '11 in the first day of hitting and the coaches having no idea what his name was was my favorite memory," he said. 7. Joe Kruey '12 races after his opponent. His teammates helped him to excel on gameday. "I met a lot of great guys I will remember the rest of my life. The team was like a family," he said. 8. Brian Delaney '12 lines up with his fellow offensive line members. His teammates helped motivate him during the season. "Although this year's team didn't win as many games as it usually does, the practices and time spent together made the whole season worth it," he said. 9. Andaver's offensive line runs a play against Chaote. 10. In a scrimmage with BB&N, Andaver's defensive holds fast.

our co-captain Shannon McSweeney PAFH is a team unlike any other. The team camaraderie, chemistry, and trust is unparalleled and our heart and hustle are unmatched. Every player on the team is wholly a part of the team, and we are like a family. We have more traditions, superstitions, and team "things" than can be counted on two hands. The traditions are both old superstitions that have been passed down and season themes that are new every year. Shannon McSweeney '11

field hockey

"PAFH is more than just another sports team that I play on. Being a part of PAFH for the past four years has been the single most special, memorable, and influential experience while I've been at Andover. The girls I've had for teammates have all been such good role models for how I should act both on the field and off. They were such good leaders for me when I was the young one on the team. Now, I get to be that leader and pass down how much PAFH means to me. It's an honor and such a special experience to be able to be part of this team because we have such a close, special bond with each other and there are so many unique traditions that make up the field hockey team." Co-Captain Summer Washburn '11

photo by Marie Liu '12

photo by Marie Liu '12

photo by Chiara Baravalle '11

photo by Megan Robertson '11

photo by Marie Liu '12

double take

Co-Captain Kellie Walsh '11 and Cara Daly '13 both made varsity field hockey their freshman year

The field hockey team were my first classmates that I interacted with at Andover. They were outgoing and enthusiastic, always willing to lend a hand. After transitioning from the ice to the field, the sport perplexed me. I continuously asked questions like, "What do you mean I can shield the ball with my body?" and "why can't I use that side of my stick?" Eventually I learned the rules of the game and shortly thereafter I fell in love with the sport.
-Kellie Walsh '11

Freshman year, field hockey was the best transition I could have had into Andover. When I think about my first season on the team, yes I think about our undefeated season, but more importantly I think about the memories and the people who made it so phenomenal.
-Cara Daly '13

photo by Marie Liu '12

photo by Marie Liu '12

photo by Tohera Doctor '13

photo by Sarah Munez '13

photo by Meghan Robertson '11

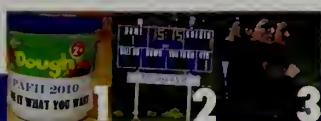

photo by Marie Liu '12

photo by Morilyn Hewitt '11

1. Nat Sohn '11 races past a Tabor defender. Her skills at getting the ball up into the circle allow her to enjoy her position as a team forward. She said, "PAFH is the best part of my day."
2. Summer Washburn '11 plays defense in a game versus Tabor. She plays midfield and is always racing through passes, sending the ball upfield. She said, "I love getting to go out and play on that field every day."
3. Brooke VanValkenburg '12 takes a shot on goal against Governors. She has been on the team since Junior year, which has allowed her to become very close to all her teammates. She said, "PAFH is the ketchup to my fries."
4. Lizzie Poul '12 dodges a defender during a scrimmage. She worked well with her other teammates on offense. She said, "The scrimmage was a perfect opportunity to test out our team chemistry and work on things that needed improvement!"
5. Greer McBeth '12 dodges a defender.
6. Brooke VanValkenburg '12 drives the ball past her opponent.
7. Hannah Beinecke '12 gains possession of the ball. She has been on the team since Junior year, and has played many different positions. She said, "I like playing sweeper because on defense we have to communicate a lot and it's very reassuring to hear your teammates talk to you."
8. Kellie Walsh '11 fakes out a defender. She works hard to get the ball out of the defensive end and transition it to offense. She said, "I always go into every game with confidence. Confidence in my team, my coaches, and the

- 6 girls playing defense beside me."
9. Ann Doherty '11 reaches to stop a Loomis offender. She has quickly become a brick-wall defender. She said, "It's only my first year playing, but I really enjoy it and the team is great."
10. Kristina Rex '11 makes a push pass in a home game. The team chemistry helps her to excel in each game. She said, "PAFH is a great team made up of the best people. Each game is awesome for us."
11. Lizzie Poul '12 does a spin to get past a defender.
12. Greer McBeth '12 sets up a play in a scrimmage versus Worcester Academy. She is great at touching the ball around defenders. She said, "Every corner is a huge opportunity to score. It's so important that we capitalize on every one."

path

■ "This year Kate gave us each a jar of Play-daugh with the words 'PAFH 2010 Make it what you want' written on the jar. PAFH isn't about having the most skill. It's about having the most heart and the will to win." - Catherine Andersen '12

■ "Every day before we have a game, we have a tradition called the 'kissy thing'. We all yell and run under the scoreboard and every person kisses their hands and jumps up to hit it as they run past." - Summer Washburn '11

■ "Kate's clipboard is like her symbol. When she slams her clipboard into her knee we can tell she's mad, but there's always great drills and plays and new things to do written on it." - Brooke Van Valkenburg '12

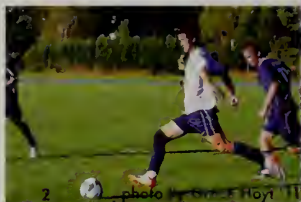

photo by Gabe Hoyt '11

photo by Audrey McMurthen '11

photo by Megan Robertson '11

photo by Sammy Morris

photo by Evan Eads '12

1. Jake Rahwer '11 winds up to boot a ball down the field. Jake is a center back, and is vital to the teams defense and communication. He said, "This team is like a second family. We laugh, we cry, we get awkwardly close to the person in front of us when doing lunges. When we're together there isn't anywhere else we would rather be."
2. Peter Lee-Kramer '11 strides down the field with the ball. Although Peter is a center back, he often plays attack and tries to score. Coach Carr always sends him up to the net during corner kicks, and says, "Peter, GET IN!"
3. Dylan Hawkins '11 kicks the ball out of the defensive end. He loves being a PG on varsity soccer, especially because of the kids on the team. He said, "I love the The WaanTanClan."
4. Tebs Maqubela '11 beats his opponent. His speed up top helps the team score goals while saying interesting phrases. "My favorite is 'Lang Hair,'" he said.
5. Connor Hickey '11 dribbles up the field. He is a valuable player on the outside wing, who offers a lot of team advice. His favorite: "Better hit the gym."
6. Captain Mike Difranza '11 jumps up for a header. As the center midfielder, Mike controls the field. Reflecting on Neische's philosophy, Mike said, "slay the dragon."
7. Andrew Waantan crosses the ball from the corner. Andrew is an outside midfielder, and is a critical member of the teams offense.
8. Connor Hickey '11 heads the ball.
9. Connor Saules '13 dribbles the ball down the field during a scrimmage against St. Johns Prep. Connor enjoys being on soccer, and reminisces on his time at team prep camp with the team. "My favorite memory of this season was world cup at team prep camp," he said.
10. The team huddles before the game.
11. Mike Difranza '11 slides in to kick the ball out of danger.
12. Myles O'Neil '12 traps the ball during a game. Of the season he reminisces, "I'll never forget Brian and my special warm ups before each practice. We steal the managers snuggles and take a little nap."
13. Noah LeGras '12 hustles down the field. Noah is a midfielder, and has scored many important goals this season alongside his friend and teammate, Myles. "Sunshine and smyles. the rainbow connection," he joked.
14. Taylor Chin '14 beats his defender. The only freshman on the team, Taylor really enjoys being on varsity soccer. He said, "soccer at PA is a blast. The coaches are great, and everything is fun and competitive at the same time."
15. Tim Marchese '11, Connor Hickey '11 and Aaron Mentas '11 celebrate after a goal.

photo by Sami Nunez '13

photo by Marilyn Hewitt

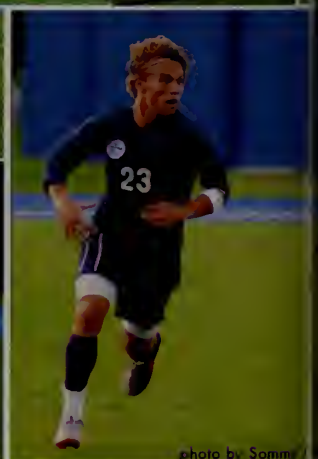

photo by Sammy

Twins Andrew and Brian Woonton '11 tell us about playing on boys' varsity soccer together.

double take

Being able to be on a team with my brother has been quite an experience. We know when to look for each other on the field. In our first Andover/Exeter game I was outside right defense and Andrew was outside right midfield. It was then I realized playing on the same side as my brother could be terrifying. Every time I passed him the ball I cringed with fear that he would lose it. Luckily, he didn't." - Brian

"Being able to share the battlefield with my comrade in arms (Brian) has been a privilege and an honor. If I had to sum up my entire soccer experience with my brother in three words: "It's been real." - Andrew

photo by Samir '12

photo by Samir '13

photo by Samir '12

photo by Samir '12

photo by Marie Liu '11

name? Jon Westling '12

position? midfield

My favorite memory was when the whole team huddled up for the first time before our first game St. Poul's. Nothing beats the start of a season.

Will Pork '11

midfield

My favorite memory was when the new players upset the returners in a game of pre-match soccer-volleyball game.

Jeb Roberts '11

goalie

My favorite moments on boys varsity soccer have to do a lot with Hickey and Mentos's she-nonigons.

favorite memory?

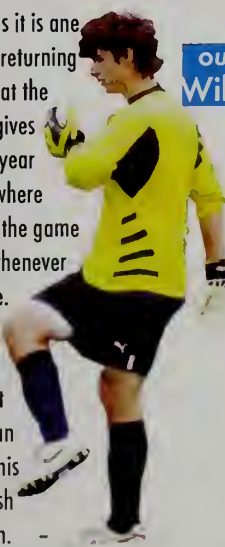

"We brought a lot of talented players to the table this year, but what set us apart from the others was our team dynamic. Everyone worked their hardest for the person next to them, putting their best forward every day."
-Jack McGeachie '13

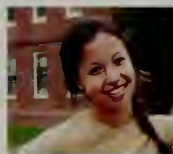

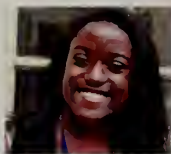

boys' soccer

I am honored to be a part of this team as it is one of the strangest in a while with so many returning seniors. One of my favorite traditions that the team has is that after a win, Coach Carr gives out the player of the game award. This year it's a pink sweatshirt from Casco, Maine, where we have team prep camp. The player of the game must wear this ridiculous sweatshirt whenever he is not in his dorm until the next game. Even though the sweatshirt is not the best looking, everyone wants to be the person wearing it until the next game cause it means that you had the greatest impact on the team winning the previous game. This team is so special and I will always cherish the memories I have from this season.

- Will Pass '12

our goalie:
Will Pass

name?

Diana Tchari '14

Emily Fang '13

Angela Batuure '13

Maddie Bremer '12

position?

outside defender

midfielder forward/midfield

outside midfield and forward

favorite memory?

My favorite memory was being down 3-1, and then coming back to score three more goals before the half ended.

My favorite memory from this season so far was when we had a practice devoted to having fun. We played volleyball-soccer, ultimate frisbee, and practiced shooting on our goalie. It was refreshing to not take life so seriously and just laugh.

My favorite memory of the season was the Choate game (where our goalie got a concussion and had to leave the game) where we really came together as a team to pull out a big win. It showed everyone was willing to do whatever it took to win, and everyone really stepped up to help the team.

My favorite memory was early in the season when a teammate lost an earring on the field after practice one day. The entire team spent twenty minutes crawling on their hands and knees looking for the lost earring. We never found it, but I think we banded as a team.

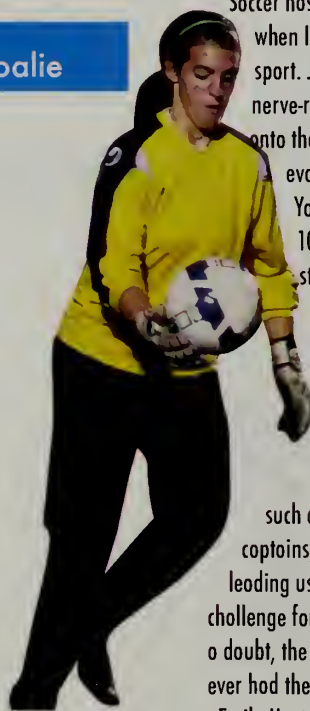

girls' soccer

"Every day, rain or shine, we make the walk to Graves. We endure tough practices in the rain, do that extra sprint for our game Saturday, and always finish off practice knowing we worked hard. Our team psychs pump us up for our game all day and show our dedication to the team. Each girl on the team does whatever it takes for her teammate each day."

-Katherine Woonton '11

Emily Hoyt Our Goalie

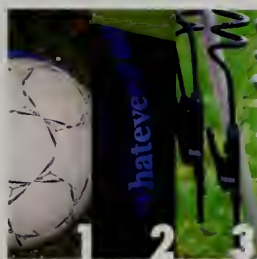

Soccer has been a part of me my whole entire life, but when I arrived at Andover, I truly fell in love with the sport. Joining a program with such talented players was nerve-racking to say the least, but the moment I stepped onto the field for our first game together, my worries evaporated with my team's shouts of "Go Hoyt!... You got this!" I knew then that they were behind me 100%. It is this support that has fired my energy and strive throughout the season so far. The team is made up of gifted, kind, hardworking, and all-around good people. Every moment we say our cheer before the beginning of a game to represent Big Blue and every team psych where we adorn ourselves in hilarious outfits makes me think of how fortunate I am to be able to participate in such a program. With Coach Joel, Coach Scott, and our co-captains, Katherine Woonton and Courtney Macdonald, leading us, we make a very dangerous opponent and a challenge for the other teams who attempt to beat us. Without a doubt, the Andover soccer program is one of the best I have ever had the chance to be a part of.

- Emily Hoyt '13

Photo by Marilyn Hewitt '11

Katherine Woonton & Courtney Macdonald '11: slices of

- 1 Each girl on the team is passionate about the game. We show up to practice at 3:15 everyday and push each other so each day we step forward as a team.
- 2 The GVS motto: we'll do whatever it takes for our teammates and our coaches to win as a team.
- 3 We have a great low-pressure water fountain. It is perfect for keeping us hydrated!

1. Emily Fang '13 sets up to kick the ball down the field.
2. Ambika Krishnamachar '11 sends the ball across the field. The many GVS traditions help her be successful as a striker. "My favorite GVS tradition is during the practice before a big game, we'll lie on our favorite part of the field and visualize how we're going to play the next day. I always lie in the goal and imagine scoring!" she said.
3. Fay Feghali dribbles up the field. Her favorite game this season was the Parents Weekend game against Deerfield: Andover won 3-1. "Everyone was on top of their game that day and it was great to show off in front of the parents," she said.
4. Nekele McCall '14 takes on her opponent. After a tough practice, she looks to the positive. "Although this team has been very successful in the past, we realized not everything is about winning and by taking it one game at a time and support each other no matter what."
5. The girls soccer team plays on the turf under the lights.
6. Clare Ashforth '11 dribbles up the field. She is known for her toughness on the field. "My favorite memory was when Coach Scott showed up late to our game then told us he was taking a nap and almost missed it," she recalled.
7. Diana Tchadi '14 beats her opponent. She easily transitioned onto the team this year, even as a junior. "The team shared a strong chemistry. We all live up to our 'whatever it takes' motto," she said.
8. Angela Baturre '14 keeps the ball at her feet.
9. Nekele McCall '14 takes control of the ball, tactfully stealing it from her opponent.
10. Piper Curtis '12 kicks the ball down the field.
11. Courtney Macdonald keeps the ball at her feet while passing a defender. Courtney was a team captain this year. She said, "I will never forget this season. It was my senior year, we made playoffs, and our pep rally was freaking unreal. But most memorable of all, were the girls that were a part of GVS 10. Each player took 'whatever it takes' to a new level and I am honored to have been a part of such a hard-working team. I can't wait to see what this group of girls will accomplish in the years to come. I love you all! Two claps on two."
12. Emily Rademacher '11 kicks the ball downfield. Being captain this season, she had high expectations. "GVS 2010 was undoubtedly the best soccer season of my time at Andover. With so many new people on the team, and the same amount of freshman as seniors, I admit to being a little skeptical at first of how our season was going to unfold. But the entire team stepped up, and we had a great season, both on the field and off," she said.
13. Katherine Waanton '11 dribbles upfield.

photo by Ashley Hess '11

photo by Ray Thamthieng '12

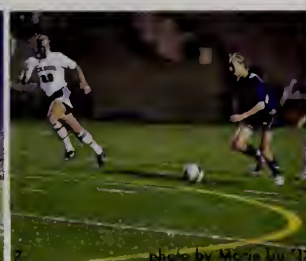

photo by Marie Liu '12

photo by Ashley Hess '11

photo by Marie Liu '12

photo by Ashley Hess '11

photo by Ashley Hess '11

photo by Sarah Nunez '13

photo by Sarah Nunez '13

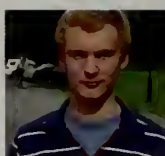

name? Michael Camarda '14

position? Sprinter

Exeter. We worked hard as a team and came through. It was a close game 10-9. Then Austen Novis made the lob shot at the end and scored the lob shot at the end 11-9.

fav memory?

Henry Kennelly '13

Set D

Watching the team not back down against Choate in the final game, no matter how many times Choate scored. Alex Nondo '11 stole the ball in the last three seconds of the game; his actions showed just how much heart we had.

Derrick Choi '12

Right Corner

The funniest thing that happened at practice was when we helped a girl ask one of our teammates to Sodie by pointing the letters on our stomachs. When we showed it to our teammate, we realized we accidentally reversed the letters so it spelled "E-I-D-A-S."

water polo

This year, Boys Water Polo had a great season, with eight seniors grounding the team.

photo by: Marie Liu '12

photo by: Marie Liu '12

photo by: Marie Liu '12

photo by: Marie Liu '12

photo by: Sara Hunez '13

1. The varsity team prepares for a grueling game together. To competing teams, the Andover water polo team is known for its loud cheers. Henry Kennelly '13 said, "Dan would call out 'Blue on three! 1, 2, 3,' and we'd all shout 'Blue' causing a ten second echo in the pool area. All the other teams barely echoed at all." 2. Calvin Aubrey '12 swims with the ball. 3. Sale defender of the goal, Conar Deveney '11 fends off a potential point. In water polo, one must be attentive at all times, whether on the bench or in the water. According to Conar, "the team we had this year understood that - and because of it, played better than any other year I've seen at Andover." 4. In the heat of the game, Alexander Nanda '11 winds his arm back to score a point for Andover. But this one point is the product of the entire team's effort and dedication. Alex says, "we're all really close because a lot of us are together for two straight seasons- water polo and swimming." 5. Andrew Wilson '12 passes the ball to a teammate. 6. Gasping for air, Alex Smochlo '11 holds the opposing team at bay. The interception of a shot in water polo is a double-edged sword; at once thwarting an opponent's advance and bringing down their morale. Alex said, "when you're on the defense and you've blocked a shot, it's really embarrassing for the other team." 7. Winding back his arm, Alex Smochlo '11 prepares to throw the ball to a faraway teammate. A senior on the team, Alex knows all the tricks of the trade and is especially familiar with passing. "It feels great to make a good pass to a teammate to set them up for a goal," said Alex. 8. Protecting the goal, captain Dan Larsen '11 prevents the opposing team from scoring. However, he can't do this alone - the team works as a cohesive unit, and the boys have grown close, especially with the underclassmen, through team practices and drills. According to Dan, "the team endearingly calls Travis Bauscareen '14 'Twavis' - and to this day, he believes his presence on the team is the reason so many fans show up to watch our games." 9. During a rare pause in the action, Derrick Choi '12 treads water before sprinting full blast. The team trains for moments of action. Derrick said, "one of our focuses of the year was movement in the pool - and under the seniors' leadership, we did a great job doing just that." 10. One of the youngest on the team, Travis Bauscareen '14 scans the waters for a fellow teammate. But don't judge Travis by his smaller stature - he is fast in the water and learns from trusted coach David Fox just as quickly. One of Travis's lessons learned: "to not think in the game and just play." 11. Keeping his head high, Alexander Nanda '11 prepares to throw the ball to an Andover player. The boys are close in and out of the water. According to Alex, "Adam Farrell '12 once sent Travis Bauscareen '14 nearly 500 texts in five minutes." 12. Keeping the ball close, Adam Farrell '12 concentrates his next move. The rest of the boys are nearby, and Adam counts on them both in and out of the water. Adam said, "Although the first time I got in the water with my teammates was only 8 weeks ago, I have had the privilege of becoming great friends with the entire group."

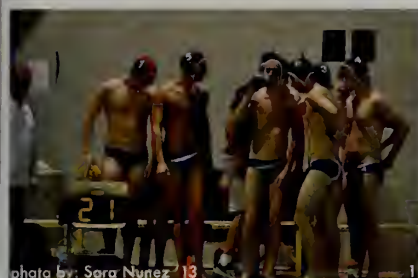

photo by: Sara Nunez '13

photo by: Ray Thamthieng '12

photo by: Sara Nunez '13

Alex Nanda '11

The only thing faster than Nando in the water is his top shelf skip shot. - Henry Kennely '13

in the lockerroom
in the pool

Outside the pool, Alex is a great example for the rest of the team. He is one of the most dedicated players. He's always putting in the extra effort to make sure that the team succeeds. - Adom Forrell '12

In the lockerroom and in the pool

photo by: Marie Liu '12

photo by: Sara Nunez '13

photo by: Ray Thamthieng '12

photo by: Marie Liu '12

parallels: our captain

I really loved being the captain with Mott Mohoney '11 this year. It's been a pretty core group of guys - more or less we've all played together since our freshman year. As for funny quirks of the team? I think I surprised the whole team when I showed up to the first day of practice with "mone and Toil" horse-human shompoo. So if you notice any of the water polo players with clean, thick hair, you'll know why. Now every time we get in the shower, people don't even bother asking, they just stick their hands out while I dole out their share of the shompoo.

- Captain Don Larson '11

name?

Kate Mesrabian '12

position?

setter

favorite memory?

My favorite memory this season was when Sarah Onarata, our libero, dove across the court to dig a ball. Everyone burst out laughing as the play kept going on. We later called it the "free willy" - it was hilarious!

Kayla Malaney '13

libero

My favorite memory is probably from when we played Exeter. It was the only match that has gone to 5 games, and it was really exciting and intense.

Lucia McGloin '13

middle hitter

My favorite memory of the season so far is the bus rides. We play word association, catchphrase and mad gab. Everyone's always laughing and the long rides always go by quickly.

1. Zoe Roschach '12 bumps the ball. The best part of being on the team are the friendships and meeting new people. Zoe said, "On bus rides to games, we would always play Catchphrase. The MVP of the game would have to be Janina with her hilarious clues and lack of knowledge on some American terms."

2. Alice Taa '11 serves it up. Off the court banding activities helped her, along with the rest of the team, perform better on game day. "While we did have many new members, I felt that the team this year was closer than ever. We banded over team dinners at Clyffe's house," she said.

3. Jamie Shenk '12 bumps the ball to the other team. Training hard at practice is essential and new team members help the team continue their winning streak. Jamie said, "We have an interesting dynamic this year with so many new players, but we've really banded on and off the court, and that was evident in our play."

4. Kate Mesrabian '12, Alice Taa '11, and Sarah Onarata '11 scrimmage during practice. Scrimmaging and traveling helps the team bond and have fun. Kate said, "The team has so many good laughs on the long bus rides."

Andover Regional High School Girls
Fall Volleyball Association Champions

girls'

volleyball

"This season has been all about building, and growing, as a team. We took on 14 players this year, and have been working hard all season to pull it together. Games against Hotchkiss, or Exeter, or Choate, have all given us a run for our money and will continue to do so in the upcoming tournament. Right now, we are seated first in the league and will be fighting hard to hold this spot for the rest of the season. Overall, I would say that PAVB '10 has had a rough start, with new coaches and new players, but when Andover/Exeter or the tournament comes around, we will be ready." - Shelby Carpenter '12

parallels: our co-captain

Volleyball is one of my favorite parts of Andover. The team always has a ton of fun together and we share many laughs throughout the season. Everyday we become closer as a team and everyday we work better together, we are no longer 14 individuals but instead, 1 team. I will be sad to leave PAVB behind when I graduate but I will always look back on my times with the team fondly. -

Kemi Amurawajye '11

photo by Evan Eads '12

photo by Evan Eads '12

photo by Megan Robertson '11

photo by Evan Eads '11

photo by Megan Robertson '11

photo by Megan Robertson '11

photo by Sammy Morris '12

photo by Megan Robertson '11

photo by Megan Robertson '11

photo by Evan Eads '12

photo by Sammy Morris '12

5. Zoe Roschach '12 and Lucia McGloin '13 wait in position for the ball as the other team prepares to serve.

6. Jamie Shenk '12, Zoe Roschach '12, Kemi Amurawaye '11 and the team put their hands in for a cheer. The best part of being on a team are the friendships and new people you meet. Kemi said, "These past three years with PAVB have been amazing. We have become so close and I will definitely miss everyone when I'm gone."

7. Zoe Roschach '12, Kemi Amurawaye '11, Lucia McGloin '13, Jamie Shenk '12, and Alice Taa '11 work together to win another point. PAVB works hard together in practice so that they succeed on the court.

8. Sarah Onaroto '11 bumps the ball to set up a play during a game.

9. Zoe Roschach '12 pushes the ball over the net with the help of a teammate. The team is one big family with a tradition of bonding through the game Catchphrase.

10. Shelby Carpenter '12 goes for the ball. 11. Lucia McGloin '13 prepares her serve. Throughout the season, she has worked hard, with fun interspersed through team inside jokes. "I love Aruba" is one of my favorites," she said. 12. Janina Monecke '11 dives for the ball. She has a slogan that inspires her throughout the season. "TEAMWORK makes the DREAMWORK," she said.

Alexi Bell '13

in the lockerroom
on the court

Alexi is so reliable up at the net. I will never forget our game against Chaote when she capped a comeback in the third set with a block that stuffed the ball straight back onto the other team's side of the court. She also served an ace to end the match. She's such a reliable teammate and a farce at the net.
-Sarah Onaroto '11

In the lockerroom and on the field

Alexi is such a great all-around player! Her hits are killer, she dominates the net, and she is so consistent and always there when we need her. On top of all that, Alexi is one of the nicest people I know!

-Alice Taa '11

He's a good runner and a great guy - except when he steals my water bottle.
- Connor Fraser '13

in the lockerroom
on the field

in the lockerroom and on the field Ryan Ramos '12

Although Ryan's not the fastest runner on the team, he always shows up ready to work and keep us on our feet with his ability to joke.

- Kian Ivey '12

After their only defeat at last year's Interschols, all seven varsity runners returned for this season ready to run. They closed the season in 7-0 fashion, becoming New England Interschols

XC boys'

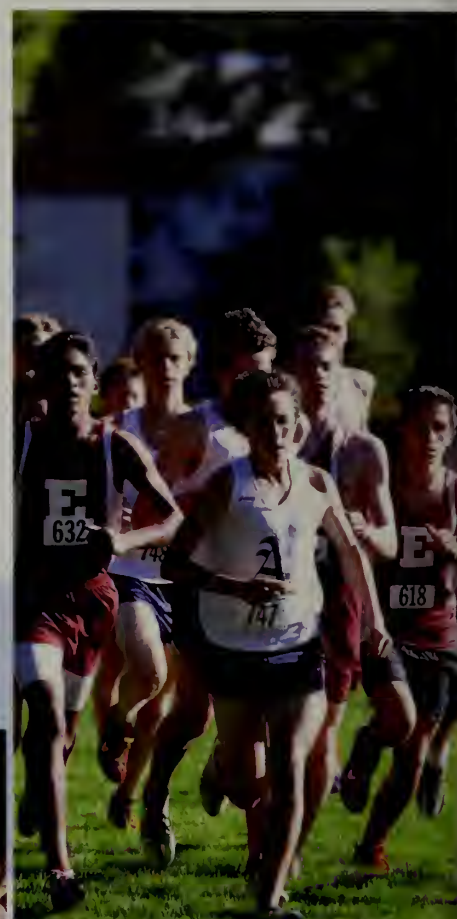

photo by Adrián Stone '12

photo by Marie Liu '12

photo by Adrián Stone '12

photo by Marie Liu

photo by Marie Liu '12

photo by Marie Liu '12

photo by Marie Liu '12

2 photo by Maggie Shoemaker '12

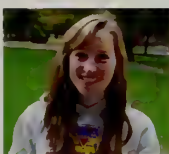

1. The boys' XC varsity team starts off with the bang of the gun; Matt Lloyd-Thomas '12, James Hamilton '12, Matt Appleby '11, Chris Batchelder '11, Nick Kearns '11, Tim McLaughlin '11, Patrick Walber '11 run with one, beating heart. As the XC boys will tell you, distance running is like nothing else at Andover. "As soon as the gun goes off, we're in another world: a world where the footing is rocky and treacherous, where the blue and white jerseys mingle with the rest, where we search for the will to keep our legs churning, one after the other, until that final stretch on the Great Lawn... where we can open up and let it fly," said Nick.
2. Nick Kearns and Matt Appleby '11 take the lead in a race against Chaote. The boys run together on and off the course, priding themselves on their team camaraderie. According to Matt, "There is so much mutual trust and friendship among people who spend a lot of time together like we do."
3. Nick Kearns, Tim McLaughlin, and Patrick Walber '11 warm up before a race. The tension is at an all-time high before the race begins, but the team cherishes every moment. "I live for the privilege of entering the runner's world of pain and agony, if only for somewhere between sixteen and seventeen minutes a week, and I can't imagine the rest of the guys would say otherwise," said Nick.
4. Tim McLaughlin '11 races across the field in a burst of speed. The cross country team this year is one of the strongest in the history of Andover. Tim said, "Our team is probably one of the fastest we've ever had, so we're planning on competing in regional and national races after the regular season is over."
5. Face wrenched in agony, Matt Lloyd-Thomas '12 propels himself to the finish line. The home stretch may be the hardest part, physically and mentally, of the entire race, but the payoff is well worth it. Matt said, "There's nothing better than running with great athletes, and no sense of accomplishment greater than finishing a race."
6. The team gathers in a huddle. Team captain Patrick Walber '11 runs for his teammates on the course, propelled by their support and belief in one another. "We're unbreakable," said Patrick.
7. Matt Appleby and Tim McLaughlin '11 race with competitors on a sunny day. Their performance is the result of weeks' worth of preparation, and many inside jokes come from spending so much time together. One such joke is a question posed by Matt - "Why are pants different than shirts?"
8. Tim McLaughlin '11 surges ahead of a competitor in a close race. Exceptionally close, the team receives words of encouragement from their captain before every meet. Tim recalled their first meet, where their captain "told us that we had to put our best foot forward, and then our other foot, and keep doing that until we finished."
9. Running star Renat Zalav '11 pounds on the grass as he rushes towards the finish line. As much as he loves practice, racing takes Renat to a whole other level. "It's just you, your teammates, and the other guys. And there can only be one winner," Renat said.
10. Matt Appleby and Nick Kearns '11 run in stride. The exceptionally close team shares many inside jokes, and one favorite joke involves Nick himself. Matt recalled this, asking "Nick's brother plays basketball?"

When I want to pass the red, or green, or ugly non-Andover-blue shorts ahead of me, first I feel my legs and they tell me, 'no,' and they continue to tell me 'no,' but then I look in front and behind me to see five other pairs of legs wearing true blue, and those other legs tell me, 'Your legs hurt, but you have five other pairs of legs right here.' I sympathize with the other runners who have to deal with the mental anguish of getting passed by six men in uniform, all at once, and I sympathize with other runners who do well, but have no one to share it with, because sharing is fun, and our team is more fun than their team.

- Pat Wolber '11

Patrick Wolber
our captain:

name? Katie Ellinger

grade? upper

All of the girls are incredibly close and friendly. When we meet up on the great lawn before practices, everyone sits in big circles talking and just hanging out. I love being able to talk to everyone on the team as a friend. When we come to practice, we're focused on running, and we leave behind our day to day problems.

fav memory?

Kelsey Jamieson

upper

The bus rides home from races are always really fun. I remember after interschols last year we played mafia and sang disney songs, mostly Aladdin, the whole ride home.

Emily Kent

senior

Racing fills you with adrenaline and clears your mind of everything except the ground in front of you. It's not always easy, but running with such a strong, close team makes it worth it a hundred times over.

Katie Fanikos

senior

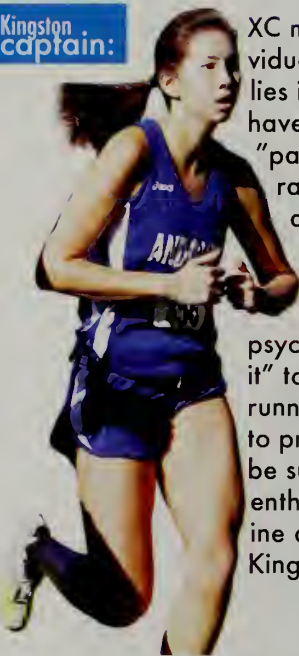

The best part is when everyone is cheering for you at the end on the great lawn, it gives you that little extra bit of energy to finish strong!

girls'

cross country

Girls varsity cross country had another successful year, winning Interschols for the SIXTH year in a row! They run with heart, spirit, strength, and intensity.

Caitlin Kingston
our captain:

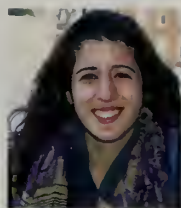

XC may seem like an individual sport but the heart of it lies in the team. This year we have been focusing a lot on "pack running," which makes racing so much easier and more satisfying. I love all of the traditions: cheering on the steps of SamPhil, doing secret psyches, and saying "spark it" to each other when we're running. It is so nice to come to practice every day and be surrounded by so much enthusiasm. I couldn't imagine anything better. - Caitlin Kingston '11

1. Katie Ellinger '12 leads the pack as the team makes their way across the great lawn. There is always a very special feeling when running on the home course. Katie said, "the great lawn is always the best part of the race because you're either just starting and have a lot of energy, or you're finishing and you know you're almost done. Everybody cheers for you, and it's easy to get caught up in the adrenaline and go just a little faster when it counts." 2. The whole team runs together at a home meet against Northfield Mount Herman. 3. Hailey Navis '13 leads the group as they start a race. 4. Rachel Whittenburg '13 and Emily Kent '11 stick together during a race. Even though cross-country is an individual sport, the girls help each other by running in packs to keep up momentum. "Racing in a pack and running with girls you've trained with everyday and run with so many times before pushes the team to be the strongest and fastest we can possibly be," Rachel said.

photo by: Maggie Liu '12

in the locker room

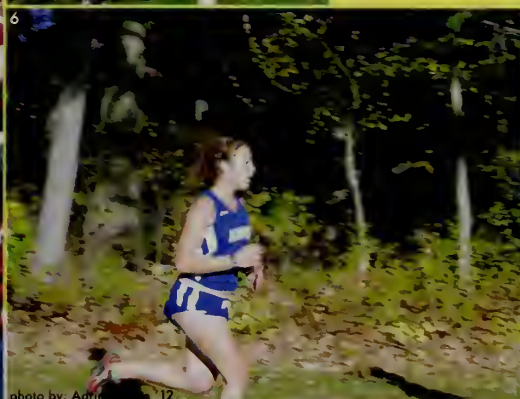

Kate's always so bubbly and full of energy. You can tell she really loves the sport, and since she's been running for 5 years she has a lot of experience and great advice. - Katie Ellinger '12

Kate Bulger

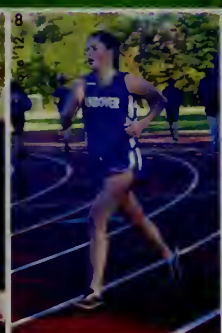

Kate always brings lots of energy and spirit to the team. I remember right after our interschols race she convinced us all to jump in the huge mud puddle on the course, then we sprinted from spot to spot on the course to cheer on the other girls. It was like running a whole other race and I was exhausted, but it was so much fun and the girls appreciated it.

- Kelsey Jamison '12

on the field

5. Lydia Azaret '12 stays focused as she runs across the grass. She said, "This season was amazing and winning Interschols was the perfect ending." 6. Kristen Faulkner '11 pushes herself during the sanctuary section of the course. The girls on the cross-country team form close friendships with each other regardless of their grade differences. Kristen said, "I think the strength of this year's team can be attributed to the incredible teamwork and love for one another. Every race I had a teammate running beside me and cheering me on." 7. Mimi Tanski '11 takes a stride to get ahead of the crowd while on the track portion of an away course. 8. Molly Levene '12 keeps her pace at an away meet. This year was a mix of old new and returning coaches, who all worked together to help the girls have a brilliant season. Molly said, "This season was amazing. I loved having Coach Long back from sabbatical, but it was great that Coach Hession was able to keep coaching us as well. Coach Asher was so much fun, and the team would not be the same without Coach Tarabi. It makes me so happy to know that all the coaches will return next year, because the team is going to be so different without the seniors." 9. Claire Hormange '11 sprints ahead at the start of the race. The girls team has a bunch of cheers that help them to get their spirits up. Claire said, "my favorite cheer is 'with the wings on our feet we just can't be beat.'" 10. The whole girls team runs together during a race warm up. The runners have all become very close during practices. Kelsey Jamieson '12 said, "Cross country was the best part of my day fall term. I loved laughing and relaxing with everyone on our long runs, it was especially funny to watch the team try to learn our pep rally dance, let's just say we are not the most coordinated team." 11. Katie Ellinger '12, Caitlin Kingston '11 and Lydia Azaret '12 cheer each other on as they lead a pack of Exeter girls.

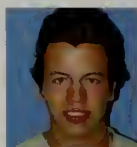

name? Joe Kuta '11

position? Defense

My favorite memory was Flanagan getting a mullet then dropping the Mits vs. Exeter.

fav memory?

Conor Flanagan '11

Forward

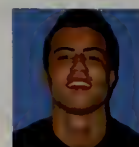

My favorite memory was beating that beat up with the strobe lights in the showers after each home win.

Seamus O'Neill '13

Forward

My favorite memory was definitely Will Walker '11 getting a little too amped for his debut and throwing a vicious hit to get thrown out on his second shift.

Andrew Sullivan '11

Forward

My favorite memory was showing Exeter the business during a rager at home.

boys' hockey

The team dynamic on boys' hockey is one to beat. Their teamwork and loyalty helped them persevere through some tough losses.

photo by Tahera Doctor '13

photo by Evan Eads '12

photo by Sora Nunez '13

photo by Evan Eads '12

photo by Sara Nunez '13

photo by Sara Nunez '13

photo by Sara Nunez '13

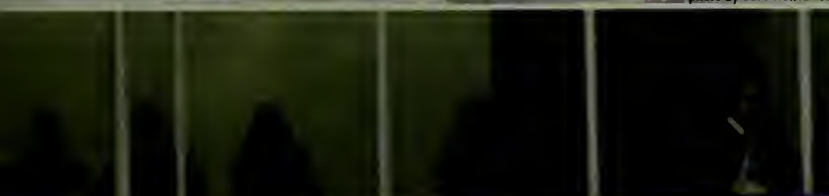

photo by Evan Eads '12

1. Boys' Hockey congratulates Jason Nawracki '13 after he scores a goal.
2. Seamus O'Neill '13 sends the puck up the ice while Thomas Shannan '12 looks on.
3. Captain Anthony Baldassari '11 skates the puck up the ice. The team took each game seriously and worked hard every minute. "It was a privilege to skate into battle with anyone in our brotherhood," he said.
4. Captain Anthony Baldassari '11 tries to stop a defender from taking the puck.
5. Jason Nawracki '13 watches his teammate skate with the puck. As a Lower on the team, he looks up to the Seniors on the team. "Anthony Baldassari '11 set an example as a hardworking player who demanded nothing but the best from himself and the team," he said.
6. Andrew Sullivan '11 positions for a face-off. He has many good memories of the season. "In ten years from now I will remember the team bonding sessions during Flood Mar week," he said.
7. Connor Light '13 tries to fake-out the opponent.
8. Seamus O'Neill '13 watches TJ Hickey '11 get the puck away from the net.
9. Connor Flanagan '11 and teammates watch the game from the bench until their line is called to take over. Though the hockey team had many good games this season, there is one game that stands out in his mind. "Beating Exeter at home is something that I will remember about the season ten years from now," he said.

photo by Megan Robertson '11

parallels: our captain

The hockey season was a journey during which the hockey team defined its identity. As our journey progressed, we grew as individuals, as a team, and we became united as brothers striving for a common goal. We entered every game and practice with the mindset, "Let's go get better."

Anthony Baldassari '11

name? Greer McBeth '12

position? Center

"Greer is really hard working because she played even when she was sick and still played great." -Amy Marin '14
 "Greer helped carry both our first line and our team for much of the year. She really stepped up to fill the shoes of some of the forwards who graduated in '10. She improved a lot over the season through all of her hard work on and off the ice. Greer made this season a lot better for myself and others on the team because she is extremely laid back and so easy to get along with." -Ann Doherty '11

"Greer is one of the most helpful people on our team; she always helps to put the nets away at the end of practice as well as putting the pucks away or carrying the water bottles. She's also inclusive and friendly towards everyone, which makes her such a great part of the team." -Jordan Johnson '13

Their teammates say...

Sarah Marcotte '13

Defense

"I love Sarah! I remember last season when we would always skate into each other and I would fall but she would still be standing. I was so confused by how that could happen since I'm like twice her size. She's a beast out there! Also, ever since my birthday this year she always says "Not" when we do our cheers, which always makes me laugh."

-Not Sohn '11

"Everytime we are doing an off ice workout and we are in the middle of doing abs, I start feeling the pain from using my abs and don't think I will be able to stay up for the entire plank, but then Sarah cracks a joke, or even just looks at me, and I burst out laughing, not only making my abs work even harder, but also helping me get through the ab workout without giving up." -Summer Washburn '11

girls' Hockey

6. Mari Walsh '11 fights to get the puck out from behind the Andover goal. The friendships she had with her teammates allowed her to excel on the ice. Mari said, "The season was tough, but through the struggles we faced we grew together and became a closer knit group. And, I made some friends that I will have for life."

7. Delaney Burke and Kellie Walsh '11 skate. "Delaney is an incredibly hard and passionate worker on the ice. She is an awesome linemate and teammate, always willing to do anything for the team. She has had a great Andover career and I know she will go on to do great things," Kellie said.

8. Not Sohn '11 brings the puck down the ice. She said, "I love playing hockey for Andover! The team is amazing and I love that this team is filled with some of my best friends. We all work very hard for each other and are very close. Although this was a building year for us skills wise, we have improved incredibly which has been so much fun to be a part of."

9. Sarah Schuchardt '11 anticipates saving a puck. Her two years on the team have created great memories she will have for life. She said, "Our team name is PAPUCK, and it has been a blast. I'm going to miss this team so much next year!"

photo by Lilybet MacRoe '13

photo by Lilybet MacRoe '13

photo by Soro Nunez '13

photo by Erin Johnson '13

photo by Morie Liu '12

parallels: our captain

As a team we have come so far this year. We have certainly had our ups and downs but we have collectively progressed with more experience and practices together.

It has been an honor to captain this team and to wear the Andover Blue for four years.

- Kellie Walsh '11

photo by Morie '12

photo by Lilybet MacRae '13

1. Ann Doherty '11 skates the puck down the ice. PAPUCK did not have the best record this season, but winning is not the most important thing. "It's important to understand how it feels to lose in order to appreciate how it feels to win down the road," Ann said.
2. Summer Washburn '11 skates the puck in between her opponents. The hockey team had a lot of fun and got along really well. Summer said, "My favorite memory is when my line skated around pretending like we were canoeing."
3. Kellie Walsh '11 watches Greer McBeth '12 fight for the puck. Greer always works hard, playing for and with her teammates. "This season has been really fun, though we don't have the best record we make up for in love for the team," said Greer.
4. Amy Marin '14 skates the puck up the ice. Amy, a Junior, had a great first season with PAPUCK. Amy said, "It was great to play with such talented people, and I though Marth was a great coach and always kept us trying through out the whole season."
5. Delaney Burke '11 brings the puck around the boards. As a four year Girls Varsity Hockey player, she has had a lot of time to occure memories and is sad that her time is almost over. "PAPUCK, I'll miss you. Look Good, Play Good," she said.

"Although we did not have a winning record, we had an incredible season. We improved so much as individuals and as a team, and towards the end of our season, we started coming together and winning more games. I will never forget this team and all the amazing people that made it so special."

- Brooke Van Valkenburg '12

photo by Erin Johnson '13

in the locker room

My favorite memories? Too many to count: Cheez-It vs. Skittles competitions, Taft Tournaments, scaring at the Harvard Hackey Rink, getting yelled at for staying up past lights out, Washburn cookies, team dinners, Red Line, the lights turning off in the rink while showering, Yellow Line, hackey parents, Braake's goal dance, OA's care workout that made your abs hurt when you laughed...

Delany Burke '11

Girls Varsity Hackey 4 Year Senior

I'm a four year senior from Andover. PAPUCK has definitely been an unforgettable experience. Although we haven't had the best record over the years, we have managed to keep positive and keep playing hard. PAPUCK means fun, it means teamwork, constantly supporting each other and getting better. PAPUCK is all about the people on the team and the crazy experiences we've had.

on the ice

1. Brendon O'Connell '13 dribbles under pressure. He was very proud of how the team made the playoffs for the first time in fifteen years. "I will always remember how successful our season was and how our team chemistry blossomed as the season progressed," he said.
2. Max Lippe '11 is poised to shoot. He was a threat behind the arc. About the season, he said, "Teachers and students often approached me saying they really enjoyed watching our games because we were the best team the school has had in a long, long time."
3. Mark Hanson '11 looks to pass around a defender. His favorite game of the season was against Worcester Academy, a team a division ahead of Andover and with many good athletes. "Every player stepped up and contributed in their own way. We won convincingly by 12 points. Our win against Worcester was one of the best wins in Andover basketball history, and it was only possible because of our tremendous teamwork," he said.
4. The boys' basketball team cheers after a time-out.
5. Ryan Hartung '12 goes up for a lay-up. The team chemistry really helped him to succeed on the court. "Our team chemistry was unreal this year and it definitely showed out on the court, I'm really going to miss this group of guys next year," he said.
6. The bench looks on during a game.
7. Rory Ziamek '12 looks to pass to a defender. This year Rory had to adapt to a new position. He said, "Though I've often been categorized as point guard in the past, and my time at this position was limited this year due to the personnel we had, I had fun stepping into a new role."
8. Roy Barry '11 takes a foul shot. The bus rides were his favorite part of the season. "We would just clown on people and literally be laughing the whole ride," he said.
9. Tom Polleschi '12 shoots over two defenders. He pulled down many boards this season. He said "The bus rides were hilarious. Everyone on our team is such good friends with one another that it's a great time for stories and bonding. I'm gonna miss everyone that's leaving our team this year."
10. Gibby Groves '11 runs the offense. This year, the Andover team stepped up against dominant teams. "Against the best teams KUA, Worcester, and Milton we showed everybody how tough a team we really were," he said.
11. John Cusick '11 looks to pass the ball. Because of the strong team chemistry, the team is great both on and off the court. "Everyone would throw out a good joke to get the team loose and ready for the game," he said.

photo by Megan Robertson '11

photo by Megan Robertson '11

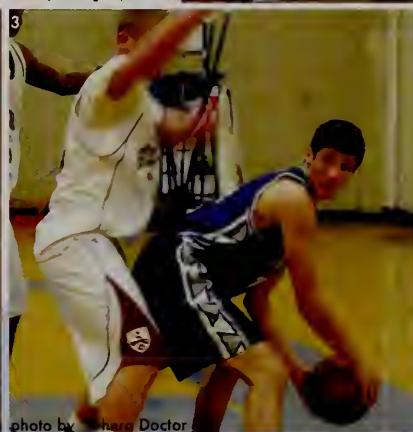

photo by Megan Robertson '11

photo by Megan Robertson '11

photo by Megan Robertson '11

photo by Megan Robertson '11

photo by Megan Robertson '11

overheard in the lockerroom

- 1 "Guys, this is gonna get a little gross." "Nature won that day. It was a good thing Christmas was right around the corner." - John Cusick '11
- 2 No Hands - Waka Flocka Flame "Team pump up song, listen to it before every game." - Ryan Hartung '12
- 3 "Wait, are you guys talking about my girlfriend?" "Let's just say there was a little miscommunication on a bus ride..." - Ryan Hartung '12
- 4 Lemme Smang It - Yung Humma "It started as the team motto and song. First we tried it on our opponents, but met with so much success it soon became our lifestyle on and off the court." - John Cusick '11

name?

Jamie Casselberry '11

position?

Center

My two favorite memories from this season would have to have been when our captain Mark Hansen got dunked on while we were playing Cushing and when I dunked on Max Lippe in practice: good times.

fav memory?

Jay Dolan '11

Forward

My favorite memory of the basketball season is just any bus ride. Every bus ride we go on is so much fun cause we're always joking around with each other and bonding as a team with our signature swag sessions.

Ryan Ramos '12

Guard

One of my most favorite parts of playing basketball was the look of absolute terror on Tom's face when he got dunked on. During our game against Milton, as their 7 foot center rose up to dunk the ball, Tom's confidence in his shot blocking depleted. Their center did a 360 windmill dunk while Tom saw any attempt to get up there with him as useless.

Gibby
Graves '11

Guard

Against Taft we were down 16 in the second half. After a timeout, we came out and played together. We won the game because we were able to come together as a team and pick each other up.

Playing basketball at Andover has been one of my most memorable experiences. Basketball is much more than practices and games; it is also about building relationships. The trust we have built this season has really paid off.

- Captain Mark Hanson '11

boys'

basketball

photo by Megan Robertson '11

photo by Megan Robertson '11

photo by Megan Robertson '11

photo by Matt Liu '12

parallels: our point guard

My experience on the basketball team was really good. I loved my teammates and coaching staff. This is one of the best teams Andover has had in a while and I am glad to be a part of it...We have put Andover back on the map for basketball. I really enjoyed playing point guard for Andover. Coach Ma has really trusted me to lead us far and given me a lot of freedom to do what I do best.

- Ray Barry '11

photo by Roy Thomberg '12

photo by Roy Thomberg '12

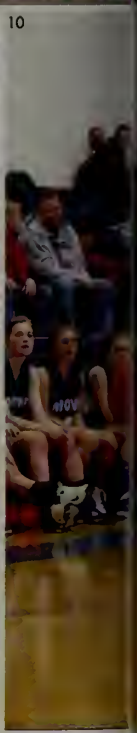

photo by Roy Thomberg '12

photo by Marie Liu '12

photo by Roy Thomberg '12

10 parallels: point guard

Playing point guard for a new team this season has been great. All the girls are talented players and know the game so well. It's always nice bringing the ball down the court knowing that in one way or another, our team will manage to put the ball in the hoop.

- Leah Humes '12

photo by Roy Thomberg '12

5

photo by Ray Thomthieng '12

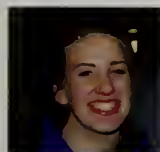

photo by Ray Thomthieng '12

photo by Ray Thomthieng '12

photo by Ray Thomthieng '12

name? Kelly Powers '11 position? Forward

The team chemistry seems to have manifested itself in our team dance parties which occur in the locker room, on the bus and before warmups. At least half the team has gotten whiplash at some point during the season when we do our rendition of "whip my hoir." Willow Smith has nothing on us!

fav memory?

"After four years of playing varsity, the girls' basketball team has definitely become a family to me. I have proudly stepped on the court in Andover blue with some of the greatest teammates and played numerous memorable games."

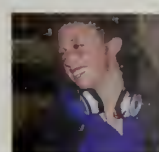

girls' -Captain Megan Robertson '11

Amanda Simard '13

Forward

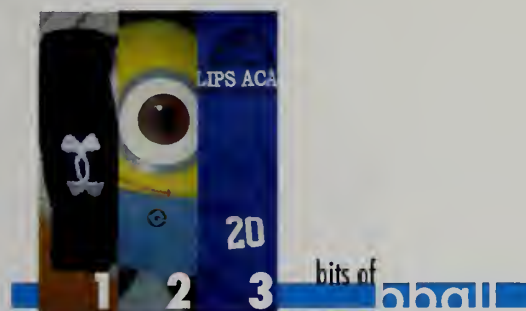

My favorite memory of the season was definitely team lozer tag. Who knew no boses could get so intense?

Colby Fagan '14

Forward

PA GVB: We ore not just o team, we're o FAMILY. We had "scream-offs" with SLAM and at the end of the doy we were reedy to play.

1 "Coach came up with the HEART award to make us hustle during games."

-Juli Brandano '12

2 "Peanut is our team mascot that we treat as our child."

-Ashleigh Vargas-Aquino '11

3 "Our team apparel had really cool pockets in the front. I never lost my iPod on a bus ride!"

-Megan Robertson '11

1. Kasey Hartung '14 drives past a defender. As a new player on the team, she has easily adjusted to Andover Basketball. She said, "I like shooting threes because it makes me feel classy."
2. Leah Humes '12 takes the ball up the court. She really enjoyed her first basketball season at Phillips Academy. She said, "Playing basketball for PA has been such an amazing experience because the girls on the team are great, motivated, and determined to win. Their hard work makes me want to give it all and leave everything on the court."
3. Ashleigh Vargas-Aquino '11 drives to the hoop. She loves the true team camaraderie of Andover Basketball. She said, "After playing four years of high school basketball already, this team has been by far the best."
4. Girls' basketball rests during halftime. Amanda Simard '13 said, "At half time coach spends some time reflecting on the last half, but for the most part looks to the next half to figure out how we can improve. She points out our faults and shows us ways to address them. She gets us pumped and ready to go out even stronger for the end of the game."
5. Alex Kiss-Rusk '12 shoots while Kayla Maloney '13 and Megan Robertson '11 prepare to crash the boards.
6. Nekele McCall '14 looks to pass around a defender. As a new Junior on the team she easily adjusted to the team. She said, "I loved basketball this season because of how well the team played together and got along together on and off of the court."
7. Alexis Walker '12 dribbles toward the baseline. She loves to play basketball because of the team aspect. Alexis said, "I don't sweat and work hard for myself, I do it for the name on the front of my jersey."
8. Kayla Maloney '13 shuffles on defense. Her work on the court is all because of the girls she loves so dearly off the court. She said, "I love the basketball team because there is good camaraderie!"
9. Alex Kiss-Rusk '12 faces pressure from a defender. She really enjoys the time spent with her team on and off the court. Alex said, "The list of things that only our basketball team would really understand goes on and on. Whether it was circling up and doing the dougie after games (or at least watching Alexis show everybody how to really do it) or playing that blindfold game at practice, any time spent with this team was a great time."
10. Megan Robertson '11 runs past a defender. She often drives to the baseline. She said, "One of my favorite moves is to pull a shot fake to get my defender in the air, and then drive by them for a lay-up."

name? Andrew Yong '14

event? 500-yd freestyle

Freshmon Lone (Lane 2) was definitely a highlight of the year with Niagra, Vitamin C and Yin Yong.

fav memory?

Jun Oh '12

100-yd butterfly

We went to a team dinner after a win against Deerfield. There was a Wii and dance game. You can imagine what happened next. Everyone's stomach hurt from laughing that night.

Andrew Xuon '13

200-yd freestyle

So this year for some reason to improve practices, we have gotten special t-shirts for different lanes to encourage competition between each of the lanes to prove which one is the fastest...

Austen Novis '11

50-yd freestyle sprint

My favorite memory would be from the lane that I practice in: Lane 1. We got Lone One T-shirts and one of the things on the back said "It's not a place, it's a way of life."

Boys'

Swimming & Diving

Before every home meet, Coach takes the whole team into the faculty locker room and reminds us to focus on ourselves. Whether we're racing at New England Champs or against each other at practice, I think it's really important to remember that we are a team and the only way we will all get better is by pushing each other to our limits each day. - Didi Peng '12

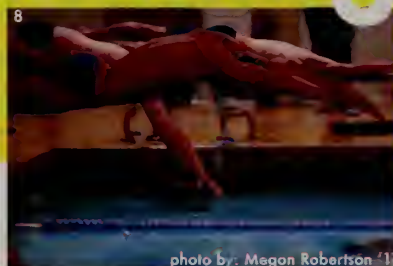

photo by: Megan Robertson '11

photo by: Megan Robertson '11

photo by: Megan Robertson '11

1. An Andover swimmer propels himself to the end of the IM lap.

2. An Andover swimmer holds his streamline position before beginning the lap.

3. Alex Nanda '11 swims freestyle during a meet. He was ecstatic to win two relays that set school records, 200 Medley and 400 Free. "The 200 Medley was automatic All-American and the 400 Free relay was All-American consideration," he said.

4. Joe Faller '14 competes during a freestyle race.

5. Divers Tammy Kramer and Manwei Chan '11 play in the pool with their teammates. Tammy will never forget the friends he made on the diving team. He said, "It's hard to believe that four out of five of us are seniors this year and kind of went through the experience together. It's something that we'll always share, even when we leave Andover."

6. Raphael Grandeau '11 gets ready to swim the backstroke. Raphael swims the 100 backstroke and the 100 freestyle, and won the final B in the 100 backstroke. He said, "What contributed a lot to our victory was the fact that we all raced for the team. Of course, I will never forget the post-interschols euphoria after we acknowledged that we had scored the highest number of points ever assembled by an Andover team."

7. Cameron Phillips '11 swims the 100 butterfly. Cam loved the coaches as swimming. He said, "Both Coach Hugon and Coach Fox pushed us harder than ever before this year, and in the end it paid off. It never mattered how well we did in a meet, or in practice, in school, or with other stuff, the coaches always believed we could succeed and always made me feel right at home in the Andover pool."

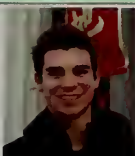

8. The swimmers take off the starting block.

9. An Andover swimmer maintains a steady lead on his opponent.

10. Alex Smachla '11 swims breast stroke in a race.

Nick Camarda '12

Swimming is very much a mental sport; if you aren't in it mentally it doesn't matter how hard you pull or how fast you kick, the sport will always find a way to bring you down.

But that is what makes swimming so great, the feeling of triumph when you break that record or beat your PR (personal record); it means you've truly let yourself go, it means you've beaten the sport at its own game. Mental toughness, a good attitude, and hard work: they've saved me every time.

Matt Mahoney '11

When I get up on the block there's this feeling of pure excitement like all the training I have been doing is building up to this one moment. When the official tells us to take our marks and the crowd goes completely silent, it's an amazing rush of adrenaline and your whole body gets really tight as you tense every muscle in your body gripping the block as you can in preparation for the start.

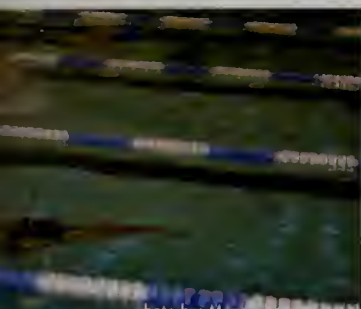

photo by: Megan Robertson '11

photo by: Morie Liu '12

photo by: Megan Robertson '11

photo by: Ray Thamtheing '12

photo by: Ray Thamtheing '12

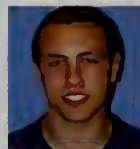

photo by: Ray Thamtheing '12

"The Exeter meet this year was one of my favorite in my four years on the team. It is always amazing, but this year it was also my last duel meet at Andover and thus especially significant. The crowd was phenomenal and the team performed so well, getting a record amount of points against Exeter. This year was my last with the team, and I couldn't have imagined it any better." - Captain Ben Morris '11

photo by: Megan Robertson '11

Lorenzo Conte '12

Lorenzo is a hardworking and humorous distance swimmer who I have been lucky enough to have in my lane for two years. He pushes me to do better.

- Alex Smachla '11

Lorenzo is very supportive. He always wants the best for all of us. He is always at the end of the pool cheering us on, and he constantly congratulates people on their fast times. - Andrew Wilson '12

in the lockerroom

in the pool

500-yd freestyle

1. The team celebrates by doing a cheer together.
2. The Swimming Team does the Seal Cheer after diving.
3. Hannah McGrath '11 swims the butterfly. As a three year Varsity Swimmer, she has come to know and love Andover Swimming traditions. "I may just come back to do the seal cheer again," she said.
4. Lydia Azaret '12 swims the backstroke.
5. Julie Smachla '13 took off the starting block. The team's win against Exeter was her favorite part of the season. "It really brought the team together to accomplish that goal. Since Exeter has won that meet for the last 4 years, it was even more exciting," she said.
6. Carrina Tarabi '14 swims the backstroke.
7. Whitney Glick '11 hits a dive. Whitney loves the diving team because it is so small and close. She said, "Our coach Belinda makes practice entertaining by always starting off with a random stories from how the bagger at the supermarket asked her to be his wife, to stories about her weekly karaoke nights with the elderly at the Elks Club."
8. Julia Tarabi '12 begins the breaststroke.
9. Maggie Shaemaker '12 sat in a bucket. She was done with her events at a meet. "I was cold so I sat in the diving make-shift hot tubs!" she said.

photo by Megan Robertson '11

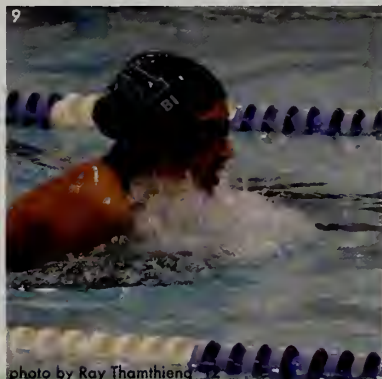

photo by Ray Thamthieng '12

photo by Megan Robertson '11

Girls' Swimming & Diving

3

Kristen Faulkner

Co-Captain

"Kristen is always there for everyone on the team. She encourages people to do their best and to never give up. She gives amazing advice on how to improve upon our swimming in and out of the pool."

-Emily Carrola '13

"Kristen demonstrates all the qualities of an ideal captain. In the pool, her hard work ethic and uplifting personality encourages all of us to try our hardest. Outside of the pool, she couldn't be nicer. Kristin helped make me feel welcome as a freshman even before I made the team. She always smiles and says hi to me in passing. I couldn't ask for a better captain." -Lauren Cante '14

In the pool

photo by Morie Liu '12

5 name? Emily Carrolo '12 event? 100-yd back-stroke

I always look forward to swim season because we have fun and work hard every single day, no matter what. We are all so close and have one of the best team dynamics I have ever been a part of!

fav memory?

Amelia Danovitch '13

100-yd butterfly

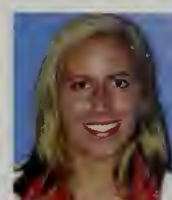

So this one time Mr. Murphy asked the team for a joke that he could share at ASM. Campbell told the silliest joke about an octopus. (What's the worst part about being an octopus?! Washing your hands before dinner... You know because it has so many tentacles.) Let's just say he never shared that joke.

Lucy Frey '13

200-yd freestyle

We are all really close, we dance, have fun, and are a really energetic team.

Emily McKinnon '13

100-yd breast-stroke

Our team joke started when Campbell Howe asked what is the hardest thing for an octopus to do? Answer: to wash his hands! Everyone on the team cracked up laughing. It was our first official team meeting and at every opportunity someone will bring it up!

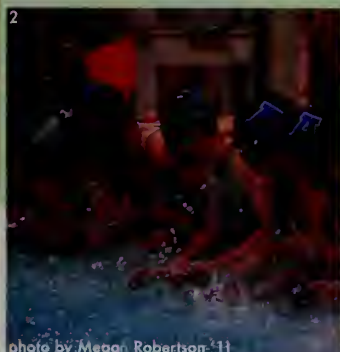

photo by Megan Robertson '11

We have such an incredible group of girls on the team this year, and we swam so strongly throughout the entire season, because every girl, everyday, put in a maximum effort and beyond. I will always love this team. From our inside jokes, to our team dinners, and to the dance parties in the locker room, these girls are simply the best! - Co-Captain Theresa Faller '11

photo by Megan Robertson '11

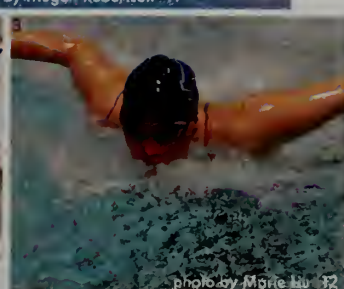

photo by Marie Liu '12

photo by Roy Thamthieng '12

double doubletake

Diving Sisters Kendall '11 and Lilybet '13 MacRae

I have really enjoyed having Lilybet on campus this year and especially on the diving team. Even as her older sister, I learn a lot from her in the pool. She is always fooling around trying new, crazy dives. When it comes to diving she is the dare-devil and I am much more of a scardy-cat. She always pushes me to try new dives and is extremely supportive of my endeavors. I enjoy reading Mr. Murphy's emails before meets and looking at the roster to see "Diving: MacRae x2." - Kendall MacRae '11

I love diving with Kendall. We both started diving a little over 5 years ago when Kendall broke her wrist in gymnastics. She is a great captain on the Andover diving team and helps make diving fun. She has always been there to help me remember my towel or to let me borrow shampoo and conditioner. Although we compete against each other, whether in handstand contests or a diving meet, we are also very supportive. Diving will not be the same without her next year. She adds a sense of perspective, good humor, and an amazing ability to make diving fun. - Lilybet MacRae '13

photo by Ray Thomthieng '12

photo by Ray Thomthieng '12

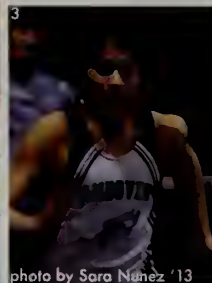

photo by Sara Nunez '13

photo by Sara Nunez '13

photo by Ray Thomthieng '12

1. Kemi Amurawaye '11 completes a high jump. The team has had a great season, and Kemi hopes their efforts will pay off. "We hope to keep the good work and finish strong with wins at both Exeter and Championships," she said. 2. Mike Wincek '11 prepares to throw the shotput. This was his first year on the team. "I was amazed by the unity on the team despite the events being for the individual," he said. 3. Jonathan Arane '14 runs hard in a sprint. As a new Junior on the team, he looked up older athletes on the team. "The upperclassmen were so helpful with introducing the freshmen, and taught me how to improve in my events," he said. 4. Gabbie Cirelli '12 runs hard during a meet. Her favorite aspect of the team is the camaraderie. "We blast music during warmups and everyone's always having fun and joking around," she said. 5. Tyler Marshall '14, Joe Krzy '12, and Brian Wootton '11 run the 50 meter sprint. Though this is Brian's first year on the track team, he feels the transition was easy. "Coach Long and Coach Maq have been great in helping me improve in my events and have made this a very fun experience," Brian said. 6. Trey Jennings '12 runs his distance event. 7. Joe Krzy '12 prepares to throw the shotput. Andover's league was more competitive than ever this season, so the team had to work extra hard. "With a lot of new faces, we had to perform our best every meet to succeed," he said. 8. Kevin Jiang '12, Shun Sakai '13, and Lazala Nyamokazi '13 run in a sprint. Being a new lower, Laz was surprised at how united the team was, even though separate groups of athletes do separate events. "The track team is so supportive of each other, and I think that that support is what made me improve throughout the season," Laz said. 9. Alex Esakof '12 and Franco D'Agostino '12 run hard during a meet. For Alex, the meets are about being with family. "Track meets aren't only about improving your own time or distance, they're also about cheering your teammates on to do the best that they can." 10. Turner Shaw '11 concentrates on clearing the bar while pole vaulting. Turner knows it's the closest he'll ever get to flying. "Getting over a new height is an amazing feeling, and incomparable to any other. It's a sense of accomplishment shared only by other vaulters," he said. 11. Jasmine Edison '11 runs hard in the 600. She loves the event, because it's just long enough to be considered distance, and just short enough to feel fast. "It's a sort of hybrid race, and it fits me perfectly. The fact that I haven't lost a 600 this season also helps..." she said.

double take

I ran the 600 this season. I'm not much of a runner, but I tried distance running for indoor track this year to get in good shape for the spring. I actually really enjoy it because of the challenge, competition, and training the running provides.

- Kevin Fung '13

Long Distance Lower:
Kevin Fung and Fernando
Ramos '13

I do the mile and the two-mile. I love the exhausted feeling after being done with a workout. I also feel very relaxed after a run.

- Fernando Ramos '13

photo by Gabbie Cirelli '12

photo by Ray Thomthieng '12

name? Nate Johnson '11

events? Pole Vault

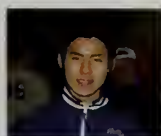

There aren't many pole vaulters at PA so we're definitely a close group with a lot of team jokes.

fav memory?

Rhea Lewis '13
50 & 300 Yard Dash

Every track meet gives me the opportunity to run my hardest and have the most fun with my teammates.

James Lim '12
Sprinter/Jumper

Coach Lang once said, "So there are two things that are gonna make you faster: one is me, and the other is good form."

Jackie Wu '12
1 Mile & 2 Mile

My favorite memory of track would be helping to push out an Andover police car that was stuck in the snowbank during one of our long runs. Only on winter distance track could that happen!

We're a team made up of kids from every different type of group on campus, and it's awesome to see them connect over high jumping or distance running. Coach Lang's also one of the funniest guys on campus, which helps to make practice even better. - Captain Turner Shaw '11

Indoor Track

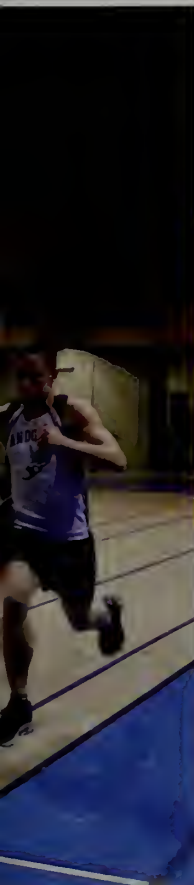

photo by Ray Thamthieng '12

photo by Ray Thamthieng '12

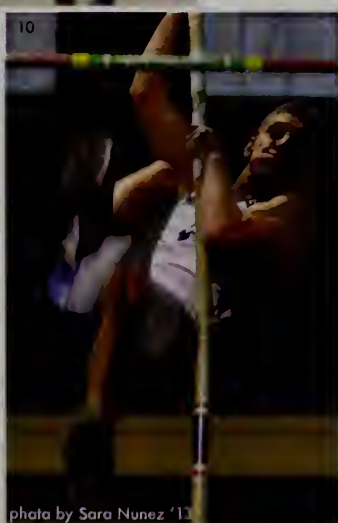

photo by Sara Nunez '11

Zoe Chazen '14 Four-by-Four

Zoe ran the four-by-four with me at our last meet, and she's a really good athlete. She's dedicated, hardworking, and I can't wait to see where she is her senior year. She's going to be a beast at track.
Jasmine Edison '11

in the lockerroom
Zoe is the type of person that everyone wants to be around. She is able to make friends so easily and that's why she is so loved by all of her peers. Zoe is that one person who really makes my day ten times better when I am able to talk to her and be around her for just a couple of minutes. She is so cheerful, confident, and always reliable. - Helen Leahy '14

on the field

overheard in the lockerroom

■ "Is that father an albino?" - Luke Hansen '11

■ "I get the courage from Mr. Hodgson, and I raise my hand with an L" - Kun Woo Kim '14

■ "(H)goony's got some crazy swagger" - TJ Lenzo '12

■ "I appreciate his steez" - Teddy Drake '11

photo by Marie Liv '12

photo by Megan Robertson '11

photo by Talia...

boys'

squash

name?

Jared Curtis '11

Eating brownies together after matches was a great way to build strong team connection and relax after a long day of squash. They were (usually) pretty delicious!

Teddy Drake '11

I am going to miss Kun Woo's prayers.

Hunter Schlacks '11

My favorite memory was at high school nationals when one of our team members ate four entrees for breakfast and was still hungry (Kun Woo Kim).

Hayato Lee '12

We're really good at doing the full body stretch. I think it's safe to say it's the best stretch of all time.

fav memory?

MEET OUR CAPTAIN

We've experienced the ups and downs of having a new coach...most importantly, we've had the opportunity to develop a strong team dynamic. In such an individually-oriented sport like squash, this, I believe, is our greatest achievement.

- Jared Curtis '11

photo by Megan Robertson '11

8 photo by Megan Robertson '11

photo by Marie Liu '12

1. Hayata Lee '12 leans in for a low shot against an Exeter opponent. Because it is such a small team, the boys were all really close at the end of the season. Hayata said, "I've gotten closer with my teammates through squash and I will always cherish the memories I made at my time at PA." 2. Jared Curtis '11 swings for a shot at the Andover home courts. 3. Teddy Drake '11 keeps his eye on the ball. 4. Alastair McClintic '12 takes a few shots during practice. 5. Hunter Schlacks '11 prepares for a corner shot. Together the team has shared some great moments getting psyched up before games. "The squash team is great because of our passion and team bonding." 6. Daniel Aranav '11 shows off his tricks. This year had a great mix of people from all classes. One team member remarked, "The team has great potential for the future because of the young buck at the bottom of the ladder." 7. Luke Hansen '11 reaches for a hard shot. 8. TJ Lenza '12 sports a patriotic headband for luck.

photo by Tahera Doctor '13

photo by Marie Liu '12

parallels: our captain

Being Squash captain has been an incredible experience. I love my team, Coach Elliott is fantastic, and the season has gotten off to a great start. Last year we had a tough season and a lot of people thought we were not going to recover, but as a team we've proved them wrong with some great victories. I encourage anyone whose interested to try out for squash, it's an amazing life sport and so much fun.

- Amanda Hawland '11

2

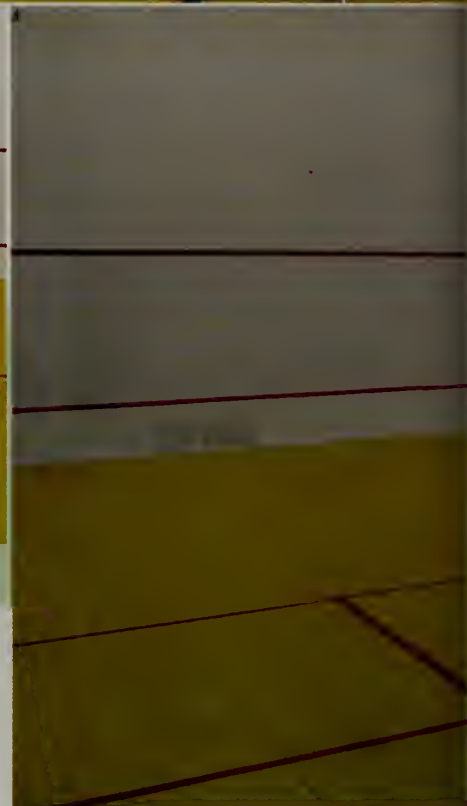

photo by Evan Eads '12

1. Mackenzie Strabala '13 follows through on her stroke. Her favorite part of the season was the team's win against Exeter. She said, "Team spirit and love for squash allowed us to finish the season strong!" 2. Minymoh Annelone '11 deflects a ball. 3. Mackenzie Strabala '13 runs to hit a ball. 4. Midari Ishizuka '11 swings at the ball. Midari appreciated her teammates and coaches a lot. She said, "The girls squash team is made up of the most wonderful group of girls. Everyone is so supportive of each other and we have grown so close throughout the year. Coach Elliott has focused a lot on fitness this year, and I'm sure all the girls would agree with me that, although running suicides and stairs isn't always fun, there's no coach we'd rather run timed miles for - that's for sure." 5. Misha Haada '14 prepares to hit the ball. 6. Jessica Lee '13 races towards a ball. Though the team lost their final match of the season, she still felt it was a driven and focused match. "Despite our loss, we all had some great points and hit beautiful shots, so it was a fabulous end to our season," she said. 7. June Supapannachart '11 uphands her stroke. The team dynamic this year helped her excel on the court, especially against Exeter. "Our last home match against Exeter was one of the best because all the Seniors won their matches and the team pulled out a win against Andover's biggest rival," she said.

photo by Marie Liu '12

7

name?

June Supapannachart '11

My favorite game was definitely the Exeter match. Though the teams were pretty evenly matched, our team really came together, worked hard, and pulled out a win.

Catherine Choi '12

We've had a lot of team-bonding moments during several grueling workouts, and we've all come out of those workouts as a stronger athlete and with overall improvements to our squash play.

Tafarii
McKenzie '12

My favorite memory was when we went to see the horror flick "The Roommate" as a squash team. We really got to know each other's biggest fears and favorite candy types!

Minymoh
Annelone '12

My favorite part of the season was our match against Exeter at home. The whole ladder cheered each other on and friends came and supported us as well. The cheering at the home match against our rival definitely gave me the energy boost I needed to make it through my five game match!

fav memory?

photo by Morie Liu '12

in the lockerroom

Caroline is always so energetic at squash. Her enthusiasm cheers up the entire team for practice, warmups, or a match. - Jessica Lee '13

Caroline von Klemperer '12

Caroline is a very dedicated player on court, not only does she go for every shot, but really thinks when she's playing. - Adele Bernhard '14

on the court

girls'

We do these DVD workouts on the days we take a break from squash called "P90X", and it's the funniest thing. The man that is instructing us on the DVD is so intense and it's been amusing working out to him. Some of the more humorous moments have been while we are working out to the "P90X ab ripper" workout, which is 16 minutes of pure hell, but so funny too. As the girls are rolling around on the floor because we can't do another crunch, Coach is keeping up with the workout with perfect form while five months pregnant with her fourth child! There have been many instances where she'll demonstrate a drill and we'll all have to hold our breaths because she'll almost trip and we'll worry for the baby! But, that's the way Coach is - incredibly involved and dedicated. She'll be right beside us beating us at sprints. It's amazing. - Midori Ishizuka '11

photo by Morie Liu '12

photo by Morie Liu '12

photo by Morie Liu '12

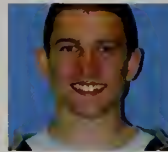

name?

Anthony Tedesco '12

I remember one practice, Ryan Gaiss '11 and I were wrestling live, just like a normal practice. He was wearing a pair of ratty old sweatpants with his snow coma sweatshirt, classic Gaiss. After he hit a shot on me, I somehow stepped on his sweatpants and they ripped straight down the crotch. Needless to say, we are lucky that Ryan was wearing some underwear that day...

fav memory?

Brandon Sneider '12

It is an honor to take The Bear, "Chip", home after practice. Chip signifies the hard work that we put in and off the mat to be ready to compete.

Caltan Dempsey '12

One of the freshman studs on our team, Christian Vallis '14, chooses to wear spandex leggings when he wrestles. Anthony Tedesco stole Christian's tights and put them on as a joke, but could not get them off due to the large circumference of his muscular and toned quadriceps. The entire team had to help pull them off of him. Classic.

Robert Palmer '11

We've beaten Exeter every year I've wrestled at Andover, so beating them at home my senior year was a special accomplishment for me and the entire team.

wrestling

"People say that wrestling is an individual sport, but it is actually a team sport where the success we have achieved this year would have not happened if it were not for the entire team. Taking down or being taken down by my opponents in a tight singlet is rather not a fun experience, but I will never forget the feeling of victory which I have earned through extreme effort." - Min Jae Yoo '12

photo by Megan Robertson '11

photo by Megan Robertson '11

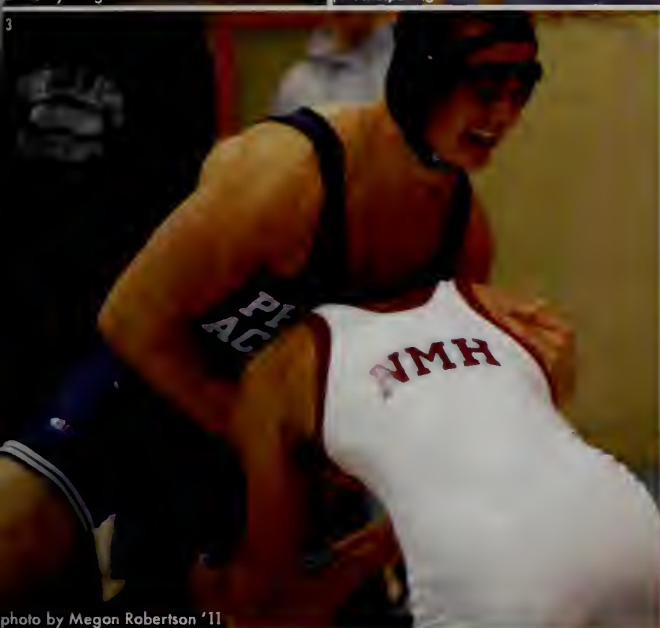

photo by Megan Robertson '11

photo by Megan Robertson '11

1. Caltan Dempsey '12 works to keep his opponent on the ground. This year, the Andover Wrestling team had a strong lineup throughout every weight class. Caltan said, "Besides experience level, there are no distinctions on the squad and we have all come together to form a cohesive and formidable team." 2. Sven Lerner '12 stands ready, waiting for his opponent to move. The team began the season with a lot of newcomers but quickly adapted as the season progressed. "We really come together as the season progressed and we all figured out our place in the lineup," he said. 3. Rob Palmer '11 grimaces while pushing his NMH opponent to the edge of the mat. Most people outside of the sport do not know that wrestling has an exhausting mental preparation component. "People know that wrestling is a physically demanding sport, but we (wrestlers) can spend an entire week worrying about a six minute match and everything that could go right or wrong; sometimes the easiest part of the week is the match itself," he said. 4. Auggie Horner '14 holds his opponent. His hard work this year at practice has paid off in the matches. He said, "After a few matches, I began to embrace the challenges in each practice, knowing that each day that I persevered, the more of a shot I would have at defeating my most skilled opponents." 5. Brandon Sneider '12 works hard to hold his opponent. Over his years on the team, Andover wrestling has changed, but he always works hard. "It is a joy to watch and contribute to Andover Wrestling. Blue an three!" he said. 6. Min Jae Yoo '12 uses all his strength to hold against his NMH opponent. Min Jae knows that wrestling is a physically demanding sport, but the feeling of victory is unmatched. "Wrestling is a hard sport, and that's why I have huge respect for every single wrestler on the mat regardless of JV or varsity. We bleed and sweat together on the mat, and I believe that's why I think of the wrestling team as a brotherhood," he said. 7. Anthony Tedesco '12 waits for his opponent to move. As a three-year Varsity Wrestler, Anthony has occurred many memories. "Ten years from now I will certainly remember the intense live go's with my boys Porky, Gaiss, and Calt that helped build my character, the great leadership that helped me grow into the leader I am now, Coach Effinger's riveting pre-game speeches, and those digressions with Coach Dunn," he said. 8. Ken Thorp '11 pushes into his opponent. Wrestling demands hard work and an athletic build, and Ken sums it up. "Wrestling: What men do during boys basketball season," he said. 9. Ryan Gaiss '11 waits to tackle his opponent. Before each meet, Andover Wrestling assembles the varsity lineup in a dark hallway, as this gives the team mental preparation before each home meet. "The hallway gives everyone a chance to take a deep breath and mentally prepare for their opponent, and it serves as a place for the team to unite as one," he said. 10. The Andover Wrestling Team huddles before their meet.

double take

Juniors Auggie Horner and James Palmer '14 talk about Andover Wrestling experience

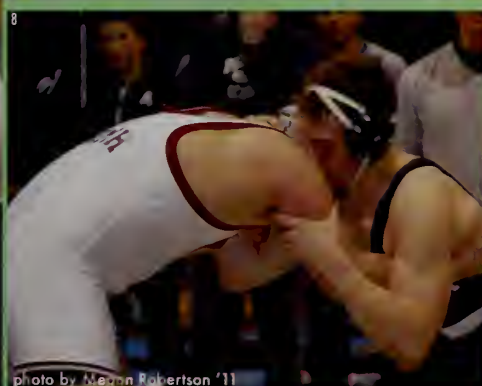

For me, in the beginning, wrestling was difficult to take on. I remember sitting in my room having to lose a few pounds before our first meet, and after hearing someone talk about a abdominal "muffintop", all I could think about was muffins.

- Auggie Horner '14

My biggest personal achievement was my first ever Varsity pin, which was pretty big. I was a bit too tired to celebrate it at the moment.

- James Palmer '14

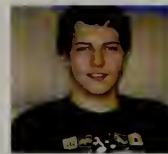

"Everyday, I try to get the team moving and energetic before each practice and I enjoy giving advice and pointers to some of my younger teammates. It feels good to be a leader and role model for some of my best friends at Andover, and I am honored to have been a two-year captain for the best team on campus."

-Ryan Goiss '11

parallels our captain

name?

Sean Burkitt '14

Charlotte Aaran '14

Kendall Gaadyear '12

Max Block '12

My first race for Andover, when I had not fallen for the entire race, my skies caught in the snow 10 feet from the finish.

It was really funny the first time we started classic skiing. We would all go in a line up the big hill and right when we would be at the very top of the hill, someone would slip knocking all the rest of us down to the bottom again.

Mimi Tanski is an amazing captain! She really is dedicated to both the sport and the team, and it really shows during practices and races. She sets an amazing example for the rest of us to follow.

Rally Wagon. I cannot elaborate on this because I'm not sure if I explained it anyone other than the nordic team would understand and it would dilute the meaning of the phrase.

fav memory?

photo by Kate

photo by Morhelich Santos '12

photo by Morhelich Santos '12

photo by Morhelich Santos '12

photo by Kate Wiener '11

photo by Kate Wiener '11

photo by Morhelich Sontos '12

5

...our captain

The nordic team is what pulls me through winter term. It is such a great, quirky, hilarious group of kids with an amazing coaching staff. This year has been particularly amazing because we've been skiing in the Sanctuary because of the ridiculous amount of snow!

- Mimi Tanski '11

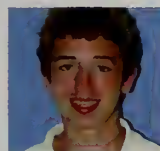

1. Yuta Wantanabe '11 finishes a race. It was his favorite race of the season. "Somehow I stayed on Cal's tail for the entire race, even though he usually goes out of sight before the first kilometer. I didn't believe how well I did until I saw the results - 8th place," he said.
2. Piper Curtis '13 races on the white powder. Piper really enjoyed every practice. She said, "Going to Nordic practice has been something to look forward to after classes. Everyone is funny and great to be around."
3. Cal Brooks and Yuta Wantanabe '11 ski uphill near the end of their race.
4. Christian Zhang '12 slows down after completing his race. Christian enjoys the experience, as Nordic combines several interesting aspects of life. "Skiing is like flying across a white wintery wonderland dotted with footprints, leaves, and the odd dog poop," he said.
5. Alex Salton '11 concentrates during a race. He has skied with the Nordic team for three years. Alex said, "Andover Nordic has been an amazing experience over the last three years. The team is small and we're all really close. The boys team has been steadily improving since my Lower year and we're hoping to continue that trend!"
6. Sean Burkitt '14 glides down a hill in the Sanctuary. He doesn't find the actual race difficult. He said, "The hardest part of the race is actually before I begin. Standing at the start line while eyeing the people next to me, judging their skill, building up excitement and anticipation for the imminent start."
7. Benjamin Sallick '14 skis on a flat part of the course. Many years from now, he will remember the fun and exciting games the team played. "I will remember the day we played sharks and minnows, that game has a new face for me now," he said.
8. Cal Brooks '11 begins to ski down a hill. His favorite memories of the season are the bonding moments with the team off the path. "From watching Sean Burkitt faceplant to hearing Max yell that he can't stand to watch us eat the brownies that Mimi forgot to cook, I'll never forget all the good times we had together as a team this season," he said.
9. Aaron Finder '13 races around a bend. He originally started skiing to train for crew, but found the sport did more than keep him in shape. Aaron said, "The friendships I have made through this sport and the experiences I have had during practices and races will last the rest of my life. If it wasn't for Nordic, I wouldn't have gotten to know Cal Brooks, a fellow rower; Jeb Roberts, guitarist extraordinaire; or even Max Black, new head of the Phillipian. In short, it was a blast racing this year, and seniors, I'll miss you all and I can't imagine next year without you all."

I remember our first day of classic nordic skiing. It was a beautiful day, after the huge storm. Except for Sean Burkitt, who can do all things nordic, we did not know how to classic ski. Going up hill was ... on experience. One after another, we'd slip and fall into full splits, until the whole hill was a line of fallen beginner nordic skiers. I remember how Charlotte Aaron was going up the hill and suddenly started sliding backwards down the biggest hill. Somehow, we figured out how to classic ski.- Laura Bucklin '14

Nordic

photo by Morhelich Sontos '12

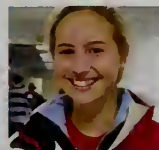

in the lockerroom

Mimi is a charismatic and funny teammate and captain. She takes Nordic very seriously, but manages to make this experience more than just practicing and racing. Whether it is planning team dinners or making us cookies, Mimi has made us all into one big Nordic family. - Aaron Finder '13

Mimi Tanski

I love it when Mimi lops me on the snow, because she always offers words of encouragement like, "Good job! Keep it up!"

- Rachel Morgolese '12

on the snow

I love teaching math because there are answers! I have always loved math – and I had some great teachers when I was here. I majored in math at Bates because the study of math really piqued my interest in things that are both logical and beautiful. I know a lot of students don't necessarily see the beauty in math, but I do!

What I love most about math are those AH HA moments in class – when something has not been clicking for some student and all of a sudden, something I say or (usually) something someone else says makes it come alive and make sense to that student. I also have grown to love teaching high school students. I like each of the ages for all kinds of different reasons: juniors because they are so ready and eager to learn, seniors and uppers because they get my jokes!

I never really intended to be a teacher/coach. When I was a senior at Bates, I was very busy with finishing up my studies and planning things for the class of '88 that I only applied for one job – to be a TF back at my high school. Luckily, that year, PA needed a math TF who could also coach the boys swim team for a year!

Over the years, I have really seen the pool as a different classroom – but a classroom that I could really push kids in ways that I really can't in a math classroom. I have come to see sports as a way to help students see that what looks impossible one moment becomes attainable the next moment – with hard work and daily prep and passion. These things are critical for success in the math classroom as well. I once worked with a student in the pool when I was also the water polo coach (10 years) who applied lessons from the pool to his German class and ended up with a 6 based on those lessons. They go hand in hand.

I have had the pleasure of teaching some of my swimmers or water polo players along the way. It's always a bit funny because they do not always call me Mr Murphy in the pool. Lots of time it is "Murph" in the pool. It's funny trying to watch those kids call me Mr Murphy in the math classroom! Sometimes on deck during practice, I will find myself throwing a little calculus lesson on the board there when someone asks a math question before

practice. You end up weaving both lives into both arenas.

But I really encourage kids to leave academics behind when they come to the pool. Having required sports here means that the school sees that sports and academic complement each other. I think it is a great thing to have kids forget all about that math test or upcoming English paper and concentrate on practice - not because practice is all important, but because letting your brain take a break is a great way to handle the inevitable stress of this rigorous academic atmosphere.

One of the most gratifying things about coaching over the years are the kids who stay in touch through Facebook or who show up on deck after a meet. Just this past Wednesday, two alums showed up on deck after the Exeter meet: Alison Ferranti '98 and Kate Connors '98. Kate had her 5 month old little boy with her. It was great to see them both after all these years. It was also a bit special for me since my oldest child, Maddie, was born during the spring of their senior year! Such great memories and such a huge impact was swimming for them. It's fun to be part of kids lives that way.

Mr. Murphy

Dean of Students

Girls' Swimming Coach

Math Teacher

¹ Joe Shin '11, ² Ray Thamthieng '12, and ³ Jessica Weng '11 run through their checklists for their Math classes

double check

Brains ☐ Eyes ☐ Pencil ☐
 Eraser ☐ Motivation ☐

Calculator ☐
 Pencil ☐
 Homework ☐
 Alertness (7th period) ☐
 Legs (for the stairs) ☐

Pencil ☐ Paper ☐ Calculator ☐ Determination ☐ Homework ☐

photo by Evan Eads '12

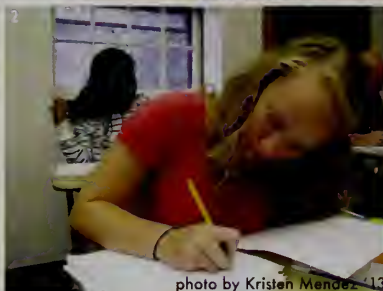

photo by Kristen Mendez '13

side by side

¹ Eliana Kwartler '12, ² Kevin Jiang '12 and ³ Dan Schultz '12 sit beside each other in Math 590.

"Mr. Daba was talking about changing variables in problems, and he smiled and said, 'You can change your name, but you can't change who you are!'"

"Mr. Daba wrote a math problem where we were supposedly at a Carnival and trying to maximize the amount of his favorite dessert: a 'tasty ice cup.' Not only could I not use optimization to solve the problem, I was confused as to why anyone would think that ice was tasty until I discovered that Mr. Daba was talking about snow cones."

"Once Mr. Daba said that we could pick and choose which problems we wanted him to help with. He said, 'I'm like the stir fry guys, may I take your order?'"

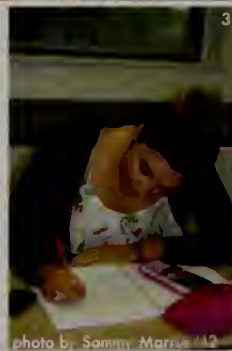

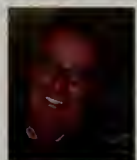

photo by Sammy Marcus '12

photo by Ray Thamthieng '12

photo by Taylor Chin '14

Mr. Scott

Mr. Hugon

Mr. Hurley

Mr. Hoening

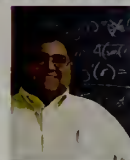

Mr. McHugh

Mr. Liso

Mrs. Silversides

Mr. Alonso

Mr. Borry

Ms. Cruz

1. Ceylon Auguste-Watson '12 studies hard in her Trigonometry class. The work ethic is necessary, since her math teacher, Mr. Hoeng is infamous for his daily quizzes. "It's a way to make me ALWAYS do my homework," said Ceylon.
2. In Pre-Calculus class, Erin Luby '13 tackles a tricky problem. For Erin, the teacher, Mr. Hugon, makes the class truly worthwhile. "Learning math is so much more enjoyable with Mr. Hugon's accent," said Erin.
3. Kiki Somers '12 works diligently on her math classwork. Even though she takes math first period, she is lively. "Though the whole class is still half asleep, class still manages to be a great time! Everyone is always joking around and having fun and it's such a nice way to start the long day ahead," she said.
4. Trey Jennings '12 helps Seyoung Lee '12 use her calculator in Math 360. Trey enjoys math class and joked, "Math class is the only place where it's OK to be irrational."
5. Don Schultz '12, Emma Zanozzi '11, and Catherine Cannon '11 take diligent notes in math class. Retention of important concepts happens not only through hard work, but also, according to Emma, through funny jokes from your teacher. "What I will always remember from BC Calculus: The function $f(x)$ is like a family: $f(x)$ is like the grandfather, $f'(x)$ is like the father, and $f''(x)$ is like the little kid," said Emma.
6. Juniors Hannah Guzzi, Kyle Sinhart, and Jack Elliott-Higgins '14 sit through their first math class of PA. Infamous for its connections to other disciplines, Algebra 1 can be applied to nearly every subject, including those outside of the PA curriculum. Kyle knows this and described perhaps the most important connection of all - "Pi is irrational," he said, "just like love."
7. Marie Liu '12 uses her calculator in her Trigonometry class. Calculators are necessary tools, but sometimes can cause much stress. Marie said, "I constantly forget to bring my calculator to class, so I always have to run back to my dorm to get it before class starts!"
8. Classmates Anthony Zhang and Matt Dearacki '13 collaborate during a group math exercise. The answers to problems are often located in the book. But, as Anthony pointed out, "In the book of life, the answers aren't in the book."
9. Reviewing the day's work, Advaya Krishna '11 checks his Calculus problems. Finding tricks and mnemonics to learn new concepts is an essential skill for students, one Advaya seems to have mastered. Drawing inspiration from pop culture, Advaya thought of vertical asymptotes in three short words - "Can't touch this."
10. In Calculus class, Will Adams '11 prepares for a hard day's work. The beginning of every math class is fraught with tension, thanks to Mr. Hoeng's daily quizzes. "Quizzes every day, nothing better or more nerve-wracking," remarked Will.
11. Good friends Thereso Feller '11 and Hoyato Lee '12 work together during a 7th period math class. Success in PA classrooms is not limited to perfect 6.0s - it means supporting your classmates and enjoying what you learn, too. Thereso recalled her friendship with Hoyato, and how she "literally had to drag Hoyato up the stairs everyday to class and wake him up when he falls asleep, but, no matter how sleep deprived we are, at the end of the day, we both love math."
12. Alec Buck '13 and Abby Chung '13 work together over a math textbook. Their Math 320 class is close, with inside jokes referencing television. Abby gave an example: "Our parents told us TV doesn't help with school. But the Glade commercial helps us in math class."

Math

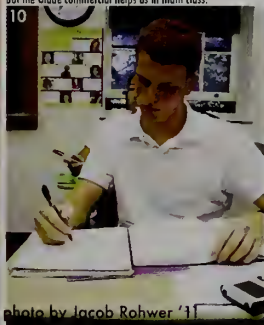

photo by Jacob Rohwer '11

photo by Ray Thamthiang '12

photo by Erin Johnson '13

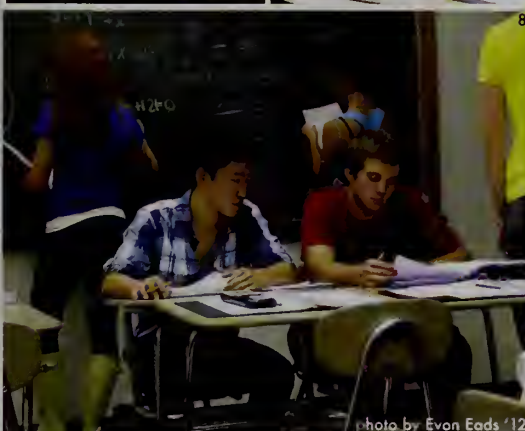

photo by Evan Eads '12

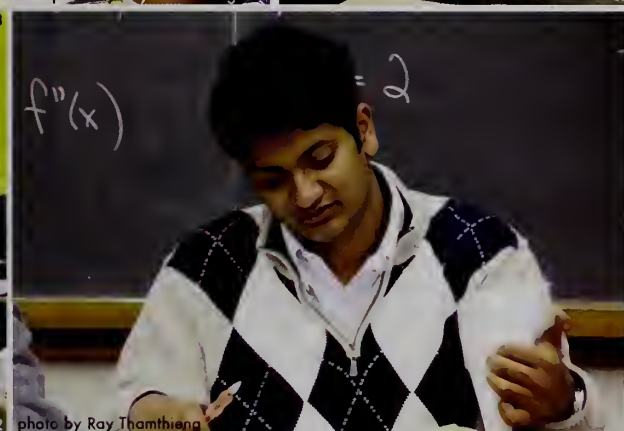

photo by Ray Thamthiang

Mr. Scott remembers...

When I was a young teacher, I threw stuff. I threw erasers - I threw a pointer and it went over a boy's head and it hit the glass window, shattering all over the poor child. I stopped throwing things in class after that moment. It was awful - but by God, did I surprise that boy.

As you get older as a teacher, you become more sensitive to the struggles that kids have. Their lives here are complicated. I'd tell my younger self to be patient - it takes time to absorb ideas.

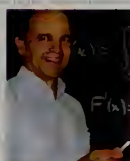

Mr. Doba

Ms. Greenberg

Ms. Joseph

Mr. Kuhlmann

Mr. Odden

Mr. Solman

Mr. Farrell

Ms. Litvin

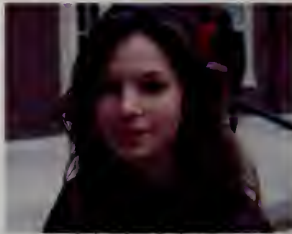

Mr. Washburn

Ms. Fullard

Religion & Philosophy

three year path

Wesley Meyer

I'm on my third Hodgson course right now; I've taken Proof and Persuasion, Law and Morality, and now Existentialism. I've taken Mr. Hodgson's classes out of interest for the content themselves but I'm actually glad that they've all been with Hodgson because he has a base of knowledge concerning so much more than just philosophy, and I love how he brings in current news articles to class that exemplifies his knowledge. My favorite course would have to be Law and Morality because of the complex questions that the class raised, the texts we read, and the interesting mind games we got to play in class. The philosophy courses teach so much more than what you would think- they force you to look at the world differently and it changes the way you act.

1. Sara Onorato '11, Scherezade Khan, and Ben Ramera '12 pay attention in Modern Islam. Sarah said, "the course was a great outlet and to study not only Islam but its role in America, its representations in the media, its false dichotomies, and its many, many dimensions." 2. Nikhil Baradwaj '13 takes notes as Michael Kantaxis '11 speaks in class. Mike said, "though it was his first year teaching at Andover, Dr. Legaspi was incredibly insightful and demonstrated an incredible knowledge about the nature of morality in teaching Ethics." 3. Diana Hawland and Rachelle Wilbur '12 discuss issues during class. Diana said, "it was really interesting to see how these people years ago were commenting on problems that our society is having today." 4. Kristin Mendez '13 talks in her Introduction to Ethics class. She said, "it was such a fun class, because there was no right or wrong answer, so that made for pretty crazy discussions." 5. Rebecca Wagman '13 listens intently to class discussion.

Nunez '13

photo Maggie Shoemaker '12

photo by Sara Nunez '13

photo by Maggie Shoemaker '12

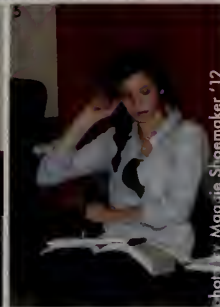

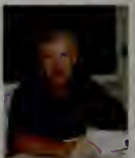

photo by Maggie Shoemaker '12

photo by Sara Nunez

Mr. Hausiaux

Mr. Hodgson

double check

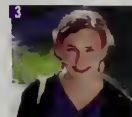

Michelle Ma '11,¹ Hector Kilgus '11, and² Elizabeth Goldsmith '11 run through their checklists for Rel/Phil.

- ☐ A thick notebook
- ☐ Coffee
- ☐ Patience
- ☐ Happy pills
- ☐ Yoga experience

- ☐ Last night's reading
- ☐ No B.S.
- ☐ Open-mindedness
- ☐ A detailed agenda
- ☐ A book of jokes

- ☐ Diet Coke
- ☐ Quotes from the Matrix
- ☐ Questions
- ☐ A clear head
- ☐ Sincerity

photo by Maggie Shoemaker '12

photo by Maggie Shoemaker '12

photo by Maggie Shoemaker '12

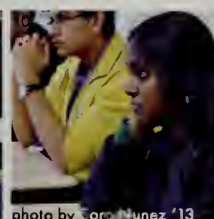

photo by Sara Nunez '13

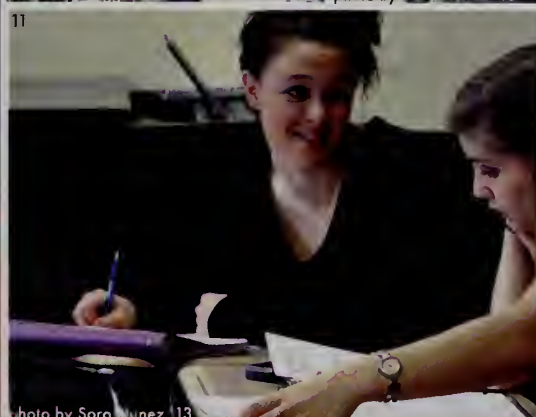

photo by Sara Nunez '13

6. Commy Brandfield-Harvey '11, Lorenzo Conte, Rachel Abbott '12, Sarah Schuchardt, and Patrick Brady '11 sit in Dr. Moore's Global Islam class. Pat said, "we strove throughout the class to gain a more comprehensive understanding of the diverse interpretations of Islam in the world. During one class, Dr. Moore set up a public "forum" on the issue of the NYC Islamic Cultural Center. Four people at a time debated the topic, two in support of the project and two against it. I couldn't help but imagine our debate as one of the most civilized, informed, and insightful conversations on the topic happening in America! It was a class period of Andover that I will remember for a long time." 7. Chris Teng and Aidan Beckley '13 sit attentively in class. 8. Amanda Simard '13 listens intently as Sahil Bhoiwala '13 makes a point during a class discussion. They both took Ethics with Mr. Legospi. Sahil said, "it's easily the most interesting class I've ever taken. We've learned a lot about morality in general and all the questions surrounding it. The discussions are always productive and entertaining and they've led me to read much more insightful, deep books. My mom's pretty happy." 9. Rebecca Wayman '13, Louro Lee '11, and Lauren Kim '13 engage in a class discussion. 10. Haritha Pula '11 listens during her relphil class. She took Global Islam. Haritha said, "it explored the different facets of Islam through media, politics, people and literature in both a compelling and unique way. Dr. Moore was the greatest." 11. Katie Fanikos talks to Melina Prentokis '11 to discuss a worksheet in class. Melina said "I took Views on Human Nature with Dr. Moore. I'd say our core focus in one whether humans are innately good or evil, but we've also talked about why poverty exists and other topics. It's been really interesting, especially since I'm taking psychology at the same time, to try and decipher why people do what they do."

Housiaux's Highlights

"My classes are certainly the highlight of my day here. With my students, we raise fundamental human questions: what are my responsibilities (if any) to others? What is the best way to live my life? And, of course, one of the most fundamental ones: am I in the cave? In between classes, I'll enjoy lunch with my colleagues, eating too much pizza and not enough vegetables. In sum: I am very lucky!"

- Mr. Housiaux

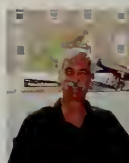

Mr. Lesgospi

Ms. Moore

Dr. Jackson

Mr. Koalen

Mr. Lotva-Kokko

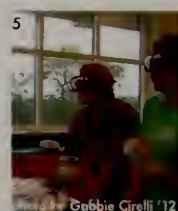

Mr. Robinson

Ms. Russell

Dr. Wott

Gabbie Cirelli '12

photo by Evan Eads '12

photo by Roy Thomtheng '12

photo by Evan Eads '12

photo by Marie Liu '12

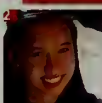

1. Gabriel Cordero '12 answers a class question on the board. Gabo could never be found daydreaming in Chem 550. He said, "When you are in Chemistry class you can't fall asleep, because Chemistry is better than your dreams."
2. Allan You '11 listens intently to a Physics lecture. Allan stayed engaged in Physics discussions because his teacher used jokes to keep him the rest of the class attentive. "Clyfe's lectures were fun and engaging. He incorporated the whole class into the discussion and helped everyone understand the concepts to the fullest," recounted Allan.
3. Tafarii McKenzie '12 attended a Chem Super-Double. The Super-Double allowed her to focus and understand the difficult topics they covered. She said, "When Mr. Rogers lectured, I always went into a 'Chemistry Trance'. It was as though I was pulled out of the normal world and put into a Chemical world."
4. Diana Tchadi '14 takes notes in Bio 100. She and her fellow classmates helped each other and enjoyed studying together. "I loved the various experiments we did and having two good friends in my class with me!" Diana said.
5. Naah Le Gras and Chris Nanda '12 experiment in lab. They enjoyed labs and their hands-on approach to science. "We really enjoyed labs. They were a nice change of pace from class lectures but were just as informative," they said.
6. Jonathan Sze and Michael Kim '12 do a titration lab. "It's hard to find the perfect balance between NaOH and HCl," Jan commented.
7. Vita Lampietti '12 takes notes during class. Her teacher was very helpful in explaining the confusing ideas of Physics. She said, "Ms. Odden was a great teacher; she had the best sense of humor and was so good at explaining things!"
8. Jason Canavan '14 takes notes during Mr. Koalen's Bio 100 class. Mr. Koalen is one of Jason's favorite teachers. "At the end of every class, whether we did our work or not, he will always have an original joke that he thinks is funny, but no one laughs at," he said.
9. Emre Anamur '12 enjoys Mr. Mundra's Bio class. He enjoyed all the different aspects of the class. "I thought the labs were a lot of fun, but still very relevant to the material," said Emre.
10. Cherita Moore '12, Esther Muradov '11, Shelby Carpenter '12, and Adrian Stane '12 listen to a Physics lecture. They all struggled with the difficulties of Physics. "Friction problems gave me problems," Cherita remembered.
11. Mr. Mundra gives a Bio lecture to his 3rd period S40 class. Each day, he has a routine. He loves to ask the question: "Double Rainbow - what does it mean?"
12. Alex Smith '12 does a Bio S40 lab. He was attempting to find the rate of denaturation of a certain enzyme in terms of pH and temperature. Alex said, "The lab was tons of fun, intellectually stimulating, and I had a blast working with my partner."
13. Hannah Finnie '11 helps with a Physics demonstration. Her teacher wanted to show the class how inertia works with a hammer, some books, and his head! "When I hit the nail, my teacher said that he didn't feel anything - it's a good thing I didn't miss!" recounted Hannah.
14. Jonathan Leung '11 enjoys a chemistry class. He thought that labs made the Super-Double fly by. He said, "My favorite part of Chem 550 was getting to do all the fun and interesting labs."
15. Mr. Rogers does a demonstration for his Chemistry Class.
16. Tina Su '11 listens to a Physics lecture. She loved physics class because her teacher brought candy and homemade treats to class. She said, "Clyfe also loves to put smiley faces and jokes on our grisly tests, sometimes as extra credit questions - they definitely cheer me up while I'm struggling over the problems. My favorite one was - What do you call seagulls when they fly over the bay? Answer: Bagels!"

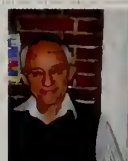

photo by Taylar Chin '14

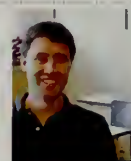

Christa Choy '12, Amanda Chatupron '13, and Hayley Choi '12 run through their checklists for their Science classes.

- | | | |
|--|---|--|
| extra pencils <input type="checkbox"/> | chem book <input type="checkbox"/> | binder <input type="checkbox"/> |
| eraser <input type="checkbox"/> | calculator <input type="checkbox"/> | homework <input type="checkbox"/> |
| calculator <input type="checkbox"/> | lab book <input type="checkbox"/> | calculator <input type="checkbox"/> |
| sticky notes for questions! <input type="checkbox"/> | natebook <input type="checkbox"/> | lab natebook <input type="checkbox"/> |
| natebook <input type="checkbox"/> | pen and pencil <input type="checkbox"/> | bio text book <input type="checkbox"/> |

Mr. Alivossiti

Dr. Cernoto

Mr. Cone

Mr. Crow

Mr. Foulk

Dr. Hogler

Dr. Israel

Ms. Mock

Dr. Marshall

Ms. Milkowski

photo by Maggie Stearns '14

photo by Taylor Chin '14

photo by Morie Liu '12

photo by Morie Liu '12

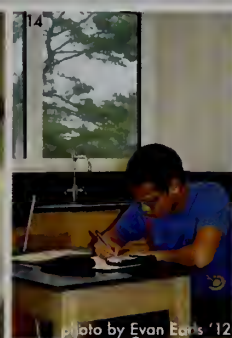

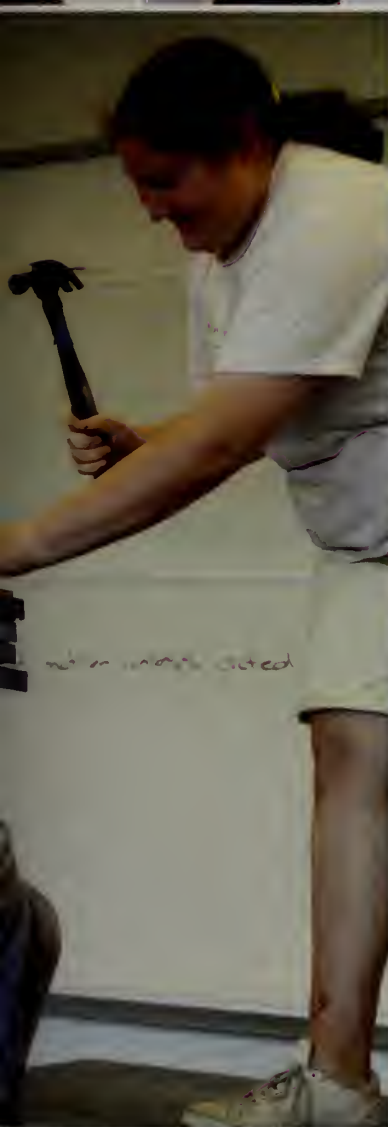

photo by Evan Eads '12

photo by Evan Eads '12

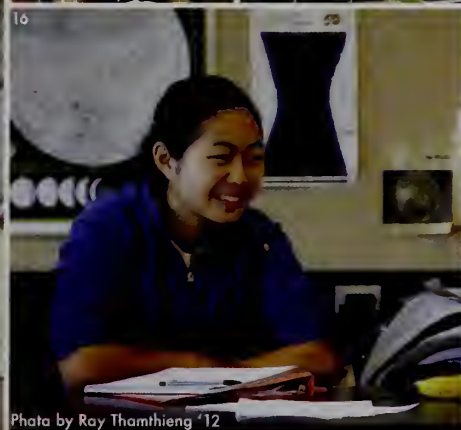

Photo by Ray Thamthieng '12

Three Floors

2 I like Chemistry 300 because class is funny. According to Mr. Robinson, 'Carbon is like chicken in Commons. Add some Hydrogen and you get Chicken Stir Fry. Add some Oxygen and you get Chicken Cordon Bleu, but no matter where you go in Commons, you will find chicken.' - Cloire Corroll '14

2 I chose to take Physics because I wanted to try one of the other sciences after Biology and Chemistry. I've always planned on taking it at some point and it fit right into my progression of PA. It feels like a math class with pictures so far, which makes it much easier and a little more fun than just a normal math course. My teacher, Dr. Wott, makes hilarious jokes and noises to keep the class entertained as we do problem after problem in our notebooks. - Kholil Flemming '12

3 I am taking Bio 560 because I loved Bio 100 - unfortunately, the jump from 100 to 560 is a very large and rather painful one. Ms. Russell is a great teacher, and although she assured us that despite the not-so-great grades on the first test we were all capable of succeeding in the class, I sometimes suspect she overlooked one case - me. Hopefully not. - Ceylon Augustine-Nelson '12

Science

chemistry psychology physics biology

Mrs. Oden

Ms. Pryde

Mr. Rogers

Dr. Stern

Mr. Tanner

Ms. Yao

Mr. Beckwith

Mr. Cardozo

Ms. Francis

Mr. Holley

photo by Sara Nunez '13

photo by Kristin Mendez '12

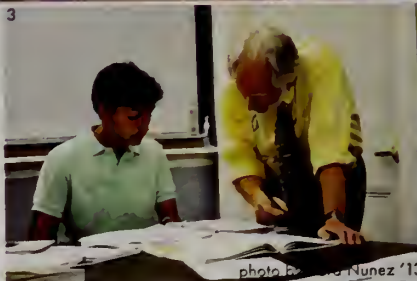

photo by Sara Nunez '13

photo by Audrey McMurtrie '11

side by side

1 Mariana Budge '12 and 2 Julia Torabi '12 sit next to each other in History 300.

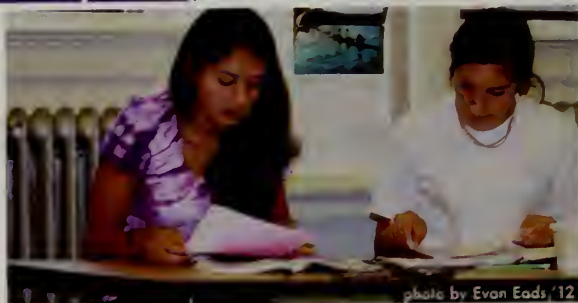

photo by Evan Eads '12

History 300 is a really difficult class, but Mrs. Elliot always finds a way to make it interesting and exciting. It's also great having a class with my best friend, Julio - we make a great team during discussions!

One time we were studying for a history test and Moriana kept faoling around and she didn't even prepare the essay prompts. I did, and of course she scored eight points higher than me.

1. Diandra Peck '13 looks over her notes. Every morning, she makes sure to prepare before her first period history class. Peck said, "I'm always half-asleep, so I try to wake up and refresh myself with the material."
2. Jon Song '13 laughs while working on a group assignment. Jon loves History 200 with Ms. Paulson. He said, "After I came to her class, I just noticed how fun history can be."
3. Alex Demeulenoere '13 looks over the rough draft of his essay. Mr. Henningsen is helping him revise his work. Alex said, "My teacher is very engaging and committed to teaching us how to think and write in an analytical and historical fashion."
4. Matt Fothergill '11, Chelsea Ward '12, and Peter Lee-Kramer '11 listen attentively in their History of Disease class. Peter feels the class is made more engaging by having two teachers, one each from the History and Science Departments. He said, "It's great to get the perspective of teachers from two different areas of study; we learn a lot more."
5. Allison Rath and Laura Ippolito '14 sit next to each other in History 100. Allison keeps herself entertained in class because she really likes her other classmates. She said, "We always have fun in history class with Cooper's or Ji Toe's funny comments to get us off-topic."
6. Uday Singh '12 ponders the questions his teacher has posed. He tries to recall the points made in the Monroe Doctrine. Uday said, "She wants us to know what happened in 1823, yet I don't even remember what I ate for breakfast."
7. Matt Lloyd-Thomas '12 grapples with the information presented, while Jaewon Suh '12 looks on. Matt is happy to have Mrs. Elliot as a teacher this year. Matt said, "Whether discussing colonialism or Andrew Jackson, she is always engaging; her enthusiasm makes History 300 quite exciting."
8. Myles O'Neil '12 listens in class, eager to learn. He loves Mr. Rotundo's unconventional teaching methods. Myles said, "One day, he brought a children's book to class, and we had story time; it was awesome."

Mr. Phoneuf

Mr. Perry

Ms. Paulson

Mr. Henningson

Ms. Frey

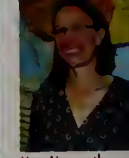

Mr. Tipton

Mr. Drench

Dr. Dalton

Mrs. Ainsworth

Here & Now

Evolution of History

"We have globalized our field of vision by requiring world history and Atlantic Rim courses, and even consciously seeking ways to embed our teaching of United States history in a wider, global context. We now spend as much time thinking about skill development as we do on working with content. Personally, while I am interested in everything our department offers, I love area studies, and the revolution in technology that allows instantaneous connections almost anywhere in the world."
- Mr. Drench

History

photo by: Marie Liu '11

my story

History 100 is a fairly difficult class but my teacher, Mr. Phaneuf, hides how hard it is by making us move around a lot and reenact historical events. By making the class interactive, the information we are learning seems to be less difficult to learn. - Trovis Bouscoren '14

Mr. Henningson (I've been in his class for Founding Fathers and History 100) is one of the best teachers I have ever had. I feel intellectual just being in his presence.
- Kristen Faulkner '11

History has always been one of my favorite subjects but this year I have Mr. Jones and he just makes it that much more interesting because he's so smart and enthusiastic and he always makes little jokes. At first the jokes were really awkward because my class was too intimidated to laugh, but now everybody laughs because they're really funny.
- Sammy Marrus '12

Despite the stigma around History 300, if you are engaged, the work is no more demanding than any other course and to some bizarre ones like myself, enjoyable. I loved going to class everyday, and now that I am taking history electives as a senior, I appreciate 300 all the more. - Kerry Lanzo '11

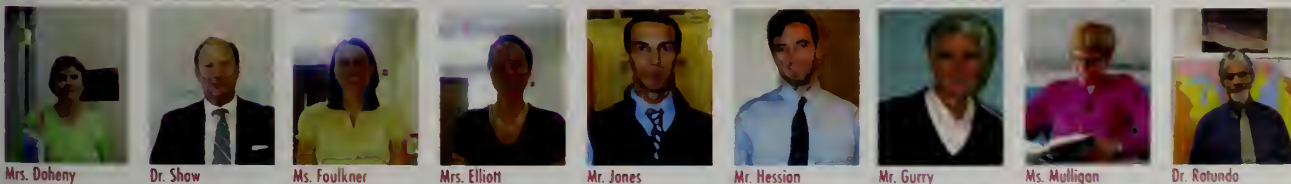

photo by: Evan Eads '12

photo by: Kay Tran '11

photo by: Evan Eads '12

Mrs. Doheny

Dr. Shaw

Ms. Faulkner

Mrs. Elliott

Mr. Jones

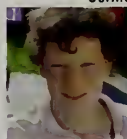

Mr. Hession

Mr. Gurry

Ms. Mulligan

Dr. Rotundo

1 Christoph Von Braun '12, 2 Julia Kichorowsky '13 and 3 Jessica Gomon '14 go through their checklists for German, Russian and Chinese class double check

- Graphing Calculator (It's right after Math) ☐
- 'Faber-Castell' 1.9mm pencil ☐
- Yellow sheet of German endings ☐
- 1 pair of shoes ☐
- Brain ☐

- Leave your pride at the door ☐
- Neon pens ☐
- Scribbles resembling notes ☐
- Extra strength Tylenol ☐
- Your confused face ☐

- Mechanical pencil ☐
- Eraser ☐
- Textbook ☐
- Lined paper ☐
- Dictionary ☐

photo by Evan ... '11

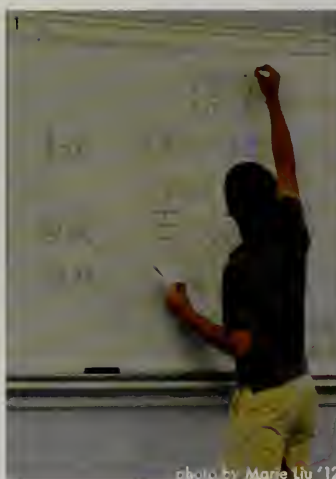

photo by Marie Liu '12

photo by Tahera Dagher '13

photo by Evan ... '12

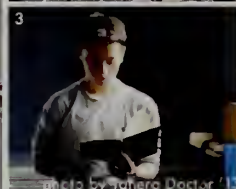

photo by Tahera Dagher '13

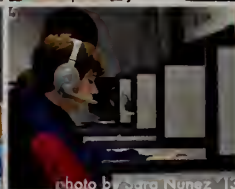

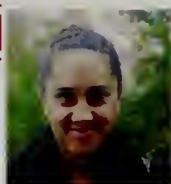

photo by Evan ... '12

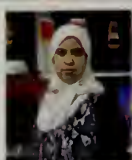

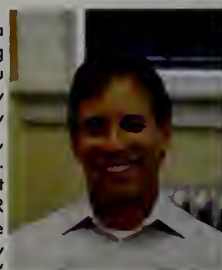

Morgan Askew '11

Upper Year Abroad

People began asking me, the moment I arrived back on campus, if I was fluent in Spanish after my year at SYA Spain. I said no, but only so they wouldn't test my knowledge of random vocabulary. They wondered if my experience compared with that of all the others who had returned from SYA; "Was it the best year of your life?" I smiled and said, "Yes." Living in another country, and in another language offers a different kind of assessment from what PA kids are used to; instead of proving to a piece of paper that you've learned this term's vocabulary, you must prove to the impatient, lisping natives that you speak (and move your hands simultaneously) like one of them.

spotlight on Dr. Neissa

The truth is that you need a sense of humor to learn a language and to teach a language. It can be very humbling when you make a mistake, especially if you don't know you have made a mistake. For example, if someone wants to say "I'm so embarrassed" in Spanish, they naturally say, "Estoy muy embarazada." However, what they are really saying is, "I am so pregnant." It happens in class at least once a year. On my second Division Meeting I had prepared a PowerPoint and I had meant to write a subheading that stated: PEER TUTORS. Unfortunately I wrote Pee Tutors. When the entire Division laughed and saw what was written, I just put my hands up and said, "stuff happens."

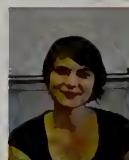

Ms. Bourate

Ms. Corter

Mr. Dominique Moreno

Ms. Alekseeva

Ms. Allen

Ms. Asher

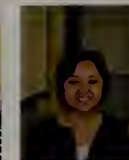

Mr. Cutler

Mr. Kirp

Ms. Shimozu

Ms. Ma

Ms. Meyer

Mr. Odjo

Mr. Poland

Mr. Pattle

Ms. Pounier

Mr. Walker

Mr. Yan

LANGUAGES

Chinese. Spanish. French. Arabic.
Japanese. Latin. Greek. Russian.
German.

photo by Haley Scott '11

photo by Evan Fede '12

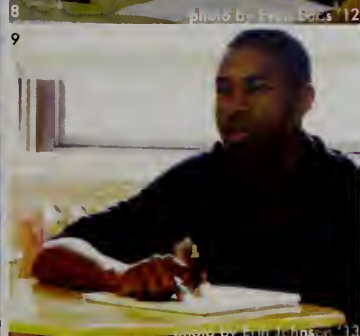

photo by Evan Fede '12

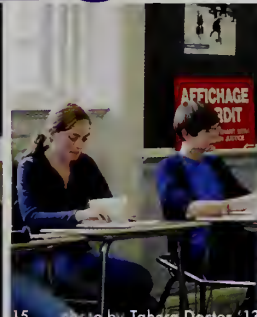

photo by Tahera Doctor '13

photo by Evan Fede '12

1. Yuta Watanabe '11 writes a sentence in Chinese class on the whiteboard. He knew coming in as a junior fluent in Japanese that he did not want to learn a western language, as he was fascinated by the fact that each Chinese character has its own meaning. "Since I know Japanese, I am interested in the similarities and differences in both the vocabulary and grammatical structures," he said. 2. Georgia Pelletier '11 smiles during French class. Being in S20 has sometimes been daunting as her teacher speaks quickly and fluidly. She said, "I felt like I was the only one who didn't catch a word; no one told me that S20 means we are suddenly fluent - apparently, we are..." 3. Ben Croen '13 reads to the class from his Latin textbook. Ben loves the camaraderie in his Latin class. He said, "I'll definitely remember meeting before class to discuss the topics and hurriedly review for the upcoming quizzes that really brought us together as a class." 4. Fay Feghali '12 laughs during a discussion in French class. She loves having Dr. Odjo and believes his teaching methods are hysterical. "He lets us shout fake insults at each other in French, and somehow my speaking ability has improved," she said. 5. James Heaney '14 works intently in the Language Learning Center. 6. Oscar Chim '13 makes a point enthusiastically while helping students in French class. He particularly likes the conversational aspect of class. He said, "we often debate in class and although it sometimes gets very competitive it ends up being a lot of fun." 7. Kian Ivey '12, Franziska Hoffmann, and Corey Angers '11 listen intently in Arabic class. For all of them, it is their first Arabic class. Kian said, "our teacher, Mrs. Bourate, incorporates lots of songs with the words that we're learning, which gives the class a relaxed atmosphere with no lack of learning." 8. John Perkins and Paul Toriano '13 take notes in their Spanish class. 9. Theo Agbi '13 carefully pays attention during his Spanish class. He has Dr. Moier, and really enjoys his class. He said, "Dr. Moier finds new and innovative ways to drill the material into our heads like a screw into a wall." 10. Lane Lytle, Miguel Montana '11, and Felicia Jio '12 pay attention to Mme Gollou during French class. Miguel considers his language class to be one of the highlights of his day. "French is always something to look forward to, not only because of the awesome crepes, but also because we learn so much while having a ton of fun," he said. 11. Andrew Schlager '12 exclaims excitedly during Arabic class. He's had a hard time learning certain things in Arabic, especially the letter "ayn." "This letter has consistently kept my roommate up at night as I sit by my computer practicing it, this letter has sent me to Ishom seeking cough drop upon cough drop, and this letter has bruised my throat like a strain of streptococcus. Some might call the letter 'ayn' my nemesis, indeed it is the Lex Luther to my Superman, but I shall defeat it, even if I lose a vocal chord or two in doing so," he said. 12. Nikita Lomba '11 speaks to Madame Gollou, her French teacher. Nikita always enjoys her class, getting help whenever she needs it. When asked what the best part of French S20 is, however, Nikita asserts that it is "Auggie Horner. He is the only freshman in our class but probably one of the better French students." 13. Susanna Rademacher and Amanda Simard '13 work together during their Spanish class. Susanna and Amanda take Spanish 200 together. Susanna said, "My favorite memory of the class was the time I asked my friend what an 'ordilla' was and she acted out a squirrel. My teacher saw her and asked her to do the embarrassing interpretation in front of the whole class." 14. Rome Arnold '14 and Michael Dos '13 go over the worksheet together during Spanish class. Rome loves Spanish 200 here and Andover said, "Over the course of the term, I've learned far more Spanish than I would learn in an entire year in my old school." 15. Steven Kosovac and Meghan Collins '11 study their notes during French class. Steven says, "I love French because it is the only class where I've gotten the chance to make crepes!" 16. Sarah Harris '13 and Bridget Higgins '14 discuss their German homework. In class, German students work with different partners everyday. Sarah says, "this is my first year learning German. Mr. Svec makes it a lot easier - she's very practical with explaining things, often getting someone in the class to talk it out with her - between props and hand movements, we get the meaning eventually."

photo by Tahera Doctor '13

photo by Haley Scott '11

photo by Erin Johnson '13

photo by Kristen Mendez '13

photo by Tahera Doctor '13

Mr. Merrill

Mr. Neissa

Ms. Schorr

Mr. Shen

Mrs. Svec

Mr. Svec

Ms. Gallou

Ms. Isaza Bishop

Mr. Lane

Mr. Maier

1 Not Sohn '11, 2 Kristino Rex '11, and 3 William Young '14 run through their checklists for English 300.

English book ☐ pencil ☐
notebook ☐ my essay that's due that day ☐
coffee ☐

gum (unless I'm in Ms. Curri's class, in which case it is outlawed on the account of students looking like cows chewing card) ☐ colored pencils ☐ my car (I have a class at Graves the next period) ☐

a pen ☐ my binder ☐ my thinking cap ☐
my boyish charm: '14 ☐
laaseleaf ☐

double check

2

English

photo by Grace Hoyt '11

1 Justin Appleby, 2 Mike Boyle and 3 Justin Stachtariar '13 sit next to each in English class.

sidebyside

1 "Our class is hilarious. Mr. Pfeffer spent half of our first double talking about why we should never feed monkeys in Singapore."

2 Mike Boyle '13 reads Cherry aloud to his classmates. He refuses to comment.

3 Mr. Pfeffer is the funniest and most laid-back teacher at Phillips. It's impossible not to have a good time in his class."

3

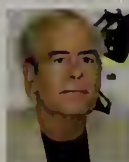

photo by Grace Hoyt '11

Ms. Tousignont

Ms. Long

Mr. O'Connor

Ms. Achtmeyer

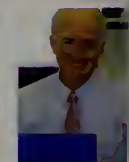

Mrs. Fulton

Mrs. Scott

Mrs. Griffith

Mr. Wilkin

2011//1980

Mr Tortorella reminisces about his time at PA

Mr. Tortorella, Andover class of 1980, knows the life of an Andover student. He loved his time here, when he played goalie for Varsity Hockey and found his calling in the English department. He is often reminded of his four years here; he said, "Every once in a while, if the sun shines just so, and the wind blows just so, and the snow falls just so, I feel seventeen again on my way to Commons, hopeful to see Mary there."

photo by Evan Eads '12

photo by Evan Eads '12

photo by Erin Johnson '13

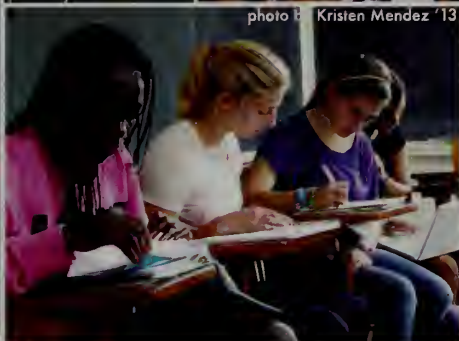

photo by Kristen Mendez '13

photo by Sammy Morris '12

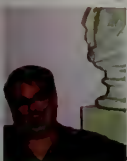

photo by Evan Eads '12

photo by Kristen Mendez '13

1. Yura Arai '14 reads poetry to start off the class. Yura thought English 100 was going to be a boring class that would be tough to stay awake through. Yura said, "However, class is entertaining because our teacher is very supportive academically but still very humorous. I think it's the class where I laugh the most."
2. Mr. Pfeffer teaches his attentive class.
3. Jeannine Anderson '11 listens attentively to class discussion. Jeannine is taking the senior English elective entitled Modernism. She said, "Ms. Tausignant is not only a good teacher, but also a great person."
4. Rolanda Banachea '13 gets help from Mrs. Scott. With her help, Rolanda is able to learn all the material and improve his writing. Rolanda said, "Class discussions are always interesting and I am usually able to pick out a lot of writing advice from the readings that we do. If I ever need help with writing assignments, Mrs. Scott is always there to help me with my papers, and every paper improves from the last one."
5. Bulfinch, the oldest building on campus, hosts all of Andover's English classes.
6. Paul Noh and Caroline Von Klemper '12 sit in English class together. Paul looks forward to English with Ms. Tausignant every day. He said, "She's an amazing teacher and every time I step into the room, I know that I'm in for another intense discussion."
7. Mr. Bardo's English 100 students discuss last night's reading. Emma Mehlman '14 thinks the class discussions are great. Emma said, "We read a poem every class and have new vocab words every day. Mr. Bardo does a really good job of keeping the class fun and there is never a boring moment in the class."
8. Angela Bature, Piper Curtis, and Devan Burger '13 enjoy Mrs. Scott's English 200 class. Mrs. Scott picks out different short stories that her students think are entertaining and interesting. Devan said, "Ms. Scott makes every class so lively with her spirit and enthusiasm, and I look forward to class every day."
9. Matt Loyd Thomas and Thea Raymond-Sidel '12 look at the Phillipian before class begins. Matt loves Mr. Manshel's class. He said, "We always have really stimulating discussions about the books; we read The Great Gatsby and I thought it was phenomenal!"
10. Mr. Robinson reviews Renat Zalav's '11 poem with him. Renat enjoyed the class dynamic Mr. Robinson set. "I enjoy writing creatively and our class had a great dynamic. It was very interesting learning a little about everyone in class through their poems," he said.
11. Aiganym Zhumashova '13 thinks deeply about her poem. English is one of Aiganym's favorite classes. She said, "In English we respect each others opinions while at the same time trying to challenge them."

Mr. Bird

Ms. Cynn

Mr. Damino

Mr. Fox

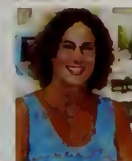

Mr. Manshel

Mr. Nymwayo

Mr. Tortorella

Ms. Vidal

not photographed:
Mr. Bernierie

Music

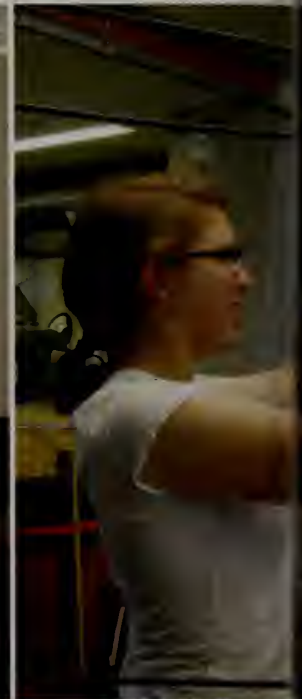

photo by Gobbie Cirelli '12

photo by Maggie Shoemaker '12

photo by Jakob Rohwer '11

1. Students work in the music library at Graves. Here, music students complete their own compositions for classes.
2. Jonathan Arane and Jackie Kim '14 sit next to each other in music class. Jonathan said "I've always played and listened to music, but now I understand what makes it work."
3. Makenzie Schwartz '14 followed along with the class as they used their textbooks during music class.
4. Jakob Rohwer and Shannon McSweeney '11 work together at the piano. "Students play piano in many classes," Shannon said, "Going into the year knowing that I had to take my music requirement made me nervous because I knew absolutely nothing about it. But our class was a bunch of really cool seniors and one upper so we had a lot of fun with it."
5. Charles Manuel '14 works in the Graves computer lab. "Music 235 was legit!" he said about his music class.
6. Andrea Vargas '13 and Junius Williams '14 pay attention in class. Junius thought their teacher, Mr. Walters, was great. He said "Music 235 not only provided me with the opportunity to further music my understanding and appreciation of music theory, but gave me a chance to use Sibelius to write, edit and compose music. The skills which I learned in Music 235 will help to further my music career at Andover."

photo by Maggie Shoemaker '12

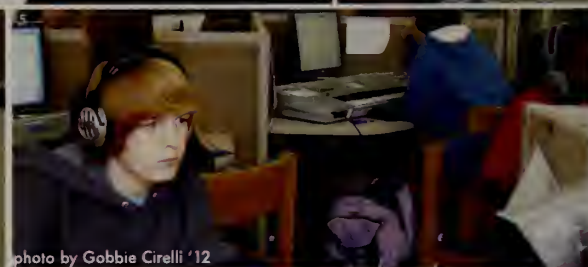

photo by Gobbie Cirelli '12

photo by Maggie Shoemaker '12

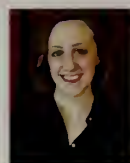

Ms. Barnes

Mr. Cirelli

Mr. Jacoby

Ms. Londoli

Mr. Lorenzo

Mr. Monoco

Mr. Oswald

Mr. Walters

photo by Erin Johnson '13

photo by Jess Holley '11

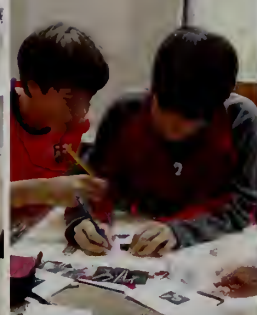

photo by Gabbie Cirelli '12

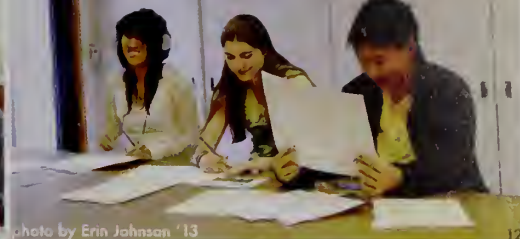

photo by Erin Johnson '13

photo by Jess Holley '11

photo by Erin Johnson '13

photo by Chiara Baravalle '11

7. Givens Porr and Daniela Pimentel '11 work on a project together. They both took Art 500. Givens said "I love art as an opportunity to create and examine beauty. Or to highlight a truth and force people to confront it visually. Creative thinking occupies a part of my brain that all too often doesn't get exercise."

8. Joke Howell '14 works on a project in his Art 225 class.

9. Samantha Gray '11 works on her art project in Benner House. She took Ceramics with Mr. Zoeder. Sommy said "It was a really fun class, and clay is super fun to play with!"

10. Thomas Bakken and James Robertson '14 work together on an art project. They both took Art 225 A. Thomas said "Art is expressive, without the headache of an essay."

11. James Hunter '13 took ceramics full term. He enjoyed working on his project at night with his other classmates. He said "My favorite part of Ceramics was going to Benner House late at night with other people from the class, and singing to the top of our lungs while listening to the radio, as we were in a self proclaimed no-judge zone."

12. Molly Mognell, Ali Decker, and David He '14 work on projects in Ms. Veenema's Art 225 class. Molly enjoyed her experience in the class and has many memories. "My class was really close and we joked around a lot with each other's pieces," she said.

13. Coilin Kingston '11 works on the Art 500 project.

Art

why art?

I took art with Mr. Zoeder and I like him a lot! He gave really good advice and we had a lot of fun making wire sculptures. - Ayako Schmozoki '13

I love my photo class. When I get behind the lens, for that one moment I escape all the pressure and worries of school and just get to focus on the beauty of landscape and nature. - Alex Kiss-Rusk '12

At first I thought a picture was just an image of a particular object. But Art 250 has changed that and allowed me to see that the different mediums of visual photography inspire different meanings. Now, a picture is much more than just an image: it is a moment captured in time that conveys the feelings and emotions of the photographer. - Tommy Kromer '11

Upper Year, I took the 3-term AP Music Theory and Composition sequence with Mr. Jacoby. It was fantastic, and by the end of the year, our class had become really close. We had bonded over collectively crashing and burning on our first 'sight singing test,' but by the end of the year we were pros. We got all dressed up once and went on a field trip to the Boston Symphony to hear a Beethoven piece we had analyzed note by note that term. At the end of the year, we each did an independent composition project. People wrote everything from pop songs to concertos to string quartets to jazz music. It was awesome because I never thought I'd be able to come up with a five minute flute-piano-cello trio from scratch but somehow we all survived. - Sophie Gould '11

I think one of the things I will miss most about the music program is the adrenaline before concerts in the Chapel and in Timken, when you are waiting off stage with your fellow musicians, sometimes slightly nervous, but always excited to get out there and show the audience what you can do together, hoping that the music will be like a gift to them to brighten their day. - Stephanie Liu '11

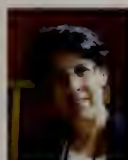

why music?

Ms. Bauer

Ms. Bayajjian

Ms. Crivelli

Ms. Harrigan

Ms. Trespas

Ms. Venema

Mr. Zoeder

Ms. Zemlin

2012 girls discuss their theatre experience

"Improv is like cluster soccer. No matter how many slip ups, bruised egos or torn ACL's, there's always another idiot willing to share the spotlight."
- Mirondo Hoymand '12

"I did my first promo job freshman fall, and I've been in love ever since. I've met so many really interesting people I never would have met otherwise."
- Eliono Kwortler '12

"I took intro to acting this year and loved it! It was such a fun class that I decided to direct a promo job and act in another one."
- Ariono Brenner '12

"Theater 520 is a blast. It's the first production I've been in at Andover, and I've really loved being involved in it. It has its laid back moments but often it's a super intense process. I'm so excited for the show to go up."
- Noro Princioti '12

photo by Ann Doherty '11

1. Charlie Danner, Alex Weiss, and Christie Whalen '11 read scripts in Mr. Heelan's theatre class. All three seniors have had plenty of theatre experience at PA. Still, Christie said, "Mr. Heelan is an amazing teacher; it was one of the most entertaining classes I've had." 2. Sarah Vinchesi '13, Abigail Chung '13, and Kayla Rosario '11 observe Mr. Murray's demonstration. The costuming class started with small projects and worked towards learning to make dresses. Kayla said, "It was an amazing and very rewarding experience, as we were able to see the costumes we had worked so hard on used in a show." 3. Nikita Singareddy '13 performs lines for her peers in her Intro to Directing class. For Nikita, the most memorable part of the class was discussing a nonsensical play that Mr. Efinger wrote. "It really taught me the importance of each and every line in a play," she said. 4. Elaine Sahng '13 acts out the way she believes a scene should be played in Mr. Efinger's Intro to Theatre class. Elaine enjoyed the class because it was small and there was always a laid-back atmosphere. "We get to work with the funniest scripts and people," she said. 5. Pat Walber '11 reads aloud in his Playwriting class. He took two classes taught by Mr. Heelan simultaneously, and praises his teacher's incredible talent. "Sometimes I died laughing, and he made fun of me for laughing, which made me laugh more, then he'd give me a hug; it was great," he said.

photo by Evan Eads '12

photo by Evan Eads '12

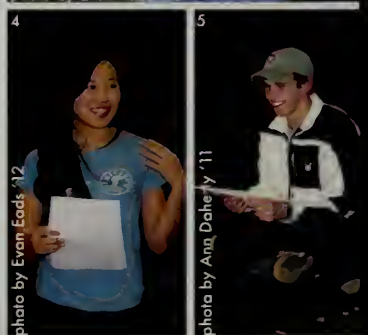

photo by Evan Eads '12

photo by Ann Doherty '11

Why Gym?

"I've never seen so many big kids cry ... over heights."
- Curtis Frye '13

"If someone had told me before I came to PA that I would climb to the top of the gym, conquer my fear of heights, balance across a pipe, and fall down to the ground, I would have laughed. Well, I'm not laughing now, but gym pushed me out of my comfort zone and helped me improve myself."
- Greg Zhang '12

"I found myself in gym class. It was where I discovered my deepest darkest secret; I am super flexible."
- Yuni Sumowijoyo '12

Not photographed: Mr. Heelan
Mr. Efinger
Mr. Murroy
Ms. Strang
Ms. Wombwell

6. Students in Coach Kennedy's gym class climb to the top of the net as part of their ropes course requirement. For Natalie Kim '14, the most rewarding lesson of the class was learning to take care of one's health by understanding sleep cycles and sports training. However, "the most enjoyable aspect was the pipe walk from the ropes course," she said. 7. Seamus O'Neill and Curtis Frye '13 observe their friends at the rock climbing wall as they exercise on the bikes. Like many other students, Curtis felt that the most memorable part of his physical education class was the ropes course. 8. Nothaniel Burbine makes his way up the rock climbing wall in the fitness center during Ms. Fentan's gym class. Nothaniel found it very beneficial to learn about nutrition during the course. "I appreciate this most because it will be useful for the rest of my life," he said. 10. Meaghan Haugh '13 spins in the fitness center after having completed the rock climbing wall. To her, the best parts of gym class were the people and the ropes course. "My gym class had a great group of people and we had lots of fun," she said.

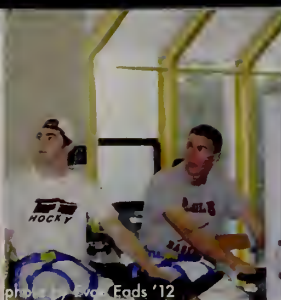

photo by Evon Eads '12

photo by Tatiara Docter '13

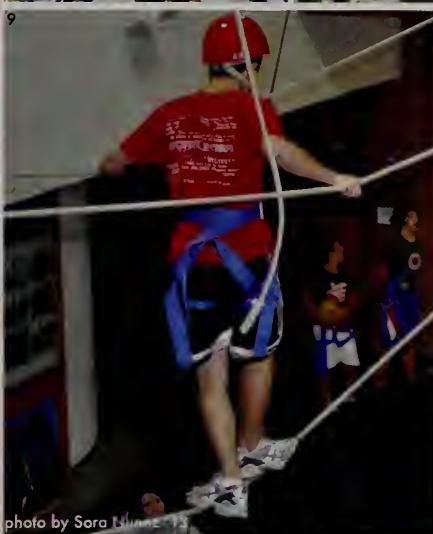

photo by Sora Tilius '13

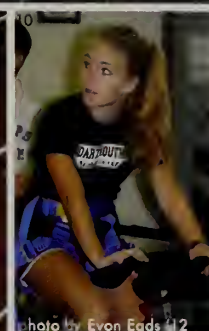

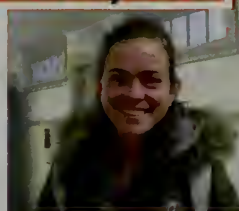

photo by Evon Eads '12

Gym

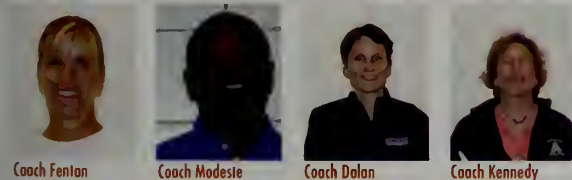

side by side

Sisters ¹¹Olivia and ¹²Julia Lord '13 are both in Coach Cox's second period gym class.

The climbing wall, the cargo net, and the tight rope were great for bonding with my sister because we got to shout words of encouragement and congratulate each other when we finished.

It was great having her there for some of the ropes course activities so that I could see if she freaked out before I went. Just kidding...

Not photographed: Ms. Birecki
Mr. Kuto
Mr. Cox

I started studying Chinese in middle school, and instantly fell in love with the language. Not only are the characters beautiful, but also I learned how fascinating Chinese culture truly is. One of my greatest difficulties, however, with the language are the tones used in speech. I constantly mix them up, and that can change the meaning of my sentences entirely - a occurrence which can be the cause of much embarrassment at times!

I'm a proud member of Bishop, located in West Quad North! I absolutely love Bishop because of the variety of guys living there, ranging from new lowers to Post Grads. I've become incredibly close with most of the guys there, all different age groups, and we've had a blast so far this year. One of my particularly favorite moments was watching the Superbowl with everyone. About 25 guys were there, crowded around the TV, eating chicken wings and sub sandwiches, laughing and cheering. Everyone was able to bond over something: whether it was the team they were rooting for or the hilarious commercials. We all had a great time that night.

I knew I wanted to buy an all-out bunny costume as soon as I found out I would be hosting the Year of the Rabbit's Chinese New Year celebration. I remembered the previous year's celebration, and how amazing it was, and wanting to make mine even better! That night, I went online to purchase a costume, and was pleasantly surprised to find a nice looking one quite easily. With so many skits centered around it, I would say it was a pretty big hit, and a great way to bring in the new year.

Topher Hedely

Upper

Chinese Student

Robert Hall & Associates

what do you love about PKN?

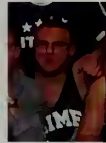

"I love Pine Knoll! The spirit and cluster pride make it an amazing place to live and be a part of." - Casey Durant '14

"I love the cluster munches in PKN. They are so much fun, because Ms. Murata always knows the food my friends and I want to eat. I think she may be psychic." - Jon Westling '12

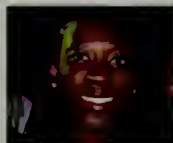

"Pine Knoll makes me want to bleed blue AND green. Sort of like a turquoise color." - Yuni Sumawijaya '12

"My favorite part of PKN is my pod in Stuart. I love the pod because it's psychological. Best people. Best times." - Charlie Budney '12

cluster council

name: Eji Ijeama position: Cluster President
dorm or day: Stimson

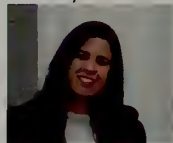

name: Georgia Pelletier
position: DC Rep
dorm or day: Stimson

name: Mark Adomsson
position: DC Rep
dorm or day: Stuart

name: Modisan Grant position: Social Functions Head
dorm or day: Stimson

name: Haley Erskine position: Social Functions Head
dorm or day: Stimson

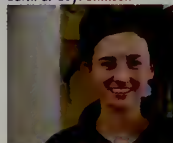

name: Som Lessard
position: Day Student Rep
dorm or day: Day Student

name: Ricky Morcotte position: Senior Rep
dorm or day: Fuess

name: Raquel Gordon
position: Dorm Rep
dorm or day: Stevens

name: Graydon Tope
position: Dorm Rep
dorm or day: Nathan Hale

name: Brenden Konikawitz
position: Dorm Rep
dorm or day: Stuart

name: Goelyn Galle
position: Dorm Rep
dorm or day: Stevens

name: Jordan Bailey
position: Dorm Rep
dorm or day: Fuess

"My favorite thing about PKN is Ms. Murata's crazy pride and love for the cluster." -Emily Timm '11

"My favorite part of PKN is how close everyone is and how that closeness is seen and felt at every cluster meeting, munch, and PKN block party." - Kayla Rosario '11

"I love PKN because of all the spirit and bonding activities that Ms. Murata plans for us." - Sarah Stevens '11

"All the dorms in PKN are really close because we have so many cluster parties. I especially love the Pine Knoll barbeque in the fall where we play volleyball, eat good food and hang out with the best people on campus." -Katie McLean '12

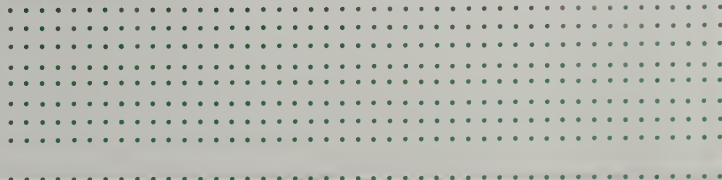

photo by Evan Eads '12

Who is in PKN?

Fuess	341
Stevens	345
Stimson	345
Stuart	345
Nathan Hale	343

the list

what do you love about WQN?

"I like living on the quads because it actually feels like its own community. Also Mr. Tipton is an awesome cluster dean!" - Justin Wang '13

"I like Mr. Tipton, he tried really hard to bring the cluster together with fun events and munches. I also love WQN because Bancraft biddies are the best." -Camerin Stoldt '12

"I love WQN because we have Rackwell and Bishop which are the two best guys dorm on campus." - Sung Waa Hang '13

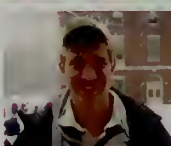

"I love WQN because even though I'm a day student, I still feel a part of the Andover community through cluster munches and meetings. Also, the Rackwell bays are so cute!!" - Haley Scott '11

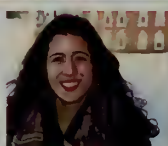

WQNI

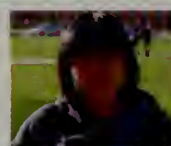

cluster council

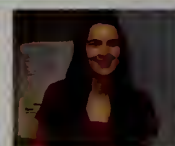

name: Col Brooks
position: Cluster President
dorm or day: Pease House

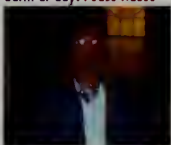

name: Kate Bulger
position: DC Rep
dorm or day: Bancraft

name: June Supponadart position: Social Functions Head
dorm or day: Bancraft

name: Megan Robertson position: Senior Day Student Rep
dorm or day: Day Student

name: Junius Williams
position: Dorm Rep
dorm or day: Rackwell

name: Josh Roberts
position: Dorm Rep
dorm or day: Pease House

name: Sky Yoo
position: DC Rep
dorm or day: Pease House

name: Nikhil Dixit position: Upper Day Student Rep
dorm or day: Day Student

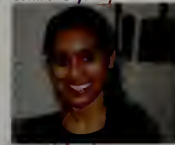

name: Katherine Taboaron
position: Dorm Rep
dorm or day: Isham

name: Sofia Duque
position: Dorm Rep
dorm or day: Bancraft

name: Connor Hickey
position: Dorm Rep
dorm or day: Andover Cottage

name: Soloni Join
position: Dorm Rep
dorm or day: Eaton Cottage

"The quods are the oasis of the Andover campus - they are close to everything, yet removed from the noise of campus. It's not only a place to escape school, but a vibrant community with great activities. I've lived in WQN for my whole time at Andover, first in Rockwell as a freshman, and then in Pease House for the past three years. I've been lucky to live with such great dorm mates and house counselors and am sad to finally leave this haven I call home." - Thomas Armstrong '11

"Sometime when it's worn out, Mr. Gorom prepares a dorm barbecue for us. He makes wicked good food. That's why I love my cluster." - Dylan Howkins '11

"I love my cluster because we have great munchies and it feels like I live in a very tight knit community." - Myrocle McCoy '14

Who is in WQN?

Andover Cottage	341
Bancroft	341
Bishop	341
Eaton Cottage	340
Isham	344
Pease House	342
Pemberton	342
Rockwell North	345

the list

what do you love about WQS?

"The best thing about WQS is that we are all really into our cluster and we all have a lot of spirit." - Diono Howland '13

"The WQS cluster munches are a great way to take a break from studying. Going to the Effingers' to eat, play pool and hang out with friends is something I look forward to every Wednesday night." - Mark Honson '11

"It's pretty far from campus so it really feels like I'm going home at the end of the day, and during the springtime, the Quads are beautiful and fun spot to hang out with my friends." - Christa Choy '12

"One of the things I like best about living in WQS is that both the quads do things together. None of the other clusters seem as close." - Mia Dwyer '12

WQS

cluster council

name: Drie Mah
position: Cluster President
dorm or day: Johnson

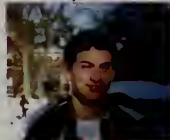

name: Zack Fine
position: DC Rep
dorm or day: Taylor

name: Julia Dean
position: DC Rep
dorm or day: Johnson

name: Danny Gattired
position: Day Student Rep
dorm or day: Day Student

name: Alec Arifol
position: Dorm Rep
dorm or day: Taylor Hall

name: Yeo Bi Choi
position: Dorm Rep
dorm or day: Johnson

name: Jake Morris
position: Dorm Rep
dorm or day: Rockwell

name: Jonathan Thompkins
position: Dorm Rep
dorm or day: Tucker House

name: Aysen Muderrisoglu
position: Dorm Rep
dorm or day: Johnson

name: Charlie Olivo position: Senior Rep
dorm or day: Taylor Hall

name: Chelsea Word
position: Dorm Rep
dorm or day: Adams

name: Cheno Forriot position: Social Functions Head
dorm or day: Day Student

"I Love WQS because it is so much fun during the spring to hang out on the quods, play frisbee and enjoy the sun."
- Brondon Wong '12

"There's a ton of great people in my cluster. I've lived in three different dorms in WQS and I've loved them all." - Chris Colkins '11

"I really love the cluster spirit of West Quod South. Whether it's the weekly cluster munches or annual Quod Day events, the sense of pride and unity is always present." - Scott Livingston '13

"My cluster is great because the people are awesome, the munches are fantastic and WQS offers so many fun activities for students." - Brian Woonton '11

Who is in WQS?

Adams Hall	341
Blanchard	340
Johnson	343
Newman House	341
Rockwell South	345
Taylor Hall	344
Thompson House	344
Tucker House	342

the list

what do you love about FLG?

"I think Flagstaff is really spirited and a lot of fun. Whether in the dorm or at cluster munches, everyone is friendly and outgoing. It is a great atmosphere to be living in."
-Jessica Lee '13

"Flagstaff is basically the best cluster there ever was. We're really going to miss Clyfe next year, but I think Mr. Hessian is going to do a great job."
-Mallary Tyler '12

"I really like Flagstaff because the location is great - oh and Clyfe is the coolest. Like ever."
-Diondra Peck '13

"I love living in FLG because it is mostly seniors, yeah class of '11!"
-Cliff Brannan '11

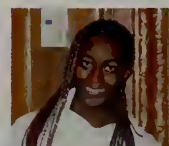

cluster council

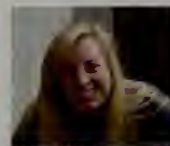

name: Monwei Chan
position: Cluster President
dorm or day: Foxcraft

name: Kiki Somers
position: Dorm Rep
dorm or day: Smith House

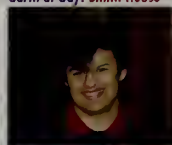

name: Kemi Amurawaye
position: Dorm Rep
dorm or day: Day Hall

name: Ashley Hess
position: Dorm Rep
dorm or day: Burr House

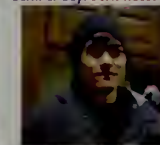

name: Elaine Choo
position: Dorm Rep
dorm or day: Hearsey House

name: Drew D'Alaia
position: Day Student Rep
dorm or day: Day Student

name: Brandon Wright
position: Day Student Rep
dorm or day: Day Student

name: Peter Bang
position: Dorm Rep
dorm or day: Foxcraft

name: Karl Hardin
position: Dorm Rep
dorm or day: Newman House

name: Will Rodriguez
position: Dorm Rep
dorm or day: Bartlett

name: Barney Sambo
position: Dorm Rep
dorm or day: Paul Revere

name: Elizabeth Kelly position: Student Functions
dorm or day: Day Student

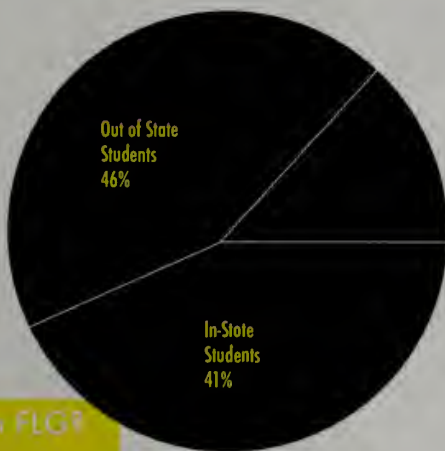

"I love Flagstaff because of two things: Clyfe, and being able to leave my darn two minutes before class starts" -Christiana Nguyen '13

"Flagstaff is boss because we're central to campus and we're a family that pulls shenanigans together!" - Alice Hoffman '13

F: Far anyone who wants same legit exercise.
L: 'Late far class' -never heard of it.
A: All that walking makes us hungry, "I can see Cammans fram here!"
G: Gain access to the mast caveted dean an campus.
S: Sam Phil's clack tawer faithfully dawns light upan thase in need.
T: Think of the last time we crassed Main Street.
A: Anyone laaking to master Faur Square? Yaur caurt awaits you.
F: Fear na mare; We hear all the gassip when a window apens.
F: Flagstaff: the best cluster an campus.
 -Miranda Haymand '12

Who is in FLG?

Bartlet Hall	343
Burt House	340
Day Hall	343
Foxcroft Hall	342
Hearsey House	343
Paul Revere Hall	342
Smith House	344

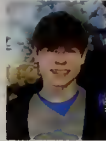

the list

the list

what do you love about ABB?

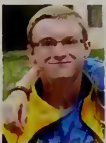

"When you're walking back to the dorm at the end of the day it's like you're walking back home. Abbott is for enough owoy and the dorms are so cozy that you really do feel as if it's your home owoy from home." - Kelly Powers '11

"I love Abbot because it is easier for me to walk to Duncon Donuts than Commons." - Steven Kasavoc '11

"I love ABB because of my dorm. It's fun to live in a real house. Our dorm has actual bathrooms, a balcony, and my closest friends living together under one roof." - Melino Prentokis '11

"Abbott is the best cluster by far because we're able to get away from the bustle of campus but still be a part of boarding life. I'd consider Abbott the countryside of campus." - Ryon Yost '11

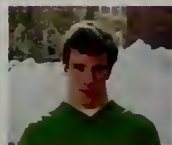

ABB

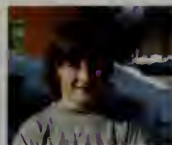

cluster council

name: Eric Yoon
position: Cluster President
dorm or day: Stearns

name: Alex Smochlo position: Social Functions Head
dorm or day: Stearns

name: Cooper Hurley
position: Day Student Rep
dorm or day: Day Student

name: Iobi Coker
position: Dorm Rep
dorm or day: Carter House

name: Kate Wiener
position: Dorm Rep
dorm or day: Whitney House

name: Imon Mosmoudi
position: Dorm Rep
dorm or day: Double Brick name: Josmine Ellison

position: Dorm Rep
dorm or day: Morton House

name: Robert Rush
position: Dorm Rep
dorm or day: French House

name: Alice Too
position: Day Student Rep
dorm or day: Day Student

name: Morgot Pinckney
position: Dorm Rep
dorm or day: Clement House

name: April Liong
position: DC Rep
dorm or day: Morton House

name: Sam Teicher
position: Dorm Rep
dorm or day: Stearns

"Abbott is very homey. We have more cluster activities, like movies in Stowe house. Ms. Joel is also a great cluster dean. It's really obvious how much she cares about the students in her cluster." - Wolter Chacon '13

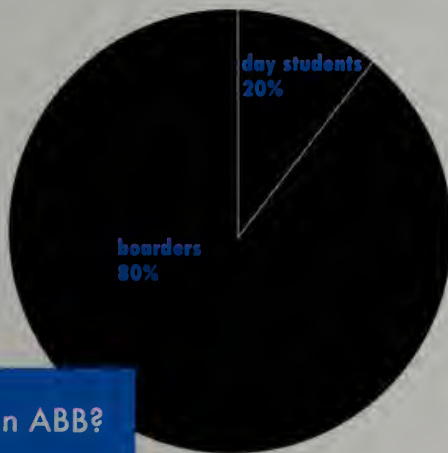

"Abbott is on entirely different breed than any other cluster. Think about it. If we make the walk everyday, there must be something special about it that keeps us here. Abbott may be far away from campus, but after four years, I have come to love it." - Conor Deveney '11

"I love Abbott because it's just a tight-knit community, and we all love each other." - Jon Na '11

"I love my dorm and catching up with my friends during the long walks home." - Noah Le Gros '12

America House	341
Alumni House	340
Bertha Bailey	340
Carriage House	342
Carter House	340
Clement House	340
Double Brick	340
Stearns	345
French House	343
Draper Cottage	340
Flagg House	340
Morton House	342
Samaritan House	344
Stowe House	340
Whirney	344

the list

"Living in the same dorm as Charles has been great. We live on opposite sides, so we don't cross each other too often, but we stop by in each other's rooms all the time. I will often visit to get that "brotherly advice" that freshmen need so dearly and he will often come up to my room to comment on how messy it is." Auggie Horner '14

"I'm happy Auggie and I are in the same dorm this year. It brings us back to when we lived together at home. As a prefect, my job is to give brotherly advice, but Auggie gets the special brotherly advice that the other guys don't get to hear. Weirdly, though, Auggie has a prefect of his own, and it makes it like there's a third Horner brother in the mix." Charles Horner '12

/people

Auggie Horner
Freshman
Rockwell North

Charles Horner
Upper Rockwell South
Prefect

juniors // lowers // uppers // seniors

Charlotte Aaron
 Ashlyn Aiella
 Alex Anderlik
 Abena Asare-Bediako
 Diana Avellaneda
 Jack Barral
 Omar Bekturav
 Cale Benedict
 Adele Bernhard
 Malka Berra
 Meera Bhan
 Jordan Band
 Jardan Baudreau
 Travis Bauscare
 Adam Brody
 Laura Bucklin
 Kade Call
 Jasan Canavan
 Claire Carrall
 Elaine Chao
 Sequoia Chun Jisaa Chung
 Lauren Conte
 Aler D'Albello
 Drake Danner
 Henry Deruff
 Gregory Devlin
 Scott Diekema
 Casey Durant
 Maita Eyzaguirre
 Emilia Figliomeni
 Gabriele Fisher
 Jahn Henry Fitzgerald
 George Gu
 Gregory Hasana
 Elizabeth Howe
 Caaper Hurley
 Matthew Jacobs
 Sierra Mari Jamir
 Hyun Jin
 Jessica Kahan
 Anika Kim Eun Jin Kim Kun Waa Kim Natalie Kim
 Margaret Kabelski
 Alex Kwan
 Sophia Landay
 Josiah Legaspi
 JA-Lamar Lyons
 Mally Magnell
 Jacob Marrus
 Iman Masmaudi
 Myracle McCoy
 Kristin McIntire
 Katherine McKenna
 Emma Mehlman
 Reid Meyer
 Lauren Mantieth
 Melanie Oliva
 Farris Peale
 Clark Perkins
 Matthew Pavers
 Jacob Rauh
 Allisan Rath
 Robert Rush
 Joseph Salva
 Caroline Sambuca
 Vanessa Shrestha
 Leah Shrestinian
 Matthew Siman
 Mark Sullivan
 Katherine Tabeason
 Graydan Tape
 Christian Vallis
 Charles Van Eijk
 Katherine Vega
 Alysandria Wayne
 Sydni White
 Kathryn Williams

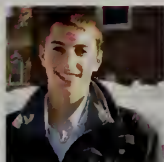

2014

what do Emilia Figliomeni and Maita Eyzaguirre '14 have in common? They are both from Italy

Maita loves being in the class of 2014, and said, "My favorite thing about the class of 2014 are the dorms. Its nice how each dorm is different and within that dorm there are people who come from many places. It is so interesting to find out about different places, different people and different cultures." About leaving her home to come to a school abroad, Maita said, "Everything was a big adjustment for me. The classes, the people and the lifestyle. The classes were hard because of the different teaching system. It felt as if I was missing a chunk of knowledge that I had to know to be able to excel. It was also a hard adjustment culturally because of how different people are here in relation to the people I knew in Rome. Now that I am used to everything, I love it. This school is amazing."

parallels: these members of the class of 2014 all have siblings in the class of 2011

I like having an older brather at Andaver because knowing a senior and same af his friends makes all the upper classmen seem less distant. Nathan helps me out anytime I have a question about something. I like the class of 2014 because already we seem like a very athletic and well-rounded grade, and there are a lot af different people coming fram many varied lifestyles. - Brian Wagner '14

I love having my brather at Phillips. We spend a lat mare time together now and it's great knowing he's always an campus if I need him. - Leah T Shrestinian '14

Having a sibling at Andaver is an add experience because everyone thinks you'll be exactly like them, and then you sometimes are. - James Palmer '14

Having a sibling at Andaver is nice because I can get rides ta and fram schaal whenever I want. It's also a gaad feeling ta have a family member near yau all the time. - Jake Howell '14

the faces of 2014

From their first Den Dance to their first Head of School's day, Junior year is year of many "firsts." Members of the class of 2014 describe their favorite part about being a Junior at PA

Boys 56%

Girls 44%

battle of the sexes

name?

Andrew Ramsey '14

why 2014?

Being a Junior at PA is the best because we get to have so much fun and so many great experiences and still know that we have three more years of the same great stuff!

Kade Call '14

I love how being a Junior means being the little pesky kids that congregate in huge tables in Upper Right for all of our meals.

Elaine Chao '14

Given the excuse of making mistakes and enjoying Andover without having a lot of homework is the best thing about being a junior.

Ji Tae Park '14

Class of 2014 is awesome because we do get a lot of work but not as much as lawers, uppers, or seniors and at the same time we get to socialize with friends.

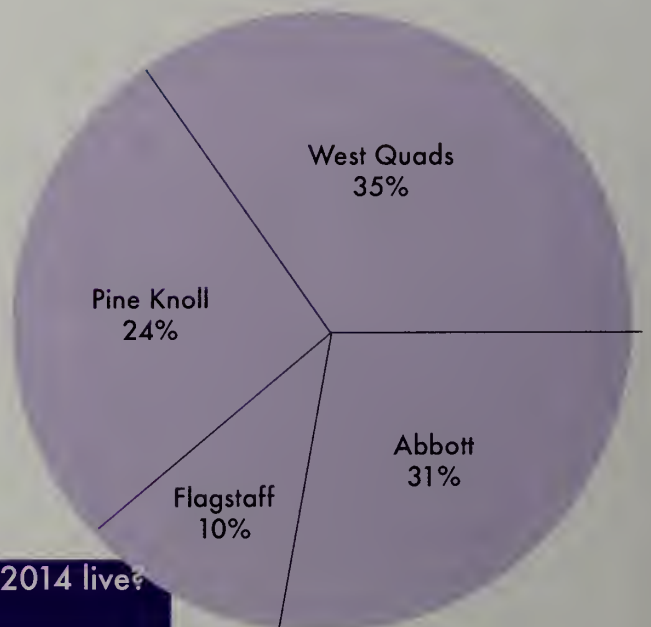

Mathew Powers '14

Dart gun battles, RC cars and helicopters, hastily-built snowboard ramps- the class of 2014 knows how to have fun. Better than the others classes, at least.

Saha Sanchorawala '14

Being a freshman is great- we don't have to deal with any annoying younger kids. We are them. Yeah '14!

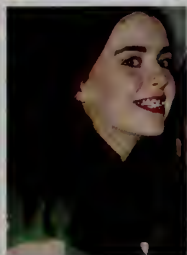

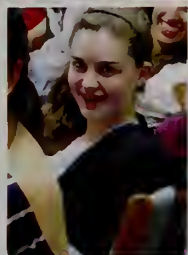

where does 2014 live?

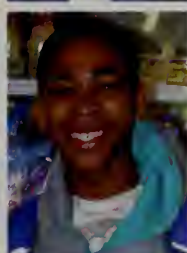

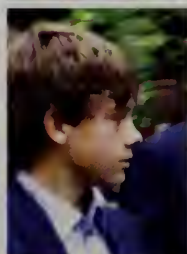

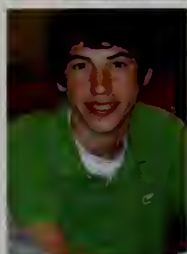

The class of 2014 is so amazing, because it is the true embodiment of big blue spirit.

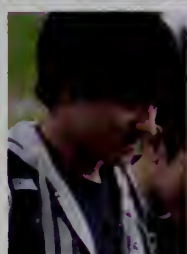

-Charles Manuel '14

juniors

203 students

The extraordinary amount of diversity in the class of 2014 creates a perfect environment for us to develop our skills to a great extent.

- Tyler Marshall '14

I like the class of 2014, because we don't have hot guys in our grade, so we don't have to dress to impress.

- Jisoo Chung '14

Kathryn Wincek Miguel Wise Eric Zhang
Lily Zildjian

• 7:55
I scarf down on omelette in 2 minutes and then run to moth class

a day in the life : 2014

we follow Campbell Howe for one day to uncover a day in the life of an freshman

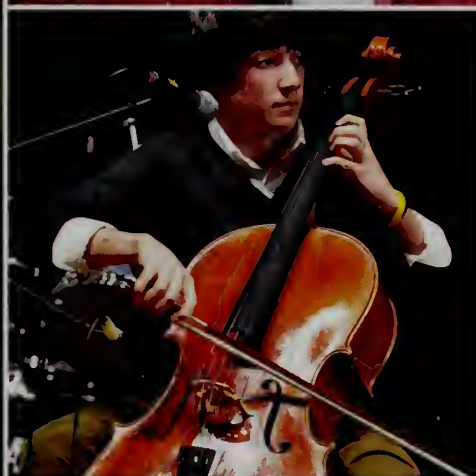

During caference, I grab my second cup af caffee and then either eat in commans or finish homework that's due next period in the library-those ore the only two places people ga.

• 9:45

Seventh period I have biology, where the entire closs works to get Dr. Hagler on tongents. They actually ore very interesting. An example: we went from discussing the process af meiosis to talking about sex and infertility, then we moved to the topic af claning until we got onto sheep, then drugs until finally talked about the end af the world.

2:00 •

the faces of 2014

• 3:10

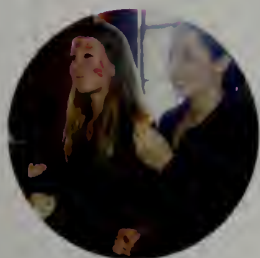

At 3:10 I have swim practice. We listen to same 90s pop while swimming and finding same time to dance. We nearly die the practice is so hard, but when we get out we shower and change while listening to more music... we all sing really well.

After sign-in, I wander around with other really cool freshmen because freshmen are people too.

• 7:00

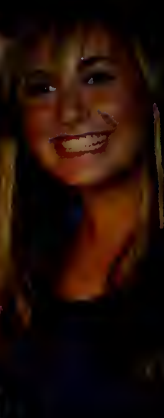

At 11 I curl up in bed. Somewhere between 11:01 and 11:47 a prefect walks in to check that we obey the rules. I absolutely LOVE having to go to sleep at 11 when you were just running around trying to get ready for bed and your blood is rushing and work is not done, therefore having to wake up early... and I'm not a morning person... I need lots of coffee as it is.

11:00 •

My favorite thing about our class is how every person is extremely talented or passionate about something; it's intimidating, but also very cool. - Gaelyn Golde '13

juniors // lowers // uppers // seniors

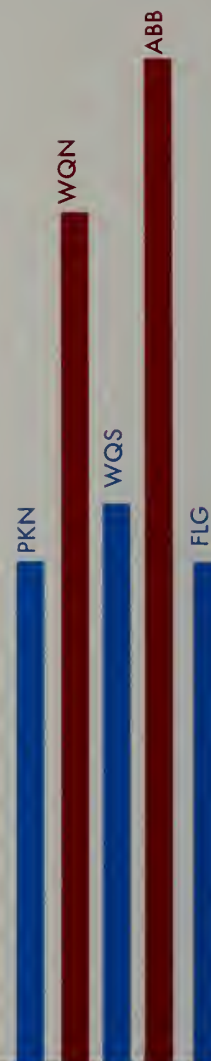

Katherine Lee and Corbin Lee are twins in the class of 2013

"I love having my brother, Corbin with me at Andover because it's always nice and comforting to see a family member on the path if I'm ever having a bad day. It makes me feel a little bit more at home." - Katherine Lee '13

"Katherine and I are in the same math class which is awesome because we have been in all of the same classes together throughout elementary and middle school. It is so nice to have my sister there to help me study." - Corbin Lee '13 where does the class of 2013 live? >

the faces of 2013

Why the following members of the class of 2013 are loving lower year...

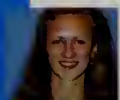

Garrick Gu '13

The thing I love about being a lower is the extraordinary work that returning lowers have made to find out who I am, since I am a new lower. Such integration ensures that Phillips Academy is banded like mesh, not wire, and that our durability lends great power to our creativity. I can be sure of expressing myself in any way that I want to, and not be afraid of ridicule. That is probably the most special thing about my class.

Veronica Harrington '13

I love being a lower, knowing that I have so much time to try out every opportunity Andover has to offer.

Alexandra Donovan '13

Being a lower is the best way to be on the dawn law. Lower year reaps all the benefits of invisibility. No one really looks up to you yet, and you have two whole years at Andover to look forward to. It's a time to band with your class, get some mistakes out of the way, and plan how you want to go out with a bang. And hey, only one term of history!

Hemang Kaul '13

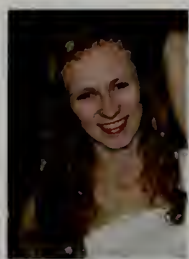

Lower year is like a banana, once you peel it, you can sit back and enjoy the fruit.

Susanna Rademacher '13

I love lower year because our grade's not the youngest anymore and we have been settled into our routine for a while now enjoying our time before upper year!

Abbot: 30%
West Quad North: 24%
West Quad South: 16%
Pine Knoll: 15% Flagstaff: 15%

thirteen

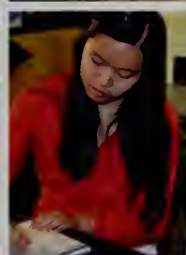

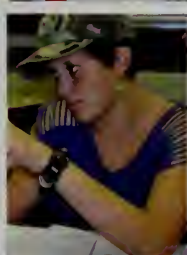

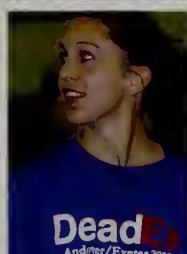

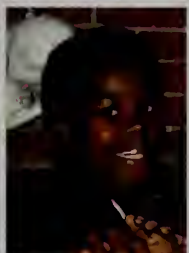

290

students

Being a lower is when you kind of get to explore and have fun. You know the school well enough and you are familiar with the people in your grade so it is a time to enjoy...this is especially the case with our class. - Hailey Novis '13

What I like most about '14 is probably how genuinely nice every one is. Coming in as a freshman and coming in from a school where I didn't feel comfortable with a lot of the people in my class, it was such a surprise how easy it was to make friends with people and just go up to whoever was in your classes and strike up a conversation. - Sofie Siegel '13

• 6:30

Every single day, my alarm clock would ring at 6:30, or maybe a little later, depending on how many times I hit that snooze button. I would wake up and groggily go to breakfast, and somehow manage to get a meal and float down to Morse, where I would get my first line of education for the day, and a fun one at that...

a day in the life : 2013 we follow Ian Song for one day to uncover a day in the life of a learner

Third Period: Art 225B with Ms. Zemlin

•10:20

Period after period of math lectures, sculpting clay, translating Chinese and reading short stories, Lunch is always a nice time to lounge around. I eat fairly quickly, so then I would fly off to Gelb, to either do homework or just chat around with my friends on the third floor. PACE on Thursdays can sometimes be a stress-reliever, but if there is a Chemistry test afterwards... hmmm... that's never good...

12:00•

2013

Unwana Abasi
Matthew Abrahamsen
Bill Abreu
Theodore Agbi
Justin Appleby
George Aveillas
Angela Batuure
Aliyah Belinkie

Sahil Bhaiwala
Rolando Banacheo
Olivia Bren
Devan Burger
Deena Butt
Richard Butterfield
Max Carrillo-Ostraw
Emily Carrola

Arianna Chang
Omegar Chavalla-Zacarias
Jeremy Chen
Cannie Cheng
Oscar Chim
Catherine Choi
Yea Bi Choi
Abigail Chung

Caitlin Clancy
Elliott Crafton
Piper Curtis
Franca D'Agostina
Amelia Danavitch
Michael Das
Alexander Demeulenaere
Tahera Doctor

Alexandra Donovan Charlotte Doran Molly Engel
Wesley Fabyan
Andries Feder
Aaron Finder
Virginia Fu
Mari Funabashi

• 6:00

Then, after dinner, work time. I am always floating around, sometimes in Elsan molding my clay, other times in the Library, PACC or the Chapel to just work, find a quiet place and start pounding down the homework. Or maybe, just in my room, with a headphone to block off the noise, and down to work.

On Wednesdays, when there are club meetings, it is always a highlight of my week. Every Wednesday, will be Techmasters, then International Club, and finally Math Club. It takes away stress and at the same time, it also gives me the opportunity to work with people. Also on Wednesdays is my Community and Service activity, teaching Math to Elementary school kids, which is ALWAYS enjoyable.

8:00•

Lydia Gado-Sala
Gaelyn Galde
Samuel Green
Garrick Gu
Charles Guan
Veronica Harrington
Anna Harrison
Meaghan Hough

Christopher Hedley Yanlin Ho Sung Waa Hong Diana Hawland
Emily Hayt
James Hunter
Susannah Hyde
Emily Jacobsen

Emily Jia
Erin Johnson
Darathy Jones
Sara Kong
Lydia Kaprelian
Hemang Kaul
Hyun Kim Lauren Kim

Stephanie Kim
Samuel Koffman
Alexander Kramer
Anjali Krishnamachar Jennifer Kroan
Celine Kwan
Tiffany Lam
Hayata Lee

Shin-Jae Lee Sahyun Lee
Mary-Claire Leggett
Richard Levy
Haonan Li
Malynna Mam
Samantha Martinez
Daniel Martucci

Aidan Matrick
 John McGeachie
 Emily McKinnon
 Kristin Mendez
 William Merchant Vanessa Merina
 Mark Meyer
 Camila Marena

Victoria Margan
 Cameron Marase
 Kevin Newhall
 Nicole Ng
 Sara Nunez
 Lazala Nyamakazi
 Jun Oh
 Eric Ouyang

Adeala Oyinlola
 Luca Panaccia Tresham
 Demetrios Papageorgiou
 Diandra Peck
 Kristine Pelley
 John Perkins
 Kaitlin Poor
 Fernando Ramos

Shun Sakai
 Kimberly Sarra
 Gina Sawaya
 James Schink
 Rashana Shabazz
 Ayaka Shinazaki
 Nikita Singareddy
 Julia Smachla

Anna Stacy
 Mackenzie Strabala
 Parker Thomas
 Amelia Trant
 Genevieve Tuite
 Sarah Vinchesi
 Justin Wang
 Suzanne Wong

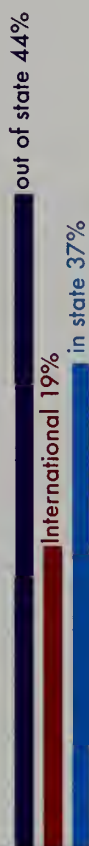

Bo Hyung Yoon
 Jake Zellner
 Jenny Yue Zeng
 Anna Zhang
 Anthony Zhang
 Heather Zhou
 Amanda Zhu
 Aiganym Zhumashova

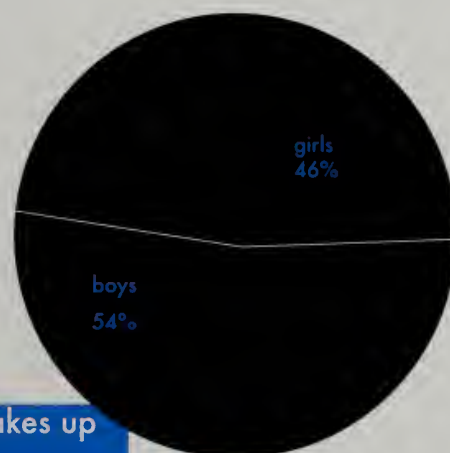

Alex Nikhil, Demeulenoere, Borodwoj, Jenn Sluko, Molochi Price, Becco Wogmon, Megon Haugh, Michael Billy, Comorda, O'Donnell, Henry Kennely, Peter Solozzo, Dylan MacDolond, Jordon Johnson

Where is the class of 2013
from?

Who makes up 2013?

Who is new in 2013?

"Being a day student I have the best of both worlds, I can stay on campus when I want but I still have my own bed to go home to." - Claudia Giles '13

You have to give it to the PA class of 2012 for having compassion. Whether it be sports, arts, community service, leadership, or academic specialty, the class of 2012 stylishly carries their commitments to completion. I am proud to be part of PA's class of 2012 because each of us glistens with individuality ... no matter how sleep deprived we may be. - Izzy Davila

juniors // lowers // uppers // seniors

What I love about the class of '12 is how supportive everyone is. We have all struggled through upper year together, and I have bonded with so many people over last minute history papers and late night bio study sessions. I love that regardless of how little sleep my classmates got the night before, they always greet me with a smile! - Katie Hebb

Emily Adler
Emre Anamur
Minymah Anelane
Terrence Arjaan
Calvin Aubrey
Lydia Azaret
Jon Bakken
Kathryn Benvenuti

Sam Berner
Christopher Blackwood Khalil Blassingame
Pierre-Julien Blouin
Asia Bradlee
Ariana Brenner Mariana Budge
Abigail Burman

Nicholas Camarda Shelby Carpenter
Katherine Chaviana
Andrew Cha
Derrick Choi
Gabriella Cirelli
Lorenza Cante
Gabriel Cordero

Ion Corey Margaret Curtis
Alexander Davidson
Ezequiel Davila
Hannah De Groot
Brian Delaney
Fengning Ding
Mia Dwyer

Kennedy Edmonds
Haley Erskine
Chena Farhat
Fay Feghali
Sarah Freedman
Kendall Goodyear
Raquel Gordon
Daniel Gottfried

Brian Hanafin
Michelle Hantman
Sarah Harris
Cameron Hastings
Miranda Haymon
Katherine Hebb
Keely Henesey
Jaclyn Higgins

Charles Horner
Leah Humes
Rachel Seelye Hunt
Kian Ivey
Apsara Iyer
Supriya Jain
Kelsey Jamieson
Selina Jan

Felicia Jia
Kastle Jones
Madeline Kasper
Jean Kim
Isabella Kratzer
Eliona Kwartler
Jina Lee
Margaret Levene

James Lim
Marie Liu
Luz Lopez
Amanda MacDonald
Vidush Mahansaria
Brandon Mancilla
Benjamin Manuel
Rachel Margalese

Samantha Marrus
Greer McBeth
Colby McBride
Madeleine McClintic Katherine McLean
Eric Meller
Katharine Mesrobian Tatiana Monteiro De Barros

the following members of the class of 2012 have all lived in the same cluster for three years...

Molly Levene

"I love west quad north. Everyday when I cross the street to come back to the quads I feel like I can leave school behind and come home. There is also a unity in the quads that can't be found anywhere else. It's beautiful looking out my window in Bancraft and seeing the cluster of dorms surrounding the quad."

Benjamin Manuel

"I have lived in Abbot cluster for all three years, and the main reason why is that the cluster dean is Ms. Joel, one of the most sincere people on campus."

Ceylon Auguste-Nelson

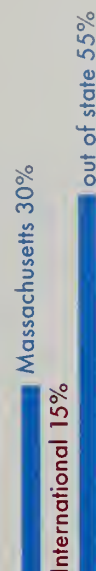

"To live in PKN for three years (and most likely four) deserves a lot of credit, because quite honestly, our dorms aren't really the nicest. However, I think the double-headed showers, uncarpeted floors, overabundance of windows, and overall woodsy-ness of the Knoll has really contributed to my character development, and given me tolerance for the ... less beautiful things in life."

Ricky Goldstein

"I lived in West Quad South freshman year. I was very excited when I had the opportunity to join Taylor Hall. I love the boys of Taylor Hall."

where does the > class of 2012
live?

. 8:00

I woke up around 8 am and head to breakfast before class. I like to sit alone in lower left in the mornings so that I can finish up some last minute homework and clear my head before classes.

.10:20

At 10:20 I go to bio. On Tuesdays and Thursdays we have double periods, which we usually spend in the lab dissecting animals.

a day in the life : 2012

we follow Omegar Chavolla-Zacarias for one day to uncover a day in the life of an upper

After classes, I have some free time, which I spend either doing homework or just hanging out.

The good thing about winter term is that sports tend to meet later in the day, so you have the whole afternoon just to yourself.

2:45•

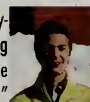

I usually get to commons for dinner around 5:30, so that I can get something to eat before heading off to one of my commitments. During the week, I have drama lab rehearsals, UNICEF club meetings and Rhosodies in Blue rehearsals, among others, but at 8 I head over to the library meet my classmates and do homework. I usually end up going to bed around 12.

5:30 - 12:00•

"Being from Concon but studying at Andover is like being Honnah Montano—you get the best of both worlds."

Gabo Cordero '12

parallels

What do Mary and Emily
Samson have in common?
They are twins in 2012

- Emily and Mary Samson are both in the class of 2012.
- Mary said, "we're going to be the last class to graduate from Andover before the world ends." Emily on the other hand is fond of 2012 because of the "closeness of the class."
- The two sisters enjoy seeing each other on campus because, as Emily said, "we didn't get along very well before we came to Andover, but now we're really good friends."
- Mary said, "we get to wave at each other on the path, which is pretty nice."

the faces of 2012

Uppers weigh the ups and downs of their penultimate year and reflect on why 2012 is the best class.

name?
Charles Guan '12

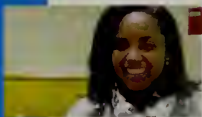

why 2012?

Upper year is the year you're supposed to work your butt off with little to look forward to except breaks; people start to respect you for your experience.

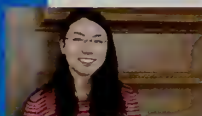

Yara Sifri '12

I love 2012 because we always find a way of keeping things exciting. Even when the stress of Andover life gets to be a lot, we still have fun.

Chelsea Grain '12

I love class of 2012 because we're a group of super diverse kids who have interests in all different subjects but know how to come together when we need to.

Felicia Jia '12

Making the transition from lower to upper year has been so rewarding. Sure, it's more homework and responsibility, but I enjoy the challenge which has allowed me to grow and become more confident.

Alex Schneider '12

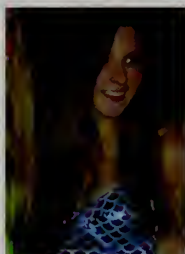

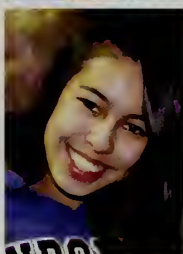

It's true that being an Upper is stressful and workfilled, but I've also managed to have a lot of fun! Whether its pick up soccer games in the fall or sledding in the winter, we always manage to have a good time.

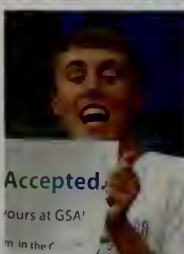

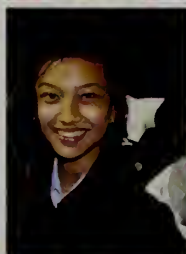

What makes 12 special is the individuality of each and every member. We twelves span such a wide range of personality and quality that it's just awesome to be around us. - James Lim '12

282 students

Twelve is great because we've been through a lot, but we're still close as a class, which is awesome. - Charlie Budney '12

Though people are always coming in and out, being part of the class of twelve has kept me on my toes. There's never a dull moment, and I'm glad to be a part of this interesting and exciting group of people. - Tobi Coker

Seika Nagao
Jung Nah
Elizabeth Oppang
Thomas Palleschi
Na Park
Elizabeth Paul
Charles Pecara
Samantha Pelaquin

Youxiang Peng
William Pass
Rawland Rabinsan
Jahn Ramero
Zoe Raschach
Sunwaa Ryu
Emily Samsan
Mary Samsan

Benjamin Scharf
Alexander Schneider
Daniel Schultz
Thomas Shannan
Jamie Shenk
Margat Shaemaker
Brandan Sneider
Caroline Samers

Kelly Stathis
Camerin Stoldt
Safia Suarez
Jaewan Suh
Haryuni Sumawijaya
Jahn Sykes
Austin Teece
Tananya Thamthieng

Nicholas Tonckens
David Tylnski
Braake Vanvalkenburg
Caraline Van Klemperer
Melissa Wattana
Jonathan Westling
Andrew Wilson
Chuan Xu

• 8:50

First period I have chemistry. It's fun to start the morning off with Mr. Rogers. I've had a great time in this class, and it keeps getting better. Although the work is pretty challenging, the class works together as a dynamic group to solve problems. It's the perfect way to start the week.

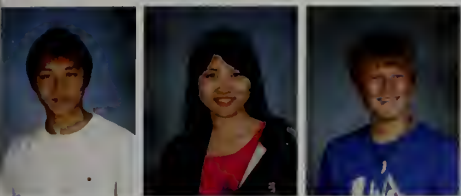

a day in the life : 2012

we follow Vidush Mahansaria for one day to uncover a day in the life of an upper

Third Period: Math 380 with Mr. Schneider

Fourth period I have lunch. Lower Left is the place to be. Each day, I'll head over to Commons and order a stir fry, and then just chill with my friends on the couches. Occasionally, I'll go over some Spanish vocabulary or some formulas. Lunch = relaxation.

11:30•

Min Jae Yoo Doro Zhang
Nicholas Zutt

• 1:05

Sixth period I have English. New Upper English is truly an experience. Probably the most influential class I've had all year, I enjoy this class. The work is definitely hard, but it's the process that makes it enjoyable. In class we discuss and debate, talk about our lives and the weather—and somehow, we find a connection between our lives and the 19th century novel we're reading.

Seventh Period: History 300 with Mr. Gurry

• 2:00

There's no better way to blow off steam than FIT. On a rough week, where the work keeps piling on you, FIT is the place to be. Like boot-camp Andover style, FIT is tough, but enjoyable. Working out with your friends right beside you—especially on a Friday night, where you know it's the last thing on your schedule.

5:00•

juniors // sophomores // seniors

most likely to pull an all nighter

Rishabh Bhandari
& Sophie Gould

most likely to get married

Dan Moroz & Cat Cleveland

class curvebreaker

Peter Bang &
Clark Harrington

best to bring home to mom & dad

Charlie Corkavin
& Kristina Rose

Aniebiet E. Abasi
 Alexandre Abitbal
 William Adams
 Mark N. Adamssan
 Hamed O. Adeyemi
 Kemi L. Amurawaiye
 Jeannine Andersen

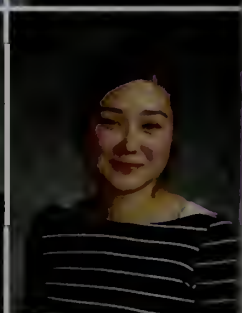

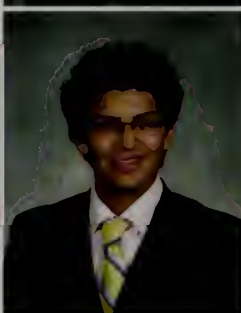

Carey T. Angers
 Nneka C. Anunkar
 Matthew C. Appleby
 Thomas D. Armstrong
 Daniel M. Aranav
 Clare P. Ashfarth
 Margan R. Askew

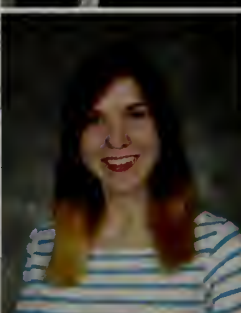

Jordan A. Bailey
 Richard W. Bailey
 Anthony Baldassari
 Kristina L. Ballard
 Peter K. Bang
 Chiara A. Baravalle
 Christopher Q. Batchelder

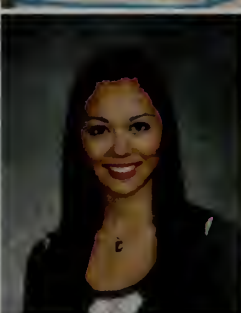

Denzil M. Bernard
 Michael P. Berube
 Rishabh Bhandari
 Jesse G. Bielasiak
 Linda N. Blanken
 Patrick N. Brady
 Camilla E. Brandfield-Harvey

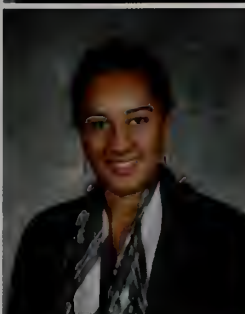

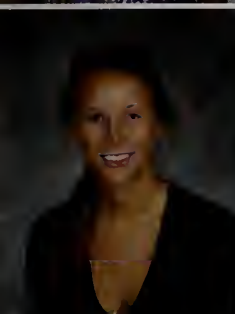

Clifton M. Brannon
 Victoria S. Briggs
 Benjamin T. Bradie
 Kerstin K. S. Broisma
 Cal Brooks
 Katherine M. Bulger
 Benjamin W. Burke

Delaney H. Burke
 Julie Y. Cachia
 Christopher R. Calkins
 Christopher D. Cameran
 Catherine G. Cannan
 Wenyu Caa
 Kevin M. Carey

best friends

Pease House boys

best friends

Courtney Macdonald
& Emily Rademachermost likely to become mark zuckerbergKevin Song & Ambika Krishnamoorthibest moves on the dancefloorHector Kilgore & Amber Gammage

most likely to stalk
you on facebook

Luke Miggs &
Marilyn Hixson

most likely to live
in your basement

Michael Berube & Sandra Sullivan

most athletic

Austen Novis & Karyn Smith

most likely to take over the world

Chris Kent & Rose Winters

Elizabeth S. Carrolo
James Casselberry
Shelby Centofanti
Manwei Chan
Prim Chanarat
Dominick P. Chang
Jane Chen

Rona Choo
Dhanaporn Choong
Catherine A. Cleveland
Charlotte-Luisa W. Cleveland
Charles P. Cockburn
Meghan A. Collins
Cassandra Coravos

Jared L. Curtis
John M. Cusick
Scott K. Cuthell
Charles V. Danner
Julian S. Danziger
Callie R. Davidson
Alberto de la Cruz

Julia K. Dean
Conor J. Deveney
Michael L. DiFronzo
Ann C. Doherty
Jay C. Dolan
Theodore W. Drake
Sofia Duque

Jennifer E. Dwyer
Jasmine B. Edison
Ijeoma C. Ejiogu
Zachary S. Elder
Sophia C. Erickson
Zachary E. Esakof
Theresa N. Faller

Connor P. Fallon
Kaitlin M. Fanikos
Kristen T. Faulkner
Manuel Fernandez
Zachary S. Fine
Hannah L. Finnie
Conar J. Flanagan

Matthew Fathergill
 Ryan J. Gaiss
 Taylor M. Garden
 Gaadwin R. Gibbins
 Kiran K. Gill
 Stella M. Girkins
 Whitney M. Glick

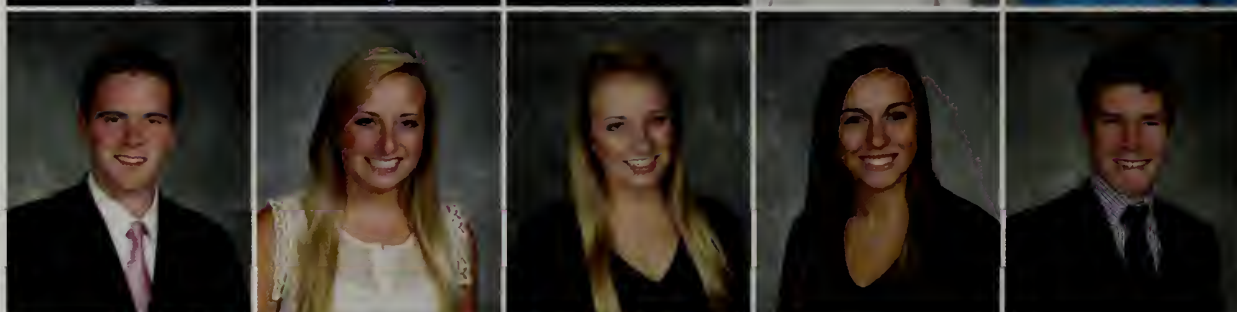

Elizabeth G. Galdsmith
 Sophie S. Gauld
 Raphael Grandeau
 Earl G. Graves
 Samantha S. Gray
 Bennett C. Green
 Shirley S. Gua

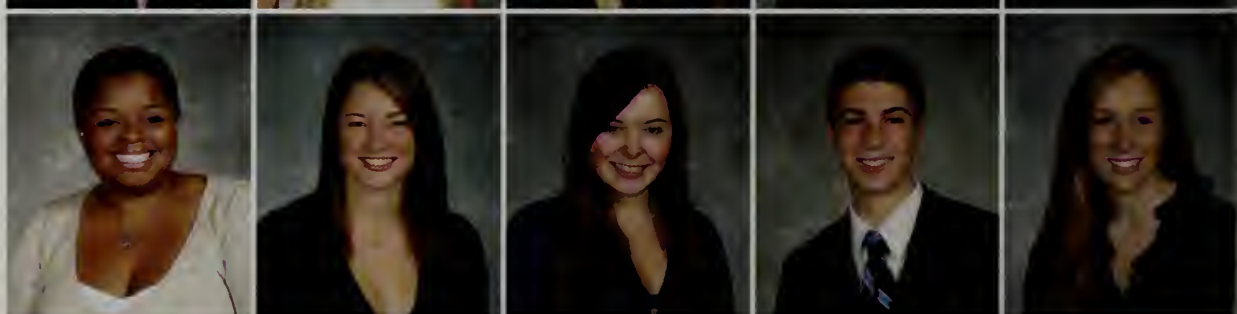

Luke M. Hansen
 Mark A. Hansan
 Karl N. Hardin
 Claire S. Harmange
 Caralyn Harmeling
 Marilyn Harris
 Dylan J. Hawkins

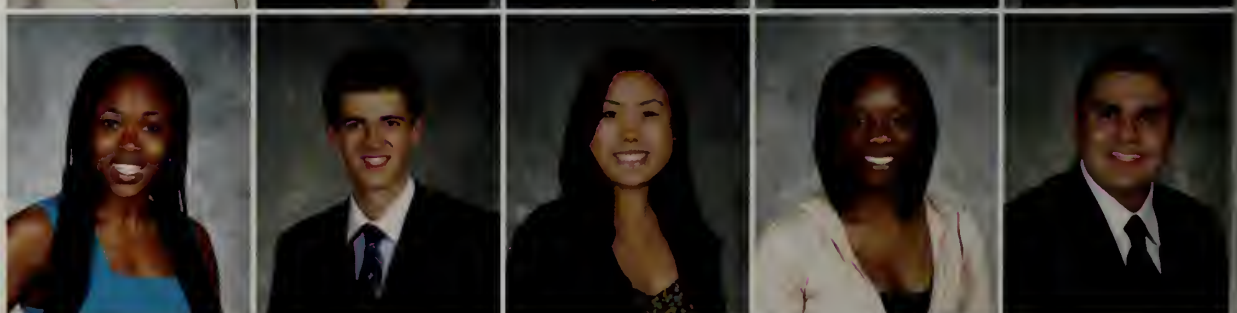

Peter M. Heidrich
 Ashley E. Hess
 Katrina A. Hess
 Marilyn Hewett
 Cannar J. Hickey
 Ben Ha
 Franziska Hafmann

Jessica A. Holley
 Olivia D. Howell
 Amanda M. Howland
 Evan C. Hoyt
 Grace M. Hayt
 Jeremy E. Huttan
 Aleksander Huzar

Oriekase E. Idah
 Jahn H. Ingram
 Midari R. Ishizuka
 Sheya Jabauin
 Aazim I. Jafarey
 David C. Janavsky
 Angelica Jarvenpaa

most opinionated

Scott Cuthell &
Julianne Mengler

most transformed

Mick Wopinski &
Lyra Silverwell

done the most for andover

Mike MacKay & Jackie Linden

done andover for the most

Kevin Carey & Ashley Graham

Nathan A. Jahnsan
Kerry Jayce
Elizabeth M. Kelly
Christopher R. Kent
Emily L. Kent
Christopher J. Kerrigon
Hectar J. Kilgoe

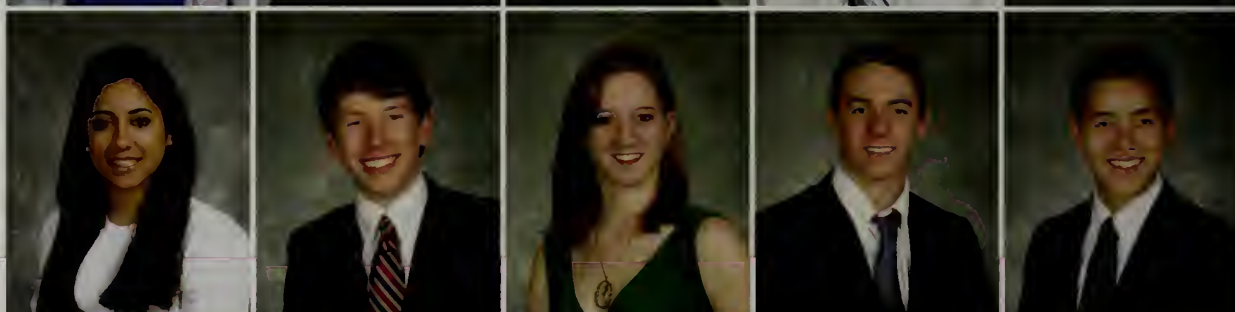

Hona C. Kim
Coitlin E. Kingstan
Jung Hun Kah
Michael N. Kontaxis
Steven Kosavac
Thomas M. Kramer
Advaya Krishna

Ambika M. Krishnamachar
Nitipat Kulalert
Elaine S. Kuoch
Joseph Kuto
Gabrielle S. Kwon
Demetrius Lalanne
Brandan C. Lam

Nikita Lamba
Robert Langwarthy
Kerry L. Lanza
Daniel E. Lorson
Garrett A. Lee Jee Eun Lee
Louro K. Lee

Peter S. Lee-Kramer
Jacqueline Lender
Samuel N. Lessard
Janathan K. Leung
Adam L. Levine
Xiaaxiaa E. Li
April S. Liang

Stephonie C. Liu
Lane S. Lytle
Michelle Y. Mo
Courtney Macdonold
Michael J. MacKay
Kendall C. MocRoe
Matt Mohoney

best genes for breeding

Mike Difronzo &
Sarah Onorato

hard body hottie

Malcolm Mason Rodriguez & Anabel Ekpa

most likely to brighten your day

Teddy Smyth &
Melina Prentakis

most artistic

Adam Levine &
Daniela Pinamal

most likely to be in gryffendor

Andrew Woonton
& Emily Kent

most likely to be in slytherin

Ben Podell
& Georgia Bellamy

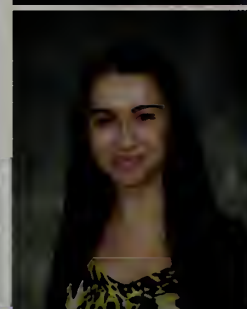

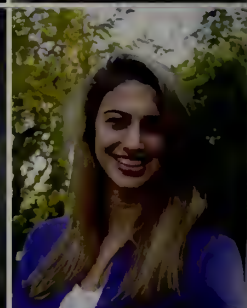

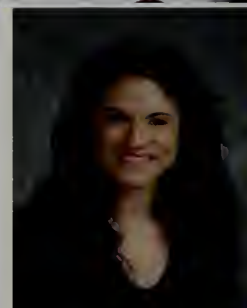

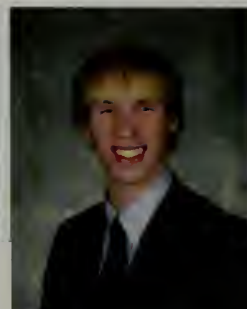

best hair

Tebs Maqubela
& Jannah Anderson

most likely to win an oscar

Pat Brady & Nikita Lombard

Matthew J. Mahaney
 Rahan Malhatro
 Timothy M. Marchese
 Richard A. Marcatte
 Malcolm J. Mason Rodriguez
 Rebecca Matsumata
 Hannah R. McGrath

Patrick E. McGrath
 Timothy McLaughlin
 Audrey R. McMurtrie
 Casey A. McQuillen
 Shannan McSweeney
 Julianna D. Meagher
 Diego Mendia

Aaron Mentos
 Christopher Meyer
 Wesley C. Meyer
 Luke C. Miggs
 Andrew M. Mitchell
 Janina A. Manecke
 Miguel S. Mantana

Erica L. Marales-Jabse
 Alexandro Maroney
 Daniel J. Moroz
 Benjamin C. Marris
 Kaytlin A. Marris
 Aysen Muderrisaglu

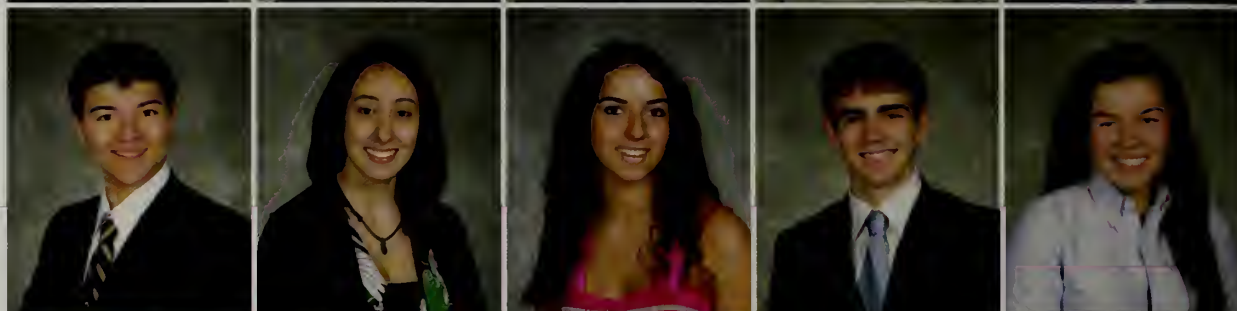

Esther Muradav
 Liam H. Murphy
 Jonathan S. Na
 Alexander K. Nanda
 Chiama N. Ngwudo
 Austen C. Novis

Alexander R. Nunez
 Charles C. Oliva
 Sarah E. Onarata
 Argelys S. Oriach
 Khadijah A. Owens
 Yerin Pak
 Robert S. Palmer

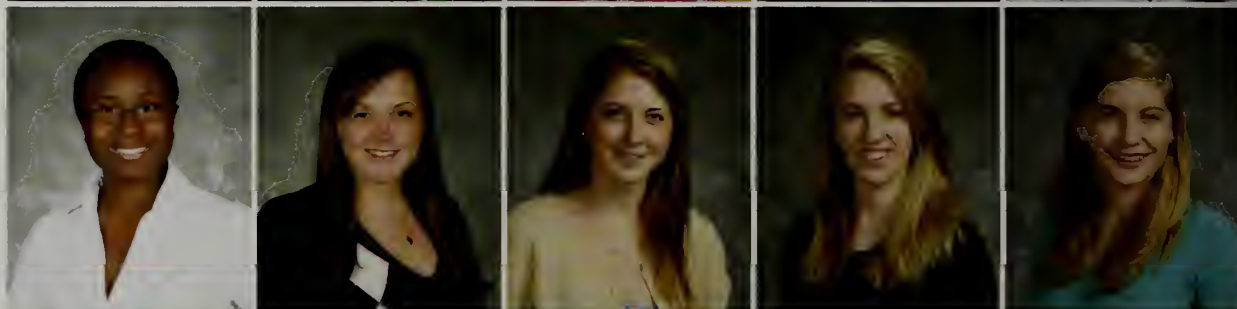

Ting Pan
Jin Heak Park
Maxwell W. Parlin
Givens Parr
Janki K. Patel
Kishan K. Patel
Georgia Pelletier

Charles J. Peng
Zary A. Peretz
Eleonora Petrulli
Cameron J. Phillips
Kelsey J. Phinney
Cameron R. Pierson
Laura D. Pimentel

Margat D. Pinckney
Mary H. Palk-Bauman
Alessandra Pawell
Kelly T. Powers
Melina K. Prentakis
Haritha Pula
Kevin Qian

Max C. Queenan
Amber N. Quinones
Emily S. Rademacher
Brendan Rankowitz
Chloe E. Reichel
William Reisinger
Kristina Rex

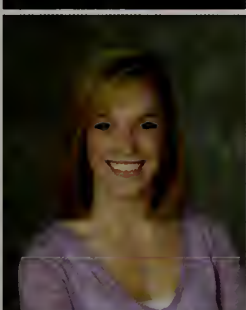

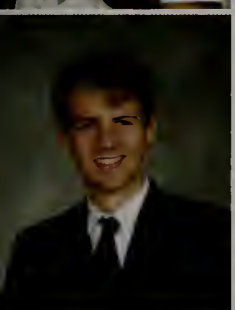

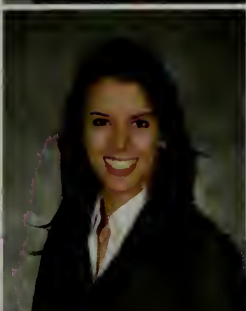

Aube B. Rey Lescure
Katherine A. Rivera
Jacob W. Roberts
Jeb Roberts
Megan A. Robertsan
Francis W. Rabinsan
Jakob M. Rahwer

Kayla Rosario
Alex T. Salton
Daniel Santamaria
Hunter J. Schlacks
Sanya Schoenberger
Emily A. Scoble
Haley S. Scott

most likely to win
a grammy

Jeb Roberts & Mandi Thron

best eyes

Max Lippe &
Delaney Burke

best dressed

Mark Adamsson & Angelica Jarvenpaa

best smile

Yuto Watanabe &
El Ego

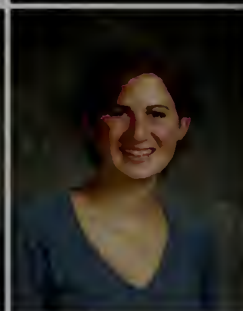

Elina S. Segreta
Winfield S. Shambaugh
Russell T. Shaw
Jae Eui Shin
Aram J. Shrestinian
Max L. Silverstein
Lyra Silverwalf

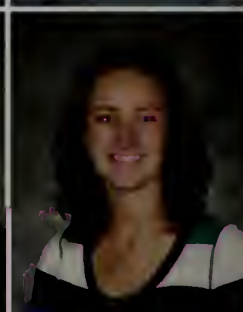

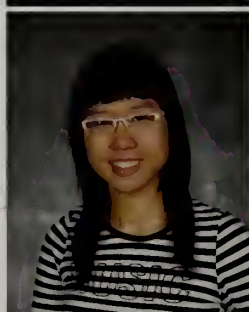

Hugh A. Smachla
Thurstan S. Smalley
Teddy Smyth
Natalee S. Sahn
Kevin S. Sang
Sarah H. Stevens
Tina Su

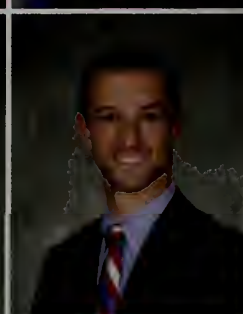

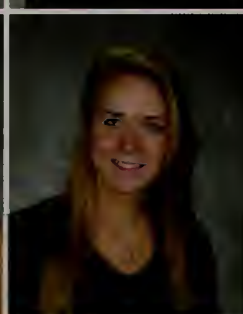

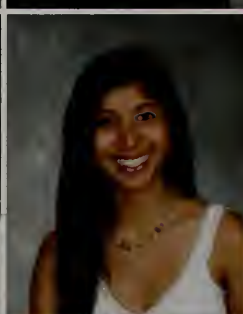

Andrew P. Sullivan
Rarinthip J. Supapannachart
Thomas Szymanski
Benjamin Talarica
Emilie M. Tanski
Alice H. Taa
Katharine E. Taylar-Mighty

Pinnaree Tea-Mangkarnpan
Ken Tharp
Mandi Thran
Richard D. Thwaites
Emily M. Timm
Chau L. Tran
Madeleine Tucker

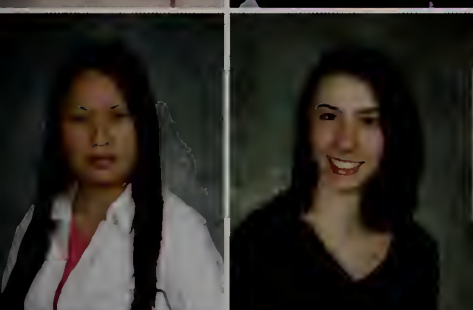

Aneissa Urias
Ashleigh N. Vargas-Aquino
Natasha N. Vaz
Stacia Vladimirova
Nathan J. Wagner
William C. Walker
Kellie E. Walsh

Mariona R. Walsh
Amanda Wang
Jaann E. Wang
Michael Z. Wang
Summer M. Washburn
Yuta Watanabe
Elizabeth W. Watson

biggest curve-breaker

Peter Bang &
Claire Horman

most likely to check themselves out in the commons mirrors

Julian Danziger & Erian Morales

biggest gossip

Alex Salton & Tong Von

biggest flirt

Zac Elder & Starla Windmeyer

Tamas A. Weaver
 Alec M. Weiss
 Jessica L. Weng
 Christine G. Whalen
 Carolyn R. Whittingham
 Catherine D. Wiener
 Michael T. Wincek

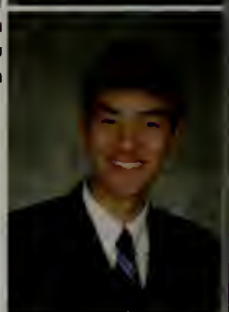

Patrick J. Walber
 Andrew D. Waantan
 Brian M. Waantan
 Katherine Waantan
 Michael S. Wapinski
 Brandon N. Wright
 Allan L. Yau

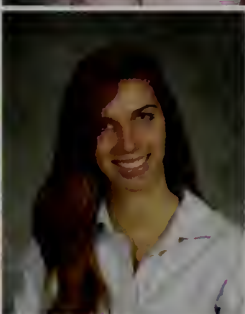

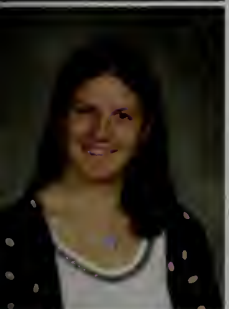

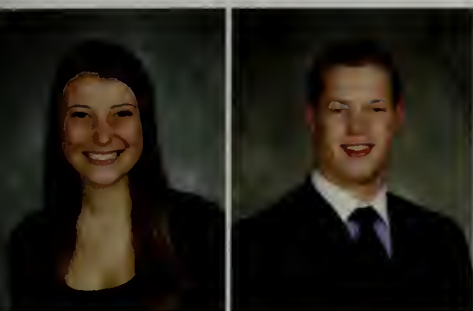

Sae Kyul Yoo
 Jaepil E. Yoon
 Ryan J. Yast
 Edith W. Yaung
 Renat A. Zalav
 Emma G. Zanazzi
 Jinzi Zhang

Calvin C. Zhao
 Jennifer J. Zhou Julia L. Zorthian

class clown

Pat Wolber &
Olivia Maxwell

most cliché
"andover student"

Jeremy Hutton &
Alexandra Fowell

Best Couple that Never Dated

Ryan Gaiss &
Kellie Walsh

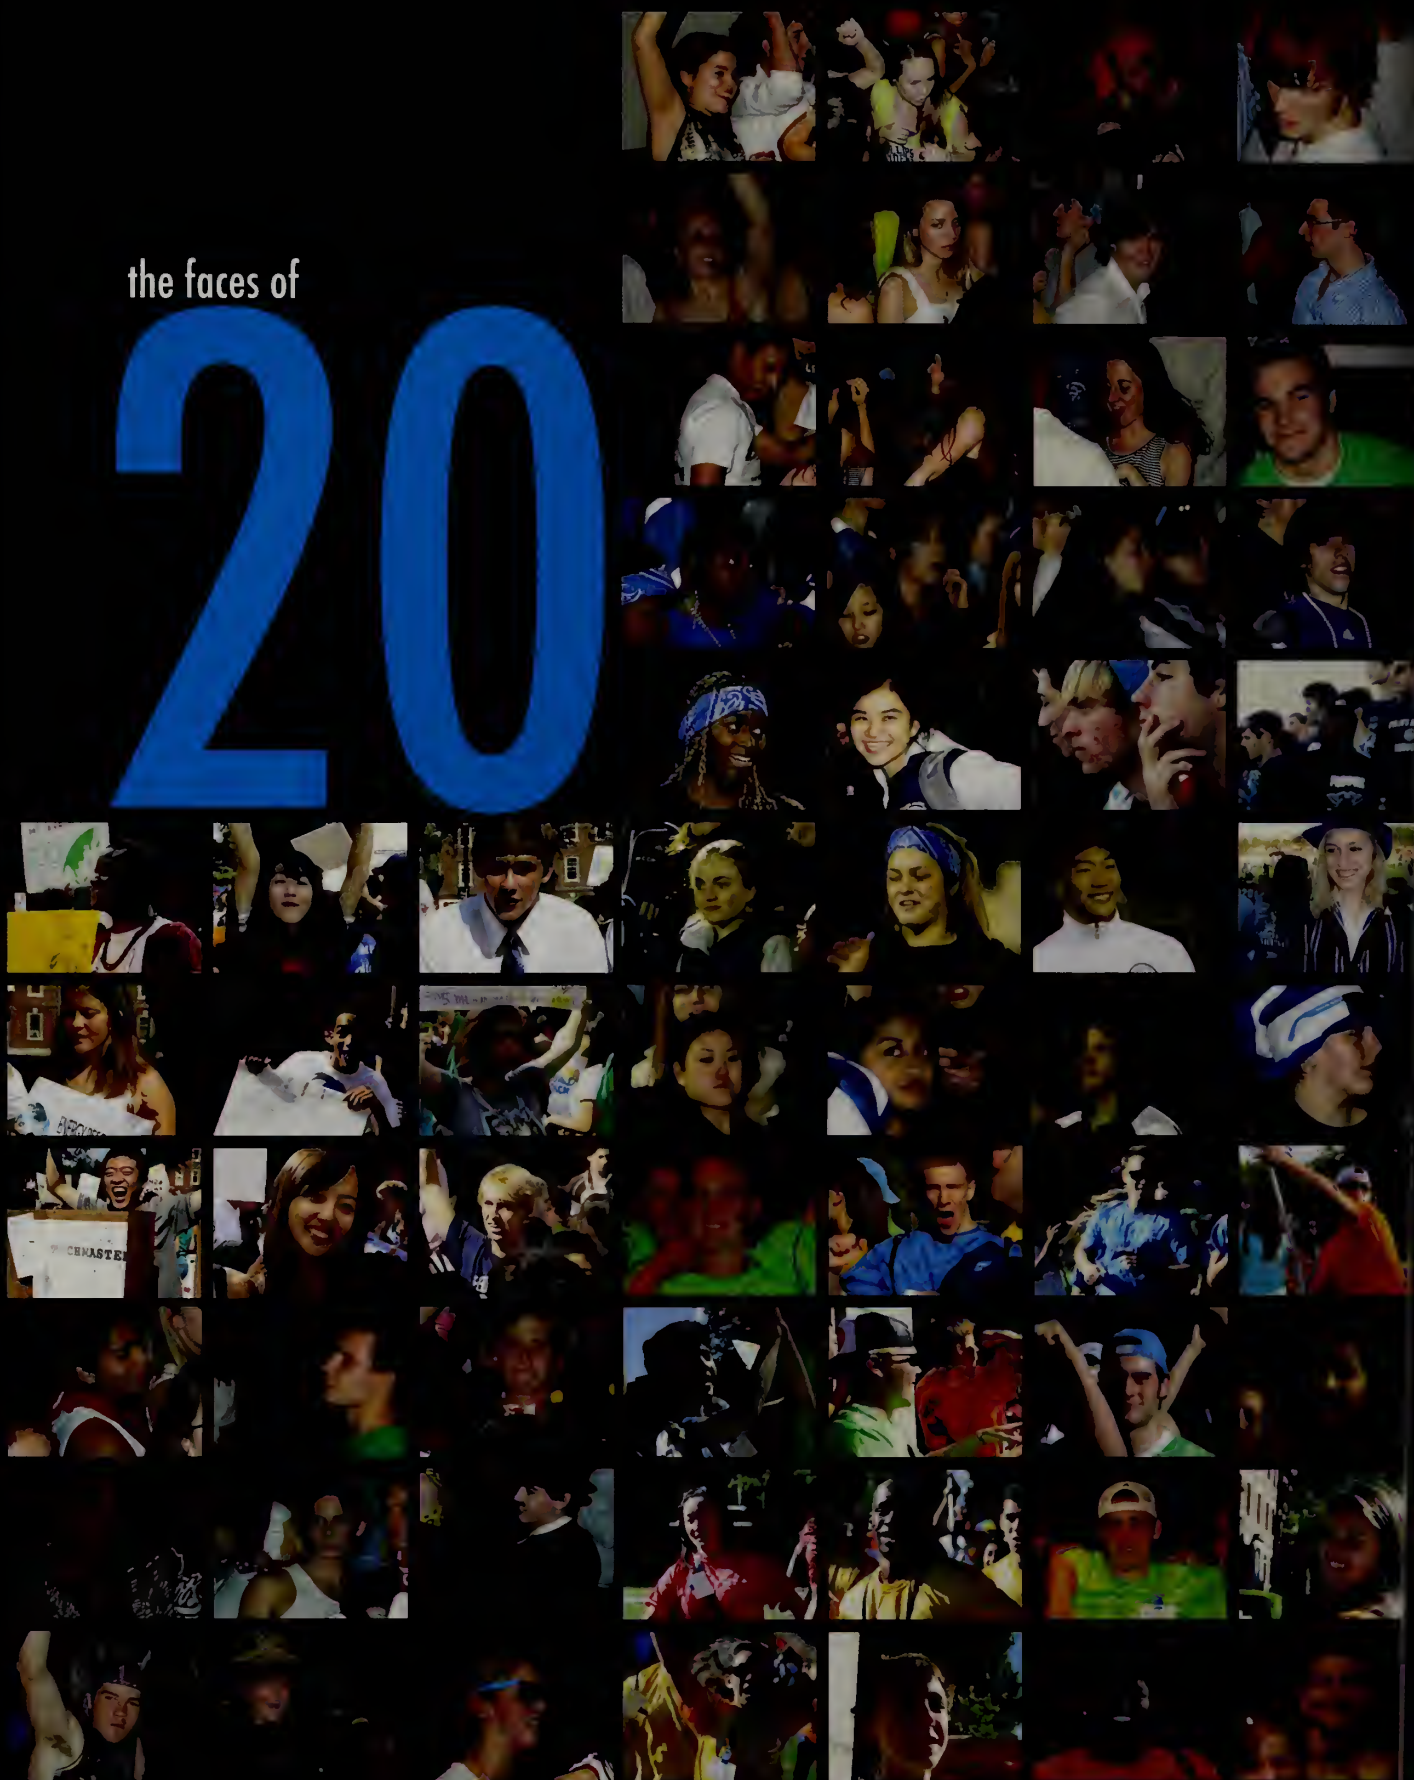

most intimidating

Michael Wincek &
Sheya Johnson

the faces of 20 11

Rishab Bahndari

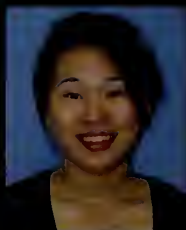

I think the most valuable lesson I've learned is to make one good friend on the faculty who you can talk to about any problems or just life in general. They give great advice, especially those who've been here a while, and they can even shape your interests at this school. You can start even by simply asking a teacher you have to lunch or dinner, and teachers here are very generous with their time.

Shirin Ghosh

The most valuable thing I learned at PA is to prioritize. I can't possibly do everything so it's important to focus on the things that matter the most.

Anna Chen

Open your mind. That is by far the most valuable lesson I have learned over my four years at Andover. It is amazing how much you can learn from other people when you drop all your previous prejudices and preconceptions, shut up for a moment, and just listen.

John Ingram

Be organized.
Never give up.

The struggle is worth it in the end.

Also, never be afraid to put yourself out there and try new things. The time here was too short to let things pass by.

William Bailey

The most valuable lesson I have learned at PA is to never lose sight of the end. There were some times at PA where everything was falling out of place and I wanted nothing more than to give up. Knowing that if I could push through that, there would be bigger and better opportunities for me helped me to overcome these difficulties.

after many seniors tell us about some of the most valuable things they will take away from their Andover experience

Chris Kerr /

Over my four years at PA, I have truly learned the value of teamwork. I've seen firsthand what an amazing crew team can accomplish, without any individual amazing athletes. More generally, I have learned that the more people you have trying to solve a problem or reach a goal, the more likely you are to do so.

Chris Kerr /

The most valuable lesson PA has taught me is to always try something new. If you don't, life can get boring pretty quickly.

Chris Kerr /

I learned that chilling with your friends is sometimes more important than school work. Sleep, on the other hand, is way more important than school work.

Domnick Chang //

The most valuable lesson I learned at PA was that you should only do what you care about. Don't join clubs, don't sign up for classes, don't do community service unless you really really enjoy doing it. Also, read the blue book very carefully.

Audrey McMurrie

I think the most important thing I learned is to not be afraid to reach out and ask for help. Everybody goes through similar things, and they can be really overwhelming, but if you reach out you realize you have a huge support system of friends and faculty on campus.

lessons learned...

parallels

The one thing I'll never forget about lower year is jumping off the pipe in Coach Ma's PE class. To this day, that one morning is still the most terrifying moment of my life! I've got to hand it to Coach Mo and the athletic department though- they found a way to make what could be a potentially annoying requirement a, to say the very least, memorable time. - Mary Palk-Bauman '11

Sam Teicher, Chloe Reichel, Kellie Walsh, Sarah Onarata, Jared Curt Patrick McGrath, Nneka Anunkar, Ken Tharp, Max Queenan, Alessandro Pawell, Julia Dean, Edith Young, Mary Palk-Bauman, Jay Dalan, Diego Mendia, Khadijah Owens, Austin Navis, Matt Mahon

then now

Haley Scatt, Julia Dean, Audrey McMurtrie, Edith Young, Jenny Chen, Andrew Mitchell, Julia Zarthian, Jaanna Wang, Turner Shaw, Emily Kent, Marilyn Harris, Demetrius Lalanne, Kerry Lanza, Charlotte Cleveland, Kemi Amurawaiye, Mark Hansan, Chris Cameran, Ken Tharp, Alex Smachla, Canar Deveney, Kaitlin Fanikas, Kate Wiener, Ambika Krischnamachar, Erica Morales, Elaine Kauch

Finis Origine Pendet

The End Depends upon the Beginning

2011 senior pages

"And I just grew, tangled up in Blue"

To anyone and everyone I've met along the way, thank you xoxo Audrey

Megan Robertson

SENIOR

all our dreams can come true if we have the courage to pursue them."

Keep dreaming 2011,
thanks Audrey!
Love,
Megan

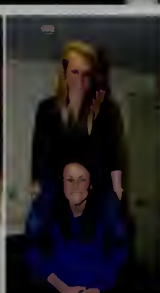

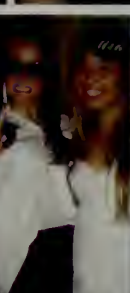

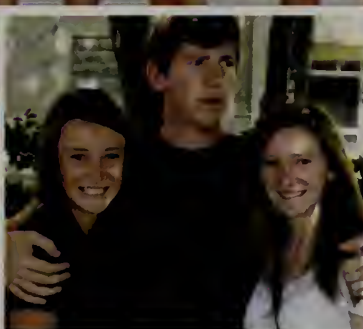

To all those who have made the last four years one incredible journey - Fidelio, Mr. Walter, Ms. Auer, Ms. Sams, Mr. Tipton, Mr. Koolen, Ms. Scott, Mr. Hession - Popo: HS, AM, MR, IE, KM - Children's Place Donna, Kendra and all my friends - Chorus, LK, SK, MA - PN, AT, TF, ET, JI, KTM, HK, EJ, RT, ES, MT, SL, JE I love You All - Thank you Thank you And ever you're my boy, blue.

you're my boy.

One million thanks. To kah, aeh, kew, smm, for four incredible years, I wouldn't change them for anything. To kcm, for more than words can say. To sij, anaq, arm, ewy, jkd, esr, clm, kaw, ldp, odh, seo, aea, snl, jpk, jmr, alb, cek, yp, jlz, smw, for your friendship, it means the world to me. To hkb, for being there, always and forever. To cwk, for being a perfect mentor and an even better friend. To jas, chc, for being the best best friends since '96. To ice, cbs, ktm, for all of your support and love. To kdolan, ccarter, ahousiaux, pneissa, scarr, mfenton, bwolf, shappel, trotundo, the bardos, cefinger for your invaluable lessons and friendship. To pot pourri, slam, aces, bvs, for your hours of work, play, and love. To m, d, t, n, for everything and anything and all. To the class of 2011, for your camaraderie and spirit through an incredible four years. And finally, to Andover, for providing all of this. Thank you, thank you, thank you. I love you more than words can tell.

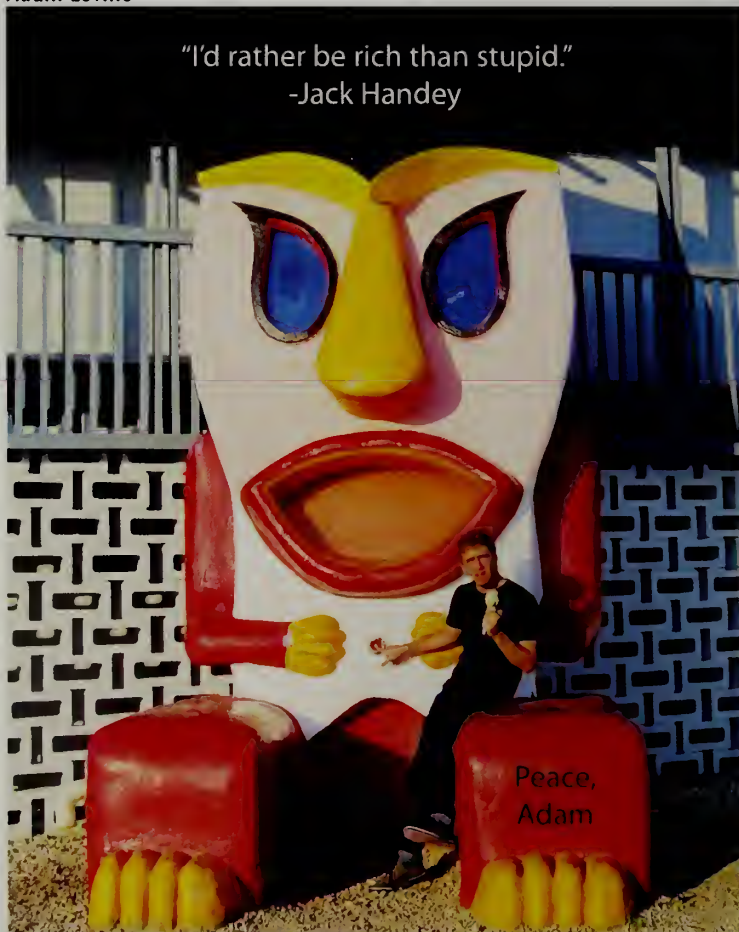

Aaron Mentos

"I always wanted to say this...Fer Shizzle."- Tiger Woods

thanks, Aaron

Adam Levine

"I'd rather be rich than stupid."
-Jack Handey

Peace, Adam

Aazim Jafarey

"I am who I am because of who we all are"

lucid dreams
live in a dream

Advaya Krishna

Be a yardstick of quality. Some people aren't used to an environment where excellence is expected.

-Steve Jobs

PHI UPS ACADEMY

berto de la Cruz

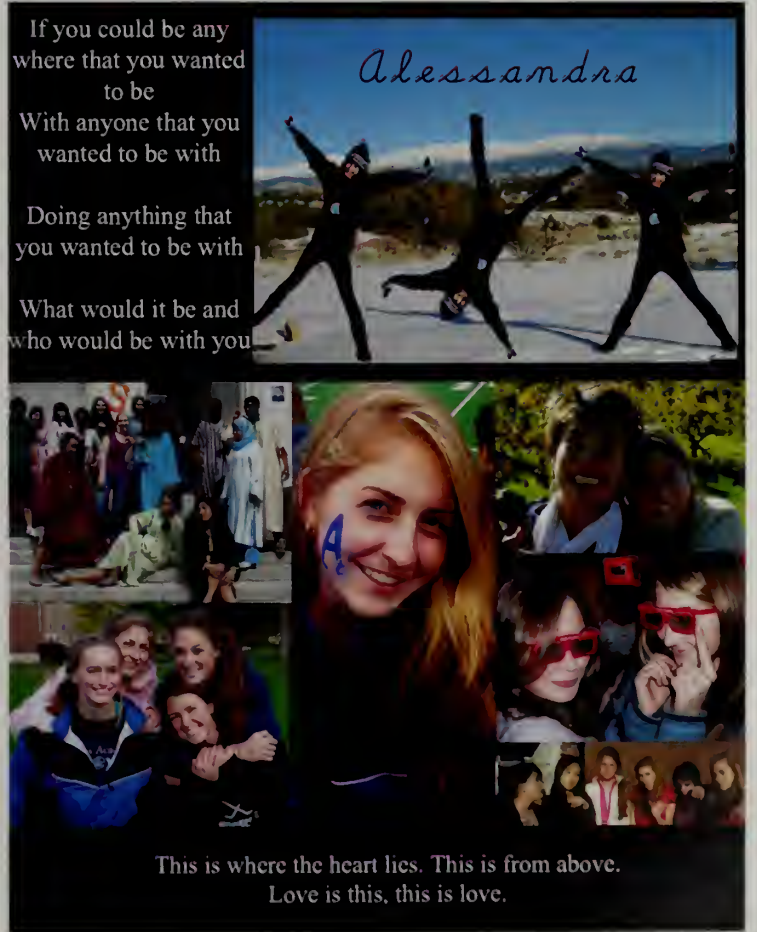

Alec Weiss

Aleksander Huzar

Alessandra Powell

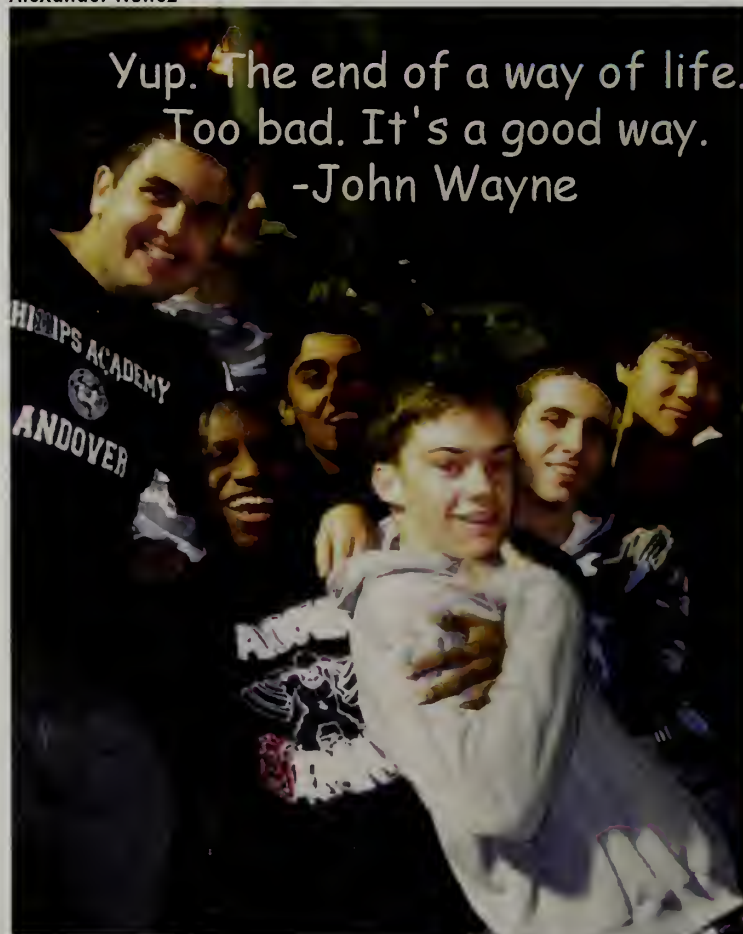

Alex Salton

"Do what you love."

Thanks,
Salton

Alexander Nunez

Yup. The end of a way of life.
Too bad. It's a good way.
-John Wayne

Alexander Nanda

It is good to have an end to journey toward,
but it's the journey that matters, in the end

Thanks,
Alexander

Alexandra Moroney

exandre Abitbol

AT A TIME LIKE THIS...

Ilan Yau

Friends.
Experiences.
Memories.
Thanks for everything.

Alan '11

Alice Tao

Amanda Thran

Thank you

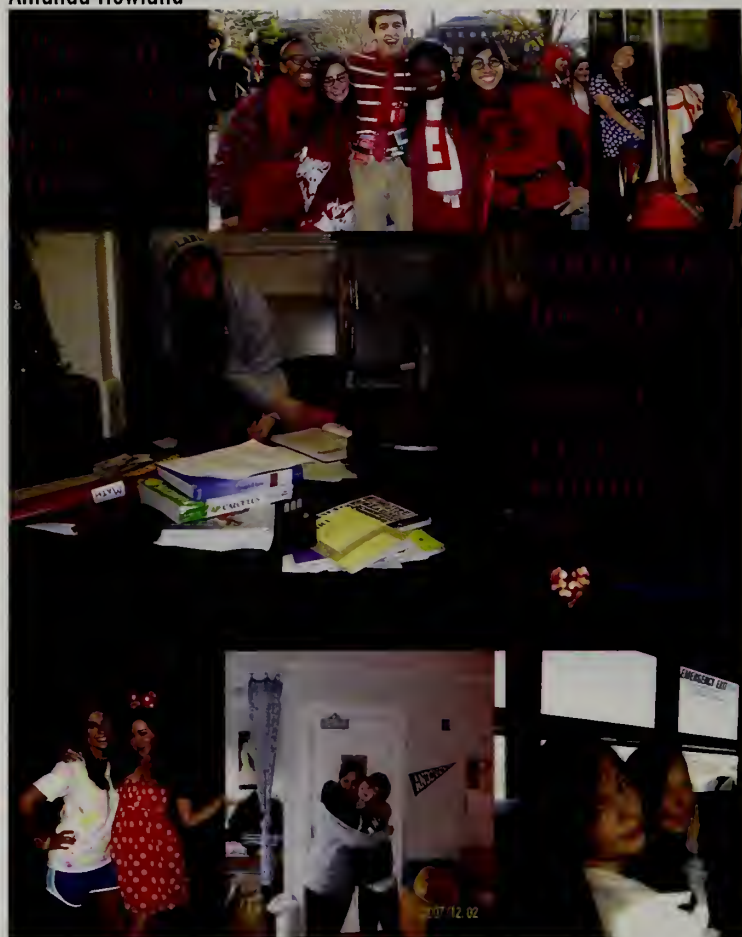

for being my family

UM, Azure, GHop, CL, AZ, GVS, Isham '08, Smith House, friends, teachers, coaches

Mandi

Amanda Howland

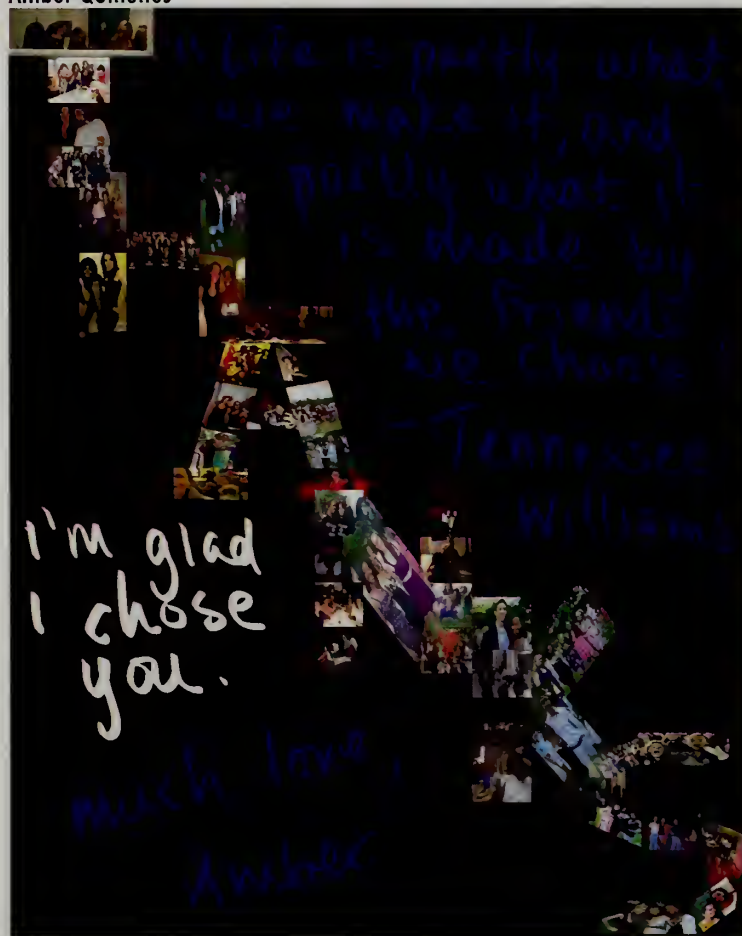

Amanda Wang

Thank you.

♥ Amanda

Amber Quinones

Ambika Krishnamachar

Andrew Woonton

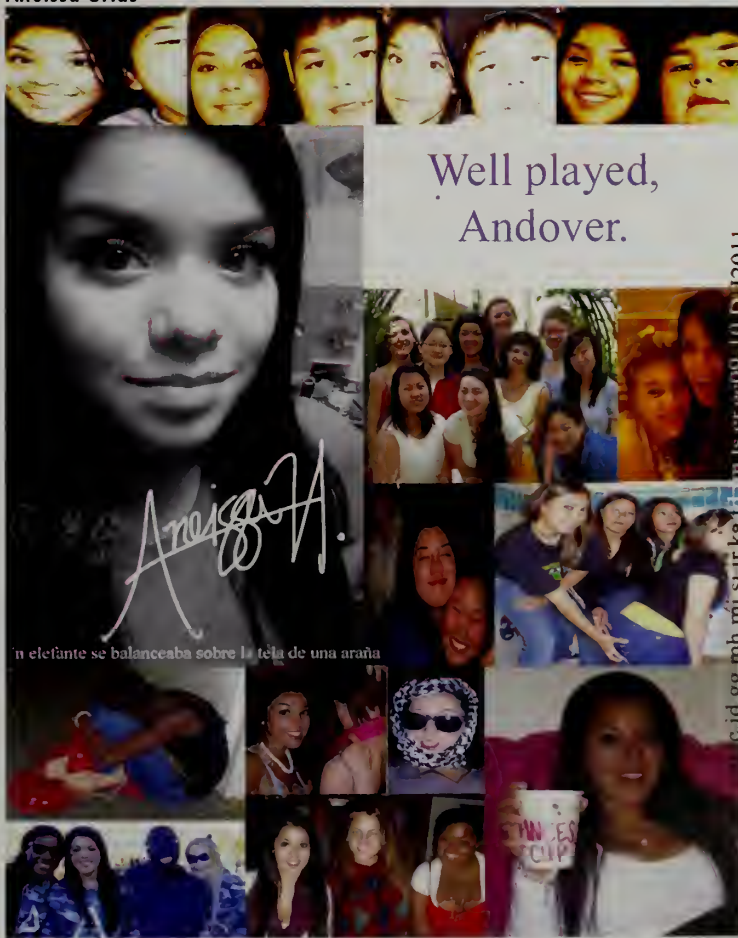

Andrew Sullivan

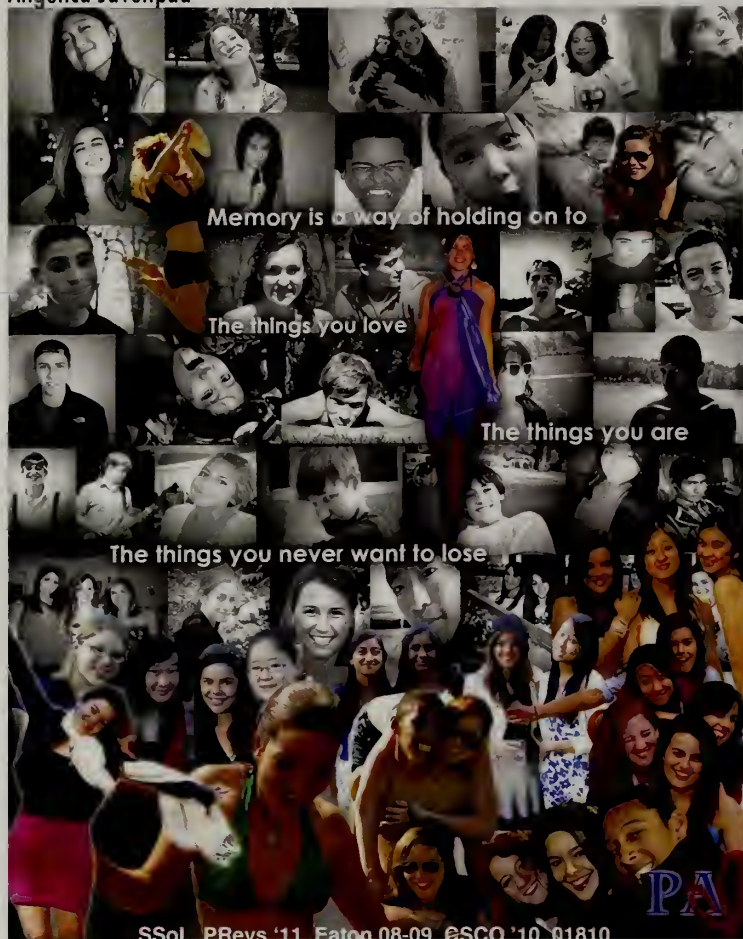

Andrew Mitchell

Aneissa Urias

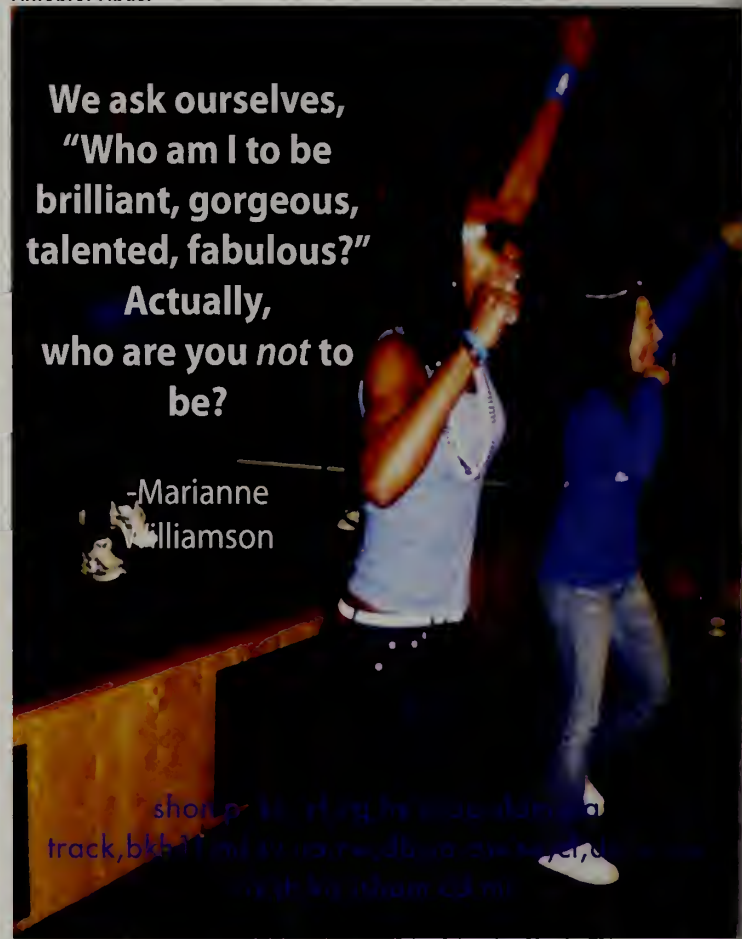

Angelica Javenpaa

Ann Doherty

Aniebiet Abasi

Anthony Baldassari

April Liang

Thank You
For Everything.

It's been awesome.

April Liang

Aram Shrestinian

Aram

Argelys Sam Oriach

"I LEAVE YOU MY PORTRAIT SO THAT YOU WILL HAVE MY PRESENCE ALL THE DAYS AND NIGHTS THAT I AM AWAY FROM YOU."

Thank you, Andover, for the love, the knowledge, and the experience.

Yours,

A. Samuel Oriach

BH. CII. NH. SC. PN. ME. KH. FT. THIDA. YRKS.

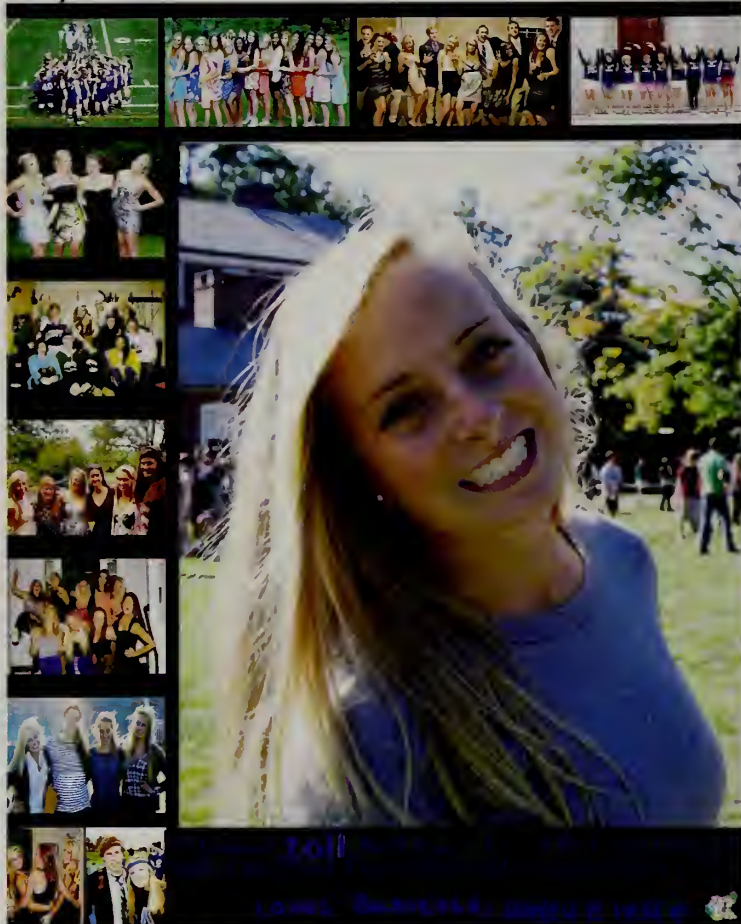

Ashleigh Vargas-Aquino

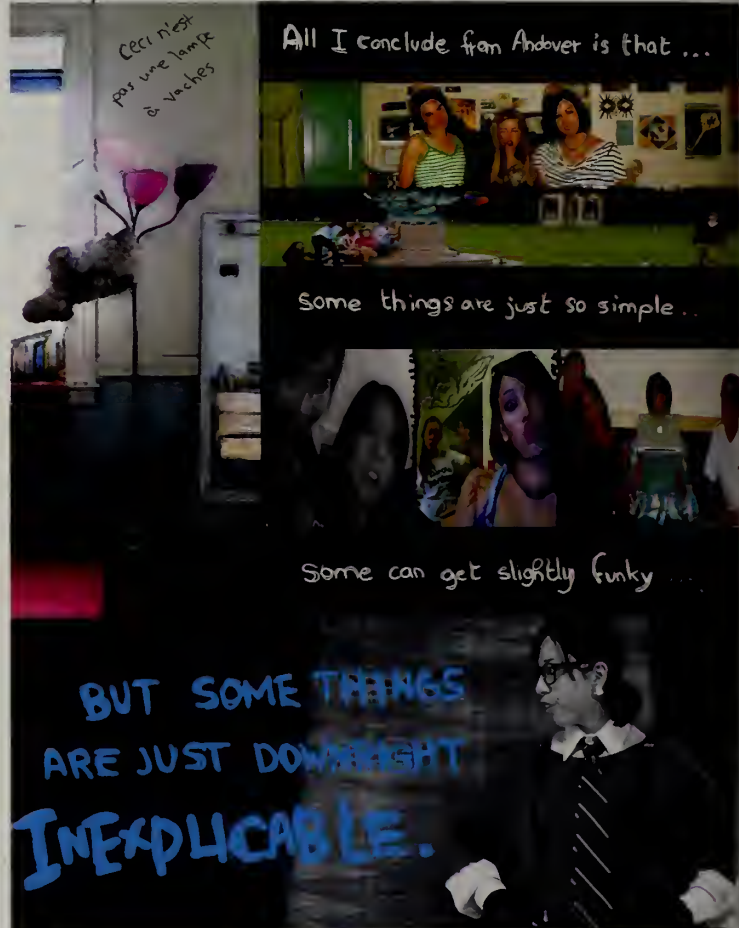

Live Laugh Love

Thanks Andover
- Ashleigh Vargas

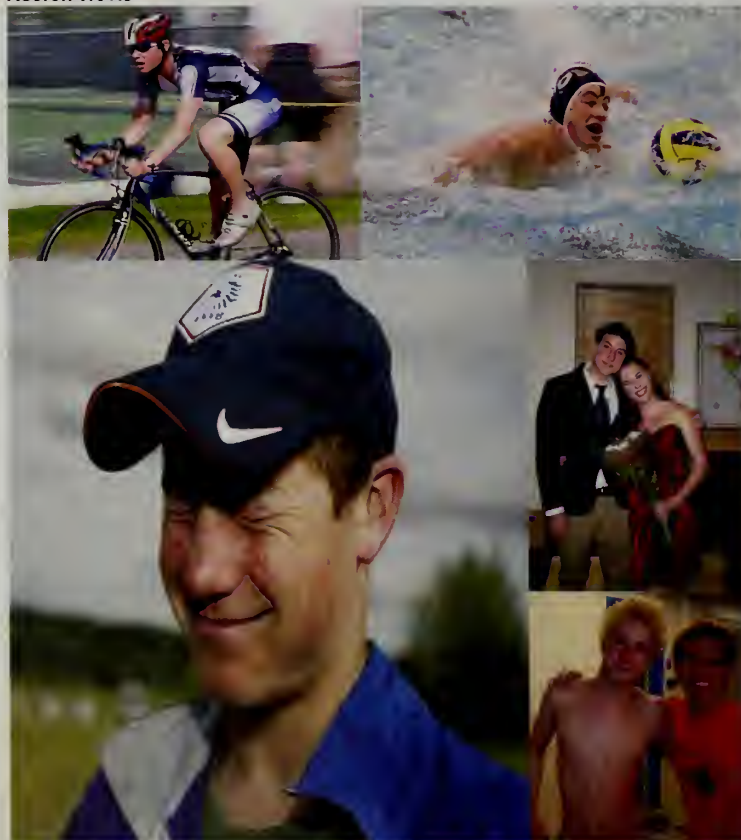

Ashley Hess

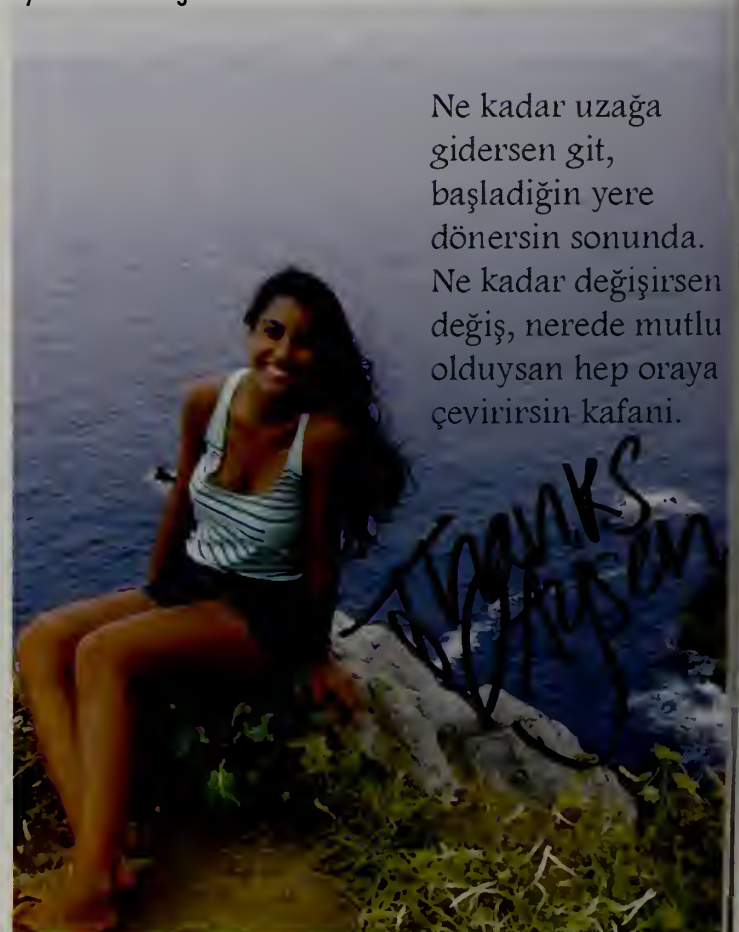

Aube Rey Lescure

Austen Novis

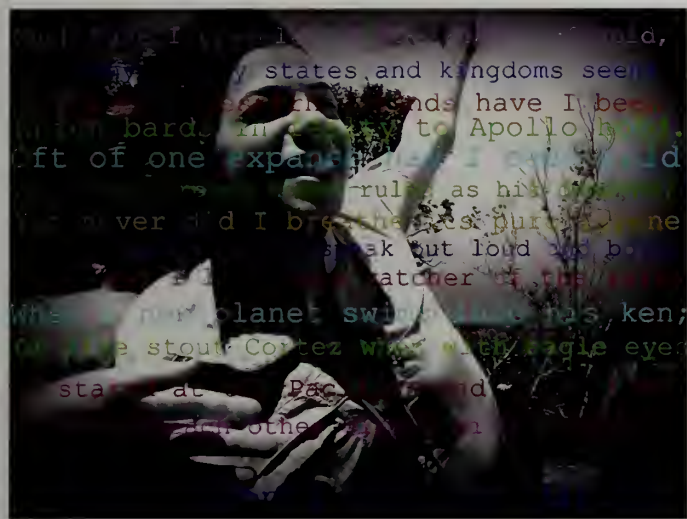

Aysen Muderrisoglu

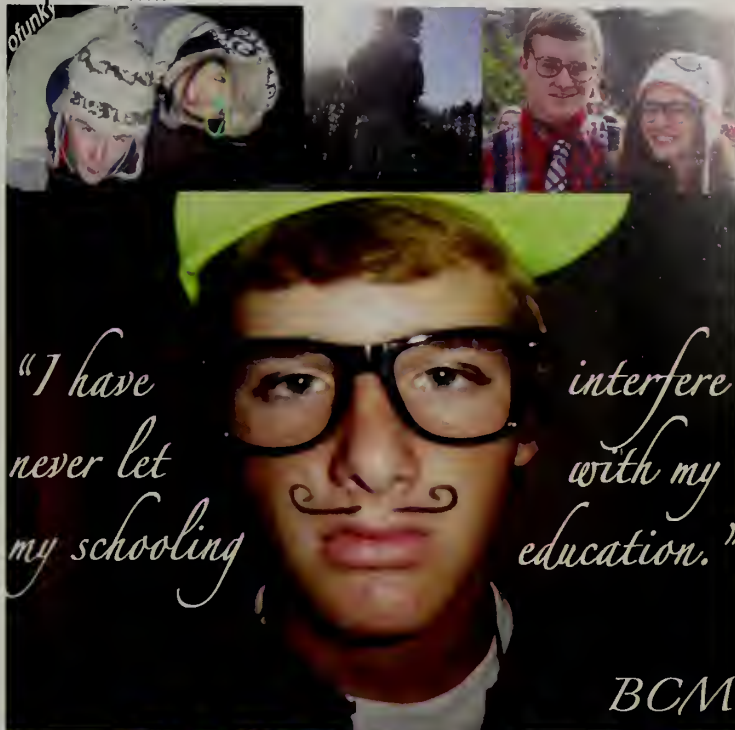

Your Welcome Andover Austen

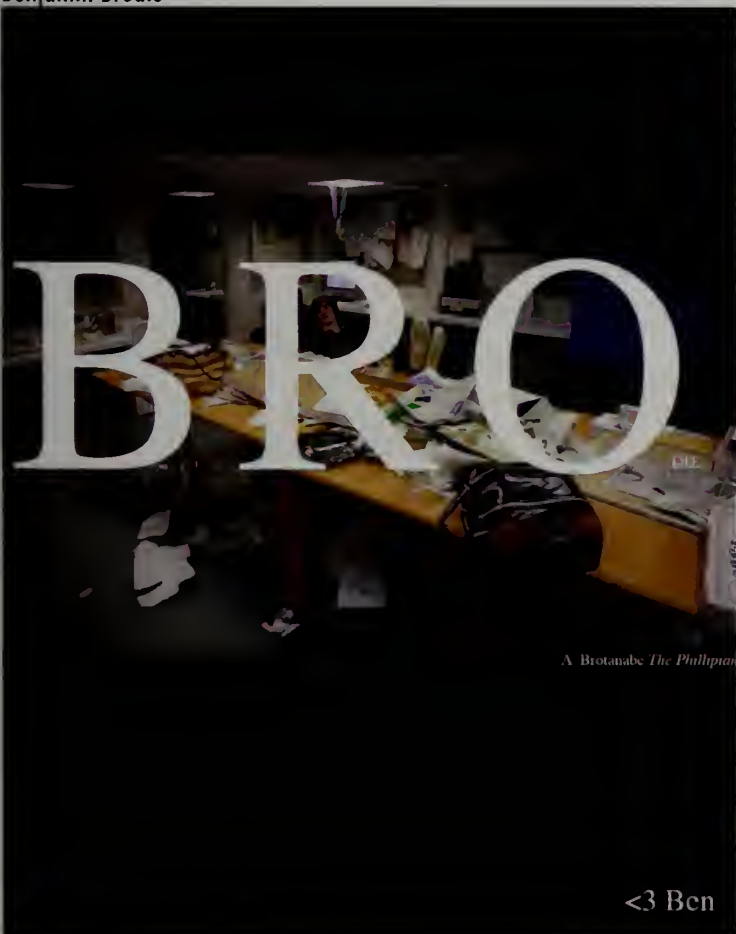

Benjamin Talarico

Benjamin Morris

Benjamin Brodie

Benjamin Burke

Benjamin Podell

Brandon Lam

Bennett Green

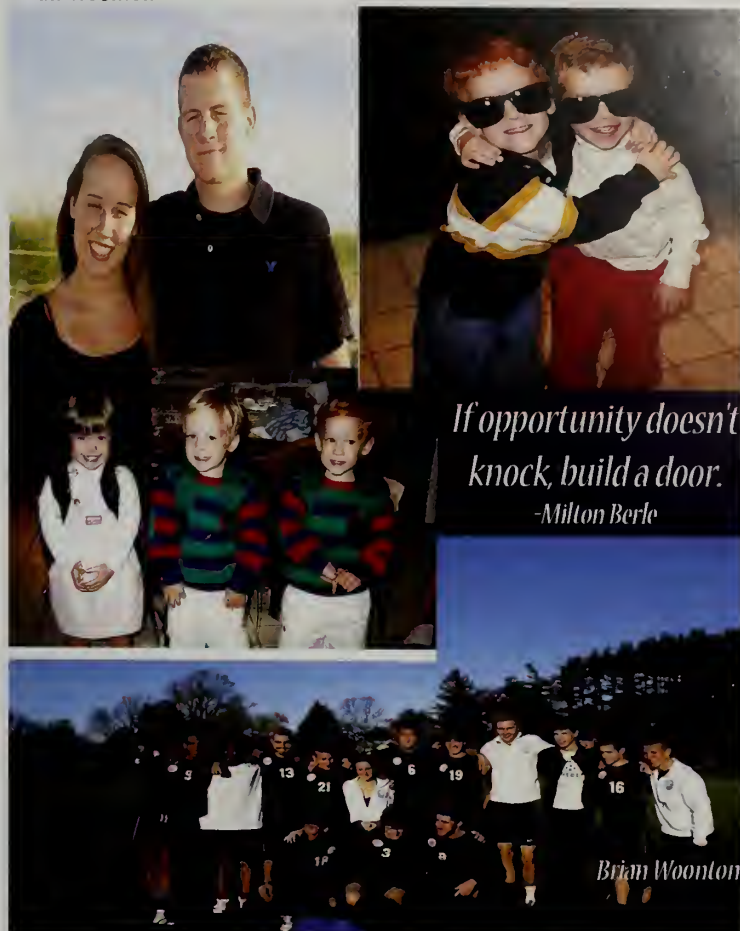

Brandon Wright

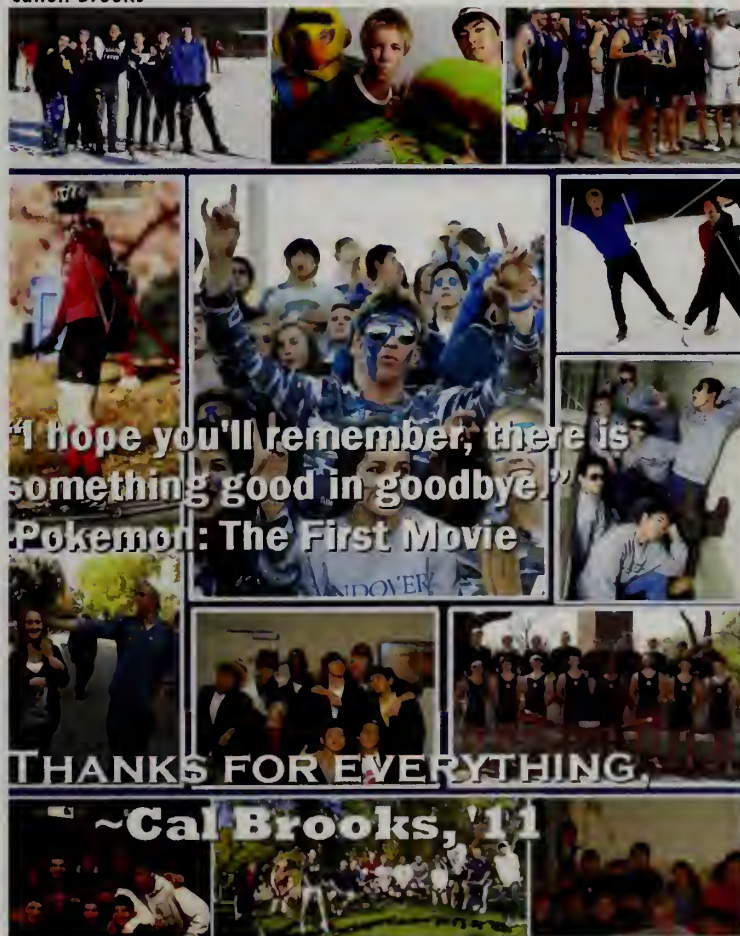

Brian Woonton

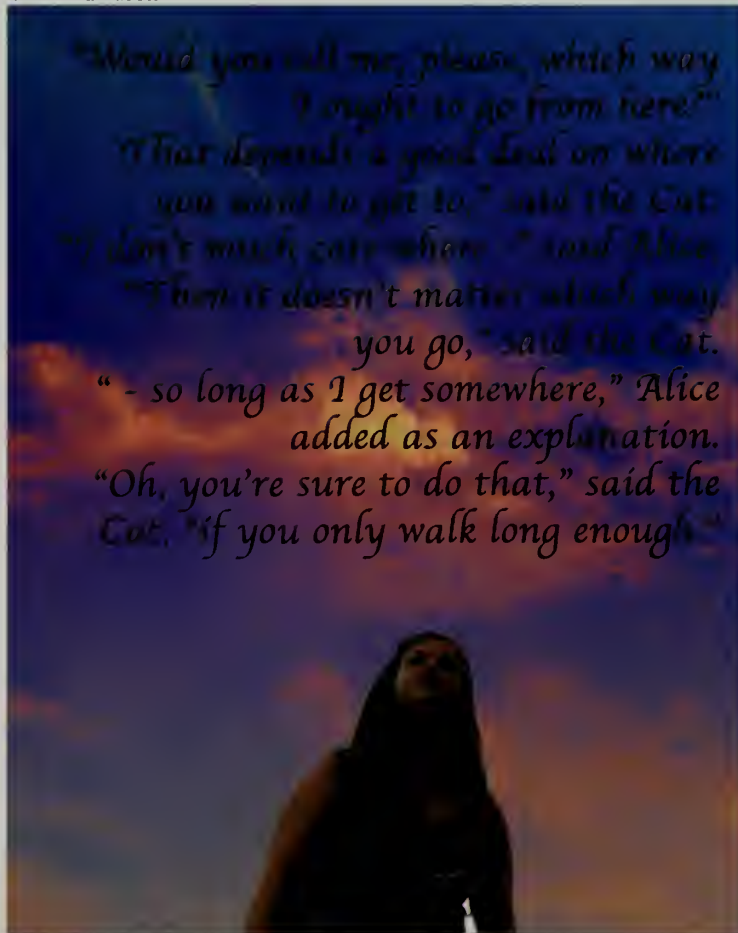

Callen Brooks

Don't worry, be happy.

Thanks for an amazing
four years. -Caitlin

Callie Davidson

Calvin Zhao

Caneron Phillips

Cameron Pierson

Amilla Brandfield-Harvey

Thank you, Andover.

There are things that are known and things that are unknown and things that are in between. There are doors.
- Wilson Brier

Cara Evarts

Thank you, Andover. You gave me a fish when I least expected it!

Carolyn Harmeling

Carolyn Whittingham

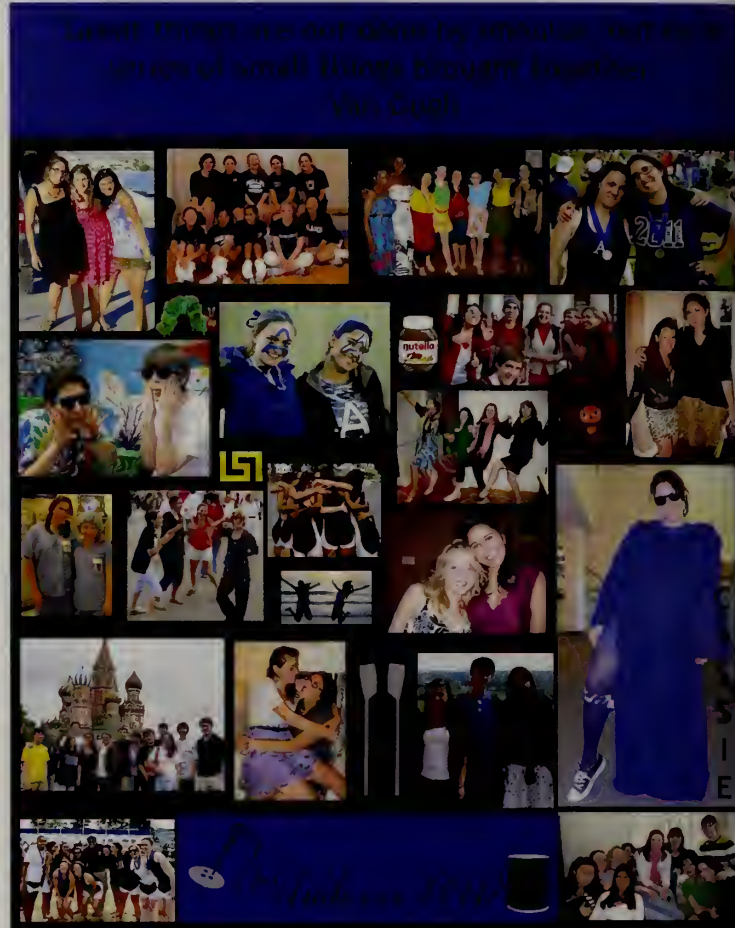

Casey McQuillen

Catherine Cleveland

Cassandra Coravos

Catherine Wiener

atherine Cannon

photo by Gabbie Cirelli '12

Charles Cockburn

"Nothing makes the earth seem so spacious as to have friends at a distance; they make the latitudes and longitudes."
-Henry David Thoreau

Charles Cockburn

Charles Oliva

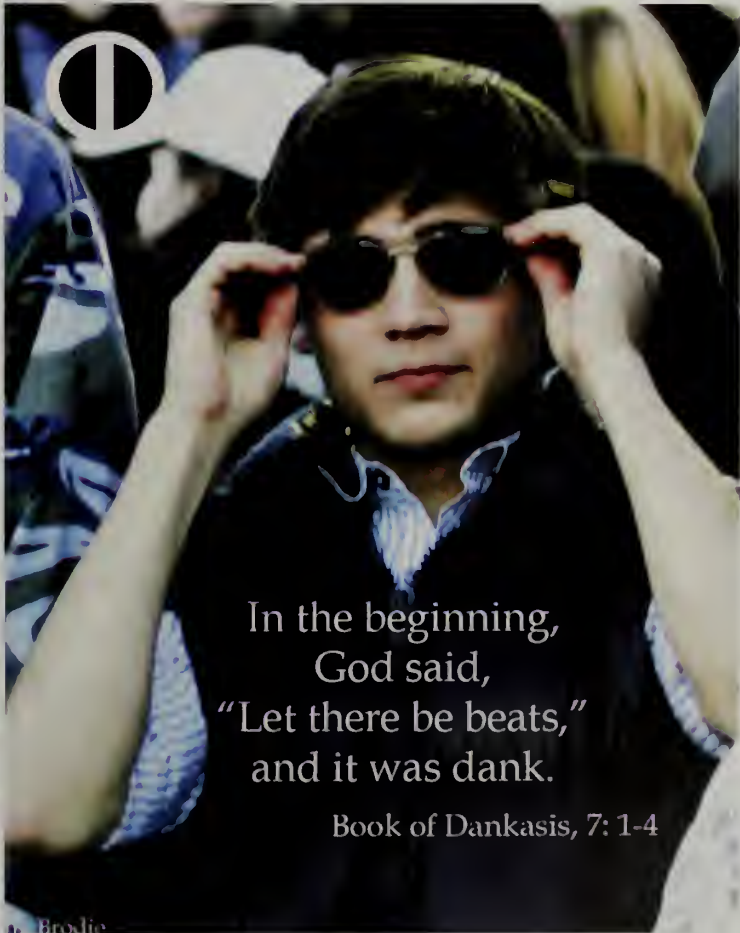

The two most important things in life are close friends and a strong bullpen.

-Bob Lemon

QUITNES

Charles Danner

In the beginning,
God said,
"Let there be beats,"
and it was dank.

Book of Dankasis, 7: 1-4

Brodie

Charlotte Cleveland

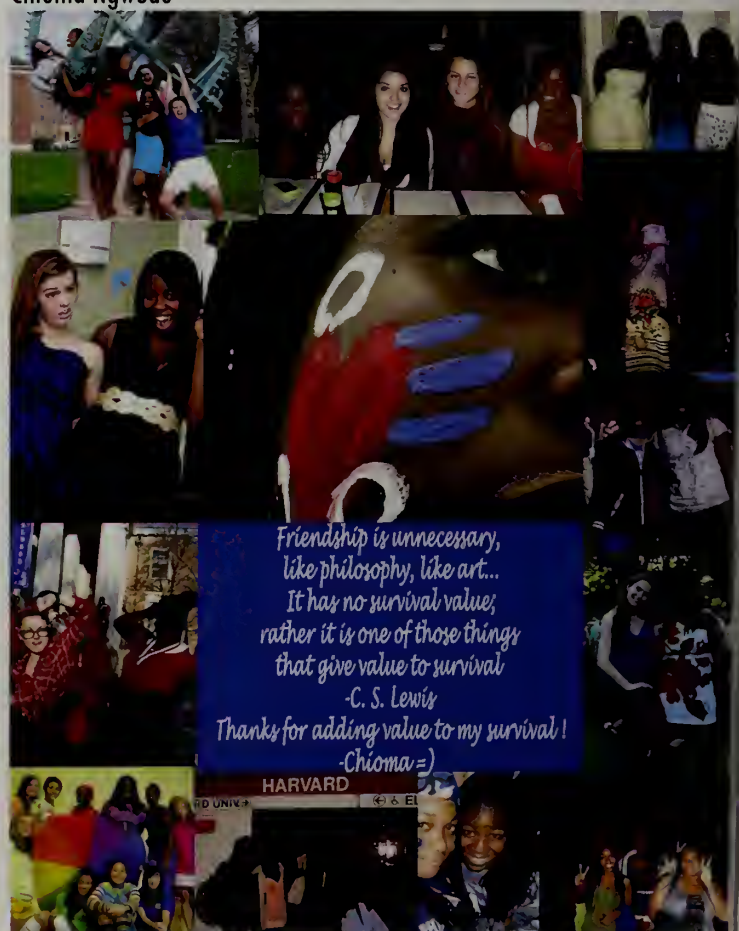

Chiara Baravalle

Chau Tran

Chioma Ngwudo

Forsan et haec olim meminisse iuvabit.
- Virgil

I wish you way
more than luck.
- Chloe

Christopher Meyer

"YOU WANT SOME RESPECT? GO OUT THERE AND GET IT FOR YOURSELF."

- DON DRAPER

Stearns, Philo, CXXXII, Crew...
Thank you

Christine Whalen

"Be who you are and say what you feel, because those who mind don't matter, and those who matter don't mind."
- Dr. Seuss

Here's to late nights, long days, procrastination, panic, sleep, and lack thereof, common room debates, Stevens, Sam House, dorm drama, 24 Hour Plays, Theater 520, the Kinsey scale, sporadic studying and the friends I've shared it all with.
It's been many things, but never boring.
Love, Christie

Christopher Cameron

Thank you to my friends, teammates, coaches, teachers, and family who have helped me along the way.

THANK YOU ANDOVER.

GO BLUE.

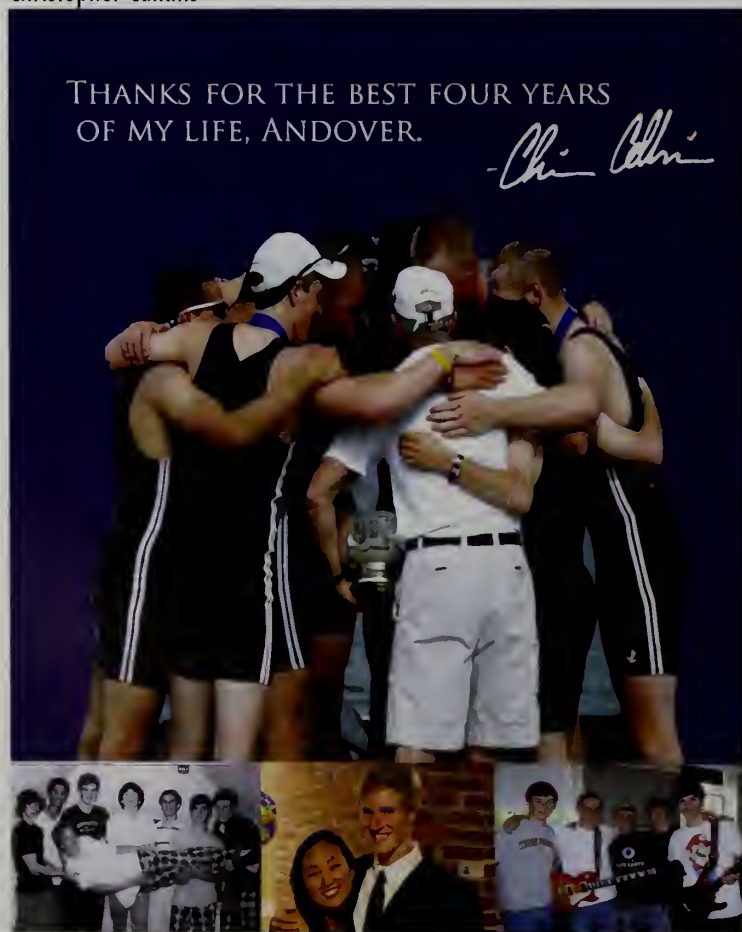

-CC 5

Christopher Kerrigan

Christopher Calkins

Christopher Batcheldor

Christopher Kent

Accept the challenges so that you can feel the exhilaration of victory. --General George S. Patton

Thank You Andover,
Chris Kent

aire Harmange

Clare Ashforth

lifton Brannon

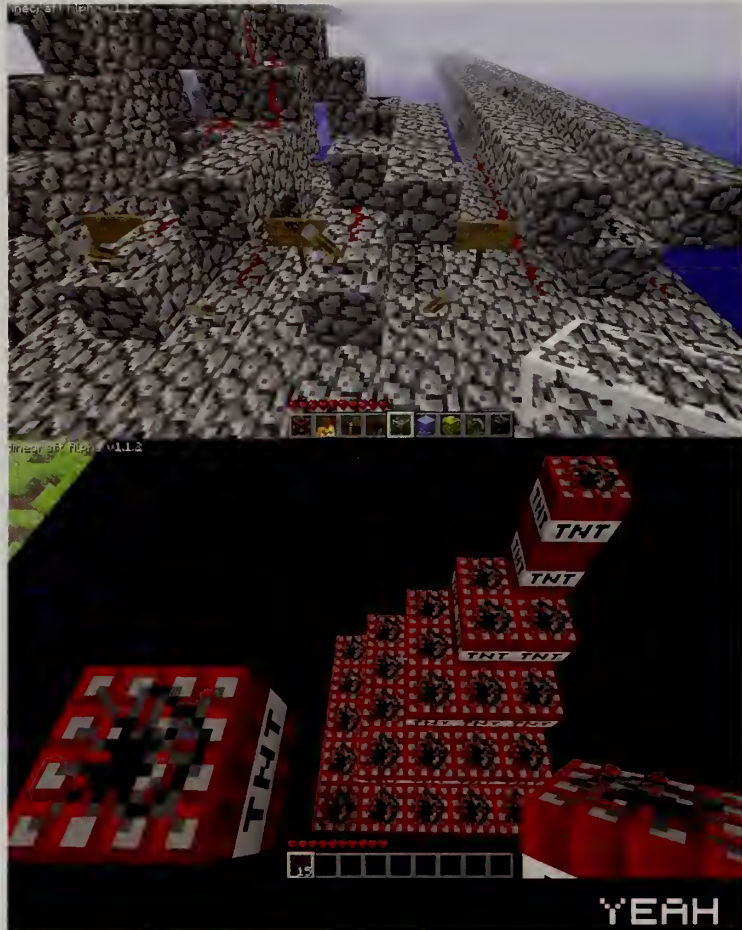

Connor Hickey

T H A N K
S

A N
D O
V
E
R

Connor Fallon

Conor Deveney

"This is my dream
It is my own dream
I dreamt it."

- Ogden Nash

Conor Deveney

Conor Flannagan

Conor Coveney

Grey Angers

Courtney Macdonald

Daniel Larson

Stay Classy, Andover

-Dan

Daniel Moroz

Somewhere, something incredible is waiting to be known
- Carl Sagan

Daniel Moroz

Daniel Aranov

340 FWS

*You must never forget
The essence of your spark
All of that which defines you*

Daniel Santamaria

Thankfully, I picked up more than just this during my time here.

*Andover,
it's been real.*

Dan Santamaria

David Janovsky

I've Been Waiting So Long To Be Where I'm Going

Rock On -David

Delaney Burke

Thanks for the memories.

Te quiero, Delaney

emetrius Lalanne

Denzil Bernard

D. Steven Kosovac

Dhanaporn Choong

Diego Mendia

Dominick Chang

The Foxcroft Four

A. Kitch It's been a trip. Conn Pierson Dom Chang 愛 Willie Reiser

Dylan Hawkins

Earl Graves

Edith Young

E. Teddy Smyth

Elaine Kuoch

Eleonora Petrulli

Elina Segreto

KAM. JAC. S69. Wrestling. Crew. Footnotes. Deutsch. Stevens Winter/Spring '10. Day Students. Friends. Family. Class of 2011.

E. Givens Parr

Elizabeth Goldsmith

ALL YE STUMBLING SLEEPWALKERS,
YOU WERE NOT MISINFORMED.
BUT IN THESE TONGUE-TIED TIMES,
THIS IS FOR THE HOMELESS HEARTS AND ANXIOUS FINGERS.

Elizabeth Kelly

“...not an evil version, but just, you know, a shoe like this one.”

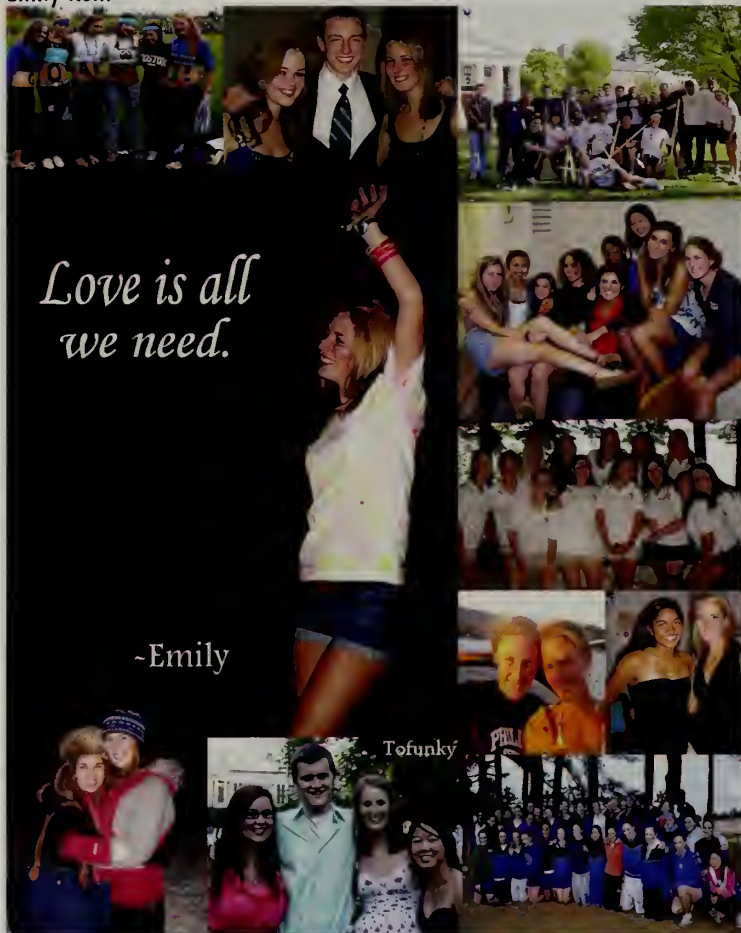

Phillips Exeter Academy

Cici&Byth

Emily Scoble

Emily Kent

Emily Timm

'Friendship is the only cement that will ever hold the world together.'
- Woodrow Wilson

Emma Zanazzi

Emily Rademacher

"You're alive, be happy." - Mr. Mag

Thanks Andover, for always keeping me happy.

rica Morales

Be who you are and say what you feel because those who mind don't matter and those who matter don't mind

- Dr. Seuss

*Thanks For Everything
- Erica "*

Esther Muradov

Life is infinitely stranger than anything the mind could invent.

- Sir Arthur Conan Doyle

Thanks for all the memories, Andover.

Much love,

Esther

Evan Hoyt

you know you at the top when only heaven's right above it

- lil wayne

Francis Robinson

When you're young, not much matters. When you find something that you care about, then that's all you got.

~ Frankie

Franziska Hofmann

Garrett Lee

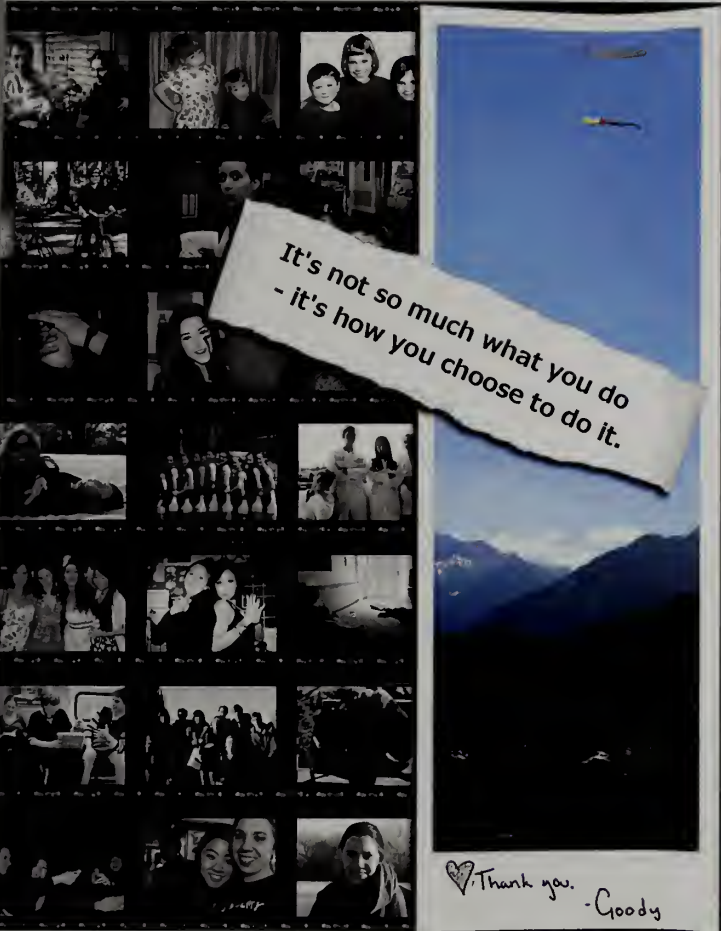

Gabrielle Kwon

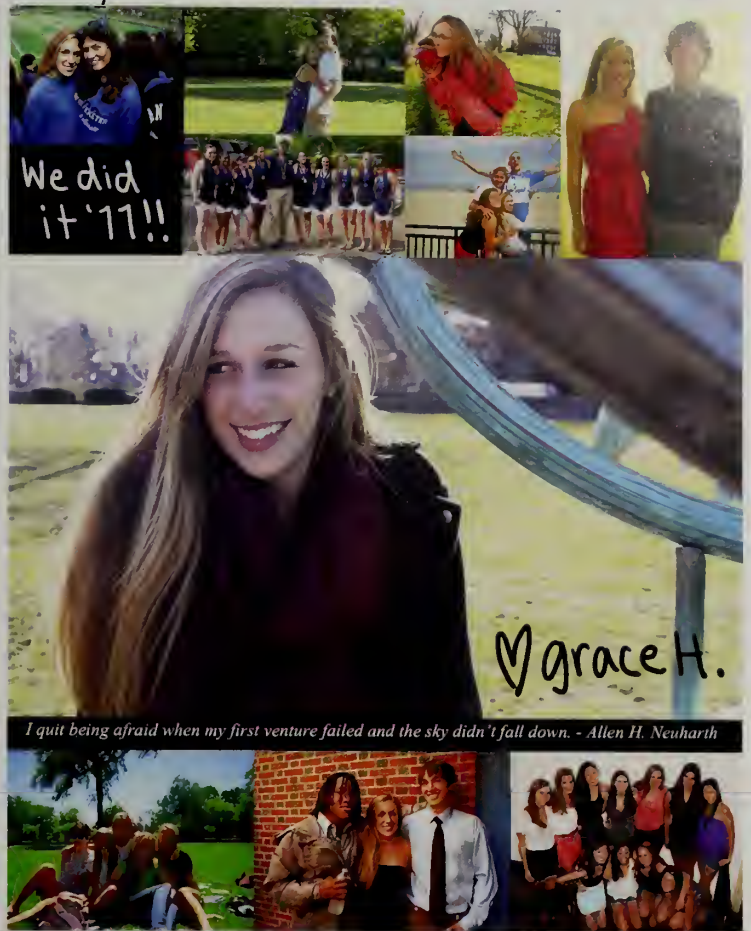

Georgia Pelletier

oodwin Gibbins

Grace Hoyt

Hamed Adeyemi

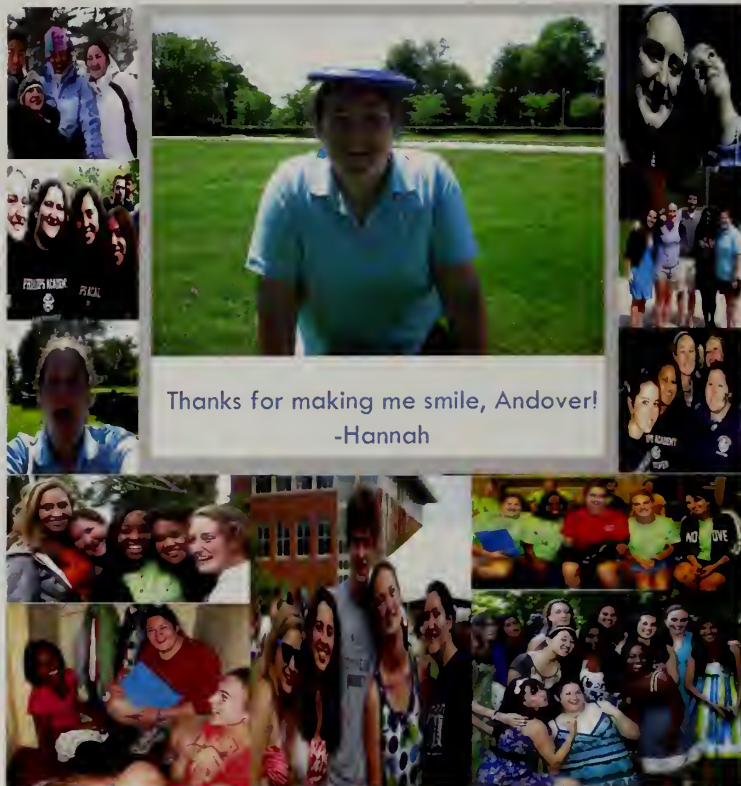

Hana Kim

Hannah Finnie

"Don't cry because it's over.
Smile because it happened."
-Dr. Seuss

Haritha Pula

Hannah McGrath

For all those who've enjoyed my goofiness...

Andover,
Thanks for all the support

He Li Moon

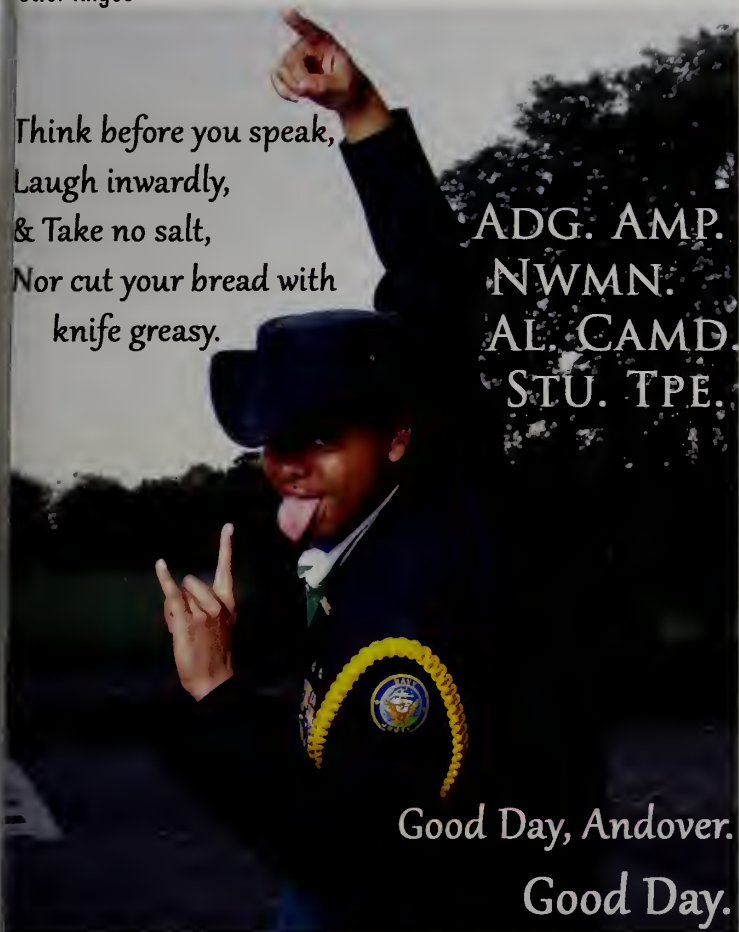

ector Kilgoe

Think before you speak,
Laugh inwardly, & Take no salt,
Nor cut your bread with knife greasy.

ADG. AMP.
NWMN.
AL. CAMD.
STU. TPE.

Good Day, Andover.
Good Day.

Hunter Schlacks

*"The More You
Sweat In Practice,
The Less You Bleed
In Battle"*

Hunter Schlacks

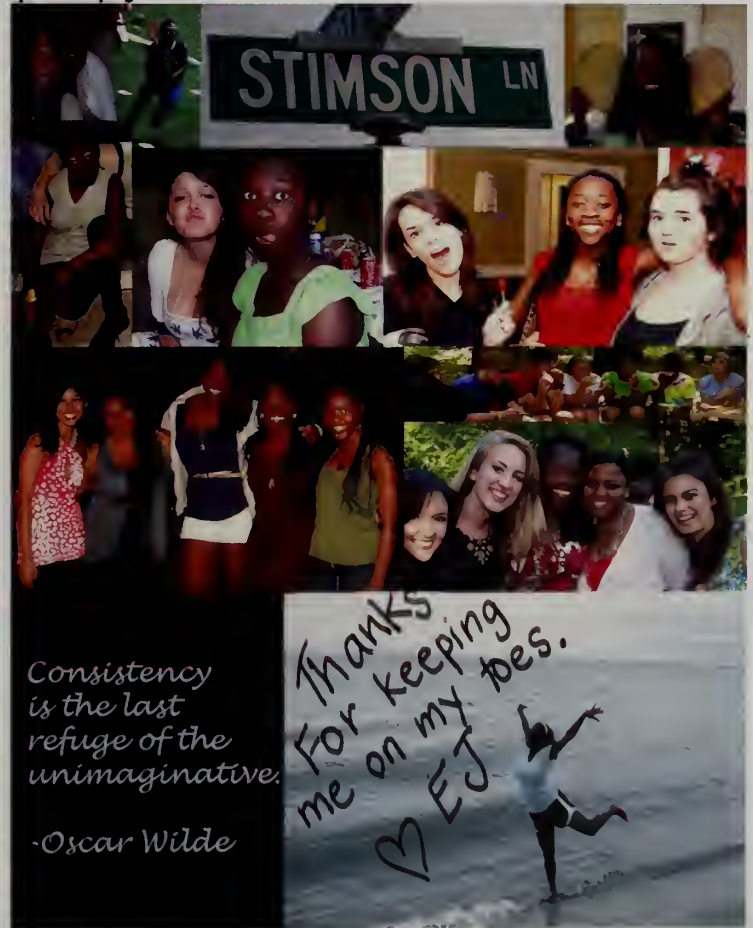

Hugh Alex Smachlo

Alex Smachlo

A-House, Stuart, Stearns, Abbot
Swimming, Water Polo
Emarc

Ijeoma Ejiogu

STIMSON LN

Consistency is the last refuge of the unimaginative.

-Oscar Wilde

Thanks
For keeping me on my toes.
♥ EJ

Jacob Roberts

OPPORTUNITIES MULTIPLY AS THEY ARE SEIZED.
-SUN TZU

Jake Roberts 罗京

Jacqueline Lender

Few of us write great novels; all of us live them
Mignon McLaughlin

Thank you for this chapter Andover Jackie

Jae Eui Shin

Jaepil Eric Yoon

Jacob Rohwer

if you live to be a hundred,

I want to live to be a hundred minus one day, so i never have to live without you. - winnie the pooh

Jane Chen

Life is like a roller coaster and I'm about to throw up.

JUST...kidding. Thank you Andover.
Love, Jenny

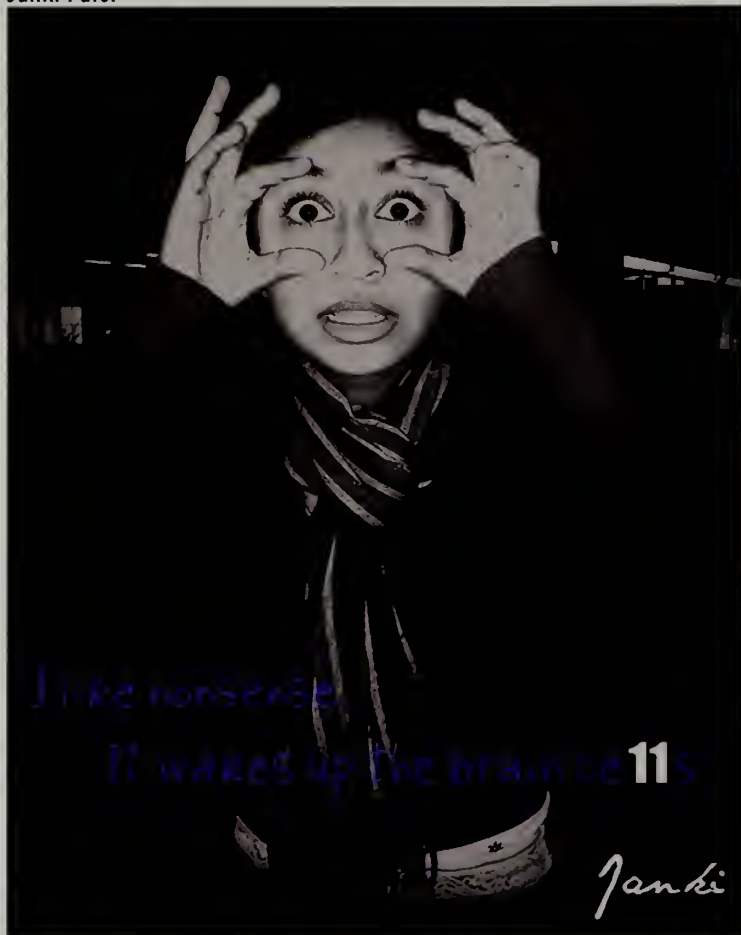

James Casselberry

Janina Monecke

Janki Patel

Jared Curtis

Jasmine Edison

Jason Bucu

y Dolan

What is the feeling when you're driving away from people, and they recede on the plain till you see their specks dispersing?
Is the too huge world vaulting us, and it's good-bye.
I'm soon jetted to the next crazy venture beneath the sun.

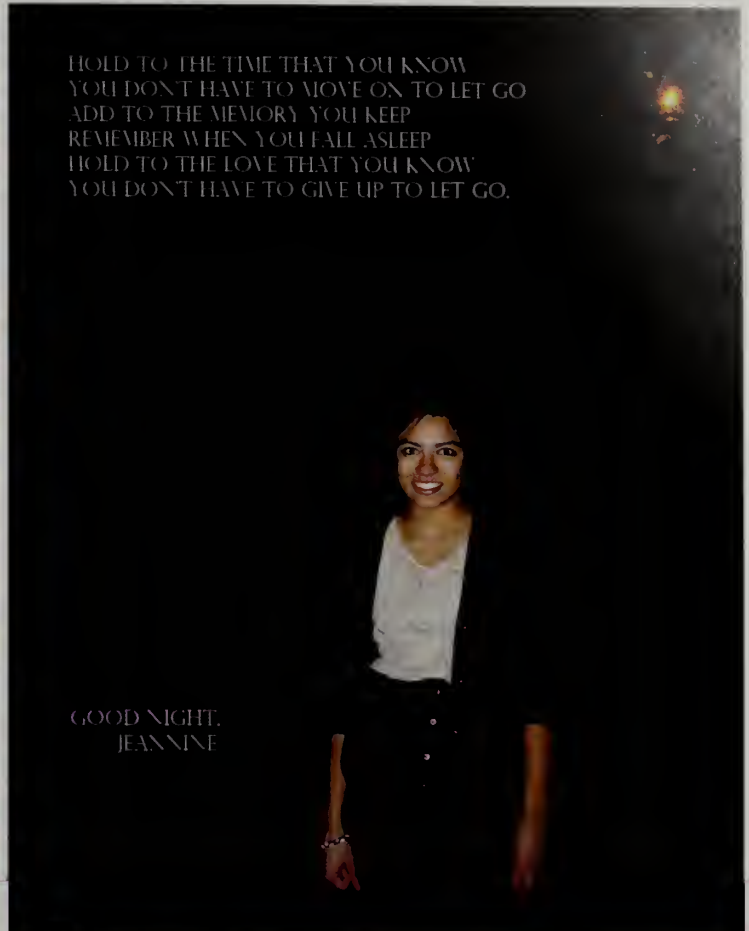

ee Eun Lee

Thank you, Andover, for all the opportunities you have given me.

Jeannine Anderson

HOLD TO THE TIME THAT YOU KNOW
YOU DON'T HAVE TO MOVE ON TO LET GO ADD TO THE MEMORY YOU KEEP REMEMBER WHEN YOU FALL ASLEEP HOLD TO THE LOVE THAT YOU KNOW YOU DON'T HAVE TO GIVE UP TO LET GO.

GOOD NIGHT, JEANNINE

Jennifer Dwyer

May the road rise up to meet you
May the wind be always at your back
May the warm rays of the sun fall upon your home
And may the hand of a friend always be near.
-An Irish Blessing

Thanks for all the wonderful memories!

Jenn

Jennifer Zhou

Jesse Bielasiak

Jeremy Hutton

Jessica Holley

Jessica Weng

"Life is a thing of beauty and a joy forever."
- The History of Love

Jin Heok Park

Thank you Andover, it's been real.
- Will Park

Jinzi Zhang

Philippians 4:13 I can do all things through Christ who strengthens me.

Joann Wang

If ever there is tomorrow when we're not together, there is something you must always remember.
You are braver than you believe, stronger than you seem, and smarter than you think. But the most important thing is, even if we're apart, I'll always be with you. -- Christopher Robin

John Roberts

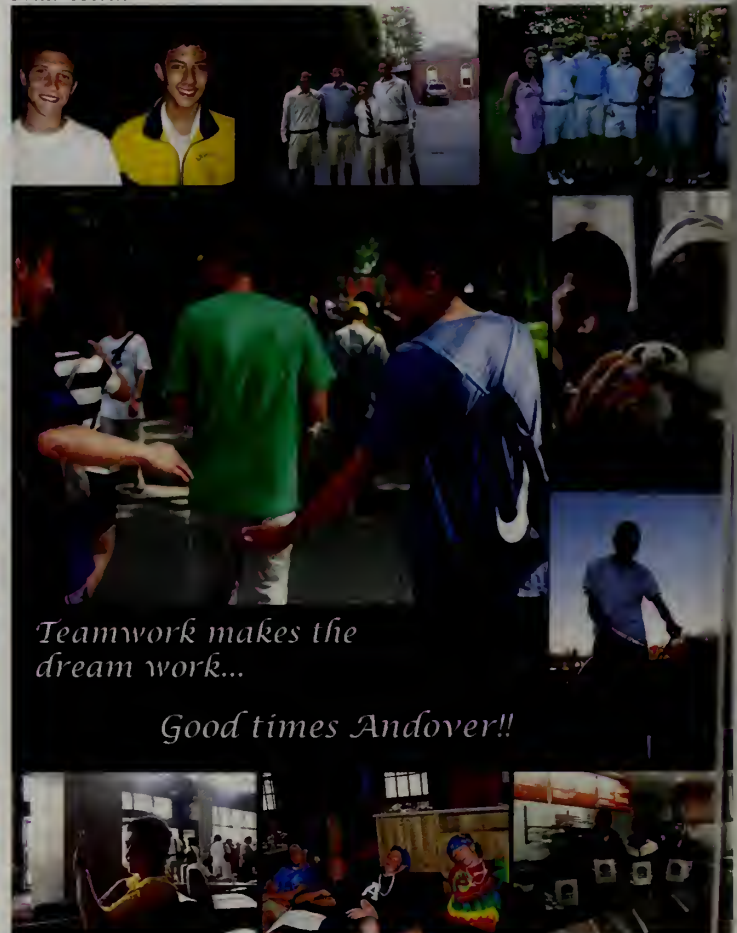

John Joseph Ben Ho

John Ingram

John Cusick

nathan Leung

Jonathan Na

Jordan Bailey

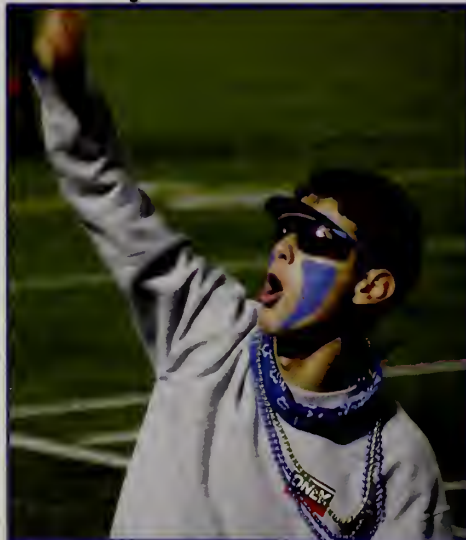

Joseph Kuta

Julia Dean

Julian Danzigar

Thanks for an unbelievable four years!
Andover blue truly can't be beat.
-Julian

Julia Zorthian

Pent, Squash, etc CXXXIII

There's no other place where I'd rather lose sleep.

Love. Always, Julia

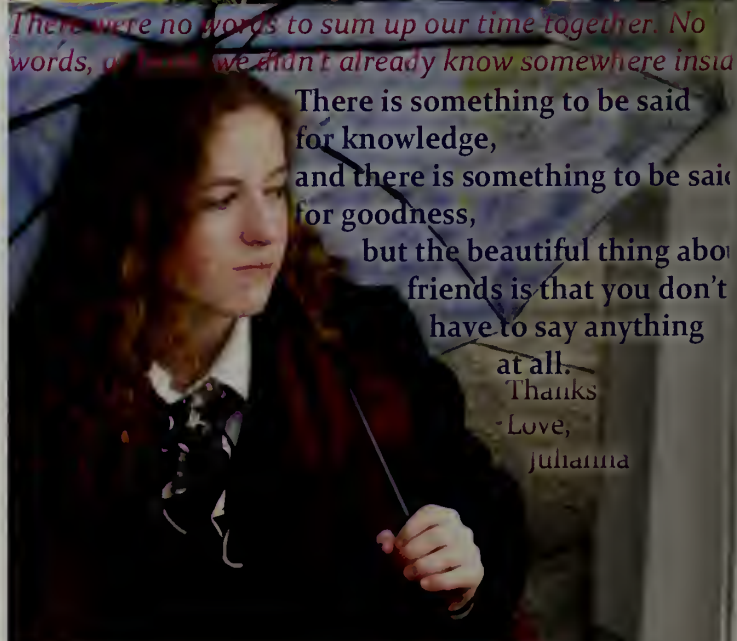

Julianna Meagher

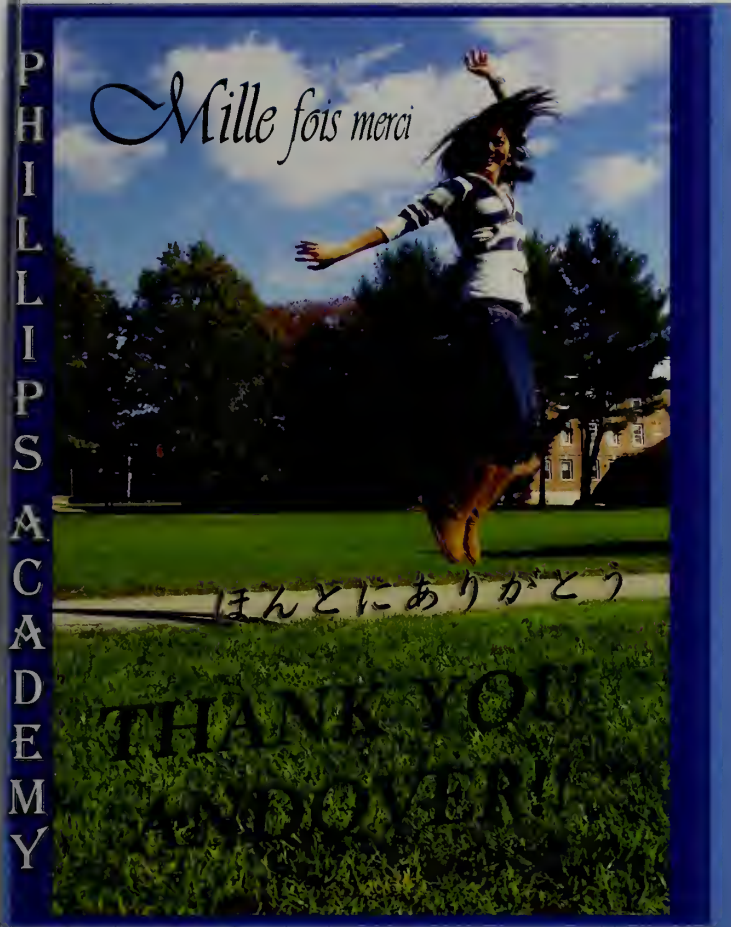

There were no words to sum up our time together. No words, at least, we didn't already know somewhere inside

There is something to be said for knowledge, and there is something to be said for goodness, but the beautiful thing about friends is that you don't have to say anything at all.

Thanks
-Love,
Julianna

Jie Cachia

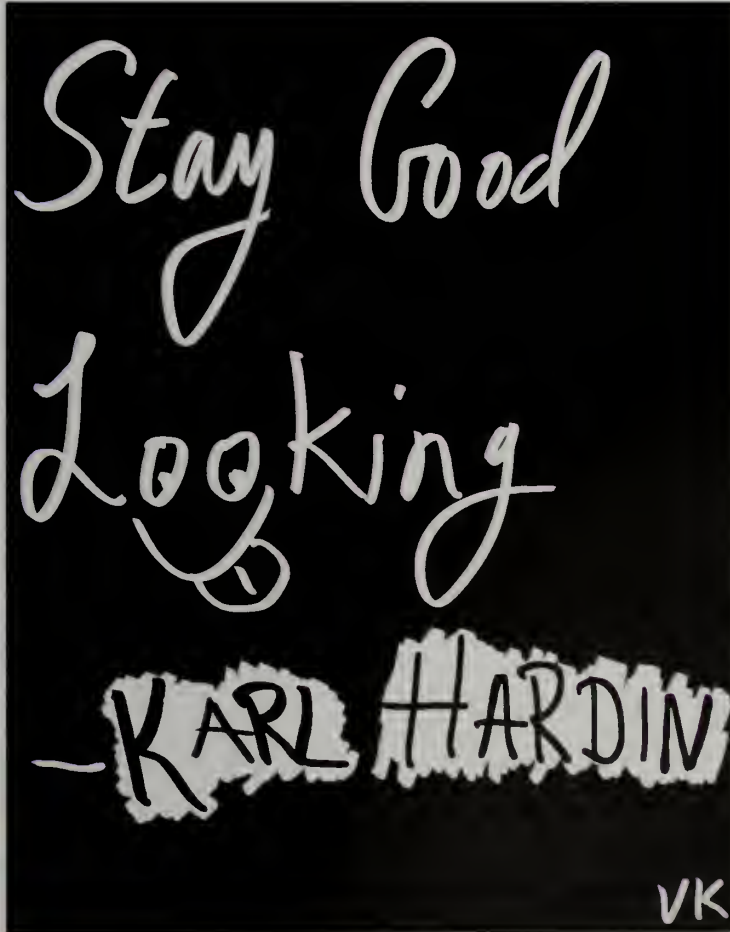

Jung Hun Koh

Kaitlin Fanikos

Karl Hardin

Katherine Taylor-Mighty

Katherine Wootton

Every story has an ending; but in life, every ending is just a new beginning...

Thanks Andover,
for making these past four years unforgettable.

Katherine Rivera

Katherine Bulger

Four years just isn't enough.

Forever,
Katie

Kaytlin Morris

"the more i think it over, the more i feel that there is nothing more truly artistic than to love people"
-VVG

Feel the love
and over,
Katie

Kayla Rosario

Together forever, never apart.
Maybe in distance, but never at heart.

Love,
Kayla

Kellie Walsh

PAFH, PAPUCK, LaxAces

"LIFE IS GOOD" -Daryll

Kelly Powers

Kelsey Phinney

Kemi Amurawaiye

Kendall MacRae

Kenneth Tharp

Don't underestimate the value of doing nothing, of just going along, listening to all the things you can't hear, and not bothering.
-Winnie the Pooh

*Thank you Andover,
Ken Tharp*

Kerry Joyce

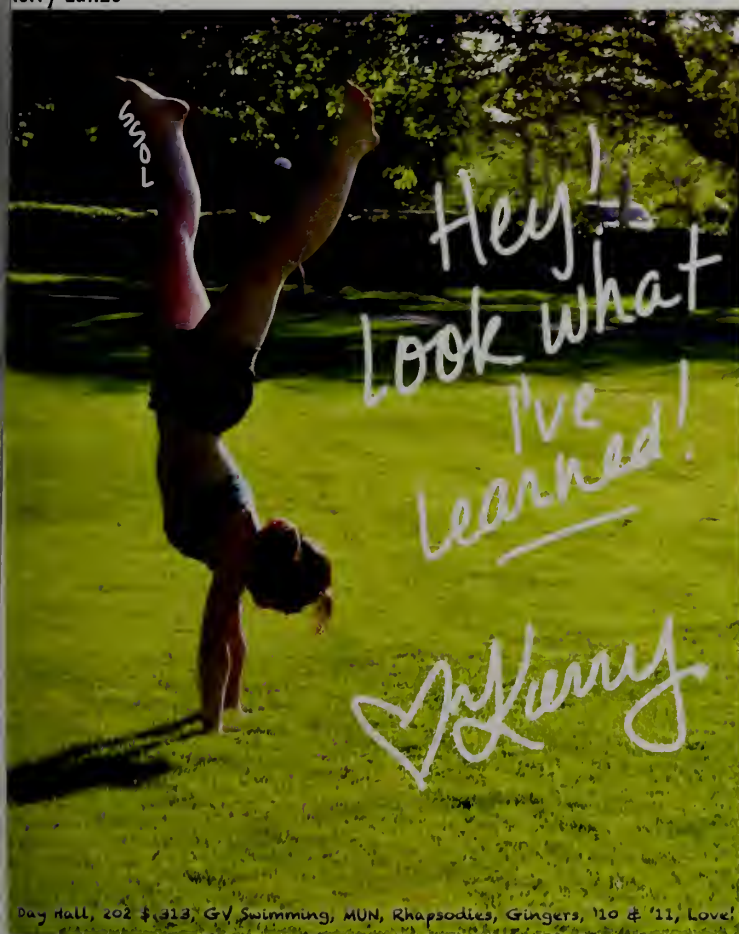

Χαλεπὰ τὰ καλὰ

Thanks for the flower-like days.

Kerry

Kerry Lanzo

*Hey!
Look what I've learned!*

Kerry

Kevin Carey

JUST REMEMBER ALL CAPS WHEN YOU SPELL
THE MAN'S NAME

Kevin Qian

Kevin Song

Kiran Gill

Khadijah Owens

but is that true wisdom which can comprehend that there is a might-have-been which is more than true than truth, from which the dreamer, waking, says not 'did I but dream?' but rather says, indicts high heaven's very self with:
 'Why did I wake since waking I shall never sleep again?'

thanks!
 KG
 "so clever and pure"

ishan Patel

THANK YOU, ANDOVER.

Kristina Ballard

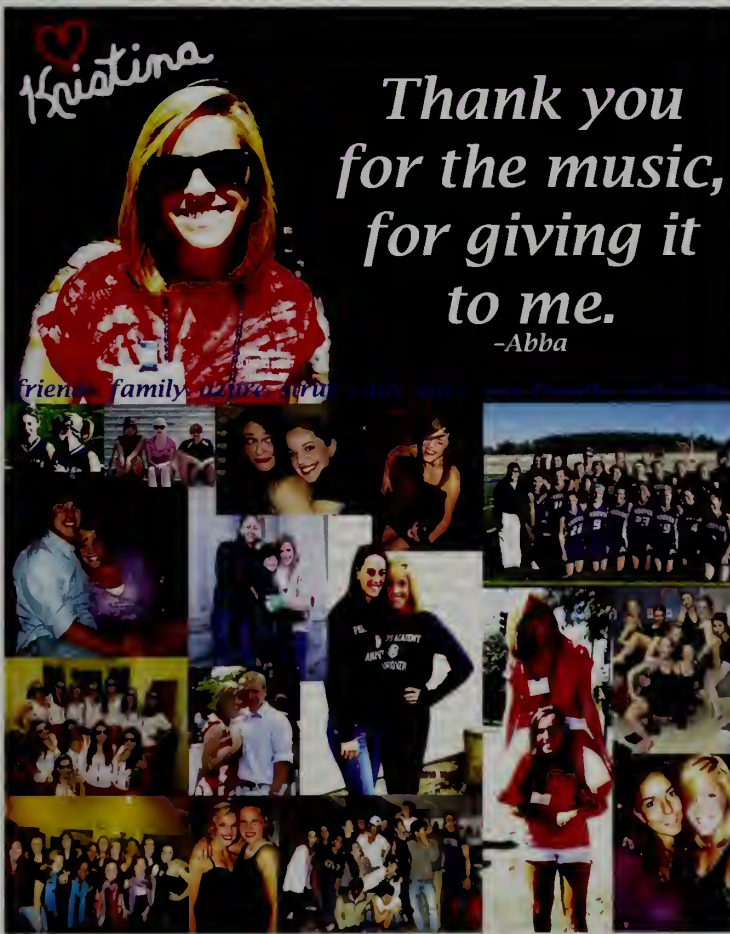

Kristen Faulkner

It is only with the heart that one can see rightly-for what is essential is invisible to the eye.
-The Little Prince

Kristina Rex

Lane Lytle

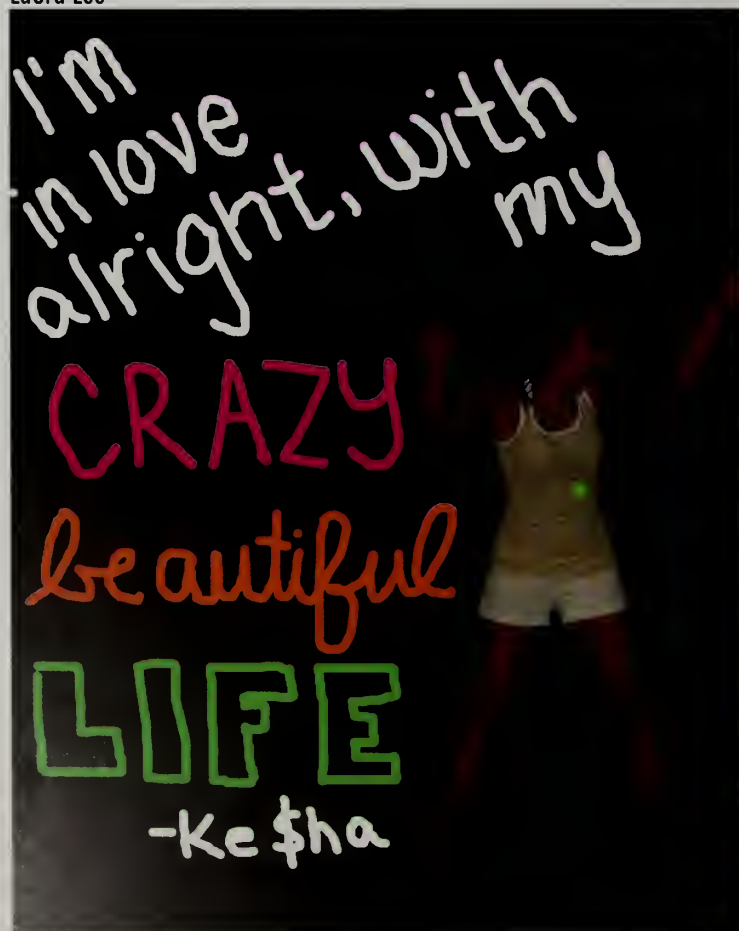

Laura Daniela Pimentel

education is an admirable thing, but it is well to remember from time to time that nothing that is worth knowing can be taught.
-oscar wilde

daniela pimentel

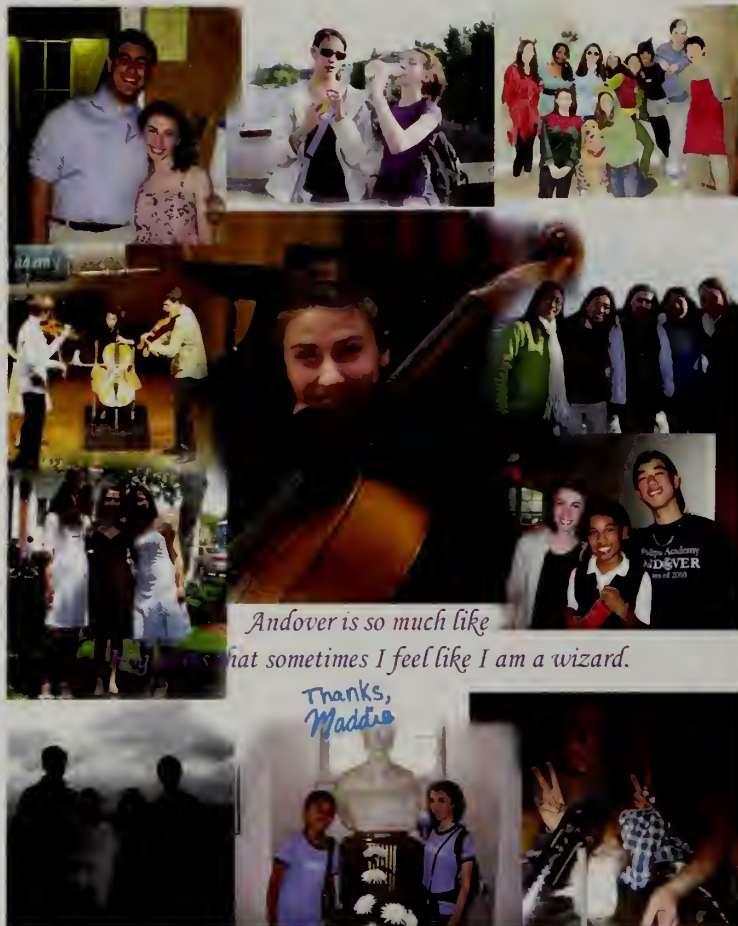

Laura Lee

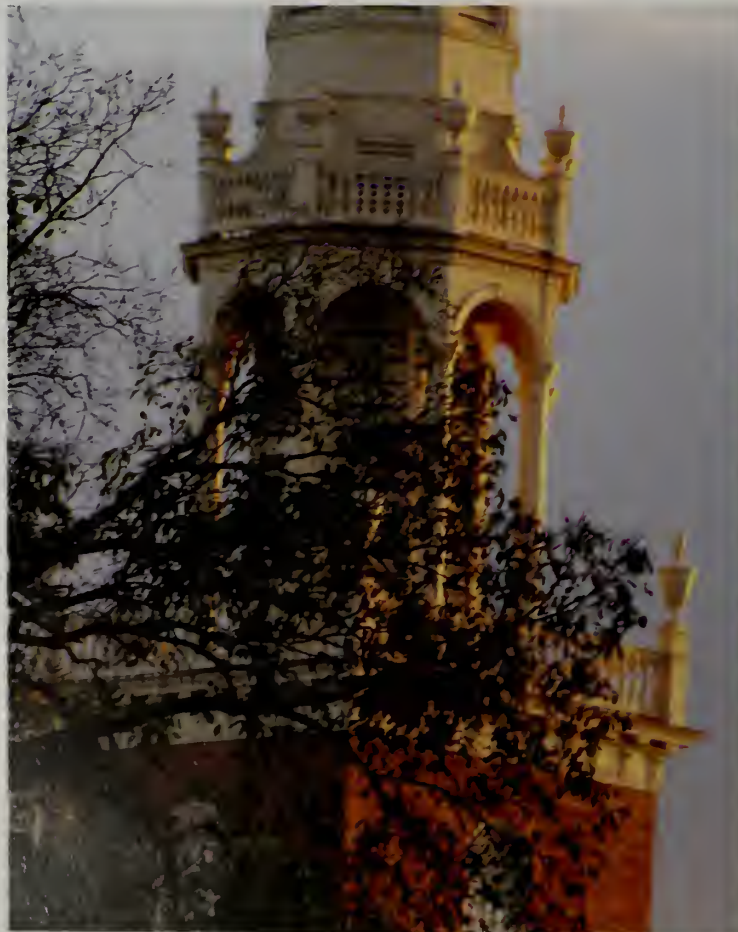

Liam Murphy

Madeleine Tucker

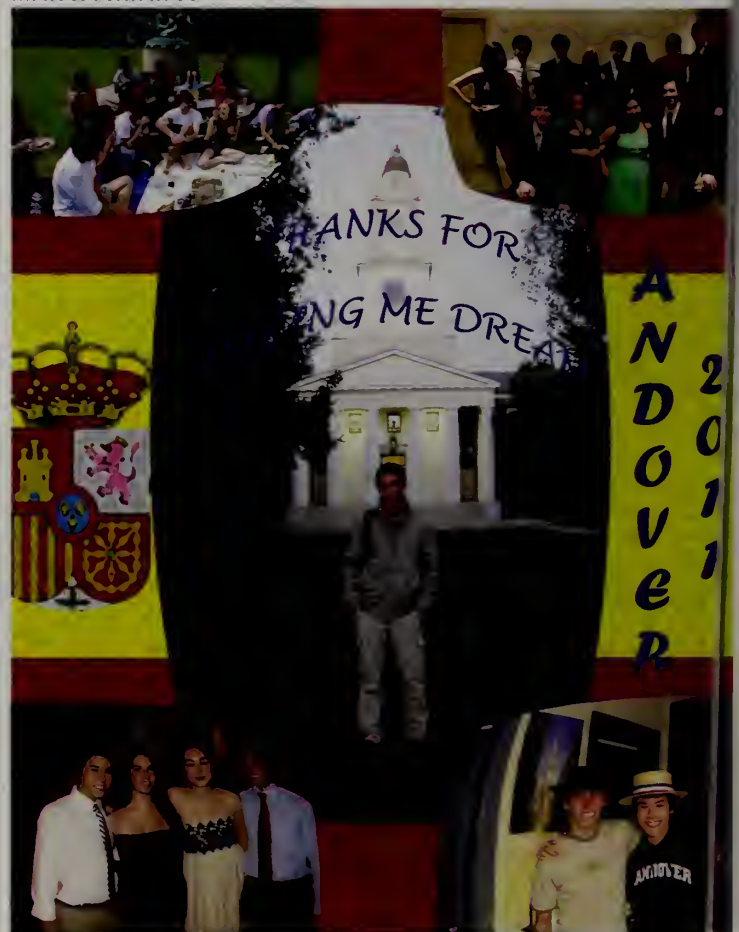

Malcolm Wallace

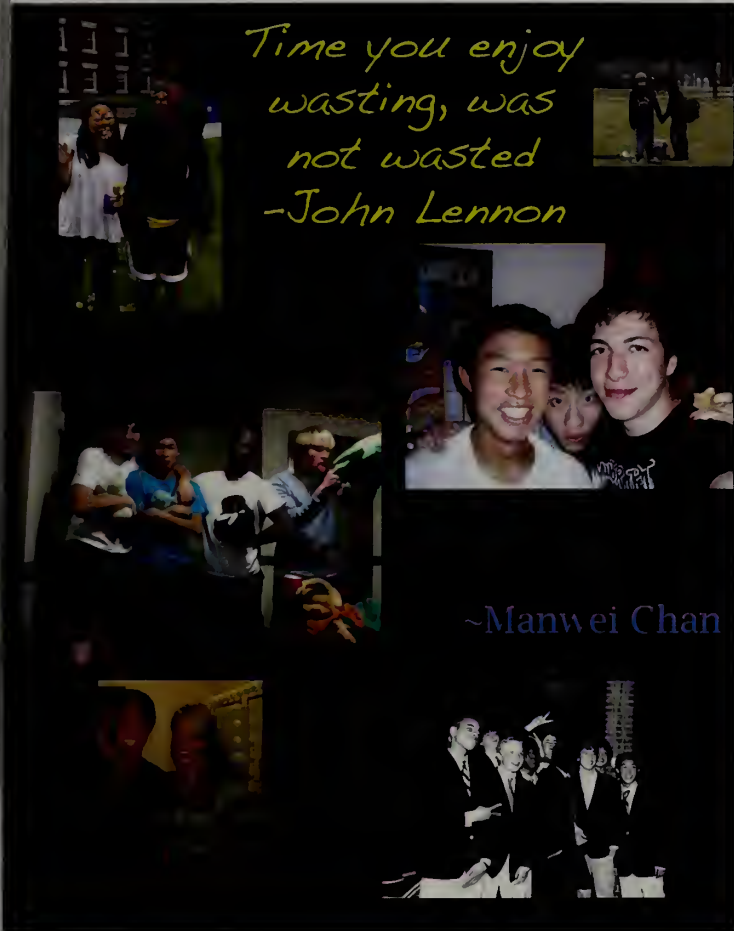

Malcolm Mason Rodriguez

Manuel Fernandez

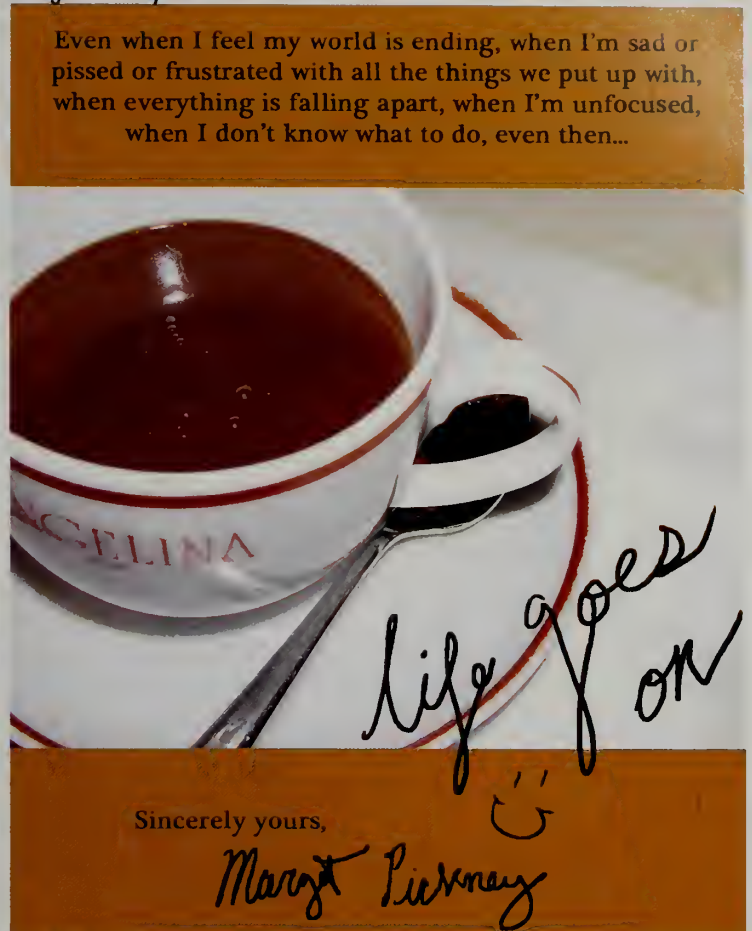

Manwei Chan

Mariana Walsh

Margot Pickney

Marilyn Hewett

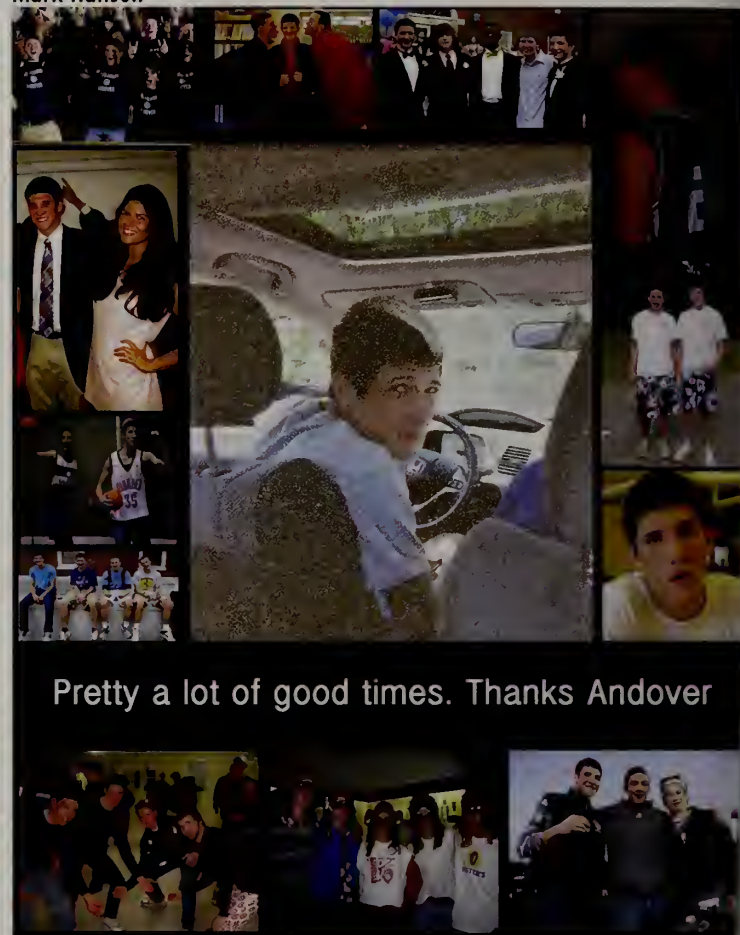

Marilyn Harris

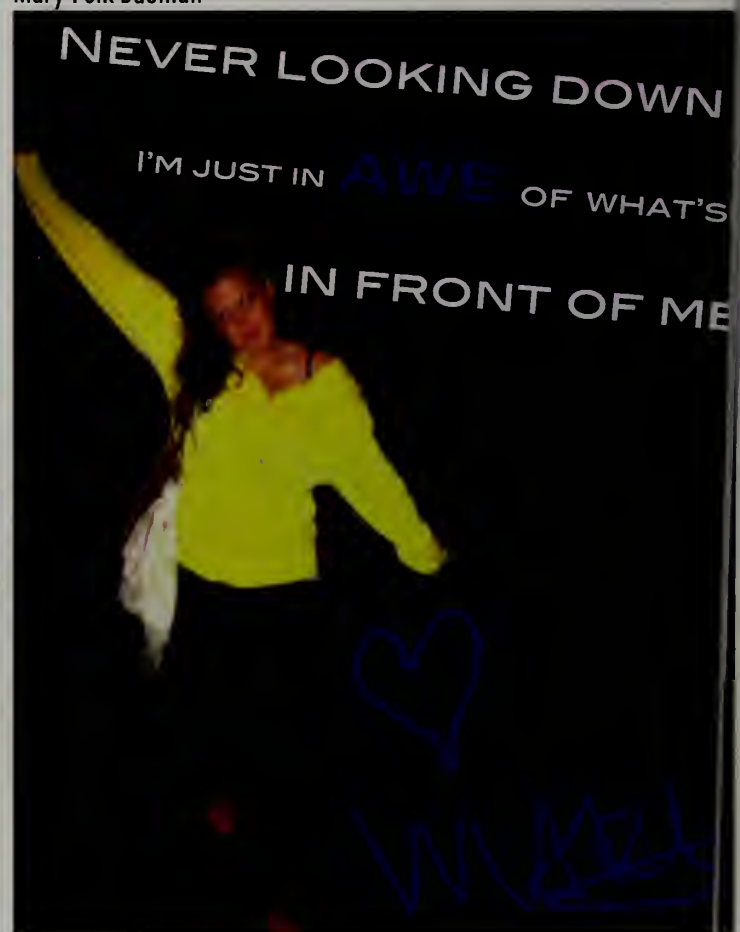

Mark Adamsson

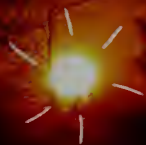

Mark Hanson

Mary Polk-Bauman

PAXC, Fuess,
A-House, Batch,
ACF, 2011

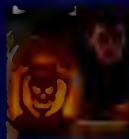

Matthew Fothergill

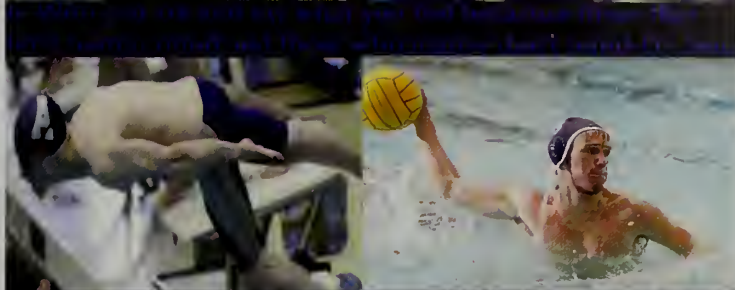

"Friendship is like peeing on yourself: everyone can see it, but only you get the warm feeling that it brings."

Matty Ice

Matthew Mahoney

Max Queenan

"TIME YOU ENJOY WASTING, WAS NOT WASTED."

JOHN LENNON

Max Silverstein

"Truly great friends are hard to find, difficult to leave, and impossible to forget."

Max

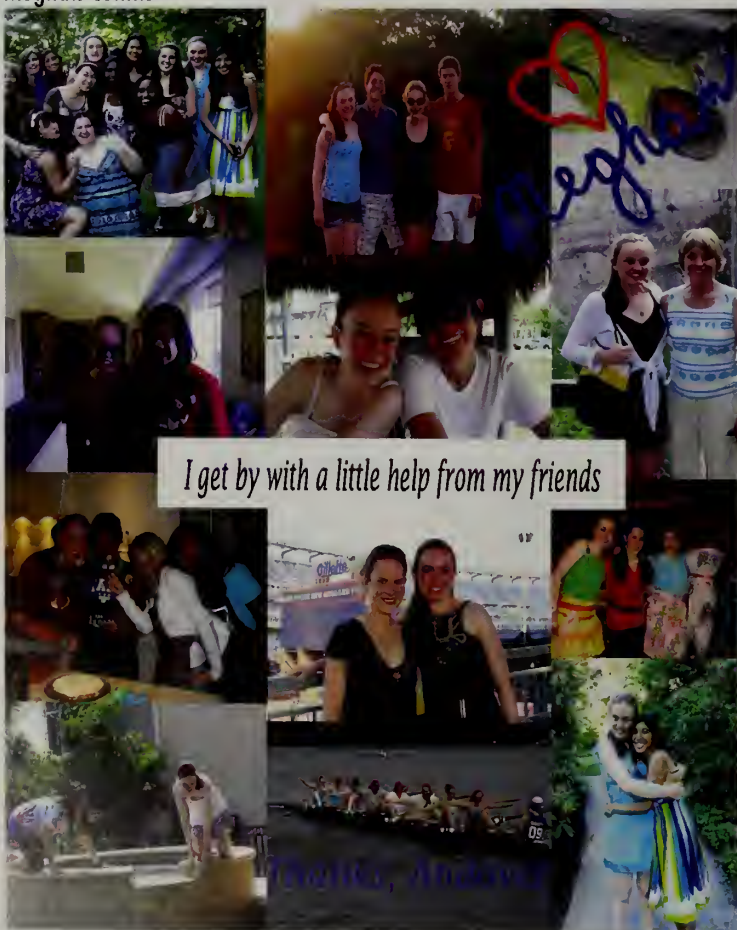

Maxwell Parlin
Maxwell Parlin

"Welp, see ya later!"

-Dumb and Dumber

Meghan Collins

Melina Prentakis

*Isham '08 *GOSU *Isham '10 Blue Steel X Whitney '11 Footnotes

Up ahead, there are a thousand lives we might live, but when it comes, there will only be one.

Melina

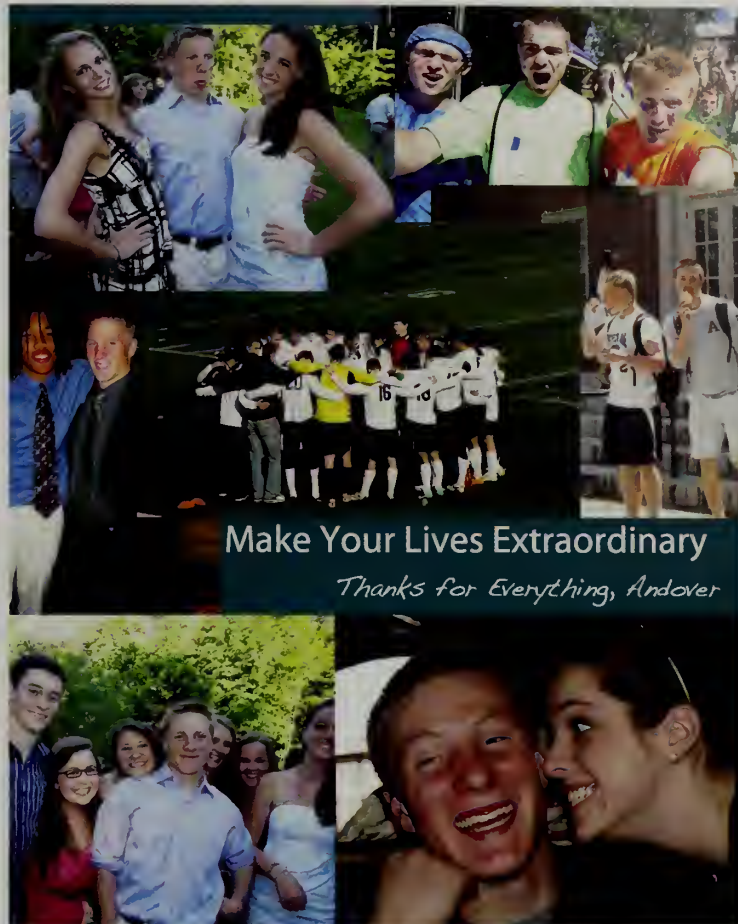

I couldn't have asked for a better one.

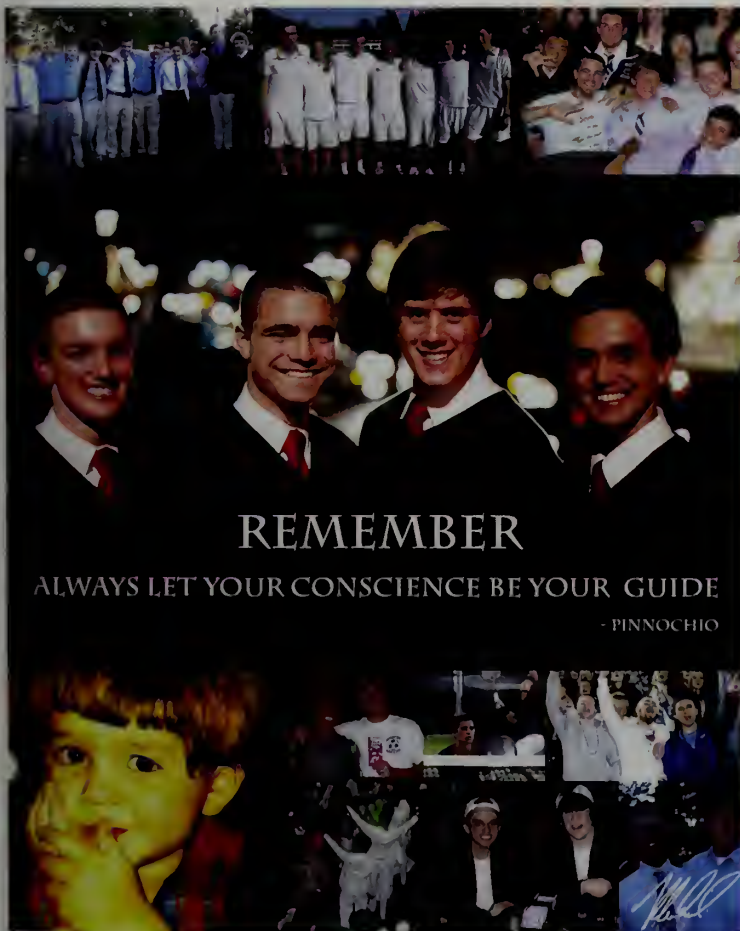

Michael McKay

Michael Difronzo

Michael Kontaxis

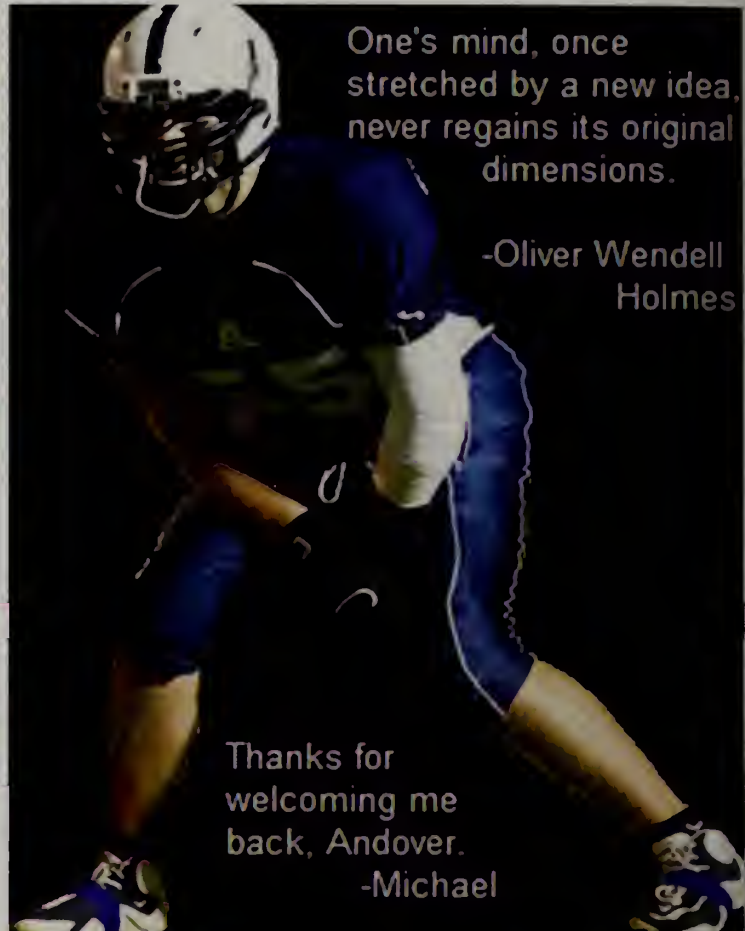

Michael Berube

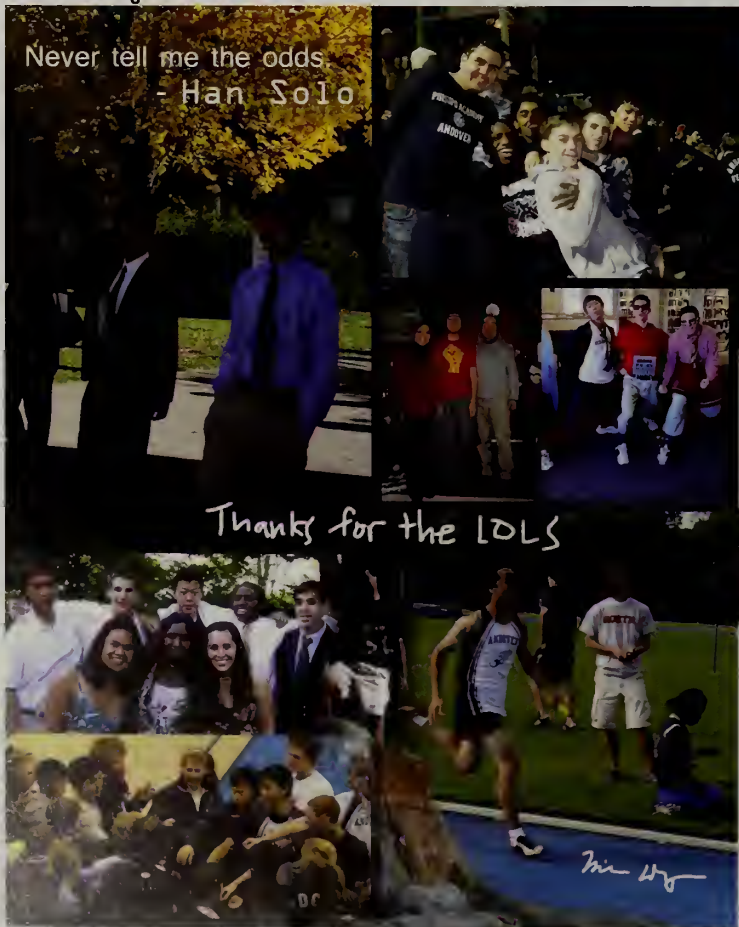

Michael Wopinski

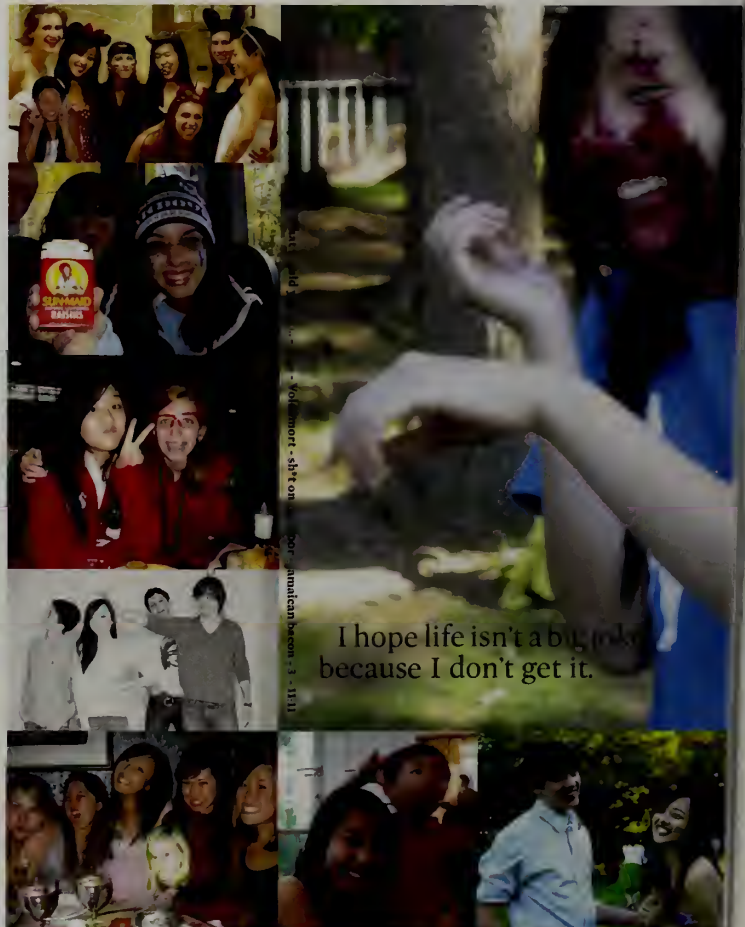

Michael Wincek

Michael Wang

Michelle Ma

Aidori Ishizuka

Phillips Academy
ANDOVER
2007 STUDENT 2008
Midori R. Ishizuka
Class of 2011 Ent: 2007 PKN
01/03/93 0349237

STUDENT 2008-2009
Midori Ishizuka
Class of 2011
FLG
Ent: 2007
01/03/1993

Time flies when you're having fun.

Thank you @Midori

Teachers, Family, Friends, Friends...

Phillips Academy | Andover
STUDENT 2009-2010
Midori R. Ishizuka
Class of 2011
FLG
Ent: 2007
01/03/1993

Phillips Academy | Andover
STUDENT 2010-2011
Midori R. Ishizuka
Class of 2011
FLG
Ent: 2007
01/03/1993

Miguel Montana

Saying goodbye isn't the hard part, it's what you leave behind that's tough.

Thanks, Andover.

MinYoung Kwon

Morgan Askew

Thank you, Andover, for the incredible friendships, opportunities, and memories. I will always remember these amazing three years!

This block contains three photographs of sports teams. The top photograph shows a basketball team in purple jerseys with 'GOVETS' written on them, posing with coaches. The middle photograph shows a basketball team in black jerseys with white stripes, posing in a huddle. The bottom photograph shows a volleyball team in white jerseys posing with coaches and spectators.

For the strength of the Pack is the Wolf, and the strength of the Wolf is the Pack.
-Rudyard Kipling

[illegible]

A collage of photos from Andover 2011. The main image is a large photo of a young woman with dark hair, wearing a red and black plaid shirt, smiling. To her left is a vertical strip of four smaller photos: the top one shows two people walking on a path; the second shows three young women smiling; the third shows a group of people standing in front of a white building with columns; the bottom one shows a young man and woman smiling. Overlaid on the top right is a quote: "there's no need to complicate, our time is short. this is our fate;" with a small clock icon. Below the quote, the text "Andover 2011, I'M YOURS" is written in a bold, sans-serif font. At the bottom left, the name "Natasha" is written in a cursive script on a dark background.

Have all, be true to yourself, and You cannot put your heart in it to make yourself out of it.

I can't...
 I can't...
 I can't...
 I can't...

Nicolas Kramer

Photo by Evan Eads '12

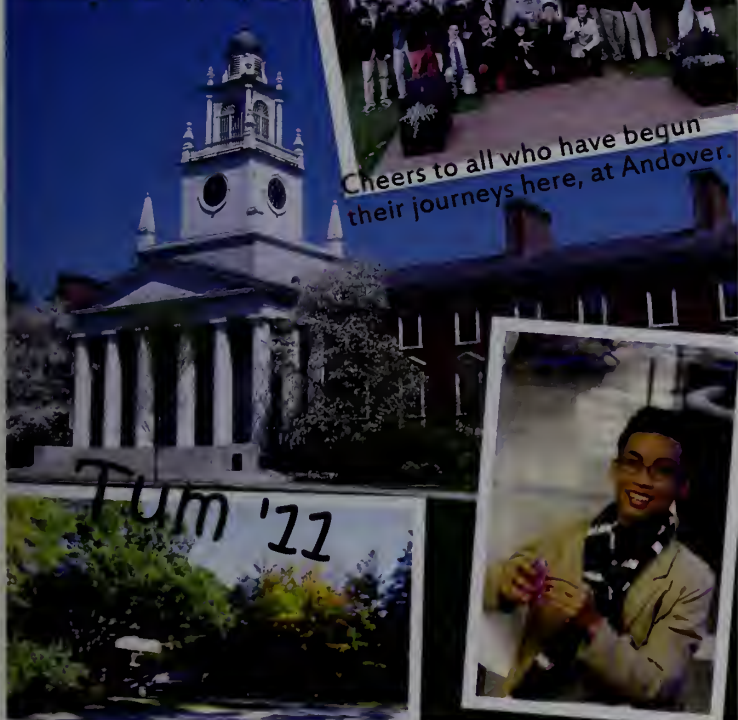

Kitipat Kulalert

The tragedy of life is not that it ends
so soon,

but that we wait so long to begin it. — W. M. Lewis

Cheers to all who have begun their journeys here, at Andover.

Nikita Lamba

BKH FLG/PREV THDA NUFLS CSCO IPAK ABB

Clementine: This is it, Joel.
It's going to be gone soon.
Joel: I know.
Clementine: What do we do?
Joel: Enjoy it.
(-eternal sunshine of the spotless mind)

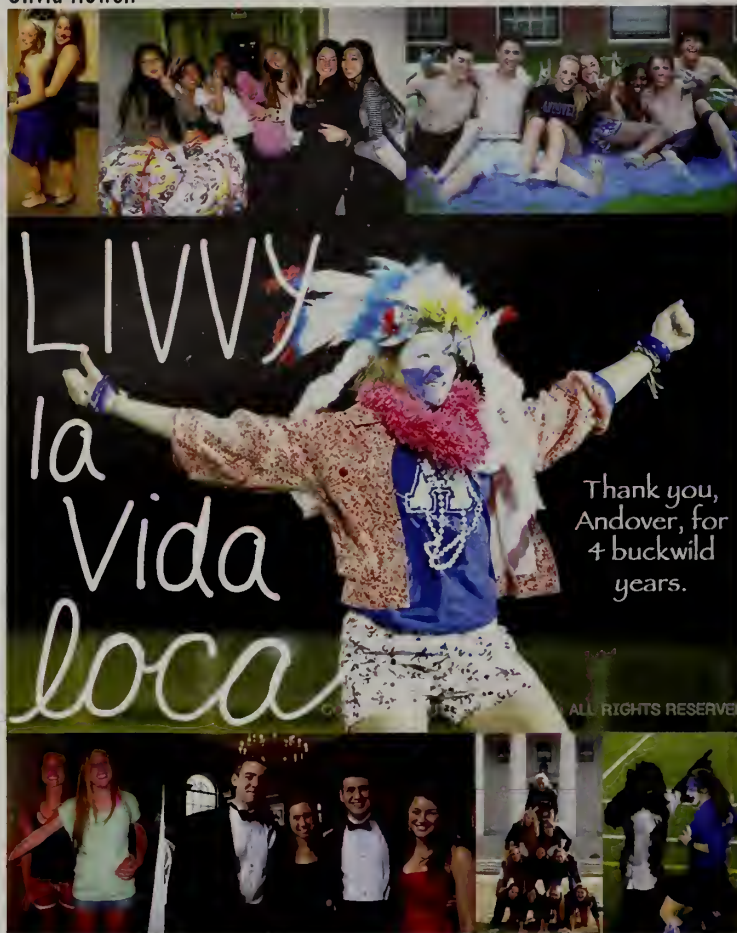

Nneka Anunkor

만만한 세상에 쉽게 무릎꿇고 설새 없이 신세 타령만 아련한

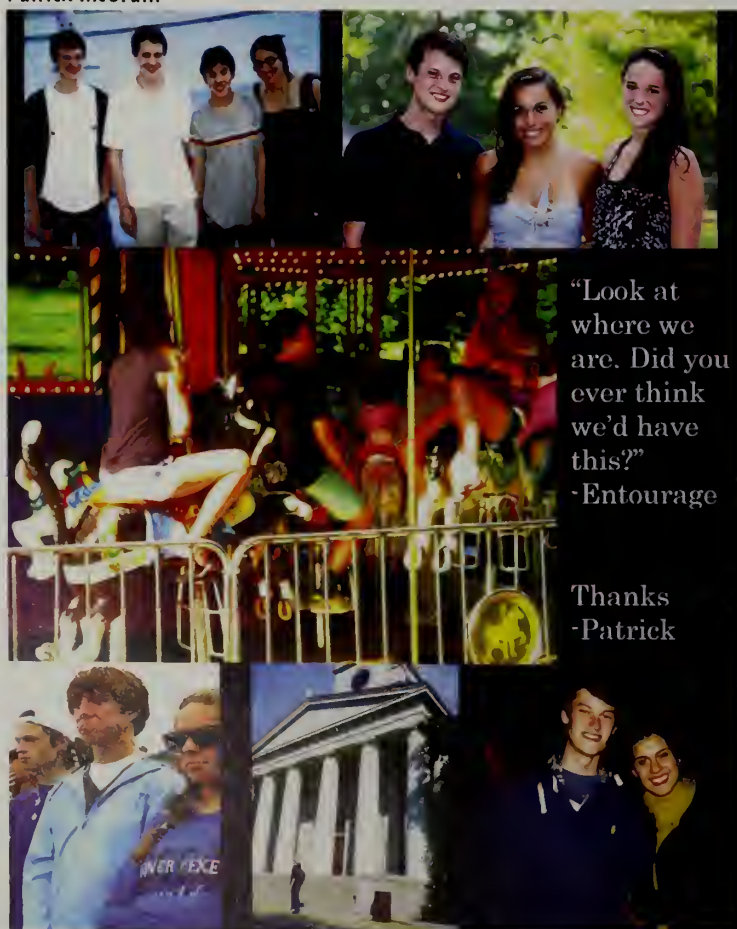

옛 꿈을 쫓던 가련한 두팔로 화려한 날개를 피고

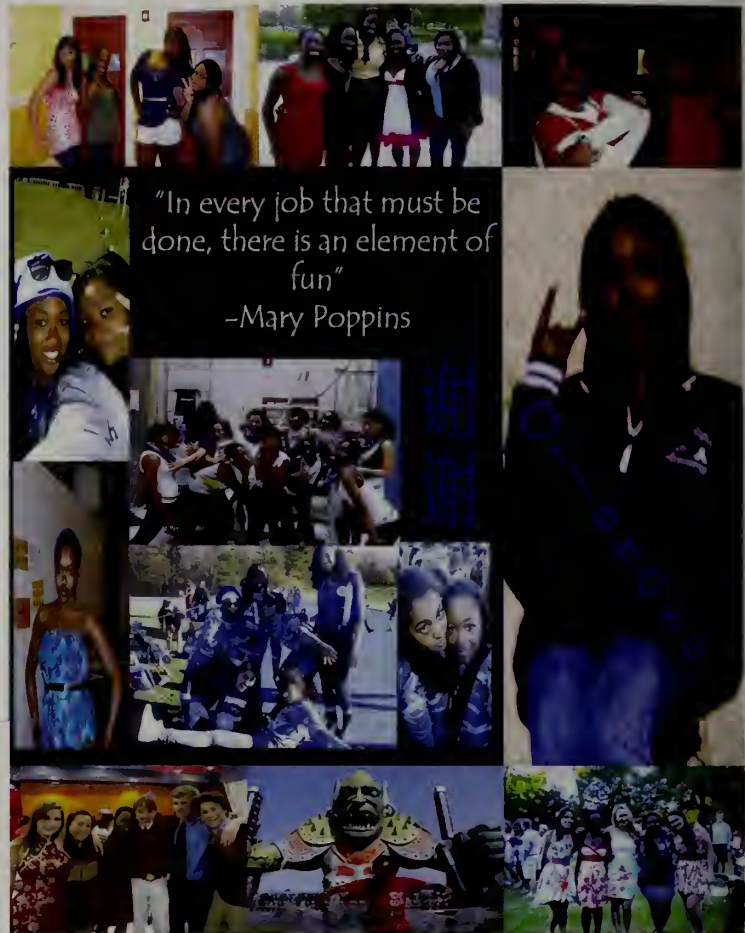

Olivia Howell

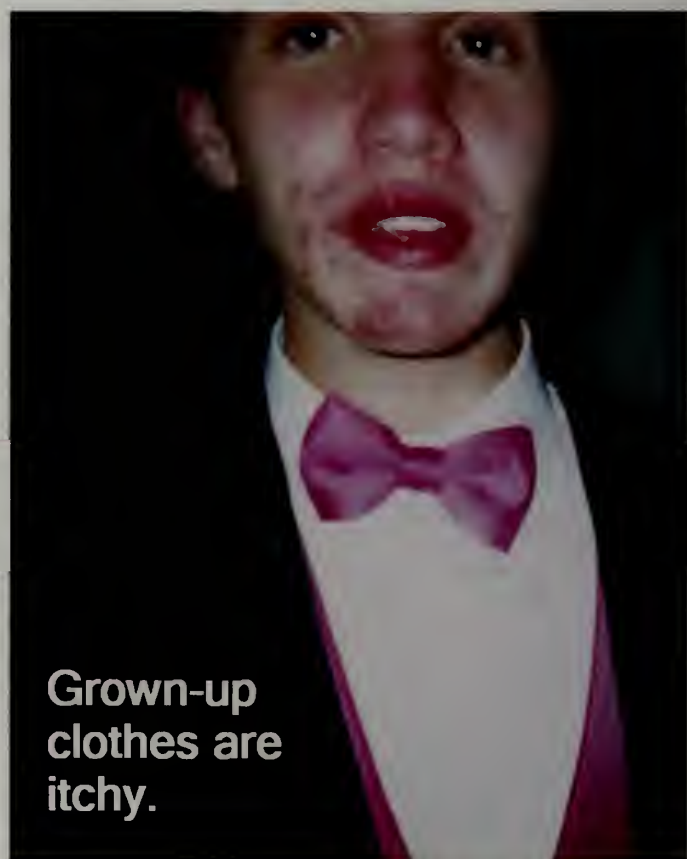

Patrick McGrath

Oriekose Idah

Patrick Wobler

Patrick Brady

Don't let it be forgot
That once there was a spot
For one brief, shining moment that was known As Camelot.

Peter Bang

Paul Donovan

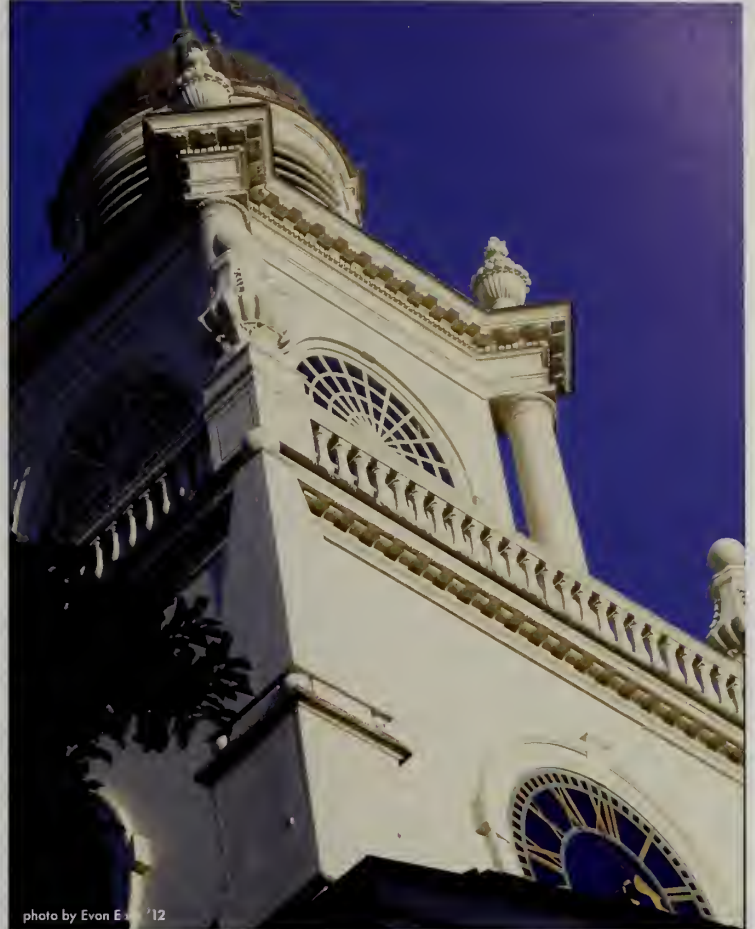

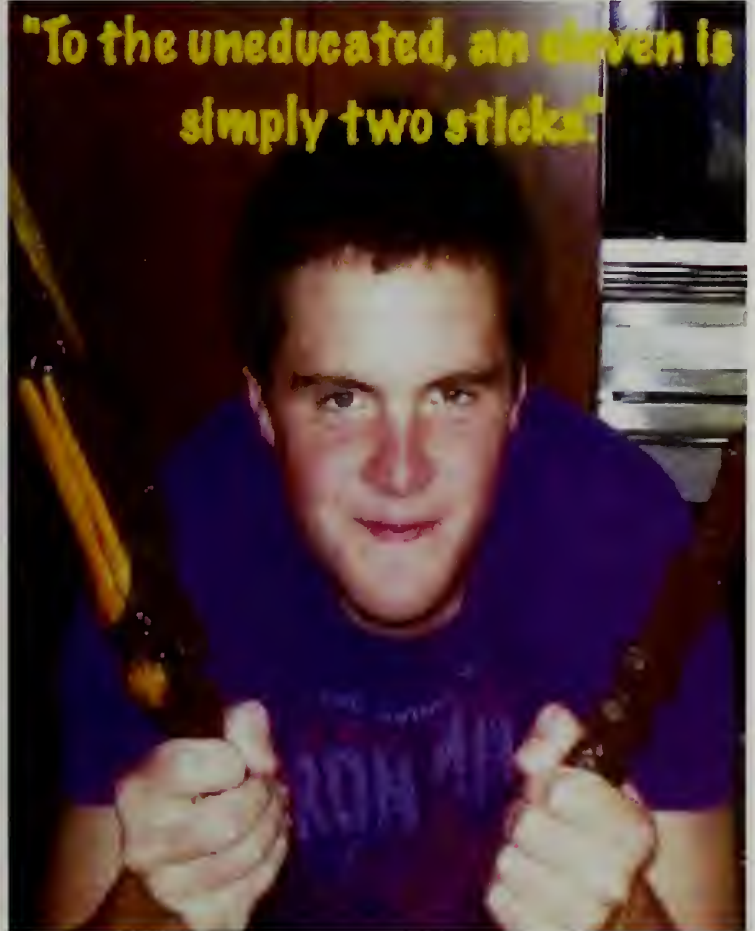

photo by Evon E. '12

Peter Heidrich

Peter Lee-Kramer

That's the fun of it, Chuckie; you never know what you're going to get until you get it. -Tommy Pickles

Pinnaree Tea-Mangkornpan

Prim Chanarat

Raphael Grandeau

arinthip Supapannachart

Rebecca Sumi Matsumoto

Raymond Barry

Renat Zalov

Richard Marcotte

Richard Bailey

Peace out, PA,
It's been real.

-Ricker

Richard David Thwaites

"The next time you're knocked down to the ground, take a minute to look around, and you'll see that it's really not that bad."

-David

Rishabh Bhandari

Thanks PA! But now it's

Time for Tele Bye Bye!

Robert Langworthy

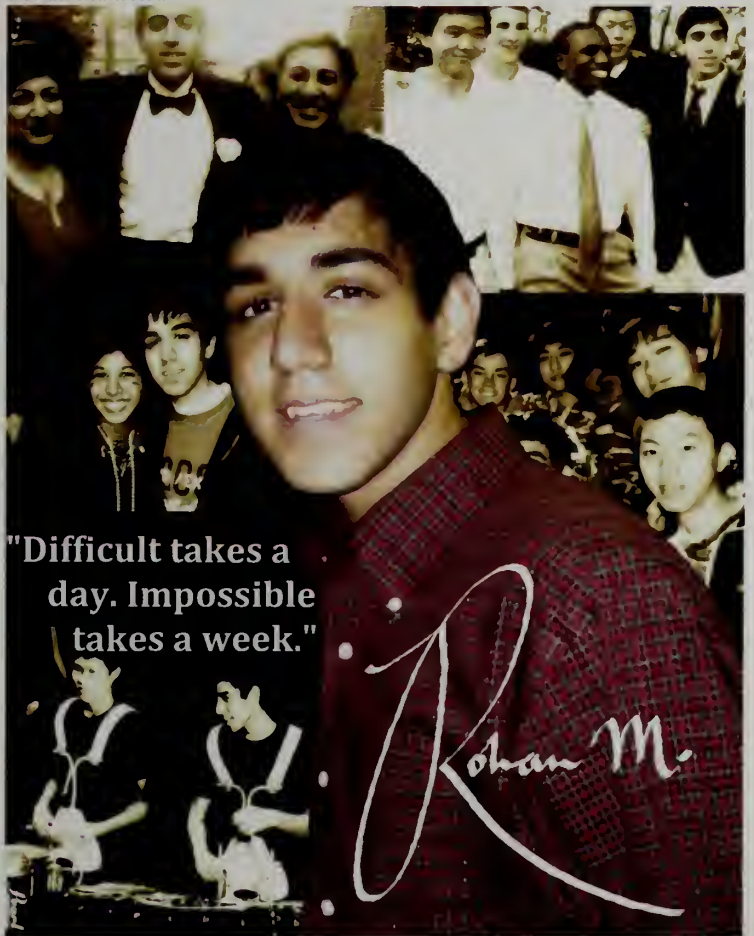

Robert Palmer

Robert Max Lippe

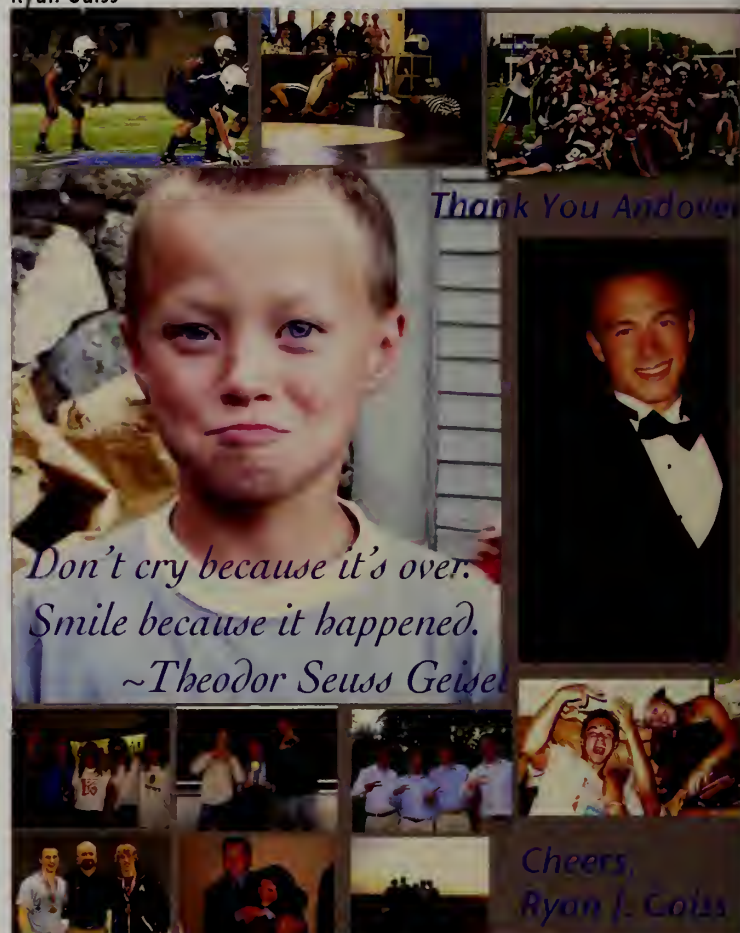

Rohan Malhotra

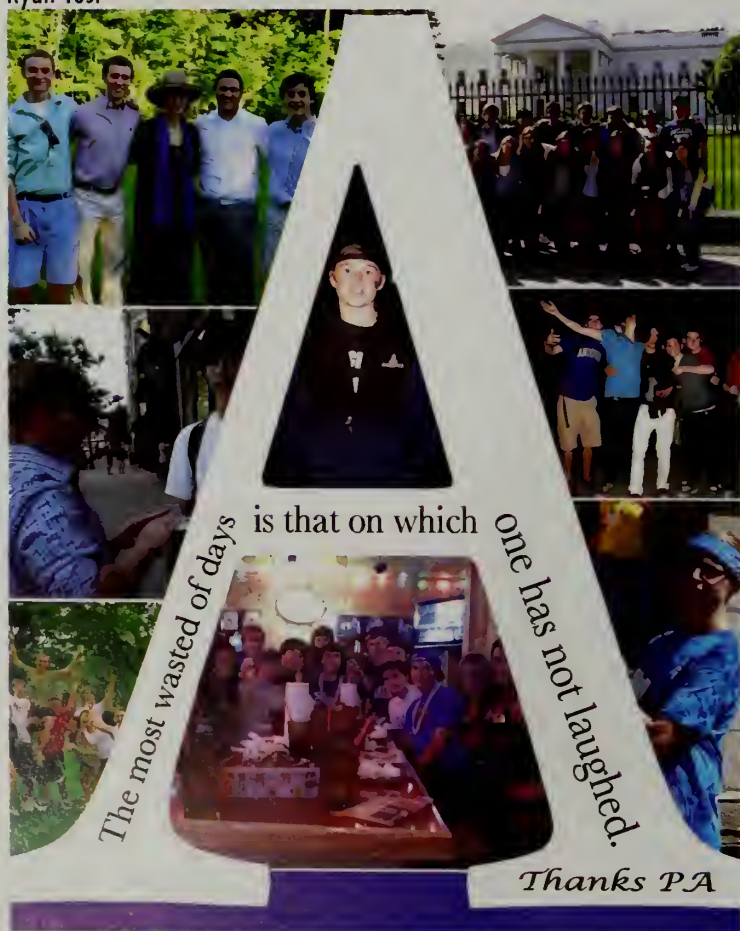

Rona Choo

Ryan Gaiss

Ryan Yost

Sae Kyul Yoo

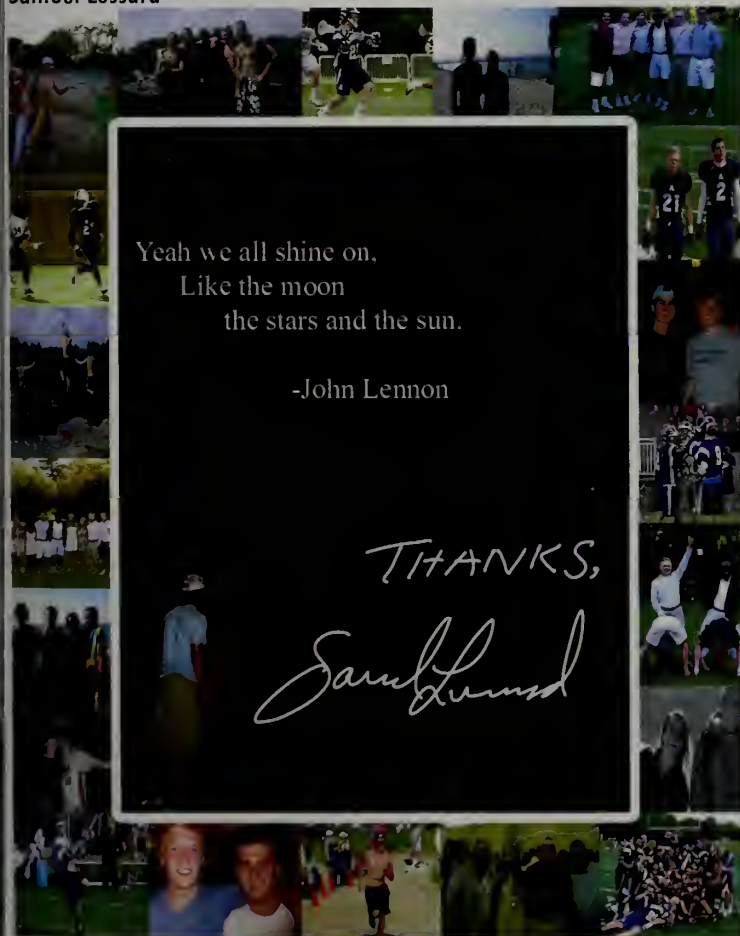

Samantha Gray

Samuel Teicher

Samuel Lessard

Sarah Onorato

Sarah Schuchardt

Scott Cuthell

In thirty years no one will care about the grades you got.

No one will care what you got on your finals.

No one will care what you got on the SATs.

No one will care if you got DC'ed.

In thirty years none of that will matter.

In thirty years people will want to hear about the fun you had.

People will want to hear about the people you met.

People will want to hear about the things you did.

People will want to hear about the experiences you had.

In thirty years people will want to hear stories.

I know I have a bunch, do you?

- Scott Cuthell

Sarah Stevens

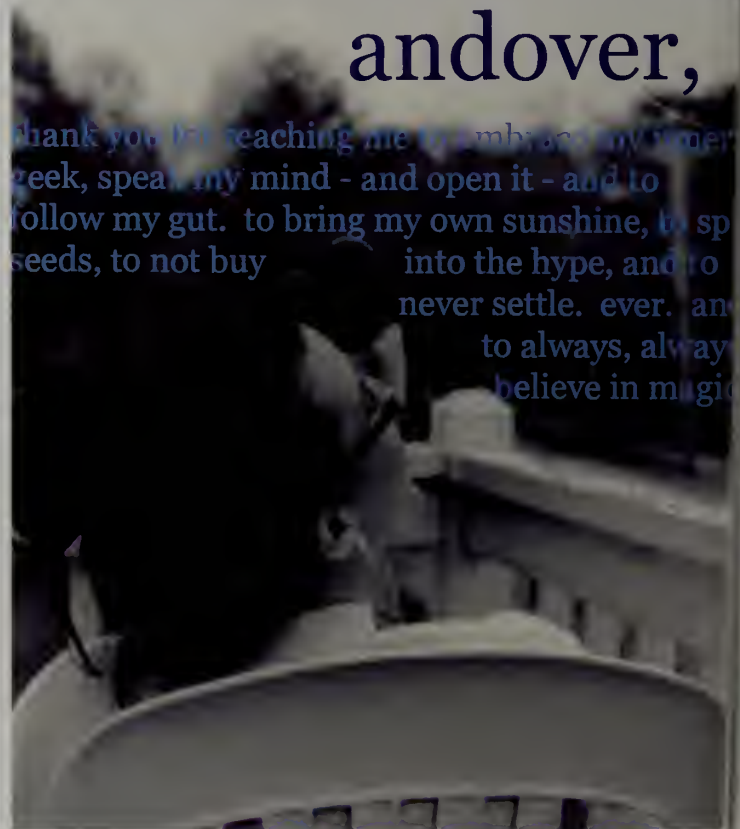

Shannon McSweeney

pafh, kad, mgf, sec, burtt, eleven, arc, smw, ewy, aeh, kah, kem, kew, hss, kaw, seo, mkp, app, cdc, why, mah, jcd, rag, jsc, zse, mld, pasb, pld, djc, jin, mom, dad, john, james, and oscar

andover,

thank you for teaching me to embrace my inner geek, speak my mind - and open it - and to follow my gut. to bring my own sunshine, to spread seeds, to not buy into the hype, and to never settle. ever. and to always, always believe in magic

Shelby Centofanti

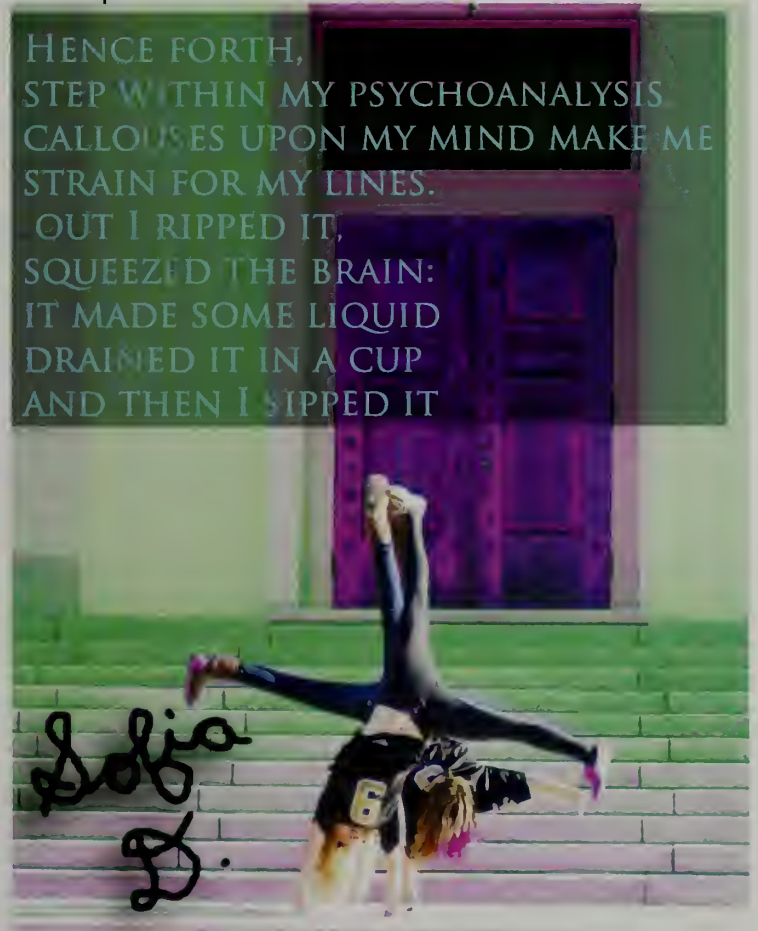

Shirley Guo

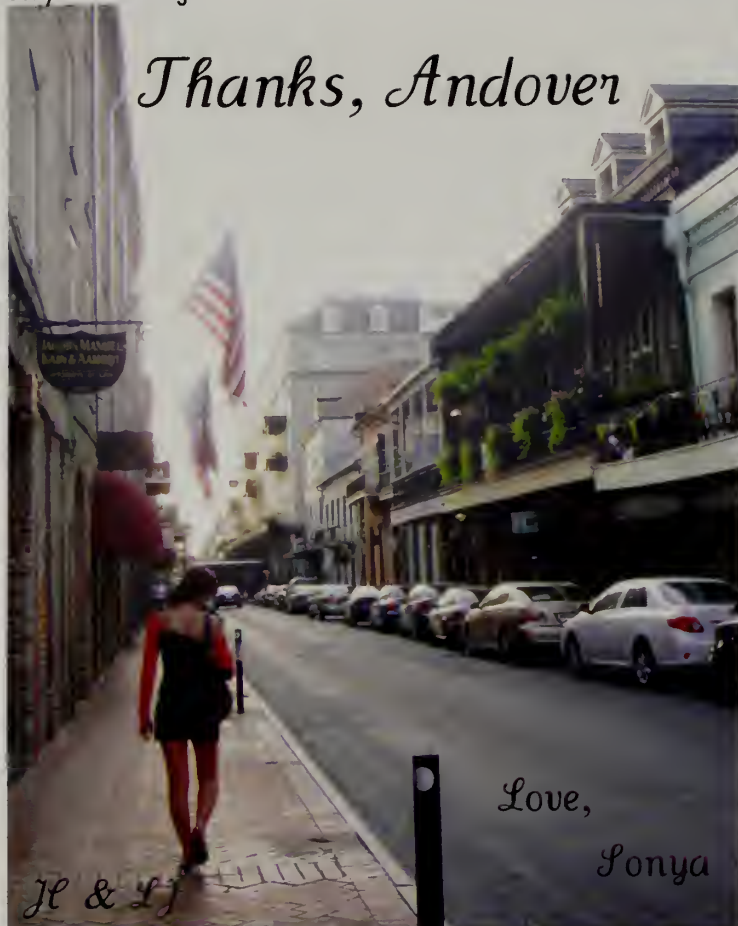

Sheya Jabouin

Sofia Duque

Sonya Schoenberger

Sophia Erickson

Sophie Gould

Sosha Sullivan

Stella Girkin

In a Wonderland they lie, Dreaming as the days go by,
Dreaming as the summers die:

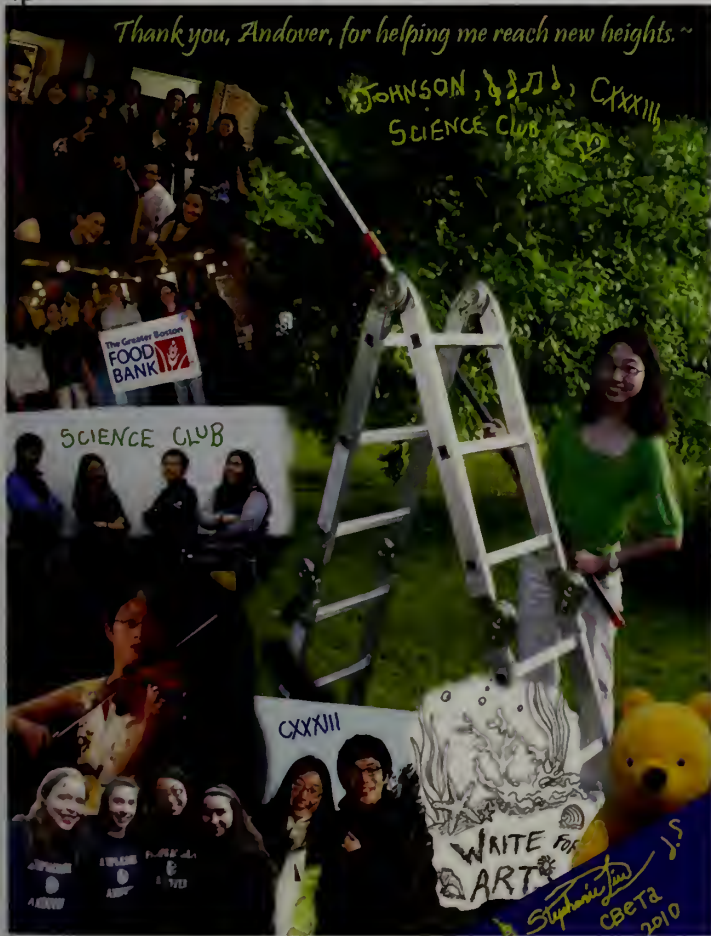

Ever drifting down the stream
Lingering in the golden gleam Life, what is it but a dream?

-Through the Looking Glass
By Lewis Carroll

P A S
Y A H U M
B O
L
D
T

Stephanie Liu

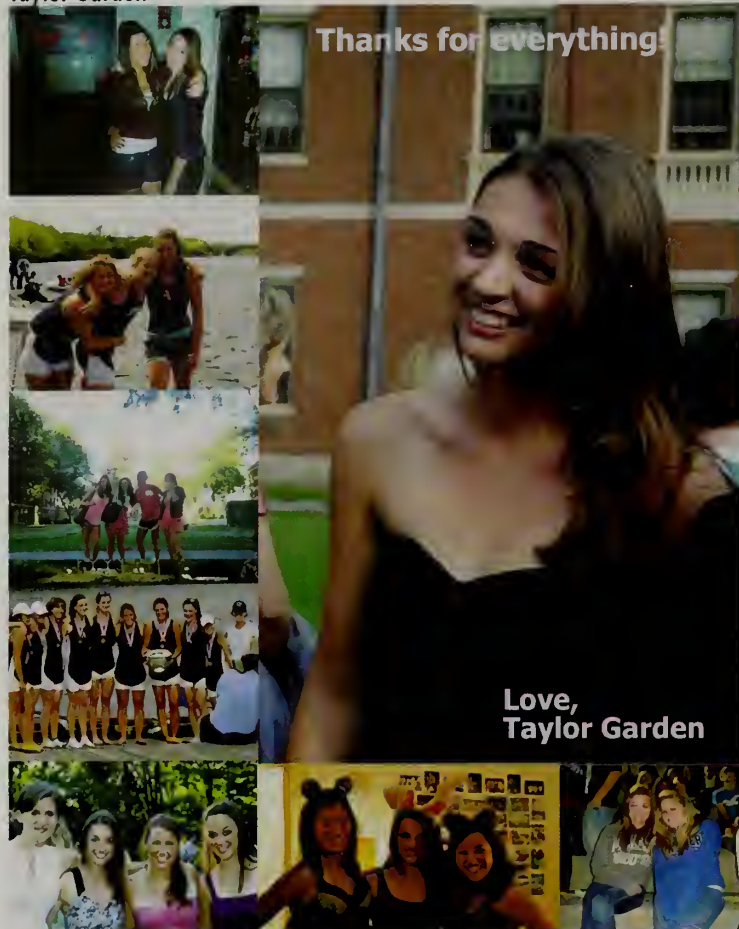

Stephania Stacia Vladimirova

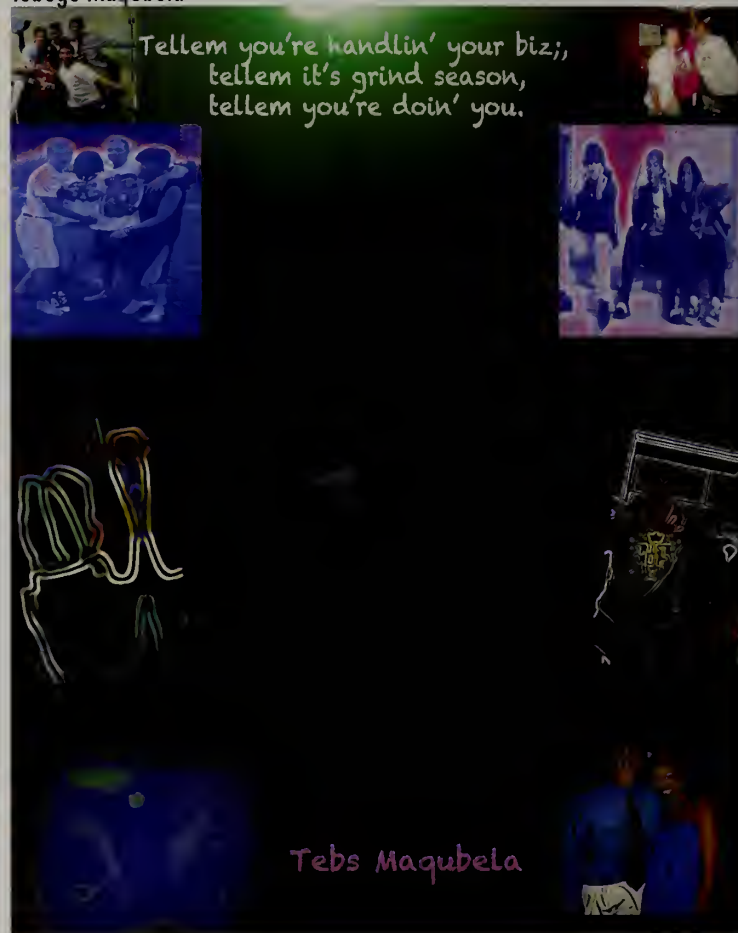

Summer Washburn

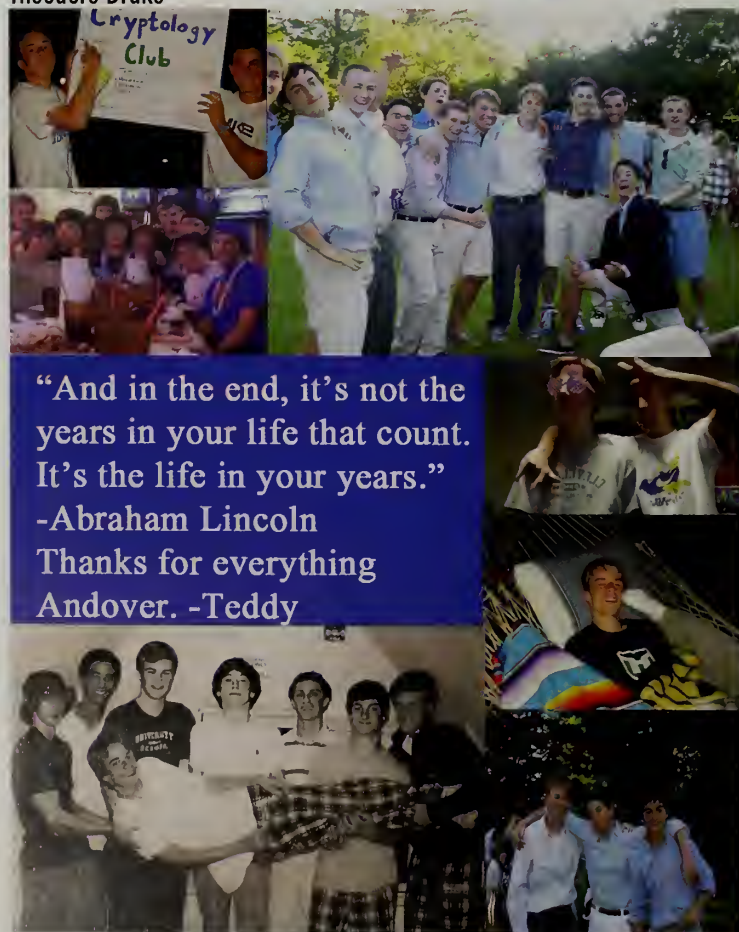

Taylor Garden

Tebogo Maqubela

Theodore Drake

Theresa Fallor

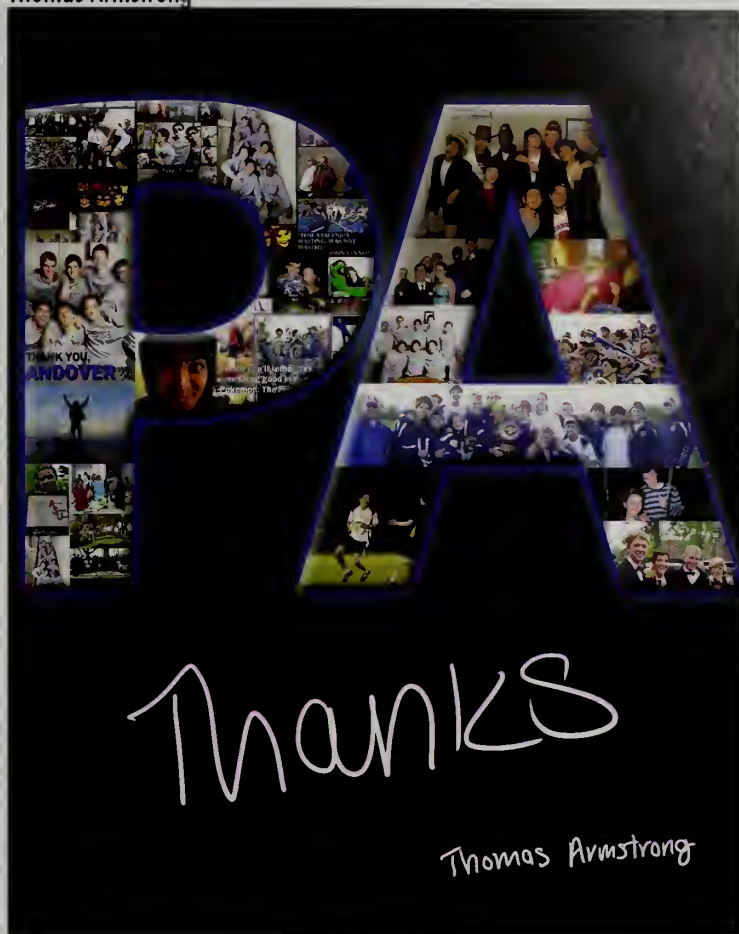

Thomas Szymanski

Thomas Hickey

Thomas Armstrong

Thomas Kramer

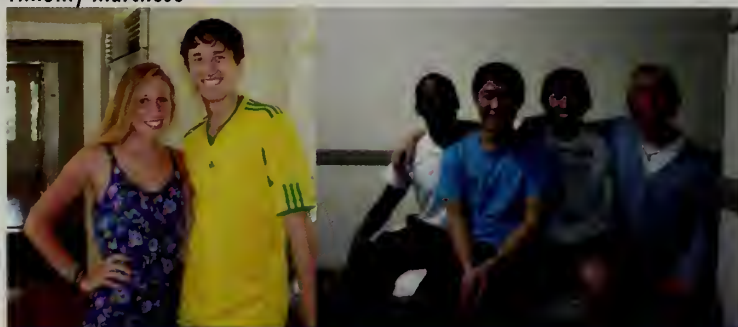

Thurston Smalley

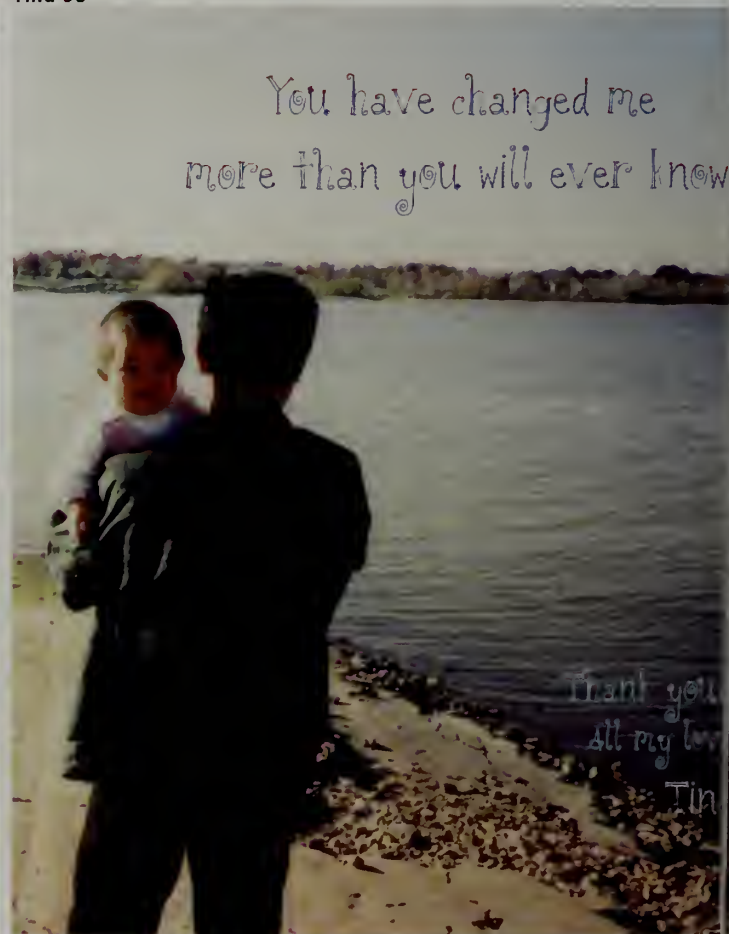

Timothy McLaughlin

Timothy Marchese

Tina Su

*Thanks for the adventure!
Ting*

Turner Shaw

PEASE

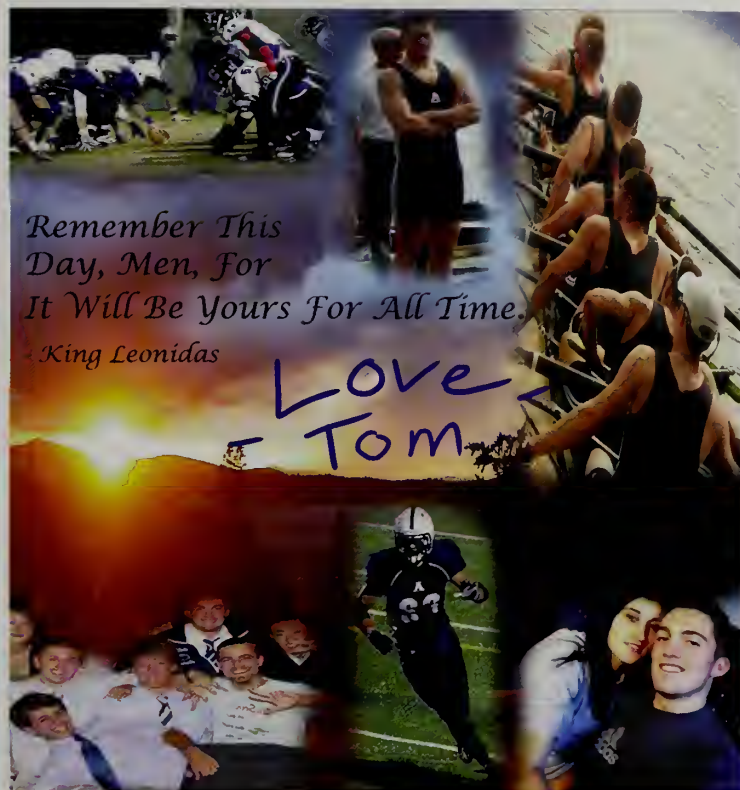

STEEL

HOME

SEE YOU LATER BUD

-TSHAW

Tomas Weaver

Remember This Day, Men, For
It Will Be Yours For All Time.

King Leonidas

Love
Tom

Victoria Briggs

Can I tell you that you are the purple in me?

Love, Victoria

Wenyu Cao

Whitney Glick

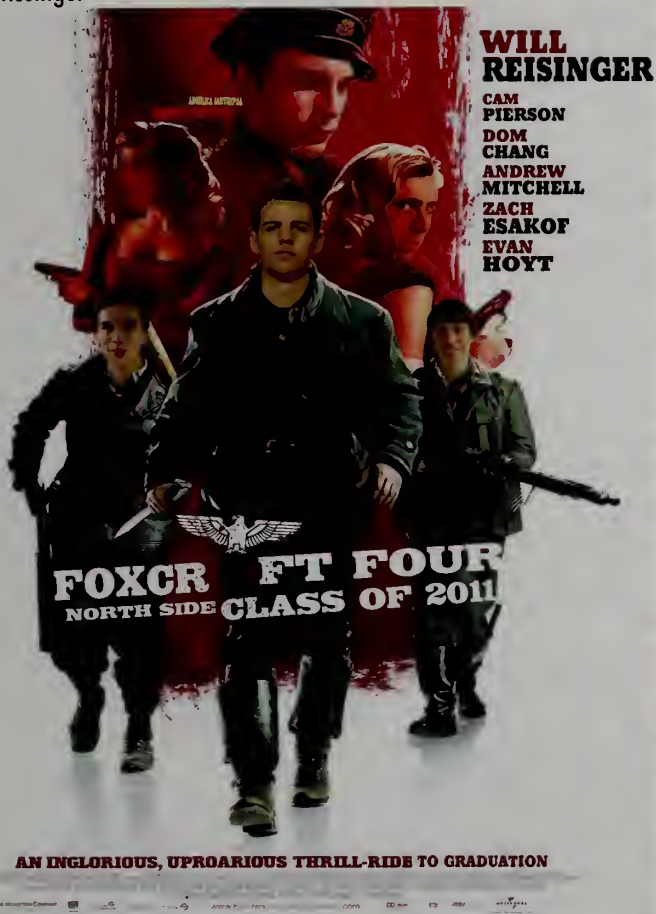

Wesley Meyer

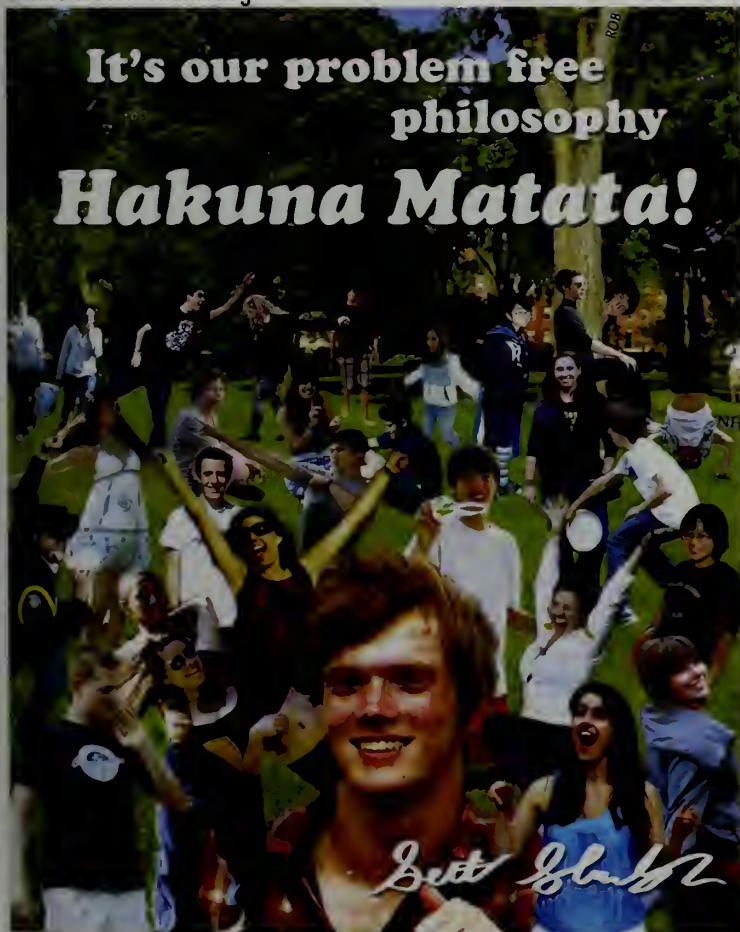

William Adams

William Resinger

Winfield Scott Shambaugh

William Walker

Won Yong Kim

Xiaoxiao Elisa Li

Yuto Watanabe

Everyone who said hi to me, smiled to me, was kind to me:

THANK YOU. I'll miss you dearly.

Y. BROGANABE / THE PHILLIPIN

Yerin Pak

Zachary Esakof

Zachary Elder

"Life's not a spectator sport.
If watchin' is all you're gonna do, then you're gonna watch your life go by without ya!"
- The Hunchback of Notre Dame

Zachary Fine

Until then.

Zary Peretz

Andover is...

CP de labor unions seggy
III-Nighters Cluster Ultimate ES Crutches THE GREAT LAWN DL poke-mon stress Study Hours HuTu
Non-Sibi KH battle of the bods FR
WPAA the mole #X study Guides alumni house CH
ZE repub club 2011 poosham CB CRAMMING
A/E knowledge and goodness (U) STEVENS econ victoria's secret Apples to Apples
CINEMA JB & SB & M & CB Shamby LEASE TS
HM history 300 KM 不太酷 GA HoS DAY
wellness week MEMORIES Mario Party
ASM A place to call home - zary

Mary Polk Bauman

"This above all: to thine own self be true..."

Congratulations Mary!

With all our love,

Adelaide '04, Bree '06, Mom and Dad '73

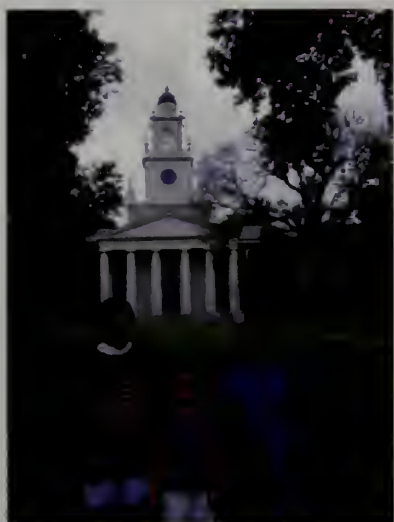

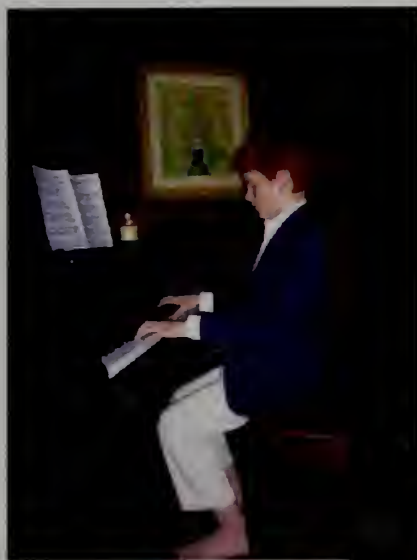

Kristina Rex
For all you've done.
For all you are.
For all you will accomplish...

Congratulations! We are so proud of you!
We love you,
Mom, Dad, Katie, and Johnny

Will Adams

Congratulations Will!
Love, Mom, Dad, Katherine, and Annie

Nathan Wagner

BRIAN 2014

NATHAN 2011

NICOLE 2009

CONGRATULATIONS
NATHAN

We are all so proud of you!
LOVE MOM, DAD, NICOLE & BRIAN

The will to win is important, but the will to prepare is vital.

Joe Paterno

Ben Podell

*We shall not cease from exploration
And the end of all our exploring
Will be to arrive where we started
And know the place for the first time.*

from "Little Gidding", T.S. Eliot

With love always,
Mom, Dad and Becca

Sumi Matsumoto

"Great dancers are great not because of their technique, they are great because of their passion."

- Martha Graham

We love you, Sumi!

Mom, Dad & Katherine

Mick Wopinski

Michael-Stafford Wopinski

Congratulations Mick!!!
I'm so proud of you.
Love, Mom

L. Daniela Pimentel

"When words become unclear, I shall focus with photographs. When images become inadequate, I shall be content with silence." - Ansel Adams

Congratulations Daniela! We are very proud of you!
Love, Dad, Meems, Nanners, Pawluh Bear and Sheepy

Anthony Baldassari

We love you!
Mom, Dad & Gianni

There is no frigate like a book
To take us lands away,
Nor any coursers like a page
Of prancing poetry.
This traverse may the poorest take Without oppress of toil;
How frugal is the chariot
That bears a human soul!

E. Dickinson

Congratulations dear! Love Mom & Dad.

Taylor Garden

Congratulations Tay-Tay! We are all very proud of you and your accomplishments at PA.

All our love,
Mom, Dad, Elise and Whitney

Hunter Schlacks

Go confidently in the direction of your dreams.
Live the life you have imagined.
- Henry David Thoreau

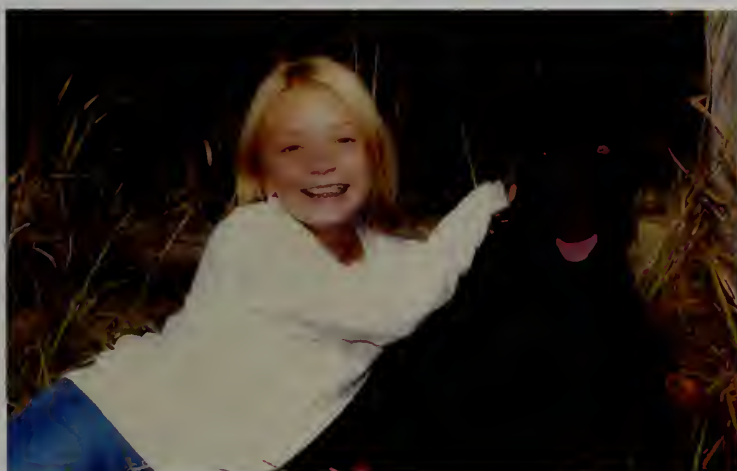

We are so proud of you Hunter!
Love,
Dad, Mom, Justin and Chelsea

"Today is your day. Your mountain is waiting. So, get on your way."
Dr. Seuss

Congratulations, Lane!

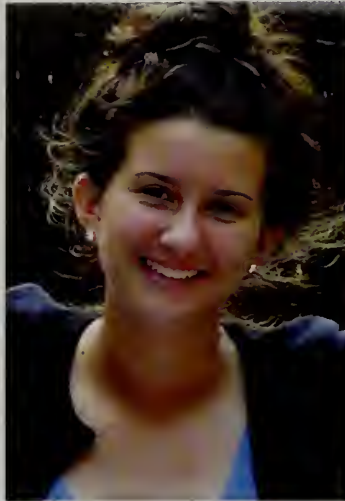

With much love and great pride,
Mom, Dad, Sam, Lucy and Penny

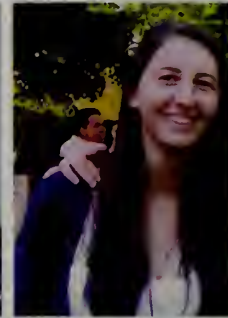

Shannon McSweeney

We are so proud of all you've accomplished and we look forward to watching you flourish in the next chapter of your life. We wish you the best of luck!!

Love,
Mom, Dad, John and Jim

Sammy Gray

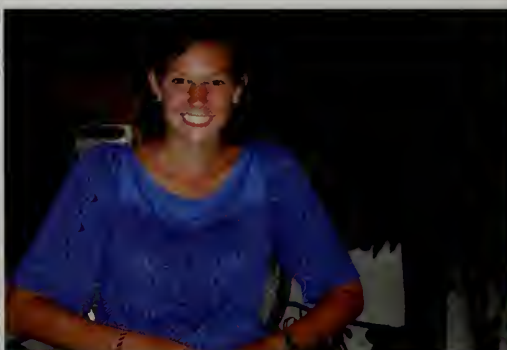

We are so very proud of you
Samantha, and love you so much!

Love, Mommy and Daddy

Wesley Meyer

Congratulations!
We are so proud of your success.
Love, Mom, Dad, Trey and Reid

Lane Lytle

Congratulations, Lane!

We love you!

xo,
Sam and Lucy

Carolyn Whittingham

from Little Miss Drama Boo

to accomplished world citizen...

way to go, girl!

Love,
Dad, Mom,
Justin & Spencer

Chris Kerrigan

Chris,

You never cease to amaze us with all you do. The road ahead may seem uncertain, but look how far you have already traveled.

We are so proud of you.

Love, Dad, Mom, Colleen and Michael

Kellie Walsh

From the Atlantic to the Pacific, it has been an incredible 4 years!

Don't cry because it's over, smile because it happened.

-Dr. Seuss

We are so proud of you!

Love, Mom, Dad & Jimmy

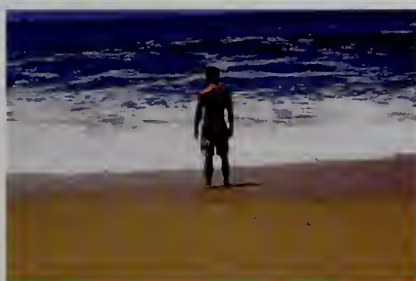

Congratulations
Christie!

We love you!

Mom, Dad,
Peter, Daniel, and Andy

Garrett Lee

Garrett
Our love and pride are unlimited.
Your possibilites are endless.

Kate Bulger

Dearest Kate,

You find the most joy in every day, and we love you for it. Take that spirit with you!

Love,
Zoe, Mom, Max & Dad

Laura Lee

Dream

Dream

Dream

Keep on dreaming...

D R E A M S

Laura Lee

Your dreams will come true!

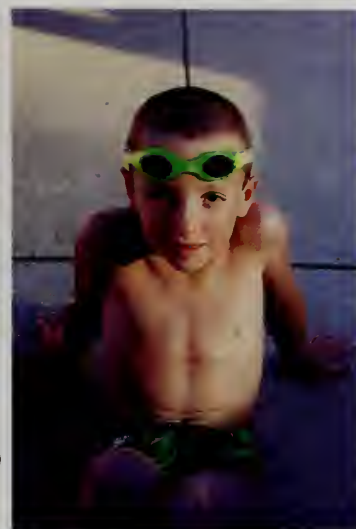

Congratulations!

Best wishes!

Love, Mom, Dad & Michelle

Matt Appleby

Congratulations Mighty Matt!

With lots of love,
Mom & Dad

Mac Wallace

Zambi 1997

"go dog go"

- Dr. Suess

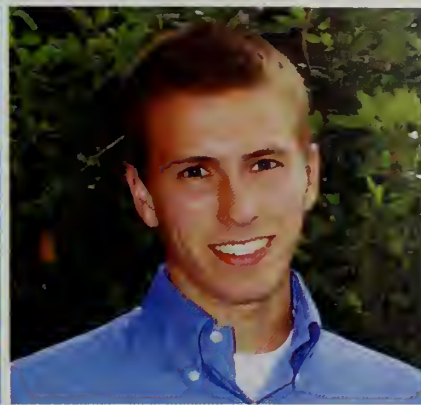

LYB

P.S.
Congrats to all in Taylor Hall

Ooshie 2010

Tommy Kramer

Tom,
We are so proud of all you have accomplished. May your next journey bring you more success and fun!

Love,
Mom, Dad, Alex, Lauren and Lucky

Sarah Onorato

We always knew you were special!
Love you!

Mom, Dad and Jen

Kristina Ballard

"She clasps the crag with crooked hands
Close to the sun in lonely lands,
Ring'd with the azure world, she stands.

The wrinkled sea beneath her crawls;
She watches from her mountain walls,
And like a thunderbolt she falls"
- after Alfred Lord Tennyson

Congratulations, Nina!

Love, мамышка, Vati and Anna

Caitlin Kingston

Dearest Caitlin-

We're so proud of you and all you've accomplished.
You're a great gift to us and we love you to the moon and back... one trillion times.

Love, Mom, Dad, Annalise, Christopher, and William

*I can do everything through Him who gives me strength. - Phillipians 4:13.
...and let us run with perseverance the race marked out for us. - Hebrews 12:1.*

Charlie Peng

Congratulations
Charlie!

Keep hold of your incredible humor, tenacity and imagination –
they will continue to light the way through the road ahead.

Love,
Mom and Dad

Manwei Chan

You never know what you will get.

Love,
Mommy, Baba
& Weilin

Ben & Delaney Burke

From the Rock-a-Bye cradle to the cradle of knowledge, you've done a superb job getting there! I'm so proud of you both. I know you will do well with whatever awaits you.
All my love, xoxo
MooMoo

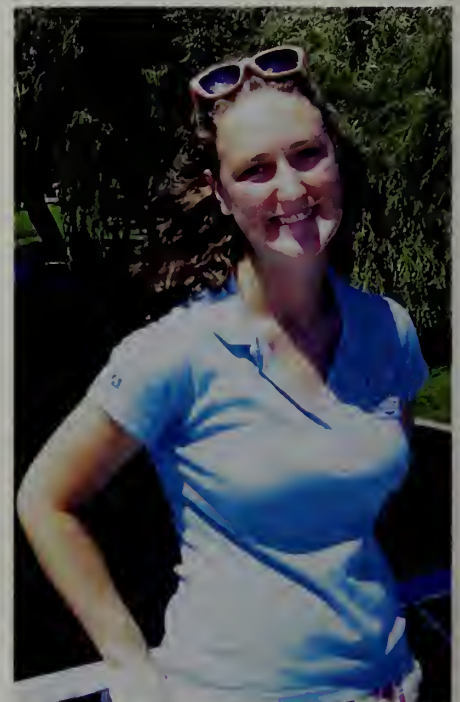

Emily Timm

Excellence with a smile... over... and OVER...

Congratulations!

Love, Mom and Dad

Carolyn Harmeling

Congratulations
Carolyn

Dream big, soar high and always dance!

Love, Mom, Dad,
Sarah, Luke and Chipper

Jenny Zhou

You've made us so proud we share your smile.

Love, Mom, Dad & Wendy

John Ingram

Congratulations!

We are very proud of you.
You are ready for the journey ahead. Enjoy it! We love you forever,
Mom, Dad and Julie

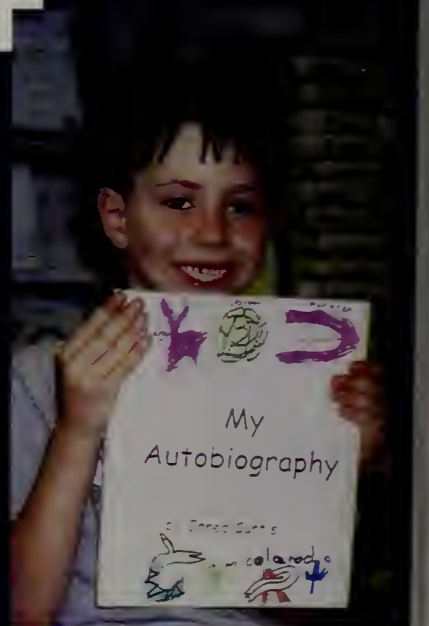

Jared Curtis

Congratulations Jared!

We are so proud of you!

*All our love,
Mom & Dad
Meade, David & Justin*

Jeremey Hutton

You have made us proud since the day you were born.

Wherever you go - whatever you do - you have our love and support.

Congratulations
We love you.
Mom, Dad & Marisa

Kelsey Phinney

Congratulations
Kelsey!
We are always proud of you.

Love, Mom &
Dad

Natalee Sohn

Congratulations Natalee!

With much love and great pride -

Mom, Ian, Avery

Jordan Bailey

Jordan,

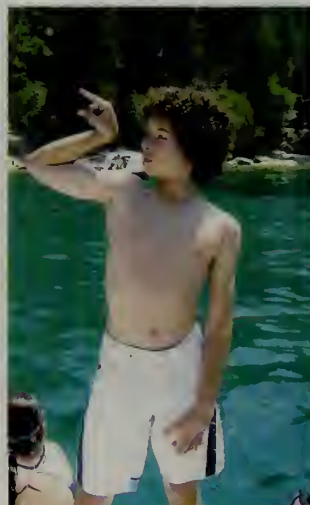

You came into our lives with big bright eyes and a curiosity and love of learning that continues today. From the time you were little you loved to read, and just before the end of the book, you would turn back to the first page so the story would never end!

We have always admired your independence and sense of adventure. Whether going away to basketball camp, boarding school or spending a month in Japan, you are always willing to go to new places and meet new people. Continue to work toward your goals and work hard in school. Remember the words of Dr. William H. Bailey, "Education is the light that blinds ignorance."

As you begin this next chapter of your life, know that you will always have your family's support, respect, and unconditional love. It's been a privilege to watch you grow and to see the independent, confident, funny and compassionate young man you have become. Congratulations!

All our love,

Mom, Dad, Gabby and Aly

J. Ben Ho

"You're packing a suitcase for a place
None of us has been
A place that has to be seen to be believed..."

It's a beautiful day
Don't let it get away!!!" (U2)

Way to go, Ben!
XOXOXO, Anna, Sara, Mom and Papa

Olivia Howell

From a distance, the world looks blue and green
And the snow capped mountains white
From a distance, the ocean meets the stream
And the eagle takes to flight
From a distance, there is harmony
And it echoes through the land
It's the voice of hope, it's the voice of peace
It's the voice of every man

-Julie Gold

Olivia,
As you "take flight", never cease to be that voice. Always continue to share your zest for life with others- you are an inspiration to us all!
Love,
Mom, Dad, Jake, Nanny & Baba

Nate Johnson

Congratulations, Nate!!

Keep reaching for the stars.

We are so proud of you.

Love,
Mom, Dad and Danielle

Alex Salton

Congratulations Alex!

Go confidently in the direction of your dreams.
Live the life you imagined.
-Thoreau

Great job on a journey well travelled. We are so proud of you!

We love you each and every day...

Mom and Dad

Cammy Brandfield-Harvey

Congratulations Cammy!!!!

With love from your family,
Mom, Dad, Neely, Addie, Bitsy and Winnie

Kate Wiener

Dear Kate,

What an unbelievably spectacular daughter! Your hopelessly disorganized dad can only sin in envy of someone who has her act so totally together. Whether excavating Bronze Age sites, learning Classical languages, or analyzing 20th century political history, you excel, and in the process make swarms of friends.

Onward and upward!

Your loving, admiring Dad

Darling Kate,

You were my first miracle. You transformed my life in so many wonderful ways, and you have exceeded my highest expectations. Your energy, your warmth, and your brilliant smile have brightened our family. I know you will amaze at college and beyond.

Love always,
Mom

Kate Wiener

Dear Kate,
I can't believe it is actually time to write this, although you certainly deserve it by now. You are honestly the best sister and one of the greatest people I know. No one could ask for a better role model or best friend. I look up to you more than you can imagine. Thank you for your constant support and advice. You've taught me so much, and I really admire everything about you. You are truly an amazing person inside and out, and our relationship means the world to me. I love our random, telepathic moments, our similar, if bizarre, music tastes, and your ability to actually make family vacations bearable. Most of all, I love how close we have become over the last few years, and I can't imagine ever missing you more than I do right now. I only wish that I got to spend more time with you and really witness the person you have become. While it feels as if it is the end of us growing up together, I cannot be sad for I know that you will go off to do so many great things. I love you so much.

Elizabeth

Dear Kate,

You are always a great sister to me.
You are always fun to be with.
Whatever you say is either funny or interesting.
You are the best sister any kid could have.
Have a good time at college!

I love you.

Best wishes,
Thomas

Dear Kate,

For over ten years you have made my life so wonderful!
Things would have been dull without you.
Now you have to be an adult for real this time.
You have always picked the best videos to see, things to do, and places to go.

I'm always your brother,
Jonathan

Michelle Ma

Congratulations Michelle !
We are very proud of you and all your accomplishments.

Love,
Mom, Dad & Aidan

Chris Cameron

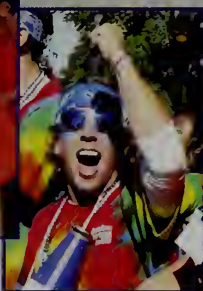

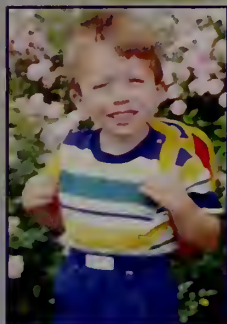

Chris Cameron

Chris,

You have given us so many reasons to be proud. You have always used your tools like hard work, determination, intelligence and leadership to accomplish great things! We have enjoyed watching you become an amazing young man! Congratulations on four super years at PA!

Love you,
Dad, Mom
Greg and Stephanie

"People of accomplishment rarely sat back and let things happen to them. They went out and happened to things." ~ Leonardo da Vinci

Andrew Mitchell

Congratulations, Andrew!

With love from Mom, Dad, Jack, Aune and Kiki

Midori Ishizuka

We're very proud of you and all of the wonderful dreams you've realized. Congratulations, you did it!
Lots of love, Mommy, Daddy, Megumi and Major

Ben & Delaney Burke

We have cherished every moment with you both and reluctantly realize that we now need to share you with the world so that you can brighten the world as you have our lives. You have blessed us with your dignity, humility and love.

Love you always,
Mom & Dad

Zary Peretz

Zary Anne Peretz

You've come a long way, Baby!

We are so proud of you.

Love, Mom & Wayne

Haley Scott

To our Pibs,

We respect and admire you enormously.

We are so proud of all that you have accomplished with mind and heart.

We adore you.

Love and more love,
Mom, Dad, Nate, Tess, Charlie and Bear

PS Clean your room.

Alex Smachlo

Alex,

"Go confidently in the direction of your dreams! Live the life you've imagined."
- Thoreau

Love,

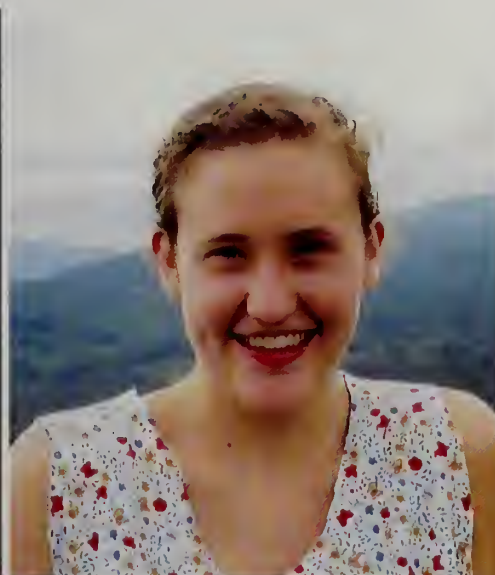

Mom, Dad, Julia & Miles.

Elizabeth Goldsmith

Elizabeth Goldsmith

Remember this day
Remember who you are Remember you are loved!
Love, Mom & Mike

Alex Nunez

Congratulations to our favorite fisherman!

Follow your dreams—
Love, Mom, Dad, Sara, Grandpa and Nami

Charlotte Cleveland

CONGRATULATIONS!

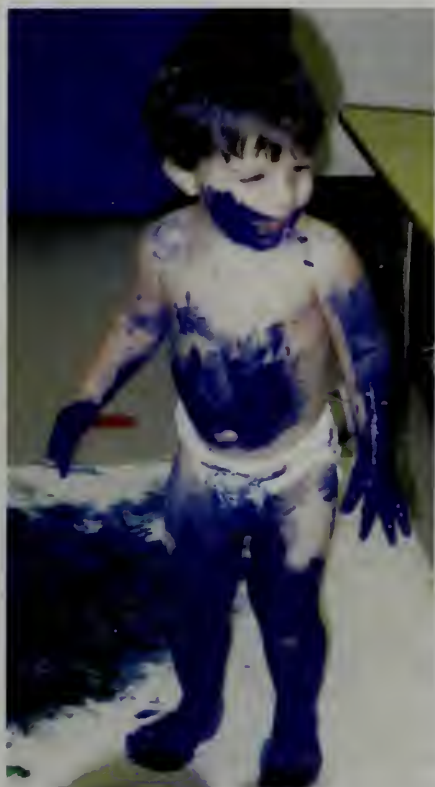

CHARLOTTE-LUISA

*Love, Mami, Dad,
George & Peter*

Thomas Armstrong

You have the hands that will open up the doors,
You have the hopes this world is waiting for,
You are my own, but you are so much more,
You are tomorrow on the wing,
child of mine.

Traditional

Love, Momma and Dadda

Sophie Gould

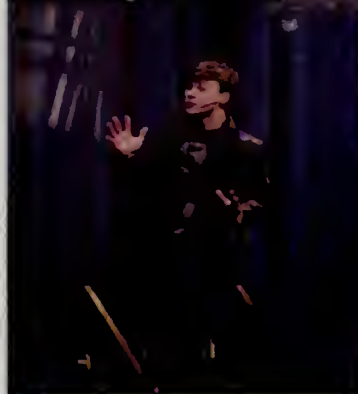

Congratulations Sophie!

You always make us proud!

With Love, Mum, Dad, Phoebe, Pennie, Pippa, Ellie and Peri.

Michael Mackay

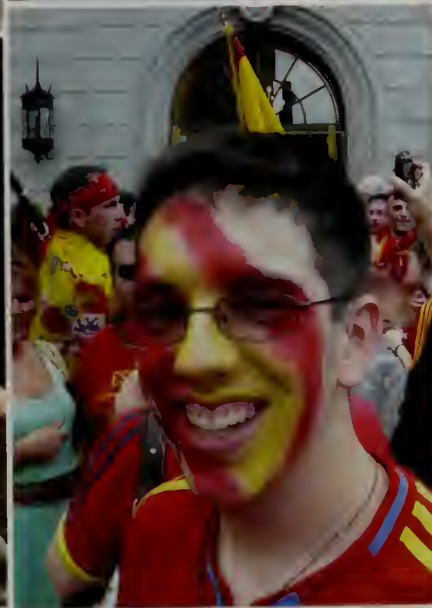

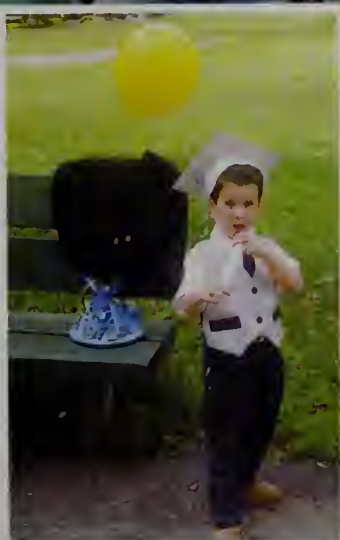

Congratulations Michael!
We couldn't be more proud of the young man you've become.
Love, Mom, Dad,
Matthew, Adam and Hannah
Thank you Andover.

Be who you are
And say what you feel
Because those who mind don't matter
And those who matter don't mind.
Dr. Suess

You make us so proud!
Love u, Mom & Dad

Kerry Lanzo

Dear Kerry,
You have come a long way.
Congratulations!
Love,
Mom, Dad, Erin and Lauren

Steven Kosovac

Ode 2 U D. Steven

As all can C,

YR heart and soul are filled W

SUPERCALIFRAGILSTICEXPIALIDOSITY.

(that's S-U-P-E-R-C-A-L-I-F-R-A-G-I-L-S-T-I-C-E-X-P-I-A-L-I-D-O-S-I-T-Y)

& it shows in everything U do.

Congratulations on YR success @ Andover.

The world is fortunate and we R thrilled that U R U!

Chim Chim Cher-eeeeee :D

- YR Loving Family

Emily Rademacher

Venisti, Vidisti, Vicisti

Love,
Mom, Dad, Susanna,
Grace, and Lily

Whitney Glick

W O N D E R F U L
W H I T N E Y

We know you will go out into the world and accomplish amazing things!

Love, Mom, Dad, Wyatt, and Dana

Lexi Moroney

Lexi,
Congratulations!

We are very proud of you!

Love, Mommy, Daddy, and Stephanie

Jenn Dwyer

It has been a wonderful journey, Jenn.
Wishing you smiles and happiness always!
With love, Mom, Dad, and Will

Adam Levine

Marafioti

Congratulations!

We love you and are always proud of you.

Scott Shambaugh

Scott, Congratulations! We are so proud of
you,
Love from Mom, Dad, and Katie

The Woontons

Andrew Woonton

"Go confidently in the direction of your dreams. Live the life you have imagined."
Henry David Thoreau

Brian Woonton

"What lies behind us and what lies before us are tiny matters compared to what lies within us."
Ralph Waldo Emerson

The Woontons

Katherine Woonton

"...Life is a dream, realize it. Life is a challenge, meet it...
Life is a promise, fulfill it...Life is an adventure, dare it..."
Mother Teresa

Congratulations

Andrew, Brian and Katherine

"You have brains in your head.
You have feet in your shoes.
You can steer yourself,
Any direction you choose."
Dr. Seuss

We are so proud of you !

With our love,
Mom, Dad and Megan

Dan Larson

CONGRATULATIONS DAN~
YOU MAKE US VERY PROUD!
MOM, DAD AND MEG

Cliff Brannan

Cliff: Congratulations on your graduation from Andover! We are all very proud of you Love, Mom, Dad, Stu, and Cocoa

Teddy Drake

Congratulations, Teddy!

We are very proud of you and the Class of 2011 at Andover.

Love, Mom, Dad, and Lousia

Amanda Wang

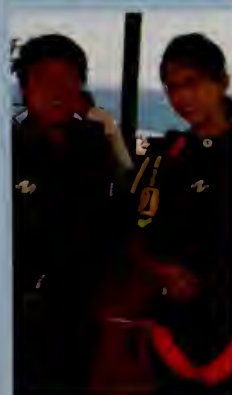

*Congratulations Amanda
We are so proud of you*

一帆风顺

*Follow your dreams and keep your passion
You have our love and support along your journey*

*Love always,
Mom, Dad & Jonathan*

Michael Kontaxis

May you see life through a lens of love, God's love.

Mom, Dad, Christian and Nicky
Romans 8:38,39

Elizabeth Kelly

Elizabeth, Congratulations on your wonderful achievements both in and out of the classroom!! We are very proud of how you challenged yourself academically while developing a passion for Community Service and a desire to make a positive difference in the lives of others. As you begin the next exciting chapter of your life, may you continue to live life to its fullest by embracing new experiences and believing in yourself. MLY+MaSaB!!!! All our love... Mom, Dad, Harmony and Jazz

Katie & Ashley Hess

Katie and Ashley,

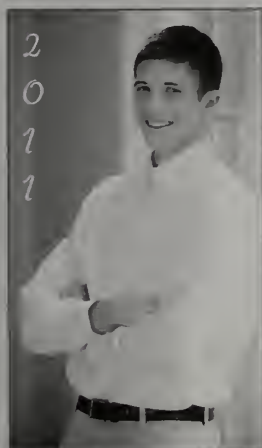

It has been quite a journey from Florida to New England. I am so proud of both of your many accomplishments. Cherish all your memories and friend you've made along the way.

Congratulations - you're ready!

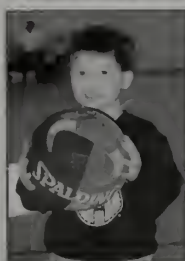

Love,
Mom and Bill

Mark Hanson

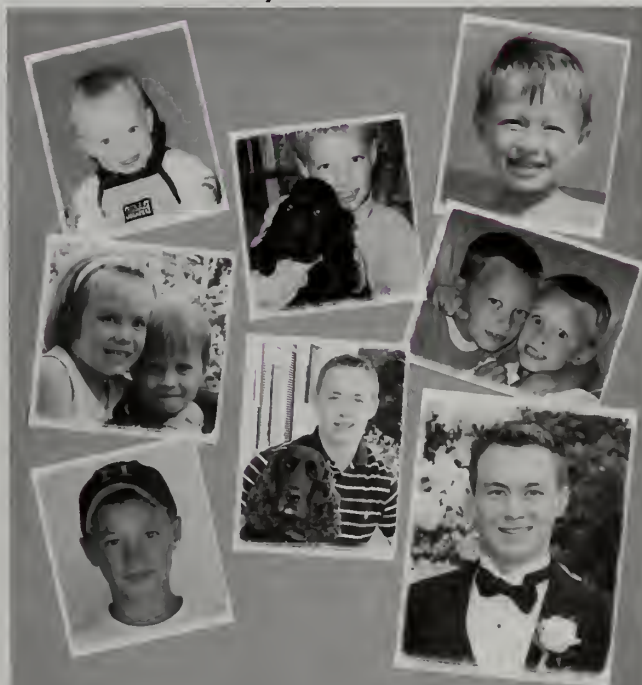

"Chance favors the prepared mind."
-Louis Pasteur

Mark,
Congratulations on four great years at Andover. We are very proud of you.
Love, Mom, Dad, Kristy and Brittany

Ryan Gaiss

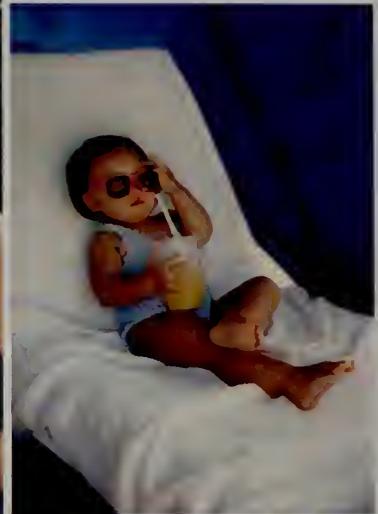

Congratulations Ryan!

You've always given us big reasons to smile!

We're so proud of you!

Love, Dad, Mom, Kaitlin, Austin & Ace

Hana Kim

Cherish the past.
Enjoy the present.
Dream of the future.
And always live with aloha.

Love, Mom, Dad, Drew and Avery

Megan Robertson
 Congratulations Megan
 We are so proud of you!

Love,
 Dad, Mom, David and Molly

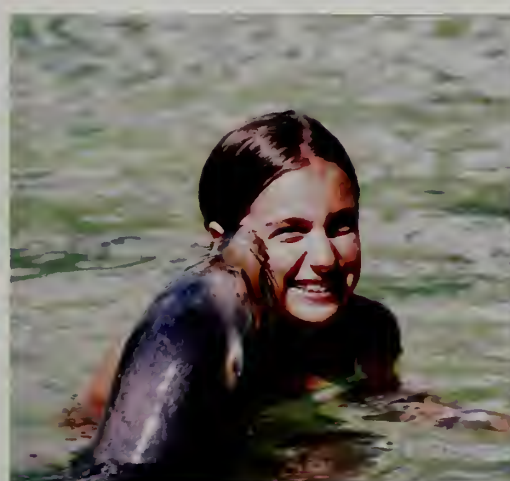

Jessica Holley

Congratulations Jessica!

Marilyn Hewett

"A laugh is the shortest distance between two people."
 Giggle all the way home
 little water bug.

CELEBRATING YOU!
 Love, Mom, Dad, Andrea and Geoffrey

Joann Wang

Alec Abitbol

🌟 Congratulations

🌟 Academic Likeable Enthusiastic Cat

Mom, Dad and Max

Peter Heidrich

Dadu '05
Darsh '39
Grant '70
Bill '72
Will '03
Pete '11

Peter McCabe Heidrich 2011
Captain Boys Tennis

Peter and David
Barlett '10 and '11

CONGRATULATIONS! Keep dreaming, living, and loving!
Love, Mom and Dad, Will, Carolyn, Chris and Clara

Audrey McMurtrie

Dear Audrey,

I am so proud of the young woman you have become. Always follow your passion and dreams.

Love,
Dad xo

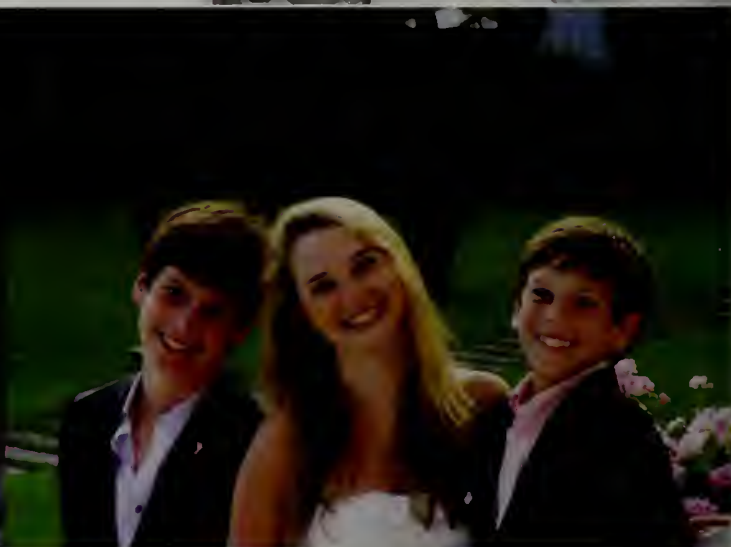

Julia Dean

Congratulations Julia!

Mom, Dad, Tommy,
Charlie, Emma and Bruce.

No one could ask for a better
daughter, sister, dog walker or available lap. You are the sun in the sky.

Elizabeth Watson

Entrée. Elizabeth, Entrées / En Your courage and adventures inspire us.

09. Love

Nneka Anunkor

Congratulations, Nneka.

You've made us proud!
May God bless you richly.

Mom, Dad, Ifeoma, Chi-Chi, Azuka & Ogechi

Elizabeth Carrolo

Congratulations Elizabeth! We love you so much!
Love, Mom, Dad and Emily

Evan Hoyt

Know who you are

Know whom you love

Know who loves you

Know where you're from

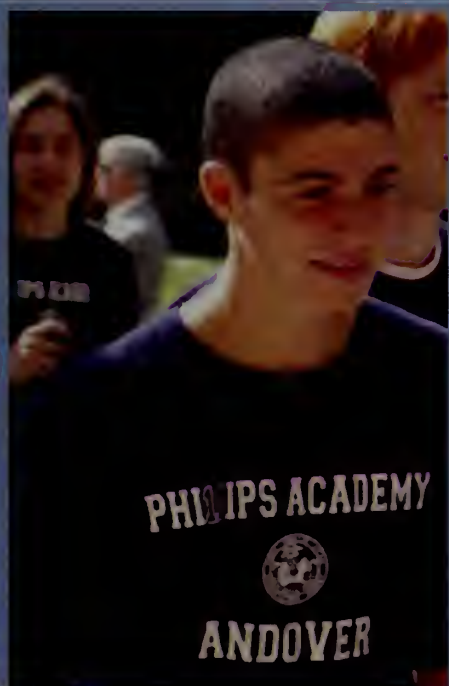

We've always known

The sky's the limit

Know where you're going

Zachary Fine

ZACHARY FINE

BORN IN NEW ORLEANS THE CITY WITH SOUL

HIS MUSE IS MUSIC FROM JAZZ TO ROCK AND ROLL

HIS PASSIONS FOR ART WE WATCHED UNFOLD

HIS CREATIVE EXPRESSIONS WILL BREAK THE MOLD

CONGRATULATIONS, ZACHARY!

WE APPLAUD YOUR MANY AND MEANINGFUL ACCOMPLISHMENTS AND THE CREATIVITY AND TENACITY YOU HAVE EXERCISED ON YOUR ARTFUL JOURNEY TO ENLIGHTENMENT. WE CELEBRATE, MOST IMPORTANTLY, YOUR CARE AND RESPECT FOR OTHERS, ACTS OF VIRTUE THAT GIVE LIFE THE BEST OF ITS MEANING.

WITH THE GREATEST OF LOVE AND ADMIRATION, WE ARE PROUDLY

MOM AND DAD

Matthew Mahoney

Matthew,

When you arrived at Andover I gave you a saying attributed to Teddy Roosevelt, "Do what you can, where you are, with what you have!"

You have grown so much, tackling every situation in your own way. I am so proud of that man you are becoming.

Love always and forever no matter what - Mom

Chloe Reichel

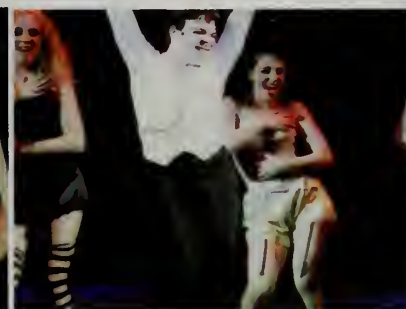

Congratulations Chloe!
We are so proud of you,
With all our love,
Mom and Dad

Patrick Brady

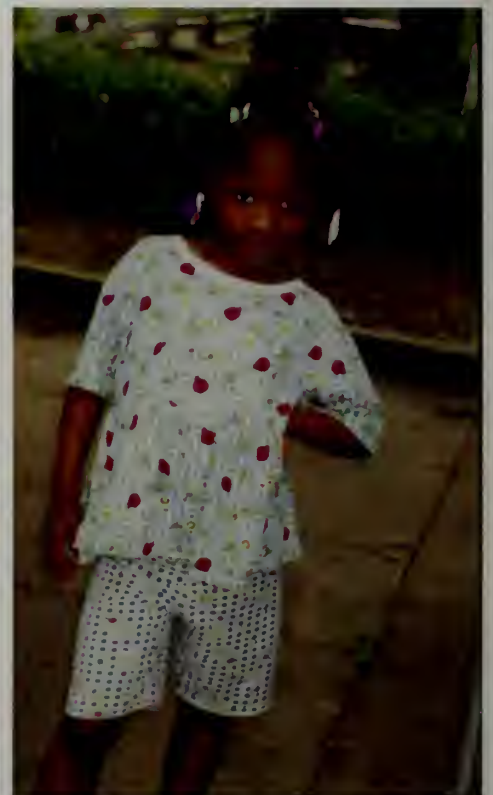

Patrick,

We're so proud of the young man you are and of the man you are yet to become... The best is yet to come!

We love you
Mom and Dad

Ijeoma Ejiogu

Trust in the LORD with all your heart and lean not on your own understanding;
in all your ways acknowledge him,
and he will make your paths straight.
Proverbs 3:4-6

I know the plans that I have for you, declares the Lord, plans for good and not for evil, to give you a hope and a future.
Commit to the LORD whatever you do, and your plans will succeed.
Jeremiah 29: 11-13

"Thy word is a lamp unto my feet, and a light unto my path." Psalm 119:105

We love you and wish you success all the days of your life. Love, Mom, Dad, Aunty, Tina and family.

Kendall MacRae

"..there are all kinds of freedom, and the kind that is most precious you will not hear much talked about in the great outside world of winning and achieving and displaying. The really important kind of freedom involves attention, and awareness, and discipline, and effort, and being able truly to care about other people and to sacrifice for them, over and over, in myriad petty little unsexy ways, every day. That is real freedom."

David Foster Wallace, from a commencement speech to the 2005 graduating class of Kenyon College

We love you Kendall.
Dad, Mom, Becca, and Lilybet

Sophia Erickson

Sophia! Congratulations and all best wishes for the future!

Love, Andrew, Cyrille, and Astrid!

Alumni House Clement House

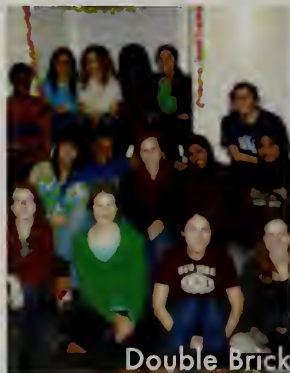

Burnt House Flagg

Bertha Bailey Eaton

Bhagwan Lal Carter

Double Brick Draper

A Aaron, Charlotte 104, 105, 138
 Abasi, Anibiet 47, 162, 179, 196
 Abasi, Unwana 25, 38, 148
 Abbott, Rachel 111
 Abitbal, Alec 130, 329
 Abitbal, Alexandre 162, 193
 Abrahamsen, Matthew 148
 Abreu, Bill 148
 Academy, Phillips 21, 39, 42, 49, 91
 Adams, Will 53, 162, 179, 269, 273
 Adamsson, Mark 34, 126, 162, 173, 245
 Adeyemi, Hamed 162, 178, 221
 Adler, Emily 154
 Agbi, Theodore 117, 148
 Ahmad, Tasmiah 31, 33
 Aiella, Ashlyn 138
 Alekseeva, Ms. 116
 Allen, Ms. 116
 Amurawaye, Kemi 96, 132, 162, 178, 183, 236
 Anamur, Emre 154
 Anderlik, Alex 138
 Anderson, Jeannine 17, 27, 37, 162, 170, 227
 Anelone, Minymah 154
 Angers, Carey 117, 162, 181, 211
 Annelane, Mimymah 100
 Anunkar, Nneka 162, 178, 182, 251, 333
 Appleby, Justin 148
 Appleby, Matt 40, 162, 178, 245
 Arijan, Terrence 154
 Armstrong, Thomas 129, 162, 265
 Arnold, Rame 117
 Arane, Jonathan 96, 120
 Arana, Daniel 212
 Aronav, Daniel 99, 162
 Asare-Bediaka, Abena 138
 Ashfarth, Clare 75, 162, 209
 Askew, Margan 116, 162, 249
 Aubrey, Calvin 76, 154
 Auguste-Nelson, Ceylan 17, 155
 Aveillas, George 148
 Avellaneda, Oiana 40, 138
 Azaret, Lydia 11, 83, 94, 154

B Bahndori, Rishab 180
 Bailey, Jordan 126, 162, 180, 231
 Bailey, Richard 162, 256
 Bakken, Jan 154
 Bakken, Thomas 121
 Bakst, Andrew 22
 Baldassari, Anthony 85, 162, 178, 196
 Ballard, Kristina 162, 239
 Bang, Peter 132, 161, 162, 175, 178, 253
 Baradwaj, Nikhil 110, 151
 Baravalle, Chaira 22, 179, 207, 348
 Baravalle, Chiara A. 162
 Barral, Jack 138
 Barras, Tatiana Monteiro De 154
 Barry, Ray 88, 89, 255
 Batchelder, Chris 162, 178
 Batchelder, Chris 34, 208
 Bature, Angela 42, 74, 75, 148
 Bauer, Ms. 121
 Bauman, Mary Palk 272
 Beckley, Aldon 111
 Beinecke, Hannah 348
 Bekturav, Omar 138
 Belinke, Ali 17, 33, 148
 Benedict, Cole 138
 Benedict, Collin 40
 Benvenuti, Kathryn 154
 Bernard, Denzil 162, 178, 213
 Berner, Sam 154
 Bernhard, Adele 27, 101, 138
 Bernieri, Coach 68
 Berra, Malka 25, 27, 138
 Berube, Michael 22, 57, 164, 247
 Berube, Michael P. 162
 Bhaiwala, Sahil 22, 111, 144, 148
 Bhan, Meera 22, 31, 138
 Bhandari, Rishabh 161, 162, 256

Bielasiak, Jesse 31, 40, 162, 229
 Blackwood, Christopher 44, 154
 Blanken, Linda 22, 162, 241
 Blessingame, Khalil 154
 Black, Max 104, 105
 Blavin, Pierre-Julien 154
 Bonachea, Rolanda 148
 Bond, Jordan 138
 Boudreau, Jordan 138
 Bauscare, Travis 76, 138
 Bayle, Mike 144
 Bradley, Asia 25, 154
 Brady, Pat 51, 170
 Brady, Patrick 11, 111, 162, 253, 337
 Brandana, Juli 63, 91
 Brandfield-Harvey, Camilla 111, 162, 203
 Brannan, Cliff 132, 162, 179
 Brannon, Clifton 209
 Bread, At 58
 Bremer, Maddie 74
 Bren, Olivia 148
 Brenner, Ariana 122, 154
 Briggs, Victoria 162, 267
 Brodie, Ben 162, 179, 199, 348
 Brady, Adam 138
 Bralsma, Kerstin 52, 162, 188, 348
 Brooks, Cal 16, 105, 128, 162, 179, 201
 Bucklin, Laura 105, 138
 Buca, Jason 69, 227
 Budge, Mariana 25, 39, 59, 154
 Budney, Charlie 126, 157
 Bulger, Kate 83, 128, 162, 235
 Burbine, Nathaniel 123
 Burger, Devon 148
 Burke, Ben 162, 178, 199
 Burke, Delaney 86, 87, 162, 173, 212
 Burkitt, Sean 104, 105
 Burman, Abigail 154
 Burnim, Audrey 144
 Butt, Deena 148
 Butterfield, Richard 148

C Cachio, Julie 37, 41, 162, 233
 Calkins, Chris 131, 162, 178, 179, 208
 Call, Kade 138, 140
 Callahan, Shannon 59
 Camarda, Michael 76, 151
 Camarda, Nicholas 93, 154
 Cameron, Chris 31, 49, 162, 183, 207
 Cameron, Greg 144
 Canavan, Jason 138
 Cannan, Catherine 162, 205
 Cao, Wenyu 40, 48, 162, 269
 Carey, Kevin 162, 167, 237
 Caralla, Elizabeth 19
 Carpenter, Shelby 154
 Carr, Coach 72, 73
 Carrillo-Ostraw, Max 148
 Carroll, Claire 22, 138
 Carralla, Elizabeth 25, 30, 165, 217, 334
 Carrala, Emily 94, 95, 148
 Carter, Ms. 116
 Casselberry, James 165, 225
 Caster, Faber 116
 Centafanti, Shelby 40, 165, 261
 Chacan, Walter 134
 Chan, Manwei 19, 23, 92, 132, 165, 179, 243
 Chanarat, Prim 165, 178, 254
 Chang, Arianna 148
 Chang, Dominick 31, 40, 165, 181, 215
 Chao, Elaine 132, 138, 140
 Chaviano, Katherine 154
 Chavalla-Zacarias, Omega 26, 148, 155
 Chazen, Zae 44, 97
 Cheer, Seal 94
 Chen, Jane 34, 165, 179, 183, 225
 Chen, Jeremy 148
 Chen, Rosalyn 38
 Cheng, Connie 148
 Chia, Sheiling 38, 348
 Chim, Oscar 117, 148
 Chin, Taylor 72
 Cho, Andrew 48, 154

Choi, Catherine 148
 Choi, Derrick 76, 154
 Choi, Yea Bi 130, 148
 Chao, Rana 17, 165, 178, 180, 259
 Chaong, Dhanaporn 165, 213
 Chay, Christa 130
 Chun, Sequoia 138
 Chung, Abby 10, 122, 144, 148
 Chung, Jisoo 138, 141
 Cirelli, Gabbie 96, 154, 348
 Clancy, Caitlin 21, 22, 148
 Cleveland, Catherine 36, 161, 165, 179, 205
 Cleveland, Charlotte-Luisa W. 11, 23, 165, 183, 207
 Cockburn, Charles 35, 161, 165, 178, 205
 Coker, Tabi 134, 157
 Collins, Meghan 42, 117, 165, 178, 246
 Connors, Kate 107
 Cante, Lauren 40, 94, 138
 Cante, Lorenza 93, 111, 154
 Caravas, Cassandra 165, 205
 Cardera, Gabriel 154, 155
 Carey, Ian 154
 Caveney, Connor 211
 Crane, David 26, 144
 Craen, Ben 117
 Crafton, Elliott 148
 Curtis, Jared 98, 99, 165, 182, 227
 Curtis, Margaret 2, 154
 Curtis, Piper 75, 105, 148
 Cusick, John 31, 88, 165, 231
 Cuthell, Scott 165, 167, 261

d D'Agostino, Franca 96, 148
 D'Alelio, Alec 27, 138
 D'Alelio, Drew 132
 Daly, Quinn 27
 Danner, Charles 36, 122, 165, 179, 205
 Danner, Drake 138
 Danavitch, Amelia 95, 144, 148
 Danziger, Julian 18, 22, 175, 233
 Das, Michael 117, 148
 Davidson, Alexander 154
 Davidson, Callie 11, 165, 202
 Davila, Ezequiel 31, 152, 154
 de la Cruz, Alberto 165, 191
 de Lacruz, Alberto 179
 Dean, Julia 30, 31, 64, 130, 165, 179, 182, 183, 233, 332
 Decker, Ali 23, 121
 Delaney, Brian 69, 154
 Demeulenaere, Alex 148, 151
 Dempsey, Colton 17, 102
 Deruff, Henry 138
 Deveney, Connor 35, 40, 76, 134, 183, 211
 Devlin, Gregory 21, 138
 Devlin, Tyler 27
 Diarra, Fatoumata 25, 41
 Diekema, Scott 138
 DiFranza, Michael L. 72, 165, 169, 179, 247
 Ding, Fengning 154
 Dixit, Nikhil 128
 Doctor, Tahera 31, 144, 148, 348
 Doherty, Ann 86, 87, 165, 196
 Dolan, Jay 31, 89, 179, 182, 227
 Donovan, Alexandra 26, 148
 Donovan, Paul 253
 Dora, Charlotte 148
 Dartana, Tailor 40
 Drake, Theodore 98, 99, 165, 265
 Duque, Sofia 128, 165, 178, 261
 Durant, Casey 126, 138
 Dwyer, Jennifer 22, 40, 165, 227
 Dwyer, Mia 130, 154

e Eads, Evan 45, 348
 Edison, Jasmine 53, 96, 97, 134, 165, 227
 Edmonds, Kennedy 34, 49, 154
 Eijk, Charles Van 24, 138
 Ejiagu, Ijeoma 24, 165, 173, 223, 338
 Ekpa, Aniebiet 169
 Elder, Zachary 30, 31, 165, 175, 271
 Ellinger, Katie 31, 65, 82, 83
 Elliot-Higgins, John 40
 Elson, Isabel 39, 348

Engel, Mally 17, 148
 Erickson, Sophia 165, 178, 262, 339
 Erskine, Haley 34, 126, 154
 Esakof, Alex 96
 Esakof, Zachary 22, 34, 40, 42, 165, 178, 270
 Eun, Jee 50
 Everts, Cara 203
 Ewing, Emily 40
 Eyzaguirre, Maita 138, 139

f Fabian, Wesley 42, 148
 Fagan, Calby 91
 Faller, Joe 40, 92
 Faller, Theresa 59, 165, 179, 265
 Fallon, Connor 165, 211
 Fang, Emily 74, 75
 Fanikas, Kaitlin 62, 82, 111, 164, 165, 183, 233
 Farhat, Chena 19, 22, 130, 154
 Farquhar, Derek 5
 Farrell, Adam 24, 27, 76, 77
 Fassenfest, Bernhard 50
 Fasa, Burkina 54
 Faulkner, Kristen 23, 52, 83, 94, 165, 179, 239
 Feder, Andries 148
 Feghali, Fay 75, 117, 154
 Fehnel, Stephen 22
 Fernandez, Manuel 35, 165, 179, 243
 Ferranti, Alison 107
 Field, Emily 10
 Figliomeni, Emilia 138, 139
 Finder, Aaron 105, 148
 Fine, Zachary 130, 165, 271, 336
 Finnie, Hannah 23, 165, 223
 Fisher, Gabriele 138
 Fitzgerald, John Henry 138
 Flanagan, Connor 84, 85, 165, 211
 Flemming, Khalil 31
 Fothergill, Matthew 67, 166, 178, 245
 Fawhler, Alexandra 27
 Frankel, Claire 21
 Fraser, Connor 40
 Freedman, Sarah 154
 Frey, Lucy 95
 Frye, Curtis 122, 123
 Fu, Virginia 148
 Funabashi, Mari 148
 Fung, Kevin 35, 96

g Gaiss, Ryan 102, 103, 166, 177, 178, 259, 325
 Garden, Taylor 31, 166, 179, 265
 Gibbins, Goadwin 21, 166, 221
 Giles, Claudia 27, 151, 348
 Gill, Kiran 166, 238
 Girkins, Stella 23, 166, 167, 263
 Glick, Whitney 94, 166, 178, 269
 Gado-Sala, Lydia 17, 149
 Galde, Gaelyn 17, 31, 126, 144, 149
 Goldsmith, Elizabeth 111, 166, 217
 Goldstein, Ricky 31, 155
 Gamez, Amina 23, 31
 Goodman, Pearson 44
 Goodyear, Kendall 104, 154, 348
 Gordon, Raquel 126, 154
 Gottfried, Daniel 55, 130, 154
 Gould, Sophie 10, 40, 121, 161, 166, 262
 Graham, Stella 11, 31
 Grain, Chelsea 156
 Grandeau, Raphael 27, 92, 166, 254
 Grant, Madison 126, 348
 Graves, Earl G. 88, 166, 178, 215
 Gray, Samantha 121, 166, 178, 259
 Green, Bennett 22, 166, 201
 Green, Sam 68, 149
 Graat, Hannah De 154
 Gras, Noah Le 134
 Gu, Garrick 149
 Gu, George 138
 Guan, Charles 48, 149, 156
 Gua, Shirley 166, 261
 Guzzi, Hannah 22

Carriage House Morton

Pemberton

Reese

Paul Revere

Foxcroft Hall

Tucker House

h Han, Sirus 40
 Hanafin, Brian 154
 Hansen, Luke 98, 99, 166, 241
 Hanson, Mark 31, 88, 89, 130, 166, 179, 183, 245, 325
 Hantman, Michelle 154
 Hardin, Karl 132, 166, 178, 233
 Harmange, Claire 83, 161, 166, 175, 209
 Harmeling, Carolyn 19, 63, 166, 178, 203
 Harrington, Veronica 149
 Harris, Marilyn 58, 166, 179, 183, 245
 Harris, Sarah 117, 154
 Harrison, Anna 149
 Hartung, Kasey 91
 Hartung, Ryan 31, 88
 Hastings, Cameron 154
 Haugh, Meaghan 123, 149
 Haugh, Megan 151
 Hawkins, Dylan 72, 129, 166, 215
 Hayman, Miranda 11, 30, 37, 64, 122, 133, 154
 Heaney, James 117
 Hebb, Katherine 153, 154, 348
 Hedley, Christopher 21, 26, 149
 Heffner, Austin 11, 27
 Heidrich, Peter 166, 253, 330
 Henesey, Keely 37, 154
 Hess, Ashley 132, 166, 179, 199, 325
 Hess, Katie 166, 235, 348
 Hewett, Marilyn 164, 166, 243, 327, 348
 Hickey, Connor 72, 128, 166, 178, 209
 Hickey, Thomas 85, 265
 Higgins, Bridget 117
 Higgins, Jaclyn 154
 Ho, Ben 54, 166, 231
 Ho, Yanlin 149
 Hoffman, Alice 31, 133
 Hoffman, Francie 117, 166, 179, 221
 Halley, Jessica 24, 166, 178, 229, 327, 348
 Hang, Sung Waa 128, 149
 Hoada, Misha 25, 100
 Harner, Auggie 19, 39, 102, 103, 117, 136, 137
 Harner, Charles 41, 42, 54, 136, 137, 154
 Hasana, Gregory 138
 Howe, Campbell 40, 95, 138, 142
 Howell, Jake 121, 139
 Howell, Olivia 24, 166, 177, 253
 Howland, Amanda 21, 24, 100, 166, 178, 179, 194
 Howland, Oiana 110, 130, 149
 Hayt, Emily 74, 149
 Hayt, Evan 166, 219, 335
 Hayt, Grace 21, 37, 38, 166, 221, 348
 Humes, Leah 90, 91, 154
 Hunt, Sage 11
 Hunter, James 31, 121, 144, 149
 Hurley, Cooper 134, 138
 Hutton, Jeremy 21, 54, 166, 177, 178, 229
 Huzar, Aleksander 166, 191
 Hyde, Susannah 27, 149

• Idah, Orie 23, 130, 166, 253
 Ijeama, Ej 126
 Ingram, Jahn 40, 166, 180, 231
 Ishizuka, Midori 100, 101, 166, 249
 Ivey, Kian 117, 154
 Iyer, Apsara 154

• Jabavin, Sheya 62, 166, 177, 178, 261, 348
 Jacobs, Matthew 138
 Jacobson, Emily 144, 149
 Jae, Min 102
 Jafarey, Aazim 166, 190
 Jain, Saloni 128
 Jain, Supriya 154
 Jamieson, Kelsey 82, 83, 154
 Jamir, Sierra Mari 138
 Jamison, Kelsey 83
 Jan, Selina 154
 Janavsky, David 40, 166, 178, 212
 Jarvenpaa, Angelica 40, 166, 173, 178, 196
 Jennings, Trey 96
 Jia, Emily 149
 Jia, Felicia 117, 154, 156
 Jiang, Kevin 96
 Jin, Hyun 138

Jahns, Graham 23
 Jahnsan, Erin 30, 31, 144, 149, 348
 Jahnsan, Jordan 10, 40, 86, 151
 Jahnsan, Nathan 97, 168, 181, 251
 Jones, Darathy 149
 Jones, Kastle 154
 Joyce, Kerry 168, 178, 237

k Kahan, Jessica 24, 138
 Kang, Sara 149
 Kaprelian, Lydia 59, 149
 Kasper, Maddie 10, 25, 40, 154
 Katani, Tamara 27, 30
 Kaul, Hemang 144, 149
 Kearns, Nick 179
 Kelly, Elizabeth 23, 132, 168, 178, 217, 324
 Kempner, Marga 39
 Kennelly, Henry 11, 19, 76, 77, 151
 Kent, Christopher 164, 168, 181, 208
 Kent, Emily 57, 82, 168, 170, 183, 218
 Kerrigan, Christopher 168, 208
 Khan, Scherezade 110
 Khan, Tasfia 42
 Kicharowsky, Julia 116
 Kilgae, Hector 49, 111, 163, 168, 223
 Kim, Anika 40, 138
 Kim, Eun Jin 138
 Kim, Hana 57, 168, 221, 326
 Kim, Hyun 149
 Kim, Jackie 120
 Kim, Jean 154
 Kim, Kun Waa 98, 138
 Kim, Lauren 25, 111, 149
 Kim, Maddie 2
 Kim, Natalie 138
 Kim, Stephanie 149
 Kim, Steve 53, 179
 Kim, Wan Yang 269
 Kingston, Caitlin 82, 83, 121, 168, 178, 201
 Kiss-Rusk, Alex 31, 91, 121
 Klemperer, Caroline Van 101, 158
 Knall, Pine 126, 140
 Ka, Janine 27
 Kabelski, Margaret 138
 Kaffman, Sam 42, 144, 149
 Kah, Jung Hun 55, 168, 233
 Kantaxis, Michael 11, 30, 31, 110, 168, 247, 324
 Kao, Hyunji 27
 Kaalen, Mr. 188
 Kasovac, O. Steven 117, 134, 168, 213
 Kauch, Elaine 183
 Kramer, Alex 40, 149
 Kramer, Nick 178, 251
 Kramer, Tammy 121, 168, 265
 Kratzer, Isabella 154
 Kremer, Baston 51
 Krichmar, Dan 41
 Krishnamachar, Ambika 183
 Krishna, Advaya 40, 168, 190
 Krishnamachar, Ambika 75, 163, 168, 178, 194
 Krishnamachar, Anjali 149
 Kraan, Jennifer 144, 149
 Kruey, Jae 69, 96
 Kuhl, Katherine 23
 Kulalert, Kitipat 251
 Kulalert, Nitipat 168
 Kuach, Elaine 17, 57, 168, 215
 Kuta, Jae 84, 168, 178, 231
 Kwariler, Eliana 37, 122, 154
 Kwan, Alex 138
 Kwan, Celine 149
 Kwan, Gabby 30, 34, 168, 179, 221
 Kwan, MinYoung 249

Lalanne, Oemetrius 168, 178, 183, 213
 Lam, Brandon 168, 201
 Lam, Tiffany 149
 Lamba, Nikita 17, 37, 117, 168, 170, 251
 Lampetti, Vita 31
 Landay, Sophia 22, 138
 Langworthy, Babby 35, 168, 257
 Lanza, Kerry 34, 168, 178, 183, 237
 Larson, Dan 38, 51, 76, 77, 168, 211

Leahy, Helen 97
 Lee, Garrett 168, 179, 221
 Lee, Hayata 40, 98, 99, 149
 Lee, Jee Eun 168, 227
 Lee, Jessica 31, 100, 101, 132
 Lee, Jina 21, 154
 Lee, Katherine 144
 Lee, Laura 111, 168, 241
 Lee, Shin-Jae 22, 149
 Lee, Sahyun 149
 Lee-Kramer, Peter 72, 168, 254
 Legaspi, Jashiah 138
 Leggett, Mimi 31, 57, 149, 348
 LeGras, Noah 72
 Lender, Jackie 37, 167, 168, 224
 Lenza, TJ 98, 99
 Lerner, Sven 102, 144
 Lescuré, Aube 8, Rey 27, 172, 178, 199
 Lessard, Sam 68, 69, 126, 168, 178, 259
 Leung, Jonathan 168, 231
 Levene, Molly 40, 83, 154, 155, 348
 Levine, Adam 168, 169, 179, 190, 348
 Levy, Michael 11, 51
 Levy, Richard 149
 Lewis, Rhea 27, 97
 Li, Elisa 178, 348
 Li, Haonan 58, 149
 Li, Xiaoxiao E. 168, 270
 Liang, April 48, 134, 168, 197
 Liaquat, Fatima 60
 Light, Connor 85
 Lim, James 27, 97, 154, 157
 Lippe, Max 69, 88, 89, 173, 257
 Liu, Marie 31, 68, 69, 76, 77, 82, 83, 93, 154, 348
 Liu, Stephanie 27, 53, 121, 168, 179, 263
 Livingston, Scott 131
 Lopez, Luz 10, 21, 154
 Lord, Julia 20, 123
 Lyons, JA-Lamar 138
 Lytle, Lane 117, 168, 179, 241

m

Ma, Michelle 111, 168, 178, 248
 MacDoland, Dylan 151
 MacDonald, Amanda 154
 MacDonald, Courtney 43, 74, 75, 163, 168, 178, 211
 MacDonald, Dylan 31
 McKay, Michael J. 167, 168, 179
 MacRae, Kendall 95, 168, 179, 236, 339, 348
 MacRae, Lilybet 31, 40, 95
 Magnell, Molly 23, 24, 121, 138
 Mahansaria, Vidush 27, 154, 158
 Mahatra, Rahan 24
 Mahaney, Matt 77, 93, 168, 171, 178, 182, 245, 337
 Malhotra, Rahan 171, 257
 Malaney, Kayla 10, 91
 Mam, Malyana 10, 149
 Mancilla, Brandon 154
 Manuel, Ben 23, 35, 154, 155
 Manuel, Charles 120, 141
 Maqubela, Tebogo 72, 170, 179, 265
 Marchese, Tim 72, 171, 266
 Marcatte, Ricky 30, 31, 68, 126, 171, 256
 Marcatte, Sarah 86, 144
 Margalese, Rachel 42, 56, 105, 154
 Marrus, Jacob 130, 138
 Marrus, Samantha 45, 72, 154, 348
 Marshall, Tyler 96, 141
 Martinez, Samantha 149
 Martucci, Daniel 149
 Masmaudi, Iman 22, 23, 134, 138
 Matsumoto, Sumi 19, 171, 179, 255
 Mattrick, Aidan 150
 Mayer, Abriana 43
 McBeth, Greer 86, 87, 154
 McBride, Calby 154
 McCall, Nekele 75, 91
 McClintic, Alastair 99, 144
 McClintic, Madeleine 22, 154
 McCay, Myracle 129, 138
 McGeachie, Jack 22, 31, 73, 144, 150
 McGlain, Lucia 27
 McGrath, Hannah 94, 171, 223
 McGrath, Patrick 171, 182, 253

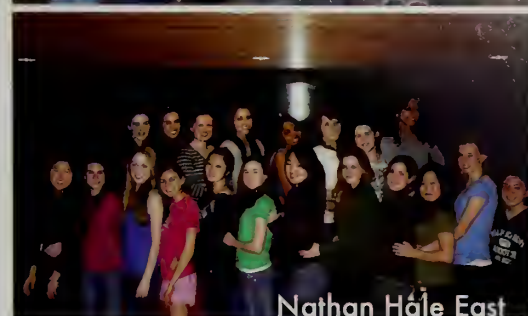

n

McIntire, Kristin 138
 McKay, Michael 247
 McKenna, Katherine 138
 McKenzie, Tafarii 40
 McKinnon, Emily 42, 95, 150
 McLaughlin, Tim 35, 38, 171, 178, 266
 McLean, Katie 59, 126, 154, 348
 McMurtrie, Audrey 26, 30, 64, 171, 181, 183, 187, 331, 348
 McQuillen, Casey 18, 19, 53, 171, 178, 205
 McSweeney, Shannon 31, 120, 171, 261
 Meagher, Julianna 167, 171, 233
 Meetings, All-School 61
 Mehlman, Emma 138
 Meller, Eric 68, 69, 154
 Menar, Heather 31
 Mendez, Kristin 110, 150
 Mendia, Diego 171, 182, 215
 Mentas, Aaron 72, 171, 178, 190
 Merchant, William 150
 Merina, Vanessa 23, 150
 Mesrabian, Katharine 154
 Meyer, Chris 40, 54, 171, 207
 Meyer, Mark 27, 41, 150
 Meyer, Reid 138
 Meyer, Wesley 110, 171, 269
 Miggs, Luke 164, 171, 241
 Mitchell, Andrew 171, 178, 183, 195
 Manecke, Janina 171, 178, 225
 Mantana, Miguel 117, 171, 249
 Mantieth, Lauren 138
 Maan, Li 223
 Moore, Cherita 31, 35
 Morales, Erica 21, 171, 175, 183, 219
 Marena, Camila 144, 150
 Margan, Tari 21, 30, 150
 Marin, Amy 86, 87
 Maraney, Alexandra 171, 192
 Marase, Cameron 62, 150
 Maraz, Oan 161, 171, 178, 211
 Marr, Kate 178
 Marris, Ben 21, 93, 171, 199
 Marris, Kate 22, 55, 171, 235
 Muderrisaglu, Aysen 130, 171, 178, 199
 Muradav, Esther 53, 171, 219
 Murphy, Liam 68, 171, 241, 348
 Murray, Jackie 19
 Murray, Mr. 122
 Na, Jan 134, 171, 179, 231
 Nagao, Seika 10, 158
 Nakamura, Yurika 58
 Nanda, Alex 76, 77, 92, 171, 192
 Nanda, Chris 35, 40
 Nawracki, Jason 85
 Nekaraski, Stephanie 23
 Newhall, Kevin 21, 150
 Ng, Nicole 150
 Nguyen, Christiana 133
 Ngwuda, Chiama 23, 171, 179, 207
 Nah, Jung 158
 Nah, Paul 19
 Narman, Bernadette 10, 27
 Navis, Austen 40, 92, 164, 171, 182, 199
 Navis, Hailey 82
 Nunez, Alexander 171, 192
 Nunez, Sara 76, 77, 144, 150, 348
 Nyamakazi, Laz 23, 96, 150
 O'Brien, John 68
 O'Connell, Brendan 88
 O'Danell, Billy 22, 151
 O'Neil, Myles 72
 O'Neill, Seamus 84, 85, 123
 Oh, Jun 92, 150
 Oines, Nalani 55
 Okarie, Chiamaka 23
 Oliva, Charles 40, 130, 171, 179, 205
 Oliva, Melanie 138
 Onarata, Sarah 49, 110, 169, 171, 178, 182, 259
 Oppang, Elizabeth 17, 37, 61, 158
 Oriach, Sam 31, 35, 36, 37, 42, 171, 197
 OTHERS, YOUR CARE AND RESPECT FOR 336 Ouyang, Eric 150

o

Johnson

Nathan Hale East

Nathan Hale West

Bartlett Hall

Day Hall

French House

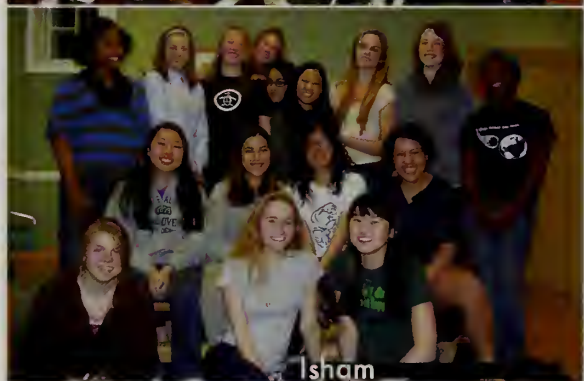

Stowe House Somerton House

Smith House Whitney House

Taylor Hall

Isham

Thompson House

Owens, Khadijah 35, 171, 182, 238
Oyinlola, Didi 144, 150

P Pak, Yerin 49, 171, 270
Palleschi, Tom 11, 25, 31, 88, 158
Palmer, James 103, 139
Palmer, Robert 102, 171, 257
Pan, Ting 172, 175, 267
Papageorgiou, Demetrias 150 Park, Ji Tae 140
Park, Jin Heak 172, 229
Park, Na 158
Park, Will 73, 178
Parlin, Maxwell 172, 246
Parr, Givens 60, 121, 172, 217
Patel, Janki 6, 7, 172, 227
Patel, Kishan 172, 239
Patel, Janki 178
Paul, Elizabeth 10, 158
Peale, Farris 138
Peck, Diandra 21, 132, 150
Pecora, Charles 158
Pelletier, Georgia 18, 63, 117, 126, 170, 172, 179, 221
Pelley, Krissy 41, 150
Pelaquin, Samantha 158
Peng, Charles J. 21, 172
Peng, Didi 92
Peng, Youxiang 158
Peretz, Zary 172, 271
Perkins, Clark 138
Perkins, John 22, 40, 117, 144, 150
Petrillo, Stephanie 144
Petrulli, Eleanor 172, 215
Phillips, Cameron 92, 172, 202
Phinney, Kelsey 19, 172, 236
Pickney, Margot 243
Piersan, Cameron 172, 202
Pimentel, Daniela 40, 121, 169, 172, 179, 241
Pinckney, Margot 134, 172
Padell, Ben 170, 201
Palk-Bauman, Mary 11, 21, 172, 178, 182, 245
Paar, Kaitlin 21, 150
Pass, Will 73, 158
Powell, Alessandra 172, 177, 178, 182, 191
Powell, Alexandra 34
Powers, Kelly 30, 91, 134, 172, 236
Powers, Matthew 138, 140
Prentakis, Melina 19, 30, 111, 134, 169, 172, 246
Price, Malachi 144, 151
Princiatti, Nora 21, 37, 122
Pula, Haritha 111, 172, 178, 223

Q Qian, Kevin 172, 238
Qu, Jing 27
Queenan, Max 172, 182, 245
Queenan, Michael 22, 144
Quinones, Amber 62, 64, 163, 172, 194

R Rademacher, Emily 17, 65, 163, 172, 179, 218
Rademacher, Susanna 117, 144
Ramas, Fernanda 96, 150
Ramas, Ryan 42, 89
Ramsey, Andrew 40, 140
Rankowitz, Brendan 68, 126, 172, 201
Rauh, Jacob 11, 138
Raymond-Sidel, Thea 27, 30
Reader, Jay 24
Reichel, Chloae 172, 178, 182, 207, 337
Reisinger, Will 172, 179, 269
Rex, Kirstina 37, 63, 161, 172, 179, 239, 272
Rivera, Katherine 172, 235
Roberts, Jacob 172, 179, 224
Roberts, Jeb 73, 105, 128, 172, 173, 231
Robertson, James 17, 121
Robertson, Megan 30, 68, 69, 91, 92, 93, 128, 172, 179, 187, 327, 348
Robinson, Allie 40
Robinson, Francis 172, 219
Robinson, Rawland 158
Rodriguez, Malcolm J. Mosan 68, 169, 171, 243
Rodriguez, Will 132
Rahwer, Jake 31, 72, 120, 172, 225
Ramera, Ben 22, 110
Ramera, John 158

Rasario, Kayla 122, 126, 172, 235
Raschach, Zoe 158
Rath, Allison 138
Rush, Robert 134, 138
Ryu, Rachel 17
Ryu, Sunwoo 158

S Sakai, Shun 96, 150
Sallick, Benjamin 105
Saltan, Alex 10, 105, 172, 175, 179, 192
Salva, Joey 21, 138
Sambau, Barkney 11, 132
Sambuca, Caroline 138
Samsan, Emily 158
Samsan, Mary 30, 156, 158
Santamaria, Daniel 172, 212
Santos, Marhelich 31
Sarra, Kimberly 150
Savla, Joey 40
Sawaya, Gina 59, 144, 150
Scharf, Ben 158, 348
Schink, James 150
Schlacks, Hunter 98, 99, 172, 223
Schlager, Andrew 18, 36, 37, 117
Schmazaki, Ayaka 121
Schneider, Alex 156, 158
Schoenberger, Sonya 172, 262
Schuchardt, Sarah 11, 86, 111, 261
Schultz, Daniel 25, 158
Schwartz, Mackenzie 120
Schwalsky, Matthew 27
Scoble, Emily 172, 217
Scott, Haley 30, 128, 172, 183, 189, 348
Segreto, Elina 22, 55, 174, 178, 217
Shabazz, Rashana 150
Shambaugh, Scott 174, 178, 269
Shannon, Thomas 39, 69, 85, 158
Shaw, Turner 96, 97, 174, 183, 267
Shen, Nicola 55
Shenk, Jamie 65, 158
Shin, Joe Eui 48, 174, 224
Shinazaki, Ayaka 10, 150
Shaemaker, Maggie 11, 31, 38, 83, 94, 158, 348
Shrestha, Vanessa 31, 138
Shrestinian, Aram 174, 197
Shrestinian, Leah 138
Sifri, Yara 156
Silverstein, Max 174, 246
Silverwolf, Lyra 167, 174, 179, 241
Simard, Amanda 91, 111, 117, 144
Simon, Matthew 17, 138
Singareddy, Nikita 122, 150
Singh, Armaan 31
Singh, Uday 54
Sluka, Jenn 151
Smachla, Alex 76, 92, 93, 134, 174, 178, 183, 223
Smachla, Julia 94, 150
Smalley, Thurston 11, 174, 266
Smith, Alex 35
Smith, Jordan 55
Smyth, Teddy 57, 169, 174, 215
Sneider, Brandon 102, 158
Sahn, Natalie 23, 64, 86, 174, 251
Sahng, Elaine 21, 122
Salozza, Peter 151
Samers, Kiki 11, 132, 158, 348
Sang, Jan 148
Sang, Kevin 37, 50, 163, 174, 178, 238, 348
Saules, Canar 27, 31, 72, 144
Stacy, Anna 21, 26, 51, 150
Stathis, Kelly 23, 50, 158
Stevens, Sarah 40, 126, 174, 180, 261
Stoldt, Camerin 42, 128, 158
Stane, Adrian 83
Strabala, Mackenzie 100, 150
Su, Tina 174, 266
Suarez, Sofia 158
Suh, Joewan 45, 158
Sullivan, Andrew 84, 85, 174, 178, 195
Sullivan, Mark 138
Sullivan, Sasha 164, 178, 262
Sumawijaya, Haryuni 158
Sumawijaya, Yuni 122, 126

Suppannanchart, June 100, 128, 174, 255
 Sykes, John 158
 Szymanski, Thomas 174, 265

Talarica, Benjamin 174, 199
 Tanski, Emilie 34, 57, 59, 83, 104, 105, 174, 179, 217
 Tao, Alice 134, 174, 193
 Taylor-Mighty, Kate 21, 174, 179, 235
 Tchadi, Diana 74, 75
 Tea-Mangkarnpan, Pinnaree 42, 174, 254
 Tedesco, Anthony 49, 102
 Teece, Austin 144, 158
 Teicher, Sam 134, 182, 259
 Teng, Chris 111
 Thamtheing, Ray 31, 39, 77, 93, 130, 158, 348
 Thorp, Ken 21, 40, 102, 174, 178, 179, 182, 183, 237
 Thomas, Parker 21, 150
 Thompson, Jonathan 130
 Thran, Mandi 19, 53, 173, 174, 193
 Thwaites, David 174, 256
 Tillman, New Uppers Annie 24
 Timm, Emily 40, 126, 174, 178, 218
 Tabeason, Katherine 128, 138
 Tonckens, Nicholas 158
 Tape, Graydon 126, 138
 Tarabi, Carrina 94
 Tarabi, Julia 25, 94
 Tariana, Paul 117
 Tran, Chau 174, 207
 Trant, Amelia 150
 Tresham, Luca Panaccia 150
 Tucker, Maddie 53, 174, 243
 Tuite, Genevieve 150
 Tyler, Mallory 132
 Tylnski, David 158

Urias, Aneissa 174, 195

Valkenburg, Braake Van 87, 348
 Vallis, Christian 102, 138
 Vanvalkenburg, Braake 158
 Vargas, Andrea 25, 120
 Vargas, Andrea Maria 30
 Vargas-Aquina, Ashleigh 91, 174, 197
 Vaz, Natasha 18, 174, 179, 251
 Vega, Katherine 138
 Villar, Nicole 31
 Vinchesi, Sarah 122, 150
 Vladimirova, Stacia 55, 174, 175, 263
 von Braun, Christoph 50, 116

Wagman, Rebecca 27, 110, 111, 151
 Wagner, Brian 139
 Wagner, Nathan 174, 178, 251
 Walker, Alex 21, 91
 Walker, Mr. 117
 Walker, William 38, 84, 174, 178, 269
 Wallace, Malcolm 243
 Walsh, Kellie 86, 87, 174, 177, 182, 235
 Walsh, Mari 86, 174, 179, 243
 Wan, Christie 31
 Wang, Amanda 48, 50, 174, 194
 Wang, Jaann 31, 174, 183, 229, 328
 Wang, Justin 128, 150
 Wang, Michael 174, 248
 Wang, Rose 144
 Wang, Suzanne 150
 Wang, Jaanna 11
 Wantanabe, Yuta 105
 Ward, Chelsea 130
 Washburn, Summer 86, 87, 174, 263
 Watonabe, Yuta 10, 17, 117, 173, 174, 270, 348
 Watson, Elizabeth 11, 174, 217, 333
 Wattana, Melissa 24, 158
 Wayne, Aly 39, 40
 Wayne, Alysandria 138
 Weaver, Tam 30, 176, 267
 Weaver, Tammy 31
 Weiss, Alec 122, 176, 179, 191
 Weng, Jessica 40, 48, 176, 229
 Westling, Jan 17, 27, 73, 126, 158
 Whalen, Christie 122, 176, 207
 White, Sydni 138

Whittall, Boyd 25
 Whittenburg, Rachel 82
 Whittingham, Carolyn 36, 37, 55, 176, 203
 Wiener, Catherine 134, 164, 176, 183, 205
 Wilbur, Rachelle 62, 110
 Williams, Junius 120, 128
 Williams, Kathryn 138
 Wilson, Andrew 76, 93, 158
 Wincek, Kathryn 142
 Wincek, Mike 17, 96, 176, 177, 178, 248
 Wise, Miguel 17, 31, 142
 Walber, Pat 20, 122, 176, 177, 178, 253
 Wang, Brandon 131
 Wang, Erin 27, 31
 Wao, Kun 98
 Woods, Tiger 31, 190
 Waontan, Andrew 72, 170, 176, 195
 Waontan, Brian 73, 96, 131, 176, 179, 201
 Waontan, Katherine 74, 75, 176, 178, 235, 348
 Waontan, Andrew 35
 Wapinski, Mick 167, 176, 179, 248
 Wright, Brandon 132, 176, 201
 Wu, Jackie 97

Xu, Chuan 158
 Xu, Daphne 31
 Xuan, Andrew 92

Yang, Andrew 21, 92
 Yang, Christopher 42, 55
 Yang, Yin 92
 Yang-Sammataro, Kell 42
 Yau, Allan 176, 193
 Yopez, Andrea 21
 Yoo, Min Jae 16, 17, 48, 102, 159
 Yoo, Sae Kyul 176, 259
 Yoo, Sky 21, 48, 128, 179
 Yoon, Ba Hyung 150
 Yoon, Eric 134, 176, 178, 224
 Yost, Ryan 31, 53, 134, 176, 178, 259
 Young, Edith 176, 182, 183, 215

Zalav, Renat 176, 179, 255
 Zanozzi, Emma 59, 176, 218
 Zellner, Jake 150
 Zeng, Jenny Yue 150
 Zhang, Anna 24, 150
 Zhang, Anthony 150
 Zhang, Christian 105
 Zhang, Dara 159
 Zhang, Eric 142
 Zhang, Greg 122
 Zhang, Jinzi 176, 229
 Zhao, Calvin 176, 202
 Zhao, Andi 53
 Zhao, Dennis 4
 Zhao, Heather 150
 Zhao, Jennifer 55, 176, 178, 229
 Zhu, Amanda 58, 150
 Zhumashava, Aigonym 150
 Zildjian, Lily 142
 Ziamek, Rary 22, 88, 144
 Zorthian, Julia 176, 178, 183, 233
 Zutt, Nicholas 159

Stearns

Stevens

Stimison

Rockwell North

Rockwell South

Stuart

pot pourri

To my beautiful, wonderful, amazing board,

I cannot believe it has been a whole year, and that we did it. We made a yearbook. Wow.

Although there were a few nights of covenant and deadline when I honestly didn't think it would ever be possible, I always had faith that you, you incredible, amazing people, would pull it together in the end and produce a brilliant book. And I wouldn't trade those nights for anything. Ever.

I am so proud of, and grateful for, the work that each of you put into this book. Whether you were harassing varsity squash players for quotes or waiting outside of someone's classroom to get a stalker picture of them, this yearbook was possible because of the efforts of each of you. I cannot thank you enough for your time and commitment. No one made you do yearbook, no one was giving you cuts (although I may have threatened to), and yet you showed up to every meeting eager to help and contribute to this piece of history. I attribute the success of this yearbook to you.

To the upper board,

I must say, I owe you my sanity. I honestly could not have survived so many hours in this little basement room without the laughter and kindness of each of you. You have each taught me so much, and left such a great impact on me, and the time you put into this book is insurmountable. You always kept me smiling, kept me grounded, kept me in check; I can honestly say that without each of your friendships I could not have handled all the work that this yearbook required. Megan, Audrey, Kerstin, Katie and Isabel, you mean the world to me and I will always value the time we spent together in the basement of Morse.

To our friends and family,

Thank you for bringing us diet pepsis and candy, for not forgetting about us while we were in the basement, for putting up with not seeing us for days at a time, and for your unconditional support.

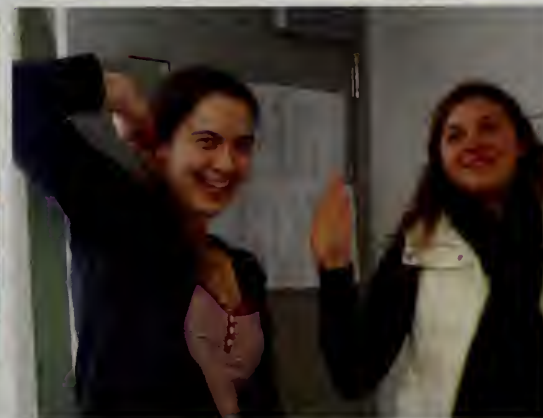

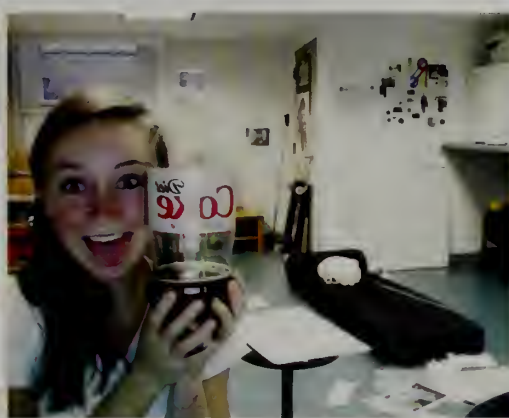

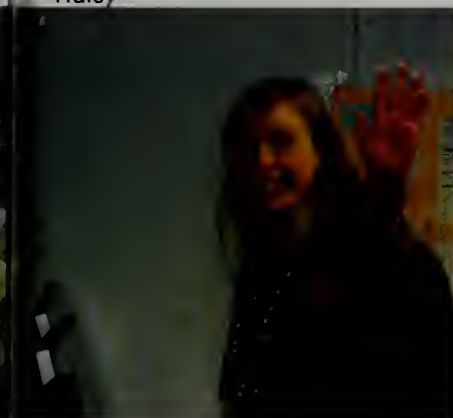

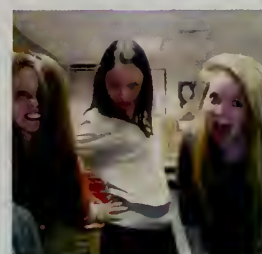

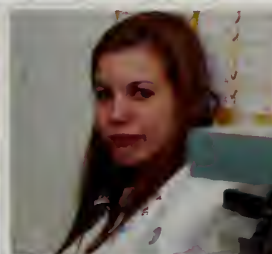

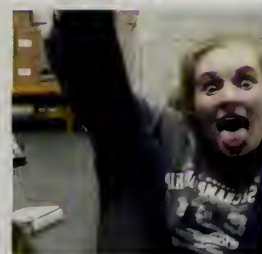

Finally, to the student body,

I thank you for your cooperation. We hope that our efforts will not go unrecognized as you open your yearbook in ten years to see your own face next to a quote you gave because we called you on your dorm phone at midnight until you gave us one. We hope when you look at this book, you see yourself, your friends, and the moments that defined your Andover experience. We hope you see the diverse and talented student body, hear the voice of people you never got the chance to meet, and learn something new about the classmates you had.

LOVE LOVE LOVE LOVE LOVE AND SO MUCH MORE LOVE,

Haley

make it rain. isabel, you're fired. give madesh a cut. layout member of the week: voldemort. yuto. phillip the mouse. nubbins the bunny. if peeing your pants is cool, then call me miles davis. stalker photos. cc sweating. the swivel chair. student directory stalkin'. RHIANNA. tape monster. ouija. phillipian rivalry.

the COLOPHON & DEDICATION

The Pot Pourri staff is proud to present the 124th edition of the Andover yearbook. Pot Pourri is the Phillips Academy Andover yearbook, located on 180 Main St. Andover Massachusetts. The theme, parallels, was chosen by the upper board members to represent the Andover experience through connections and similarities between different facets of the Andover experience.

The layouts were designed on four Mac desktops using inDesign CS4 and Herff Jones software extras. Photos were edited using Photoshop and iPhoto. All text, photographs, and layouts were taken and created by our staff. The portraits in the yearbook were taken by professional photographers provided and edited through Herff Jones. All spreads were submitted through www.yearbookaccess.com, Herff Jones' website database. Cover design was done by Haley Scott and Susan Happel, with help from the Herff Jones design team. The font for the book is Futura.

The yearbook was the collaboration of many hands on campus, and we owe a special thank you to our Advisor, Cindy Efinger, and our Herff Jones representative, Susan Happel. Many thanks also to Mr. Murphy, Ms. Mohammed, Ms. Fortino, and all faculty and staff whose kind words and helpful hands inspired and encouraged us. Thank you also to the student body for your support and cooperation, to Kevin Song, Ben Brodie, Yuto Watanabe for your help (and Adam Levine and Liam Murphy for saving us from Phillip).

Editor-in-Chief Haley Scott

Layout Editors
Katie McLean
Isabel Elson

Copy Editor
Kerstin Brolsma

Head of Photography
Megan Robertson

Photography Editor
Audrey McMurtrie

Business Manager
Molly Levene

Associate Layout Editors
Sheiling Chia
Kiki Somers
Kendall Macrae
Madison Grant
Mimi Leggett

Photographers:
Chiara Baravalle
Marilyn Hewett
Jessica Holley
Gabbie Cirelli
Marie Liu
Sammy Marrus
Ray Thamthieng
Evan Eads
Maggie Shoemaker
Grace Hoyt
Tahera Doctor
Sara Nunez
Erin Johnson

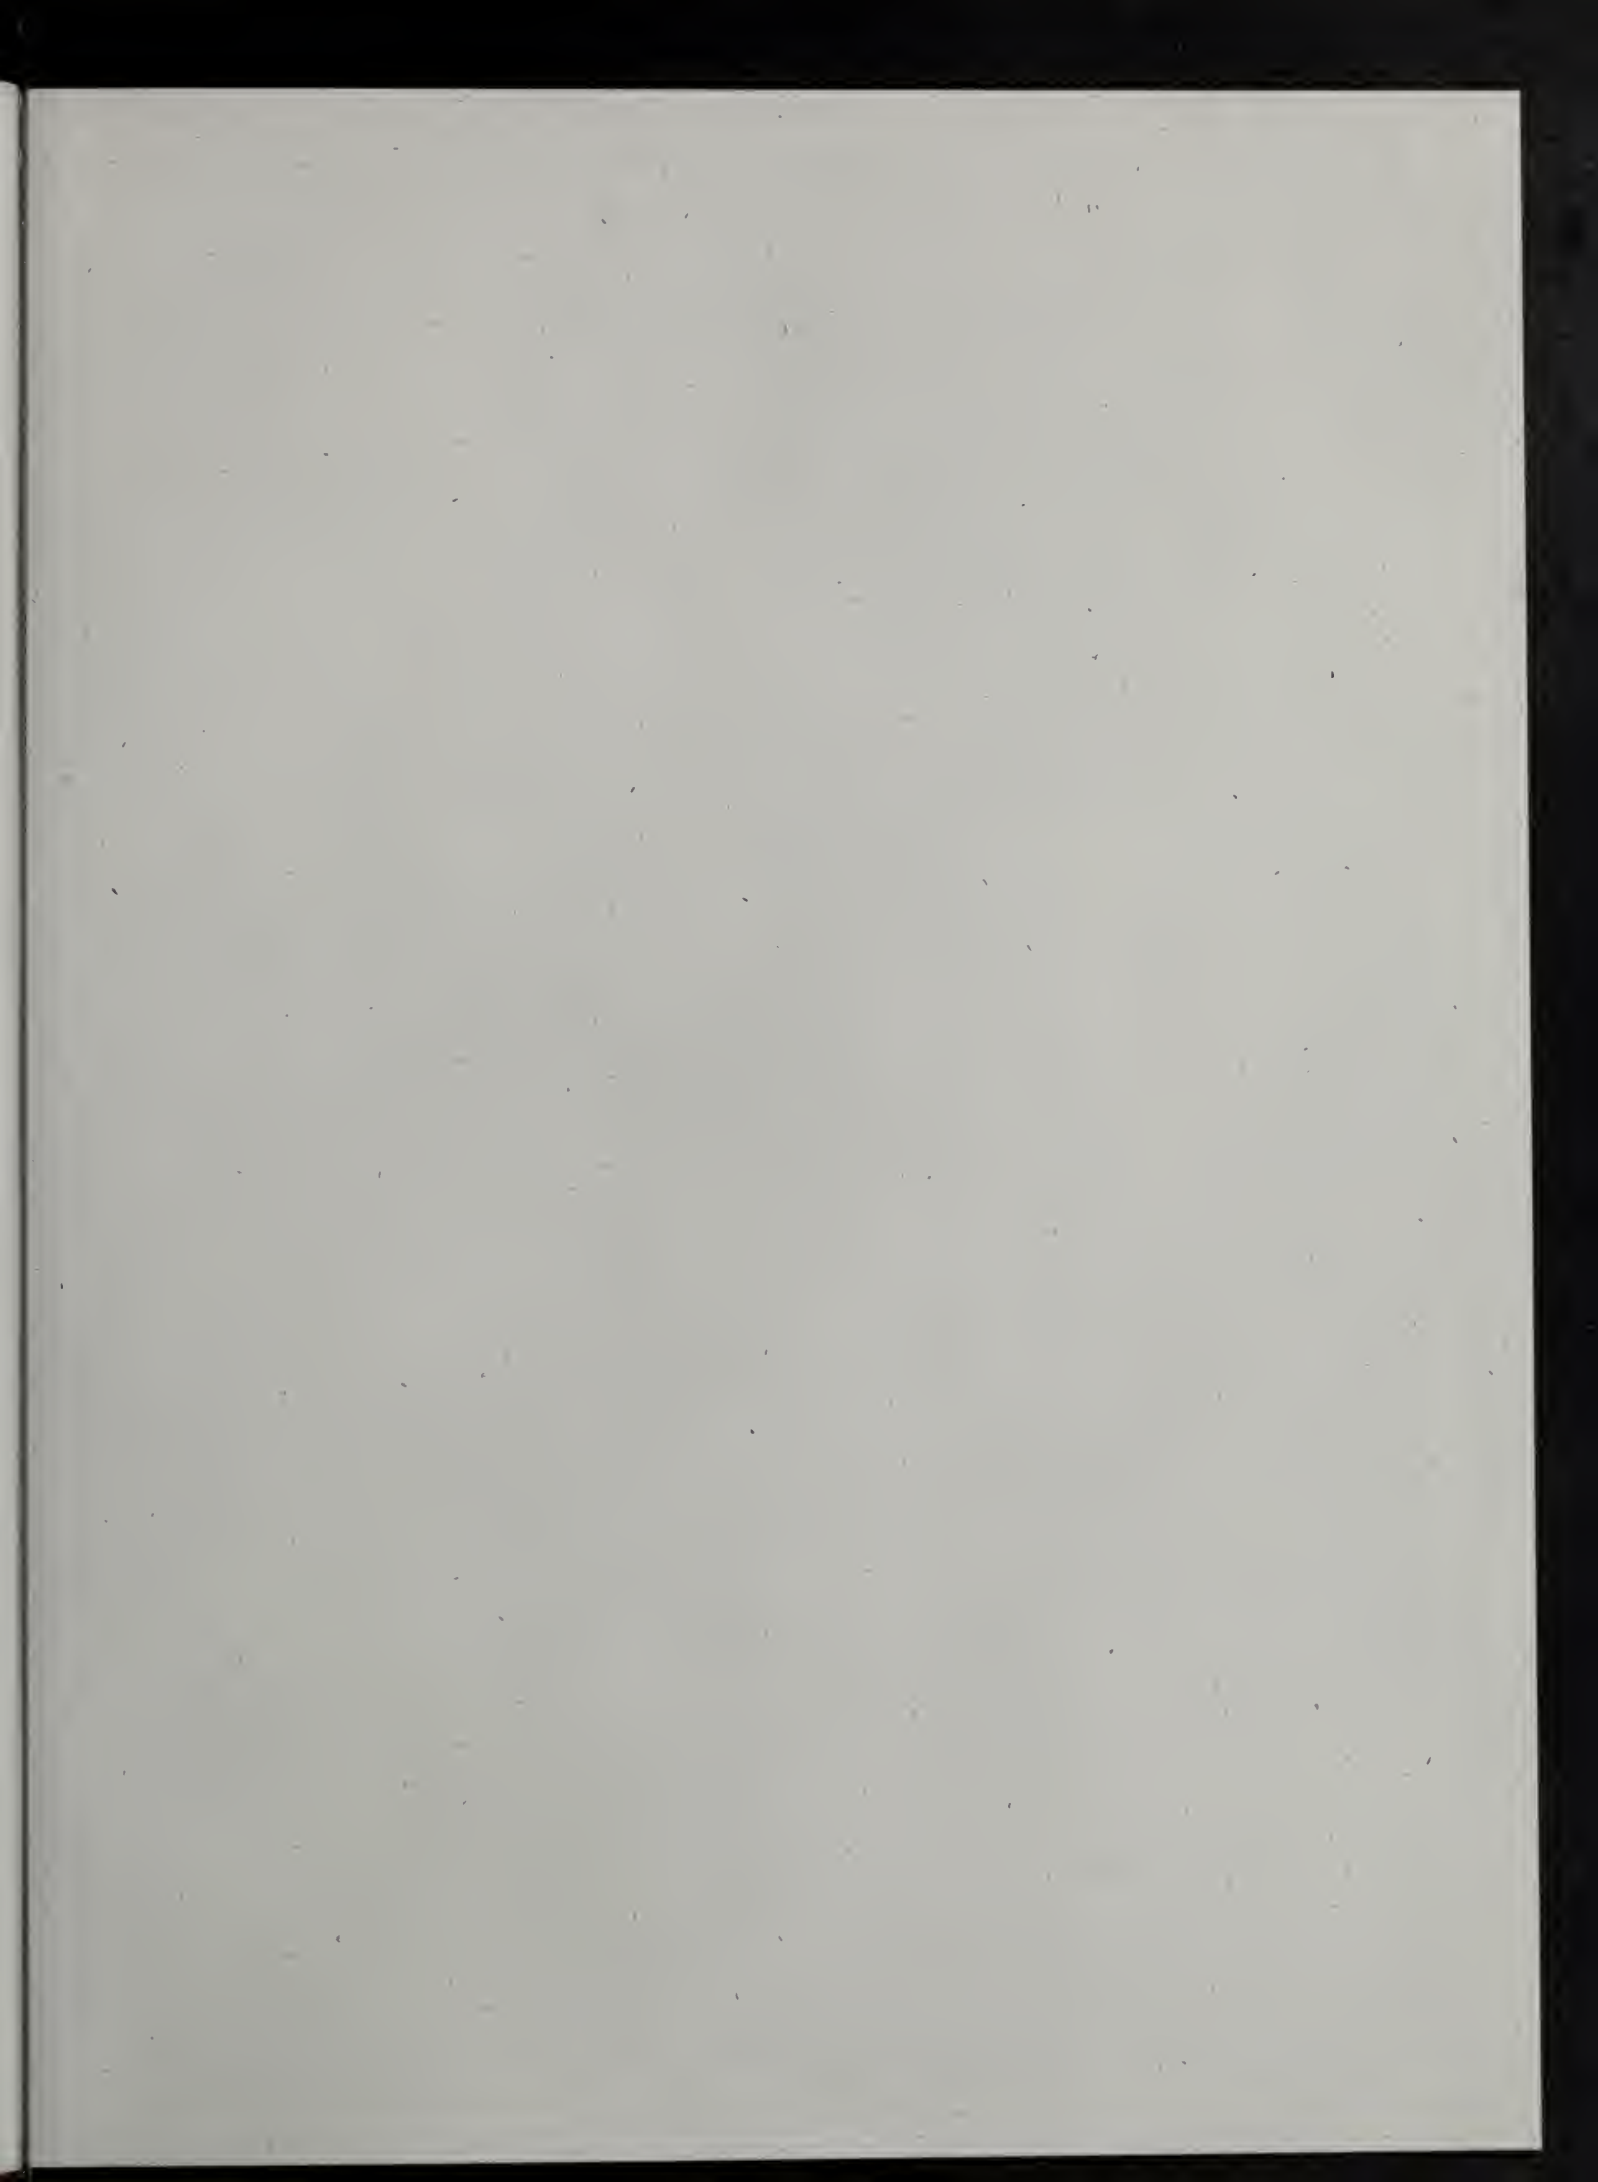

Reporters:
Sheya Jabouin
Katie Hess
Katherine Wootton
Katie Hebb
Hannah Beinecke
Brooke Van Valkenburg
Ben Scharf
Kendall Goodyear

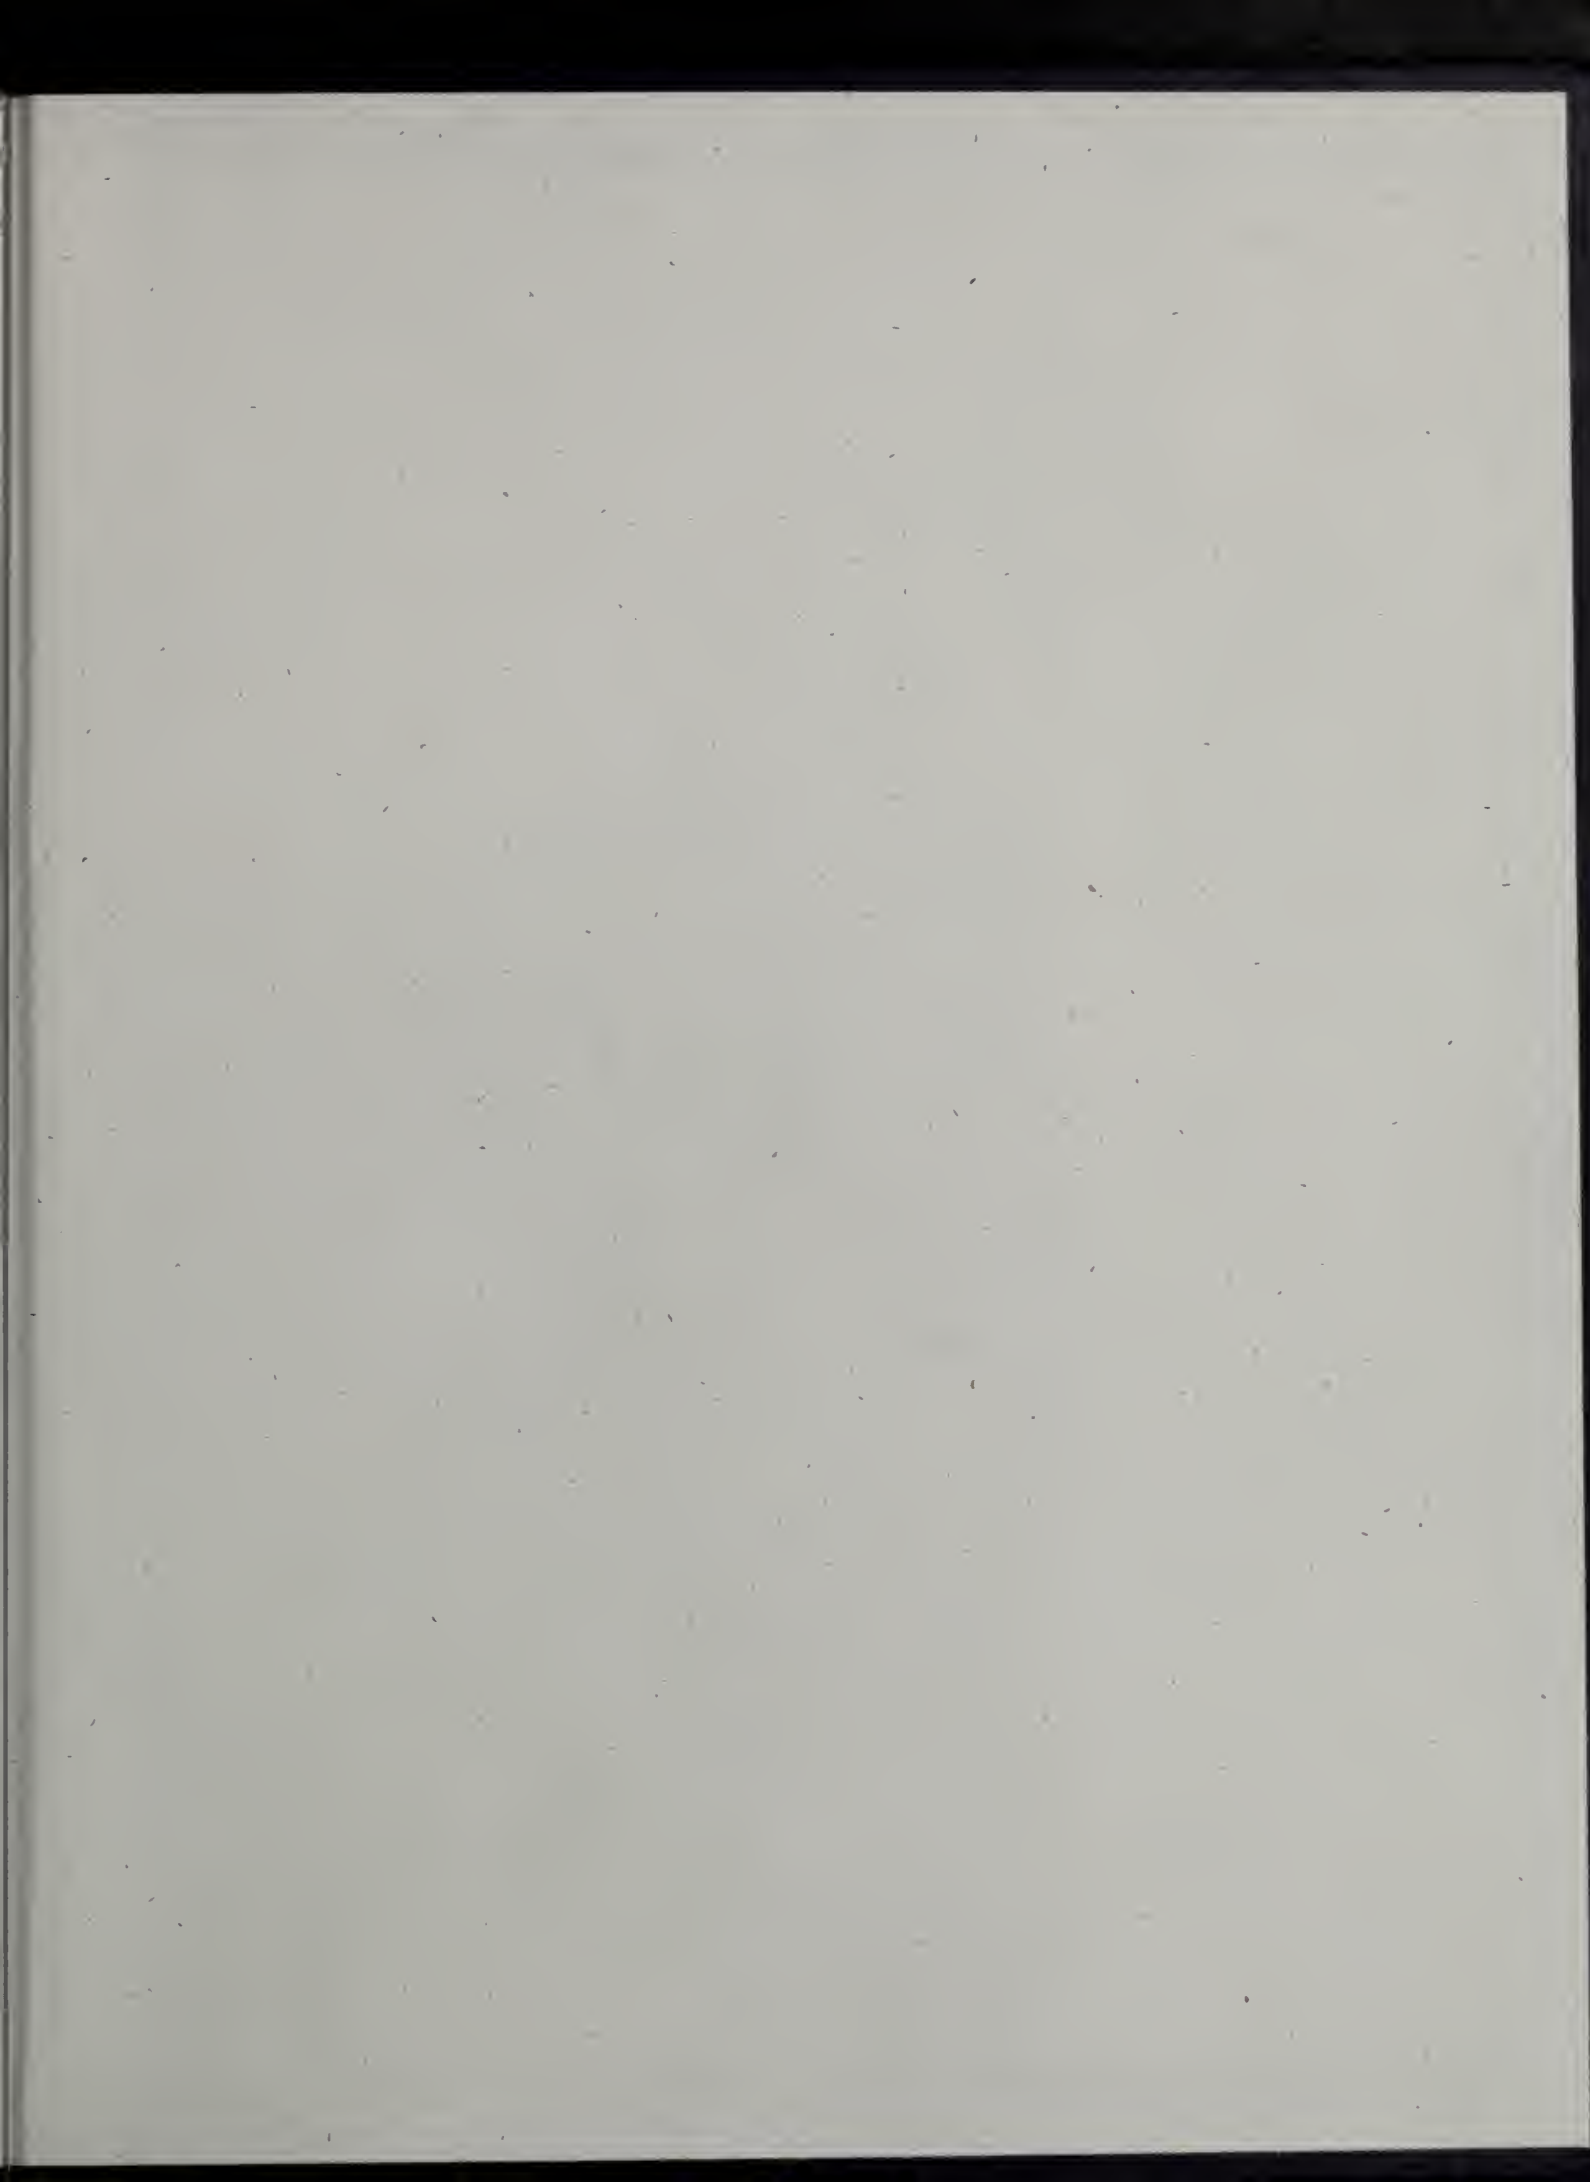

Photoshop:
Elisa Li
Claudia Giles

The Pot Pourri staff dedicates this edition of the yearbook in loving memory of Alice Hoffman.

October 1, 1992 - April 12, 2011

Spring Ahead

2011

Phillips Academy • Pot Pourri

Spring Ahead

photo by Evan Eads '12

photo by Tahera Doctor '13

photo by Tahera Doctor '13

photo by Tahera Doctor '13

photo by Tahera Doctor '13

photo by Evan Eads '12

2011

photo by Evan Eads '12

photo by Sara Nunez '13

photo by Mimi Leggett '13

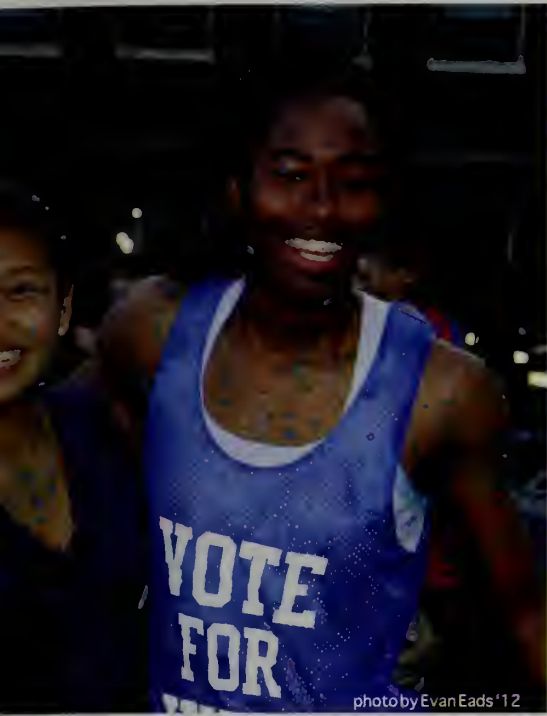

photo by Evan Eads '12

photo by Tahera Doctor '13

Spring Ahead →

While it took its time, the sun finally shone upon Andover this spring. We braved through record snowfall, short daylight hours, and the constant anticipation of that famous field hockey stick. But when it did shine, the whole campus came to life, pushing students into a new chapter of their Andover careers. For some, this meant a new spot on Varsity Lacrosse, a board turnover for Philo, or the inheritance of a blue skirt to wear on Fridays. For others, it meant giving away that blue skirt, performing in a senior recital, or saying goodbye to a favorite teacher. Whether starting a new chapter in one's Andover career or closing that book, we are all moving forward. We spring ahead to new challenges, adventures, and experiences that all serve to remind us that despite harsh winters, the stress of exams, and the sadness of saying goodbye, the sun will always shine.

-Katie McLean and Gabbie Cirelli '12

Junior Spring

photo by Sammy Marrus '12

photo by Sammy Marrus '12

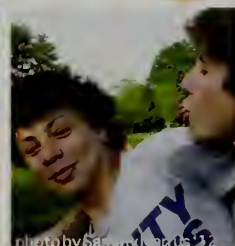

photo by Sammy Marrus '12

photo by Tahera Doctor '13

photo by Tahera Doctor '13

photo by Tahera Doctor '13

photo by Lily Scherlis '13

photo by Sammy Marrus '12

photo by Evan Eads '12

photo by Evan Eads '12

Forward Thinking...

For me spring consists of sleeping in, playing a little pick up soccer with friends, and thinking about doing my homework. -Taylor Chin '14

I love junior spring because of the nice weather after a long winter, lacrosse season, having five classes, four square, and of course, playing house at ARC every tuesday. -Austin Gaiss '14

On a typical spring Sunday, I usually eat lunch downtown with my friends and then I do homework in the library with study breaks on the great lawn. -Scott Diekema '14

Forward Thinking...

You know it's lower spring when: no place is a place of study and no hour is study hours. Lower spring was when I realized why the great lawn is great. Oftentimes I will find myself without a shirt in places I never would have imagined, including, but not limited to the lawn, the library, the den, and Kemper auditorium. -Hemang Kaul '13

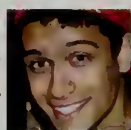

photo by Lilybet Macrae '13

photo by Sara Nunez '13

photo by Tahera Doctor '13

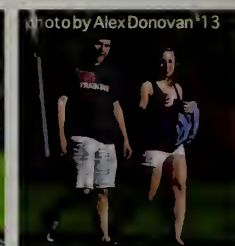

photo by Alex Donovan '13

photo by Tahera Doctor '13

photo by Tahera Doctor '13

photo by Sara Nunez '13

Lower Spring

Upper Spring

photo by Evan Eads '12

photo by Sara Nunez '13

photo by Ray Thamthieng '12

photo by Ray Thamthieng '12

photo by Sammy Marrus '12

photo by Sammy Marrus '12

photo by Evan Eads '12

photo by Sammy Marrus '12

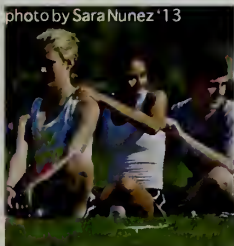

photo by Sara Nunez '13

photo by Evan Eads '12

photo by Evan Eads '12

photo by Tahera Doctor '13

Between starting research for the infamous History 310 paper the night before it's due and procrastinating on the Great Lawn, there were many caffeine filled nights throughout Upper Spring. However, we all came together through lounging in the sun with friends, showing some skin at Spring Carnival, and finding that special someone at Last Chance Dance. Upper Spring was definitely a time to remember.
-Ben Scharf '12

BIG BLUE Words for the Year Ahead

Don't take yourself too seriously, and enjoy the time you have because it goes more quickly than you could imagine. Take in everything you can from your classes, your friends, your teachers; try to remember and really contemplate the lessons they teach you. -Haley Scott '11

Go out with all smiles senior spring because regardless of sunny weather or easy classes, you made it. -Orieldah '11

Wholeheartedly relish every moment here. From all nighters during finals and days on the lawn to long conversations with that one special teacher, each moment has its way of carving itself in your memory. -Aysen Muderrisoglu '11

Live in the moment and keep track of your goals so you'll have no regrets when you graduate. As always at Andover, there is so much to do but always so little time. -John Ingram '11

Through the college application process, the rigor of athletics, and the stresses of academics, remember to have fun because that is ultimately what you will look back on most fondly about the Andover experience. -Andrew Sullivan '11

As seniors, don't forget what it was like when you were younger. Remember the life lessons the older kids in the dorm taught you and help share your knowledge with them. -Kellie Walsh '11

Do things, not because you feel obligated to, but because you want to. Take that class you've been dying to try and join whatever extra clubs may interest you, even if just for one meeting. -Amber Quiñones '11

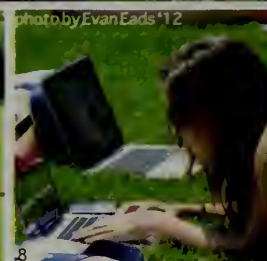

advice for uppers

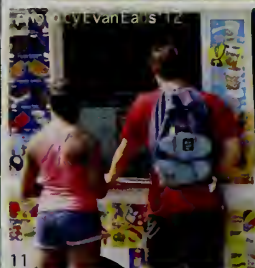

2011

Senior Spring

On a Sunday in spring I go college visiting, sleep until past brunch, do the homework I absolutely must, and watch episodes of Family Guy and movies I've missed. I spend most of my time on the Great Lawn, in the Den, and at Pomp's Pond. I occasionally pass time in the lobby of the library because once again I can socialize like a lower. What I will miss about spring term at Andover is the time spent with my friends. It is the time to do what we have always wanted to do as a last hurrah while we're all still together for the last few weeks, before we go our separate ways. Not to mention the excitement of waiting for May/June, prom, and graduation. -Kerry Lanzo '11

1

Top 5

Teachers catching spring fever and understanding that it is, in fact, Senior Spring

Taking 4 classes, and only having two on Tuesdays!

Having a completely miniscule work load

Tanning on the Burt balcony

Getting to spend as much time with my friends as possible

1. Mike DiFronzo '11 and Jake Rohwer '11
2. Seggy Segreto '11
3. Jake Rohwer '11, Zack Elder '11, and Micheal Kontaxis '11
4. Stacia Vladimirova '11
5. Alex Salton '11 and Ryan Gaiss '11
6. Alex Nanda '11
7. Marilyn Hewett '11
8. Angelica Jarvenpaa '11
9. Zack Elder '11 and Mike DiFronzo '11
10. Will Walker '11
11. Sheya Jabouin and Tim Marchase '11
12. Sun Bathers
13. Jullian Danziger '11
14. Hana Kim '11
15. Chris Batchelder '11

Asian Arts Weekend

1. Japanese exchange students
2. Supriya Jain '12
3. Kerry Joyce '11 and Nikita Lamba '11
4. Elina Segreto '11 and Carolyn Whittingham '11
5. Marhelich Santos '12 and Na Park '12
6. Jenny Zeng '13
7. Kishan Patel '11
8. Mrs. Murata and Kai
9. Hector Kilgoe '11 and Nneka Anunkor '11
10. Tumm Kulalert '11, June Supapannachart '11, and Prim Chanarat '11
11. Sophie Gould '11
12. Sheiling Chia '12

photo by Marie Liu '12

photo by Marie Liu '12

photo by Marie Liu '12

photo by Marhelich Santos '12

photo by Marie Liu '12

12

photo by Megan Robertson '11

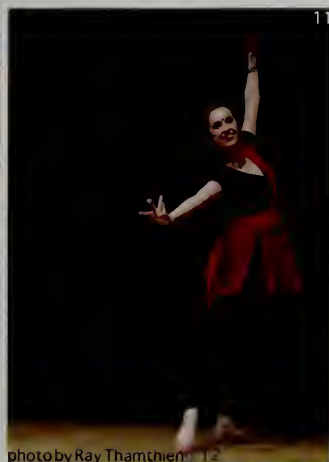

photo by Ray Thamthieng '12

Alex Donovan '13

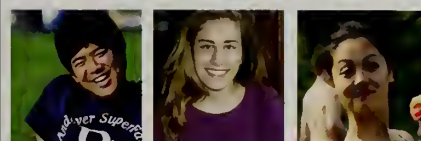

photo by Marie Liu '12

photo by Ray Thamthieng '12

photo by Ray Thamthieng '12

It was my singing debut and there was a huge crowd, and I was kind of nervous before the event, but once I started singing I just let it all out. Everything just clicked into place. It was exhilarating and satisfying to hear the crowd going wild. I felt a strong connection to my Asian heritage which was incredible. -Yuto Watanabe '11

Attendance was impressive which lent to a fun-filled atmosphere. I learned a lot, including the way in which people from the Philippines traditionally dress." -Margaret Curtis '12

I had such an awesome time representing China with Margaret! It was so interesting to see all of the different traditional clothing from Asia. -Julie Cachia '11

Forward Thinking

The Talent and Fashion Show

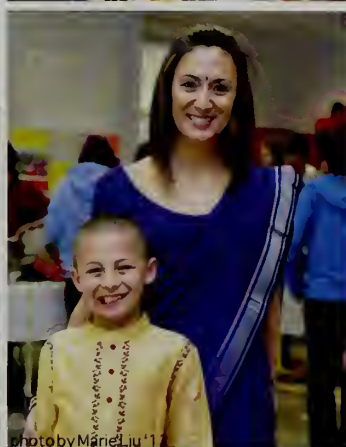

photo by Marie Liu '12

Battle of the Bands

Final 3

Contestants

1. Huzar and the Noon o'Clocks
2. Bizarre Bazaar
3. Even Muppets Get the Blues

photo by Evan Eads '12

photo by Evan Eads '12

photo by Evan Eads '12

photo by Evan Eads '12

photo by Evan Eads '12

photo by Evan Eads '12

photo by Evan Eads '12

photo by Evan Eads '12

1. Jeaninne Anderson '11 and David Tylinski '12
2. Henry Kennelly '13
3. Mr. Phaneuf, Mr. Lane, and Mr. Silnutzer
4. Khalil Flemming '12
5. Will Park '11
6. Bernhard Fassenfest '12
7. Zac Fine '11
8. Alex Huzar '11
9. Sky Yoo '11
10. Masked Figure
11. Sosha Sullivan '11

Theater 520: Hot Grog

Eliana Kwartler's 520 Moments

Two days before the opening night, Mr. Efinger reblocked the entire first act. It ended up being a lot better, but it made us really nervous!

On opening night, the writer of the show was in the audience, and at the most important part in the show someone stood up right in front of him.

We are going to Scotland!

photo by Tahera Doctor '13

5

1. Jenn Dwyer '11, Chris Batchelder '11, Mandy Thran '11, Ricky Marcotte '11, Patrick Brady '11, Andrew Schlager '11, and Sam Oriach '11
2. Andrew Schlager '12, Sam Oriach '11 and Patrick Brady '11
3. Chris Batchelder '11
4. Sam Oriach '11, David Tylnski '12 and Ryan Canavan '12
5. Joanna Wang '11
6. Maralyn Harris '11 and Patrick Brady '11
7. Chris Batchelder '11 and Maralyn Harris '11
8. David Tylnski '12 and Jeannine Anderson '11
9. Patrick Brady '11

photo by Sara Nunez '13

photo by Tahera Doctor '13

photo by Stephanie Petrella '13

photo by Stephanie Petrella '13

photo by Stephanie Petrella '13

9

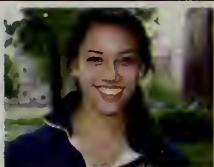

photo by Ray Thamthieng '12

photo by Evan Eads '12

Forward Thinking...

It was disappointing that we had to have Upper Spring Fling inside as opposed to in the Chase's yard, but it was so nice to all come together as a class after such a trying year. I didn't really get to know that many people in my class until this year, and I'm glad I've expanded my horizons going into my last year at Andover.

- Jamie Shenk

photo by Gabbie Cirelli '12

photo by Gabbie Cirelli '12

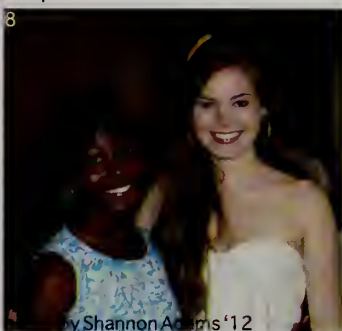

photo by Ray Thamthieng '12

photo by Ray Thamthieng '12

1. Colton Dempsey '12
2. Charles Horner '12, Will Poss '12, Ricky Goldstein '12, Jon Bakken '12, Colton Dempsey '12, Ben Scharf '12, Myles O'Neill '12, Kennedy Edmonds '12, and Anthony Tedesco '12
3. Asia Bradlee '12, Maddie Bremmer '12, and Ben Romero '12
4. Hannah Benieke '12 and Brooke Van Valkenburg '12
5. Cherita Moore '12, Asia Bradlee '12, Alex Kiss-Rusk '12, Chelsea Grain '12, Chelsea Ward '12, Julia Torabi '12, Maddie Bremmer '12, and Vita Lampietti '12
6. Zach Sturman '12, Drew D'Alelio '12, and Chris Blackwood '12
7. Eve Simster '12 and Rachel Ryu '12
8. Evan Eads '12 and Elizabeth Oppong '12
9. Head of School Barbara Chase, Andrew Schlager '12 and Madele student ne Kim '12
10. Julianna Aucoin '12, Maddie Kasper '12 and Jean Kim '12

Spring Carnival

Spring Carnival is one of the highlights of everyone's Spring term. From watergun fights to Blue Key Head jello wrestling, Spring Carnival is highly anticipated every year. While the majority of the school still has pasty skin from winter term, it's a great opportunity to dust off your bathing suit and show some skin! Free ice cream at the ice cream truck, burgers hot off the grill, and blow up rides make this day an absolute blast. Watch out for the But, Taylor boys throwing water balloons at you! -Madison Grant '12

1. Two kids on the water slide
2. Robert Rush '14
3. Two kids rock-climbing
4. Andrew Yang '14
5. Elaine Chao '14
6. Michael Kontaxis '11 and Haley Erskine '12
7. Madison Grant '12
8. Chelsea Ward '12 and Nicholas Camarda '12
9. Teddy Smyth '11, David Russell '12
10. David Crane '13 Connor Light '13 Robert Rush '14
Will Park '11
11. Clark Perkins '14

BIG BLUE Words for the Year Ahead

otoby Sammy Marrus '12

11

BlueKey Heads

Kennedy, never take any moment for granted; you'll miss everything as soon as it's gone. When it's cold out and there's nothing you want more than to wear a warm pair of sweatpants on a snowy Friday, you better love wearing that skirt - Chris Cameron '11

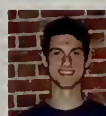

From one Katie to another: whenever you're getting ready for a game, ALWAYS make sure to have the extra pair of High-Rise Hanes Granny Panties I gave you; a BKH NEVER leaves the sidelines. - Katie Hess '11

Yuni, being a BKH is all about authenticity and enthusiasm. The kids out there are waiting to see what you will do, so you have to play your part every day with all your heart. - Aniebiet Abasi '11

Nick, go completely crazy, scream at the top of your lungs, make a complete fool of yourself, and bond with nine other amazing kids, so throw yourself into it. - Jeremy Hutton '11

David, don't let the freshman make fun of you or let the teasing get to you because they secretly want to wear that skirt when they're older. - Julian Danzinger '11

Ray, there weren't many home football games my year, so for the ones that were home, we went hard. Do the same! That one game where no one is there, pretend there is and cheer at the stands. - Sheya Jabouin '11

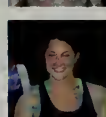

Gabbie, always be loud and proud and always remember something underneath the skirt. - Nikita Lamba '11

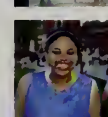

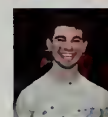

Ben, you are about to embark on the greatest thrill ride of your life. When you wear the skirt you will be invincible and all-powerful. With great power comes great responsibility. - Jay Dolan '11

Ben, wear the fanny pack large and proud, you are the only BKH with such a stylish accessory! Also, don't take too much advantage of the endless girls flocking to you. - Teddy Smyth '11

Jordan, always have the confidence to go buckwild. That skirt is your ticket to do the craziest and most socially unacceptable shenanigans ever and not get judged, so never hesitate to take your enthusiasm and excitement to untapped levels of intensity. - Olivia Howell '11

2011

2012

Last Chance Dance

Who goes to last chance dance?

The better question is, "Who doesn't go to last chance?" - Evan Eads '12

Why go to last chance dance?

So you can finally rub elbows with that boy you've been winking at all year! - Isabel Elson '12

Spring Couples

Peejay

4

3

Selina Na/Jon Jan

2

Rick Rex

Chatteloney

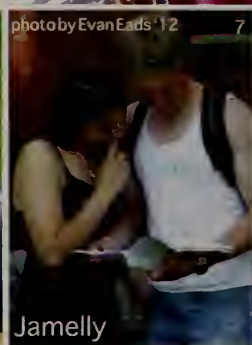

5

RoLex

6

photo by Evan Eads '12

7

Jamelly

Pucia McLoss

12

photo by Evan Eads '12

Jolt

8

photo by Tahera Doctor '13

Rishenofanti

photo by Tahera Doctor '13

Europe

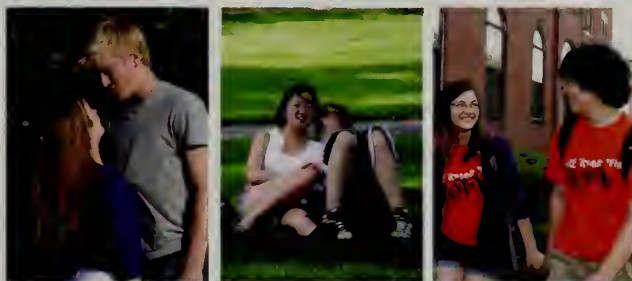

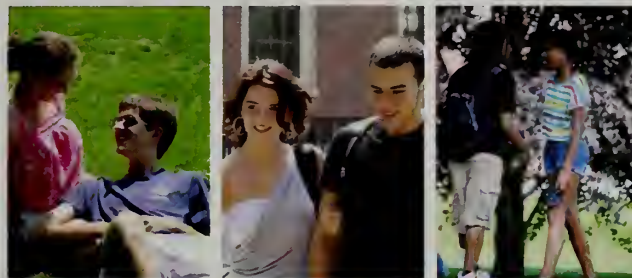

Rohling Cake

photo by Evan Eads '12

1. Jake Rohwer '11 and Carolyn Harmeling '11
2. Ricky Marcotte '11 and Kristina Rex '11
3. Selina Jan '12 and Jon Na '11
4. Pat Wolber '11 and Ijeoma Ejiogu '11
5. Matt Mahoney '11 and Chelsea Grain '12
6. Malcom Mason-Rodriguez '11 and Lexi Moroney '11
7. Jamie Shenk '12 and Henry Kennelly '13
8. Jonathan Westling '12 and Camerin Stoldt '12
9. Rishabh Bandari '11 and Shelby Centofanti '11
10. Mark Adamsson '11 and Tatiana Montiero de Barros '12
11. Jack McGeachie '13 and Katherine Woonton '11
12. Lucia McGloin '13 and Will Poss '12

Woochie

11

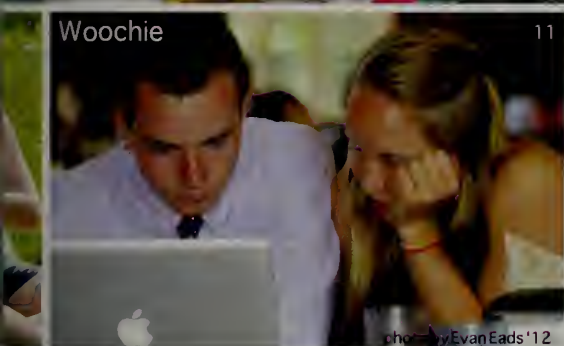

photo by Evan Eads '12

10

photo by Sara Nunez '13

Spring Necessities

Hammocks

Lounging around in the hammocks during our senior spring is a great way to hang out with friends and soak up the sun. -Julia Dean '11

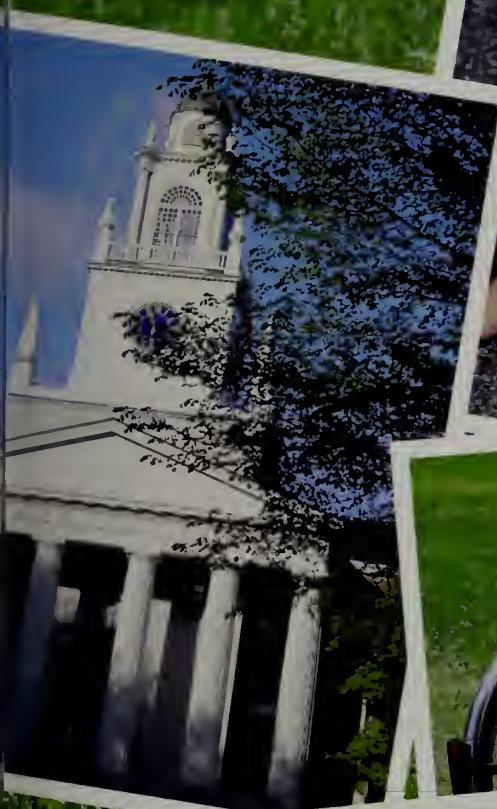

Nantucket Red

Top Siders

In the spring I practically live in my Top Siders. Everyone wears them because they are comfortable and classy!
-Madison Grant '12

Cuffed Jeans

Light wash, acid wash, vintage wash, dark. As the temperature rises and the once snow-covered walkways fill with four-square games and razor scooters, denim jeans in every shade and style are sweeping the campus: and, they're cuffed! PA students are making a statement this spring and this is it. Whether you're looking for comfort, convenience, or style, cuffed jeans just might be the look for you. -Shannon Adams '12

Bikes

Bike is to spring as milk is to cereal. My bike has two satchels attached to it, and in the crazy spring I need them to store my raincoat and my food (for when the heat induces hunger). I also need my bike to get from one place to another fast because the hot weather makes me so sleepy I always wake up late! -Yuni Sumawijaya '12

Scooters

I love my scooter. It takes me 10 minutes to get to class normally but on my scooter it takes me 3... That is 7 whole minutes more to sleep. -Hannah Beinecke '12

Calypso Lemonade

Mike Winick
Top 5

A clever disguise

A great deal of free periods

Fast reactions

The schedule search function of PAnet

Don't let pesky doors stand in your way

photo by Tahera Doctor '13

photo by Sara Nunez '13

1. Will Adams, Julian Danziger, Denzel Bernard, and Mike Wincek '11
2. Identity unknown
3. Mike Wincek '11
4. Identity unknown
5. Chris Batchelor '11
6. Santa imposter
7. Jonathan Na '11
8. Tebs Maqubela and Will Walker '11
9. Julia Dean and Emily Rademacher '11
10. Eleonora Petrulli, Emily Kent, and Kate Wiener '11

photo by Sara Nunez '13

photo by Sara Nunez '13

photo by Sara Nunez '13

photo by Sara Nunez '13

senior spooning

photo by Evan Eads '12

photo by Evan Eads '12

photo by Evan Eads '12

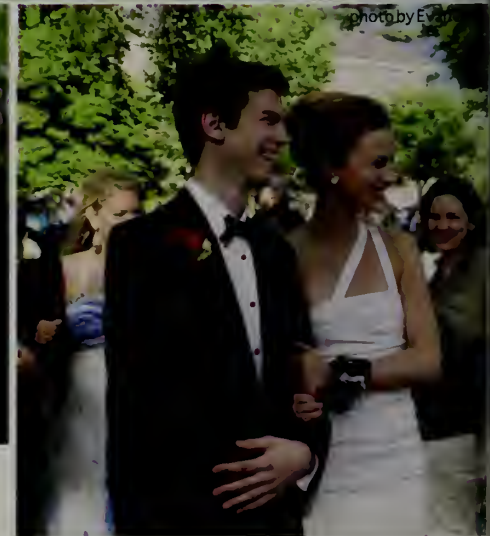

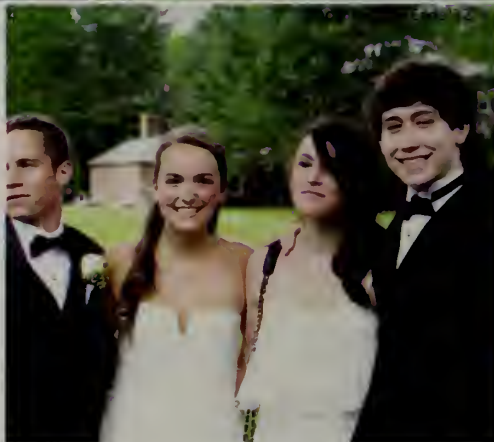

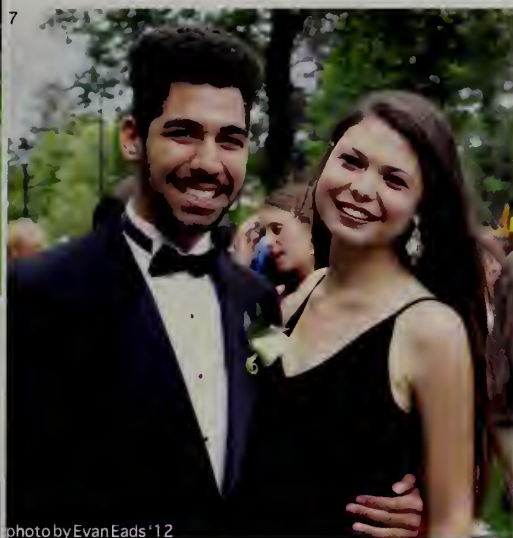

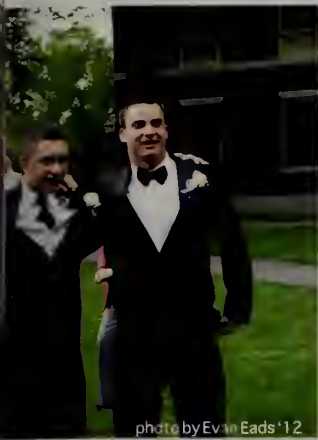

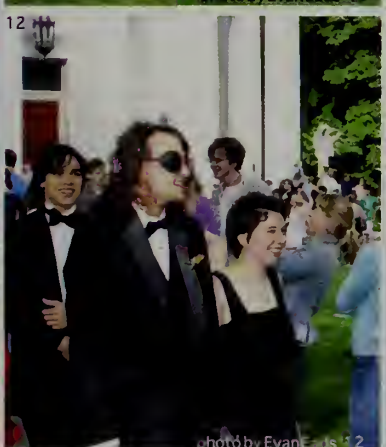

photo by Evan Eads '12

1. Mike Mackay '11 and Jackie Lender '11
2. Ricky Goldstein '12 and Kendall Macrae '11
3. Alec Abitbol '11, Madison Grant '12, Shannon Adams '12, and Tebs Maqubela '11
4. Brian Woonton '11, Keely Henesey '12, Juli Brandano '12, and Zac Fine '11
5. Jack Sykes '12 and Georgia Pelletier '11
6. Anthony Baldessari '11, Max Lippe '11, James Casselberry '11, Brendan Rankowitz '11, Jordan Bailey '11, and Jason Buco '11
7. Sam Oriach '11 and Chiara Baravalle '11
8. Teddy Symth '11 and Julia Dean '11
9. Jeb Roberts '11, Casey McQuillen '11, Madeleine Kim '12, Zac Elder '11, Mike DiFronzo '11, Erica Morales '11, and guest
10. Cliff Brannan '11 and Amanda Howland '11
11. Christie Whalen '11 and Julie Helmers '10
12. Alex Huzar '11 and Sosha Sullivan '11
13. Manwei Chan '11 and Laura Lee '11

Commencement

photo by Ray Thamthieng '12

photo by Sara Nunez '13

photo by Ray Thamthieng '12

photo by Ray Thamthieng '12

photo by Gabbie Cirelli '12

photo by Ray Thamthieng '12

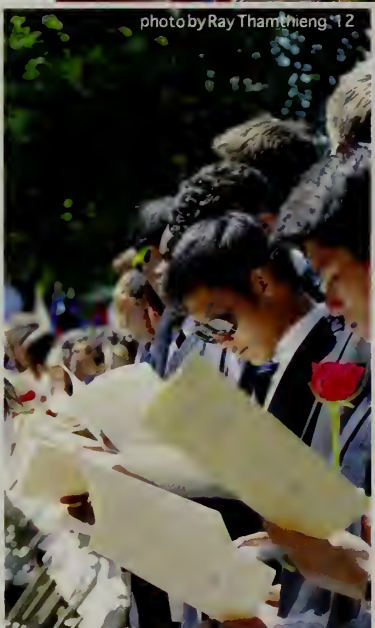

photo by Ray Thamthieng '12

photo by Sara Nunez '13

photo by Ray Thamthieng '12

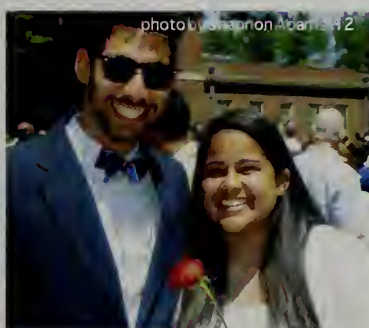

photo by Shannon Adams '12

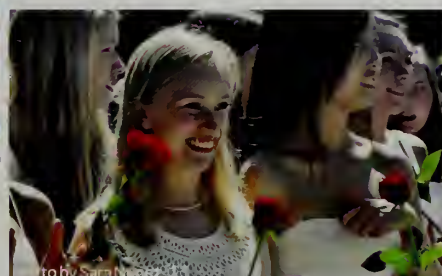

photo by Sara Nunez '13

photo by Shannon Adams '12

photo by Sara Nunez '13

photo by Sara Nunez '13

photo by Tahera Doctor '13

photo by Tahera Doctor '13

photo by Sara Nunez '13

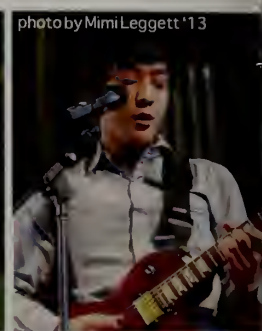

photo by Mimi Leggett '13

photo by Evan Eads '12

photo by Evan Eads

photo by Erin Harrison '13

photo by Sara Nunez '13

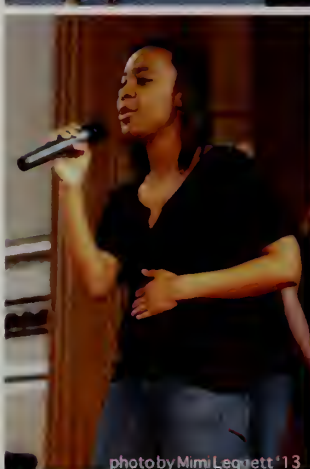

photo by Mimi Leggett '13

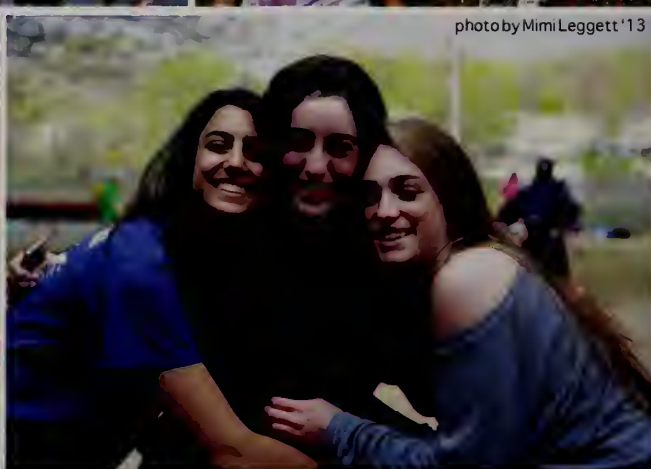

photo by Mimi Leggett '13

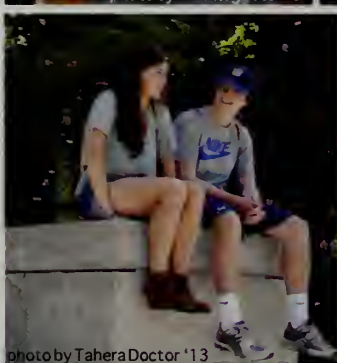

photo by Tahera Doctor '13

photo by Tahera Doctor '13

photo by Tahera Doctor '13

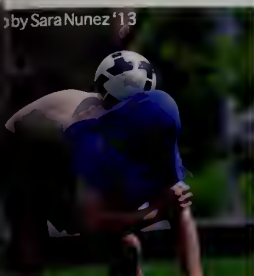

photo by Sara Nunez '13

photo by Mimi Leggett '13

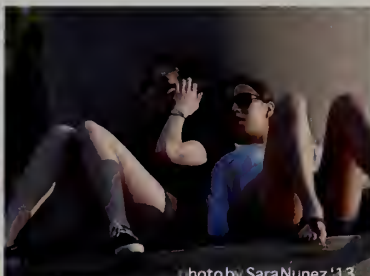

photo by Sara Nunez '13

photo by Alex Donovan '13

photo by Mimi Leggett '13

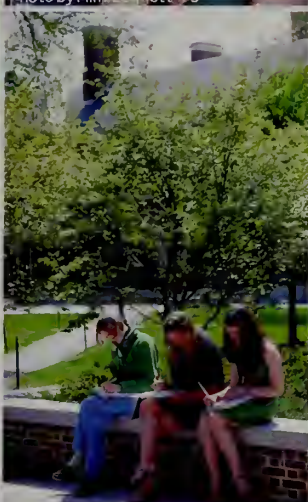

photo by Tahera Doctor '13

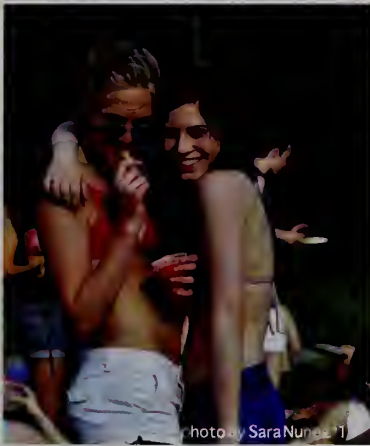

photo by Sara Nunez '13

photo by Mimi Leggett '13

photo by Sara Nunez '13

photo by Sara Nunez '13

photo by Sara Nunez '13

photo by Sara Nunez '13

photo by Sara Nunez '13

Spring into Sports

photo by Ian Eads '12

photo by Marie Liu '12

photo by Megan Robertson '11

photo by Jing Qu '13

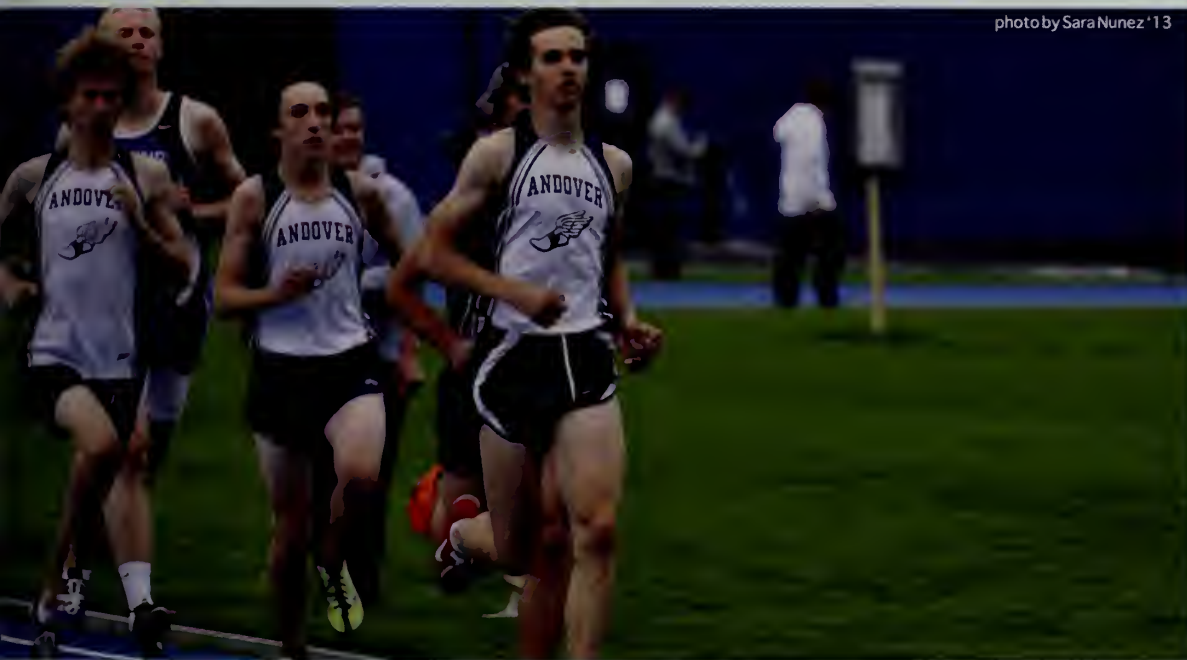

photo by Sara Nunez '13

photo by Sara Nunez '13

Varsity Football	10
Varsity Soccer	20
Varsity Basketball	30
Varsity Volleyball	40
Varsity Tennis	50
Varsity Golf	60
Varsity Track & Field	70
Varsity Swimming	80
Varsity Wrestling	90
Varsity Judo	100
Varsity Karate	110
Varsity Taekwondo	120
Varsity Archery	130
Varsity Fencing	140
Varsity Chess	150
Varsity Debate	160
Varsity Student Government	170
Varsity Honor Society	180
Varsity National Honor Society	190
Varsity International Honor Society	200

Who leads the team ahead?

Baseball is different because we spend a lot of time as a team in the dugout and in between pitches in the field, so a lot of our team bonding happens throughout the course of a game, let alone during practice. The game is also incredibly detail oriented, so we have to be on our toes from the moment we step on the field to the moment we take off our spikes. We're constantly learning and practicing new offensive and defensive strategies that give us a huge advantage over every team on our schedule. -Chris Cameron '11

1. Mark Sullivan
2. Rory Ziomek
3. Zac Elder
4. Jason Bucc
5. The t
6. Brian Delaney

photo by Marie Liu '12

photo by Marie

photo by Marie Liu '12

photo by Marie Liu '12

baseball

photo by Marie Liu '12

photo by Marie Liu '12

Softball

photo by Marie Liu '12

photo by Marie Liu '12

photo by Marie Liu '12

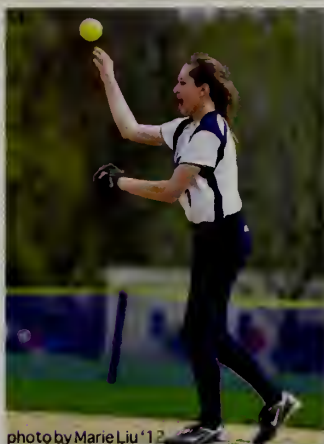

photo by Marie Liu '12

- 7. Kayla Maloney '13
- 8. Abigail Chung '13
- 9. Sarah Onorato '11
- 10. The team
- 11. Kasey Hartung '14
- 12. Mackenzie Skwierczynski '12

photo by Marie Liu '12

Who leads the team ahead?

This year we have a group of eighteen really hard working girls who have been a pleasure to be with every day at practice. It's a great feeling to know that when you are coming out to work on something every afternoon, the people around you are going to not only support, but push you to try new things and do your best. -Sarah Onorato '11

boys' crew

2

photo by Gabbie Cirelli '12

Who leads the team ahead?

In the beginning of the season, each of us took out a pair of old jeans to wear for the Friday before our first race. After every win, we cut the jeans a bit, making them shorter and shorter. What started as jeans on the first Friday, soon turned to capris in weeks after, which later became long shorts, then short shorts, and eventually by the end of the season we were all wearing 'Daisy Duke' short shorts.

-Dan Larson '11

1

4 photo by Gabbie Cirelli '12

photo by Gabbie Cirelli '12

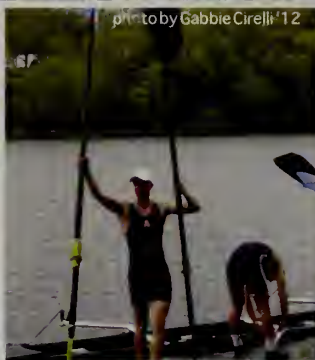

photo by Mimi Leggett

1. Ian Sigal '12, Elezhan Zhakiya, '12 6
Didi Peng '12, Aaron Finder '13, Jake Roberts '11, Tim McLaughlin '11 and Christa Choy '12.

2. The first boat prepares to launch.

3. Cal Brooks '11

4. Alex Nanda '11

5. The first boys boat leaves the docks.

6. Dylan McDonald '13

7. Tom Weaver '11

photo by Mimi Leggett '13

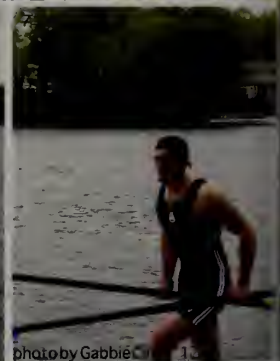

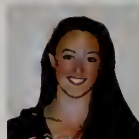

photo by Gabbie

The team rows.
 Nat Sohn '11 and Katherine Woonton '11
 O. The girl's first boat in practice.
 1. Katie Fanikos '11
 2. Grace Hoyt '11, Sarah Freedman '12, Maggie Shoemaker '12, and Cassie Caravos '11

photo by Maggie Shoemaker '12

What's in the Captain's Mind?

The team's drive, passion, desire, and gut-wrenching determination is what makes the bonds created within this team so powerful, so irreplaceable.

I am awe-struck by it, and it inspires me to push myself beyond the limits I thought I had every single day. I would do anything for these girls, for this team. I have the utmost faith, trust, respect, and love for this team, and I will for the rest of my life. I couldn't be more honored and more proud to represent Andover girls' crew as their captain this year. No matter where I go in life, a part of me will forever be with this team.

-Katie Fanikos '11

photo by Mimi Leggett '13

10

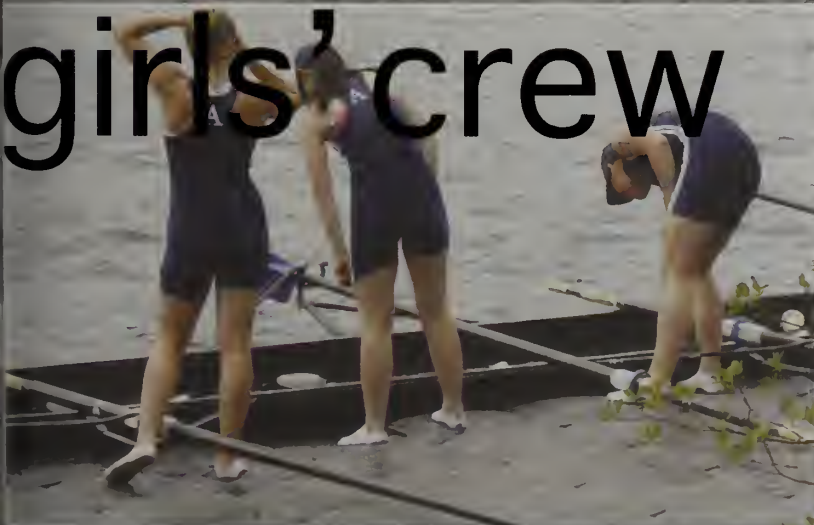

photo by Mimi Leggett '13

photo by Maggie Shoemaker '12

girls' crew

Top 5

For the strength of the pack is the wolf, and the strength of the wolf is the pack!

Let's Get High!

"Guys, we're stronger than Kent because, unlike them, we have academics!" -Psaltz

Do you ever wish you were a cow?

All I do is win win win....everybody's hands go up!

Who leads the team ahead?

The 2011 boys lacrosse season was a majestic one. Whether we were trying to figure out what Kemp was saying, jamming out to Heart Vacancy (DJs from Mars remix), or asking each other why we wanted to play college hockey, we were always having a good time. While we had our fair share of ups and downs during the season, it's not the wins and losses we'll remember but rather how we were able to come together as a family, making each other better in practice everyday. Everyone on the team brought something to the table whether it was in general life at school, in the locker room, on the practice field, or on gameday - Jay Dolan '11

photo by Lilybet Macrae '13

photo by Lilybet Macrae '13

photo by Larena Doctor

photo by Lilybet Macrae '13

1. T.J. Hickey '11
2. Tommy Shannon '12
3. Will Walker '11 and Larken Kemp '13
4. Austin Gaiss '14
5. The team
6. Sam Lessard '11
7. Joe Kruey '12

photo by Lilybet Macrae '13

photo by Lilybet Macrae '13

photo by Lilybet Macrae '13

girls' lacrosse

photo by Alex Donovan '13

photo by Lilybet MacRae '13

photo by Alex Donovan '13

photo by Lilybet MacRae '13

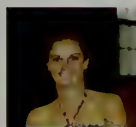

photo by Lilybet MacRae '13

photo by Lilybet MacRae '13

- 8. Summer Washburn '11
- 9. Brooke Van Valkenburg '12
- 10. Hannah Guzzi '14
- 11. Elizabeth Paul '12
- 12. The Team
- 13. Emily Rademacher '11

Who leads the team ahead?

From team dinners to jammin in the locker room, long bus rides and goggle/pinnie tans, lacrosse has been one of my favorite things about Andover. This year has been somewhat of a growing year so far with us--we lost a couple of major players and have had trouble closing. But the season is coming around, and it is undoubtedly because of our chemistry. This team is the closest team I've ever been on, and I feel comfortable saying no matter how our season turns out I'll remember this year's team as the best. We be smushin' it real good. -Emily Rademacher '11

boys' tennis

photo by Stephen Moreland '14

2

photo by Stephen Moreland '14

photo by Stephen Moreland '14

Who leads the team ahead?

From the top of the ladder down, there has been an unwavering commitment to winning New England's, and Alasdair McClintic and James Heaney met big expectations as a lower and freshman, respectively. This season was a perfect way to conclude my high school career and, even though four of our top six are graduating, I know the returners will lead a strong team in the coming years.

—Peter Heidrich '11

4

photo by Stephen Moreland '14

1. Mark Adamsson
2. Malachi Price
3. James Heaney
4. Peter Heidrich
5. Hunter Schlack

Who leads the team ahead?

We are a small team in size but everyone plays with so much heart and truly takes each match as a contribution to the team's effort. As the season went on, we got closer and closer, and I have been extremely lucky to call these girls and coach both friends and teammates! I wouldn't trade our time on the court dancing or even conditioning practices for anything.

-Elizabeth Kelly '11

photo by Jing Qu '13

photo by Jing Qu '13

photo by Jing Qu '13

- 6. Katherine Lee '13
- 7. Fay Feghali '12
- 8. MJ Engel '13
- 9. Katherine Tobearson '14.
- 10. Charlotte Aaron '14
- 11. Katherine Tobearson '14
- 12. MJ Engel '13

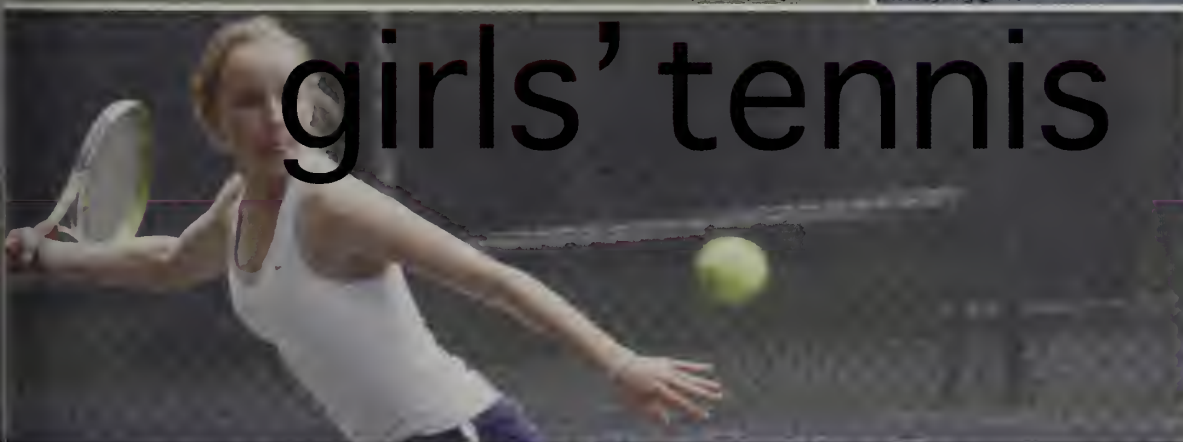

photo by Jing Qu '13

photo by Jing Qu '13

photo by Jing Qu '13

girls' tennis

Who leads the team ahead?

This season we have the biggest team in a long time. It is a combination of a strong contingent of returners as well as some new riders as well. What makes this team so special is the great deal of depth that it has. I expect great results from everyone on the team and a couple championships as well. This season is different than previous years as the first two races were cancelled due to weather and two individual time trials were added. However, I still expect the team to do very well.

-Austin Novis '11

photo by Yuto Watanabe '11

photo by Yuto Watanabe '11

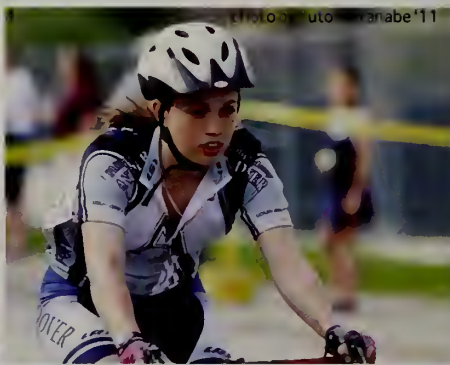

photo by Yuto Watanabe '11

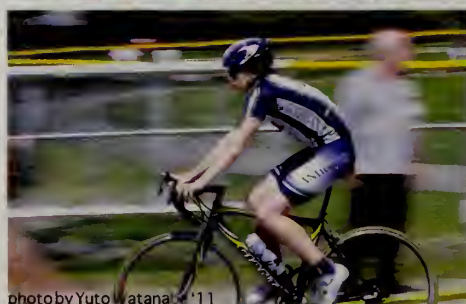

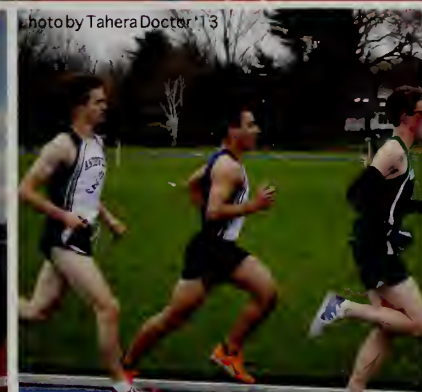

photo by Yuto Watanabe '11

photo by Yuto Watanabe '11

cycling

1. Julianna Wessels '12
2. Pierre-Julien Blouin '12
3. Max Block '12
4. Alex Morrow '12
5. Alex Morrow '12
6. Eve Simister '12

Chris Batchelder '11 and Kian Ivey '12
 Micheal Wang '11
 Pat Wolber '11 and Renat Zalov '11
 D. Diana Tchadi '14
 Allan Yau '11 and James Lim '12
 Matt Fischetti '14

Whitney Glick '11

Top 5 defining moments

5 Coach Lang on sprinting form: Your arms are not propelling you forward as much as your legs are.

4 Coach Lang on vacation: "I got really bored over spring break so I went back to the archives and compiled a chart of interschols results for the past ten years."

3 The 4 x 400 at any meet.

2 Andover Pole Vault: Don't get hammered, get high!

1 Cheering on my teammates.

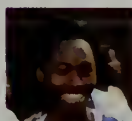

photo by Megan Robertson '11

photo by Tahera Doctor '13

Who leads the team ahead?

It's been a great season. The team is made up of a vibrant group of great athletes. They work hard, they play hard, and I guess winning all the time is nice too. But we have deserved every victory. They don't come easy and they aren't a product of one person's accomplishments. Track is a team sport and if you ran track you'd know that my senior season has been awesome thanks to PAT&F.
 -Aniebiet Abasi '11

It was fun working with inexperienced players and watching them turn into star athletes. Although we started the season off slowly, we improved drastically as we progressed. I'll always remember winning our first set of the season and cheering as if we had just won the championship. I'll miss Vidush's pregame ritual, the Cho-kick, the team's imitation of Ji Tae's accent, and Crane's demonstration of how to look good sitting on a bench. Most importantly, I thank Clyfe for the amazing three seasons I had with him - he always has a big smile on his face, knows each player better than anyone, and is always encouraging and optimistic. I wish the team very best of luck next year! -Peter Bang '11

Top 5 things overheard in the locker room

1. Ji Tae Park's British accent talking about the Russian motherland and soccer.
2. Vidush Mahansaria talking about how strong he used to be.
3. Peter Bang's advice on how to get into Harvard.
4. Marcus Smith's wrestling adventures.
5. David Crane talking about Choate and Princeton.

1. Thomas Kramer '11, Marcus Smith '12, and Hayato Lee
2. Hayato Lee '12 and Thomas Kramer
3. Thurson Smalley
4. Vidush Mahansaria
5. Peter Bang '11, Hayato Lee '12, and Thomas Kramer

Our team this year has learned in a really short period of time how to truly function as a unit, both in and out of the pool. The team dynamic is one of our greatest strengths, and this has become increasingly evident as the season progresses. This season has been incredible, and the work that we've all put into the pool everyday reflects in the way we play in games, which is something we are all proud of. Our defense has been really strong, and the returners from last year have done a phenomenal job in helping the new players to understand the fundamentals and move on to the more complex strategies behind the game in a really short amount of time. I will sorely miss the team dinners, Coach Carter's baking skills, Coach Efinger's enthusiasm, and the fun that we have in the pool everyday.

-Kelly Powers '11

photo by Alex Donovan '13

photo by Alex Donovan '13

photo by Alex Donovan '13

photo by Alex Donovan '13

- 6. Molly Levene '12
- 7. Amelia Danovitch '13
- 8. Julia Smachlo '13
- 9. The team gets a pep talk
- 10. Corinna Torabi '14
- 11. The team cheers on the sidelines

photo by Alex Donovan '13

photo by Alex Donovan '13

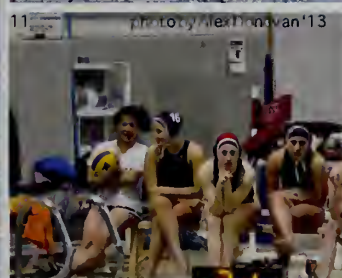

photo by Alex Donovan '13

water polo

photo by Sara Nunez '11

photo by Sara Nunez '13

photo by Sara Nunez '13

photo by Sara Nunez '13

This season we focused on having a good time while being competitive. Playing golf every day is the best imaginable way to spend spring afternoons. My favourite moment so far has just been getting out to play everyday with the team. We have a great group and I will always remember hanging out on the course with them.

-Ben Ho '11

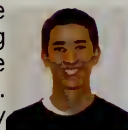

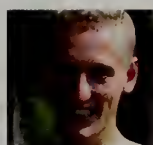

photo by Sara Nunez '13

photo by Sara Nunez '13

1. Melissa Wattana
2. Kavan Canekaratne
3. Evan Kudinski
4. Derick Cho
5. Luke Stidham
6. Casey Duran

I love Blue Steel because of our incredible team bonding, competitive play, and fun atmosphere. Under Coach Hoenig, I believe we're the definition of good sportsmanship and intense but spirited play. Never have I been on a team with a similar dynamic.

The highlights of the games thus far have been amazing plays on both offense and defense by Thomas Armstrong, Brandon Wong, and Teddy Smyth, as well as having all 19 players get playing time and get a feel for the sport. - Turner Shaw '11

photo by Tahera Doctor '13

photo by Tahera Doctor '13

photo by Tahera Doctor '13

photo by Tahera Doctor '13

- 8. Tom Armstrong '11
- 9. Brandon Wong '12
- 10. Tom Armstrong '11
- 11. Eric Yoon '11
- 12. Daniel Aronov '11
- 13. Paul Turiano '13
- 14. The team

photo by Tahera Doctor '13

13

photo by Tahera Doctor '13

ultimate

photo by Ray Thamthieng '12

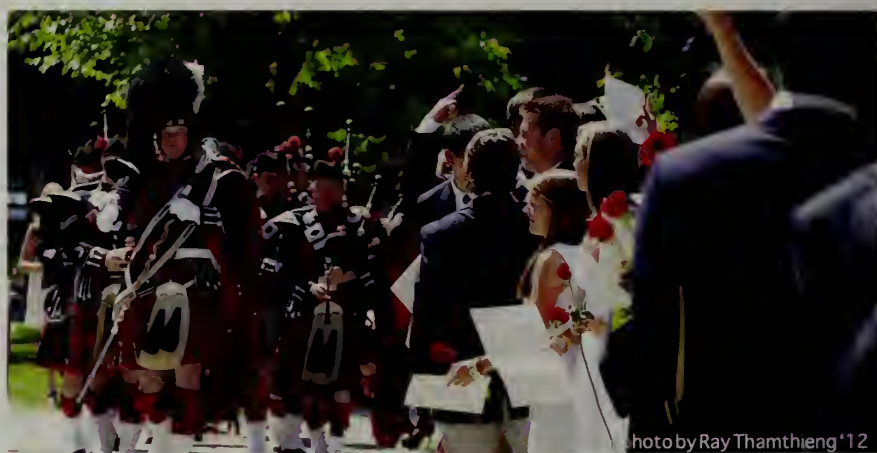

photo by Ray Thamthieng '12

photo by Sara Nunez '13

photo by Sara Nunez '13

photo by Ray Thantien '12

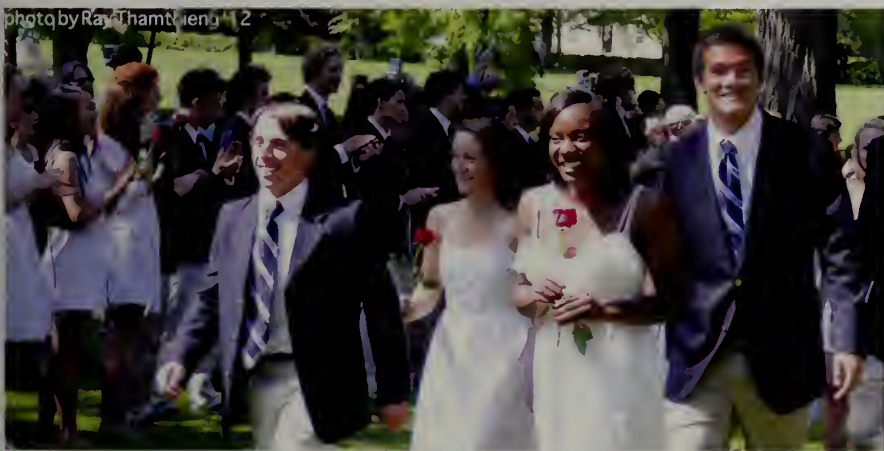

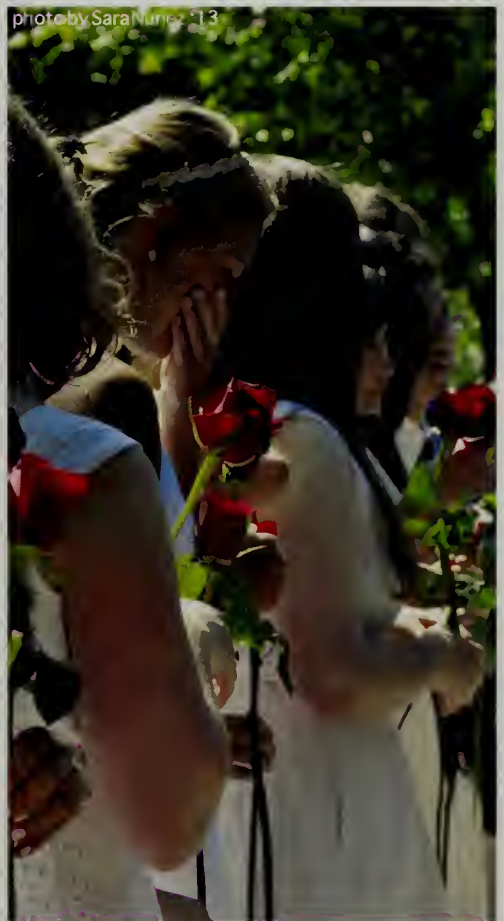

photo by Sara Nunez '13

To the Class of 2011,

If there is ever a class to be admired, it's yours. You donned blue skirts with immense pride and spirit, gave us Blue Bikes, led our athletic teams to victory, and even replicated that famous statue that stands proudly outside Sam Phil. You have left a legacy that will always be remembered. As lowers, you already knew the ropes, you were those kids we yearned to get to know. You made Upper year look easy and finally, walking into the chapel at the first All School Meeting, you stepped up and became the incredible senior class we all knew you would become. You've led us, taught us, and been great friends to us; we've never known an Andover without you. Class of 2011, and without you, this place will never be the same.

Love,

Isabel Elson '12 and Katie McLean '12, Co-Editors-in-chief
On behalf of Pot Pourri 2011-12

Zackary Sturman

Additions to the 2010-2011 Pot Pourri yearbook

Benjamin Burke

Claire Harmange

